Introducing Lee, Amy and Krystal

This is Amy Arnold, Lee's best friend.

She's fifteen and she's also at Harlow Mill High. She hasn't got any brothers or sisters. Amy's birthday is on 15 November — she's a typical Scorpio. Amy is very good with computers and her hobbies are playing computer games, surfing the internet, taking photos, swimming and, in summer, cycling. She has a busy life — she has judo classes two evenings a week after school and she sometimes has training sessions with the school volleyball team too. Amy is a very big fan of Bro, the pop star.

Krystal Ang is fifteen years old. She's got a little sister, Lisa, and a dog called Daisy. Krystal is very artistic – she has extra Art classes and she can draw very well. She's quite musical too – she can play the piano but she can't sing! Amy and Lee are her friends but she's at a different school. She's a very hard-working student and she has extra French lessons after school on Mondays and Thursdays. Her favourite subjects are French and History. Krystal sometimes has problems with Maths but she always has good marks. She's not very sporty but she can play tennis quite well.

 - 5 Teenagers in Britain usually have a TV in their bedroom.
- 7 The survey shows British people watch a lot of TV. What about you and your family?

I don't watch TV very often but my sister watches TV all evening.

Where are all the couch potatoes?

Parents and teachers always say that teenagers are 'couch potatoes' and spend all their time in front of stupid TV programmes. But is it true that young people have 'square eyes'? Do they really watch a lot of TV?

The results of a recent survey show that people in Britain typically watch twenty-seven and a half hours of TV every week – almost four hours a day! But there is some surprising news – young people don't watch as much TV as adults. For example, middleaged adults (aged forty-five to sixty-five) watch about five hours a day. But young people aged twelve to seventeen only watch about two and a half hours a day. And a typical pensioner watches about six hours a day!

Studies in countries such as the USA and Australia suggest the same: kids today spend less time in front of their TV sets than young people in the 1980s.

Teenagers today don't often sit with their families on the living-room couch. So where are they? Do they perhaps spend all their free time in the fresh air, away from the TV? The simple answer is no, they don't. The favourite free time activity of British teenagers is now surfing the internet – typically about thirty-one hours a week! The couch potato is alive and well – he's just back in his bedroom.

I can ask and answer questions about habits and routines.

Lee: Hey, Amy. Do you want to hear my new song?

Amy: Yes, I do, but not right now, Lee. There's a Bro concert on TV.

Lee: What time does it start?

Amy: Eight o'clock.

Lee: To be honest, I don't really like ...

Amy: He's awesome! He plays the guitar and the piano and he's a wonderful singer!

Lee: Does he write his songs?

Amy: No, he doesn't. Do you know what he does in his free time?

Lee: I've no idea. What does he do in his free time?

Amy: He works in a home for sick animals once a week. He lives in a big house in Hollywood with lots of cats and dogs. Animals love him. He's perfect!

Lee: Yeah, right.

Why do we dance?

Dancing in the UK

Many of us love dancing or watching dancing. But why do you think we do it? It's strange when you think about it. When we dance, we don't go anywhere and we don't make anything, so what's the reason for it?

Today in the UK dance is very popular. About 5 million people go to dance classes every week. There are many styles but the most popular are street-dancing, ceroc, ballet and salsa.

Street-dancing has got many styles including breaking, hip-hop and popping. It's popular with young people and you have to be very flexible. Some people say we do this kind of dance to show our friends how strong and skilful we are.

Ceroc is a simple version of swing, salsa and jive. You can do ceroc to fast or slow music. It is very popular with middle-aged people because dancing is a good way to keep fit.

Ballet is popular all over the world. There are many spins and jumps in ballet. It's very difficult and you must do a lot of training to be good at it. Ballet usually tells stories and people think it's very beautiful.

Salsa is from Cuba. The word 'salsa' is Spanish for hot and spicy sauce. Salsa dancers have got a lot of passion and energy. People usually dance salsa to fast and fun music. One reason we do this dance is to show how attractive we are to other people.

So there are many reasons why we dance. Whatever the reason everyone agrees that dancing is great fun.

attractive (adj) good-looking flexible (adj) bending and moving easily skilful (adj) good at doing something spicy (adj) a strong, pleasant taste spin (n) the movement of something turning around very quickly

TOP 3 ANNOYING THINGS THAT PARENTS DO

1 They say the same things again and again

I'm leaving for school when dad says to me, 'Pull up your trousers, son. We can see your underwear.' I answer, 'It's the fashion, dad'. We have this boring conversation every morning.

2 They're embarrassing with your friends

It's Saturday and I'm spending the afternoon with Joel and Harry in the shopping centre. Suddenly I am shocked to see mum and dad outside the supermarket. Dad is wearing his baseball cap and mum is in pink leggings – so embarrassing! They look excited to see us. Dad gives my friends a 'high five' and starts telling one of his annoying jokes. Mum starts speaking in her high, 'talking to a young puppy' voice. She tells Joel that his piercing is 'totally awesome' and asks where she can get one. She is forty years old.

3 They're always on your Facebook page

It's Sunday morning and I'm adding some great photos from Harry's birthday party to my Facebook page. Suddenly I see there's a new comment next to a funny photo of Harry in his Superman costume. It says, 'OMG, LOLI' I'm annoyed to see the comment is from my mum.

I can find specific detail in an article and talk about behaviour.

In pairs, look at the words and phrases from the box.
Which things do teenagers typically do? What about adults?

come home late criticise feel shy do dangerous things eat/drink too much fight forget things ignore advice make a lot of noise sleep in front of the TV study talk about the past

- 2 2.09 Quickly read the article. What behaviour from Exercise 1 does it mention?
- 3 Read the text again. Are the sentences true, false or the text doesn't say?
 - 1 It's impossible to love adolescent dogs.
 - 2 Young dogs often change their behaviour.
 - 3 All young elephants live with their families.
 - 4 Teenage elephants sometimes kill other elephants.
 - 5 Young sea otters always follow their parents' example.
 - 6 Dangerous situations can teach a young animal a lot.

adolescent – (n) a teenager; (adj) describes the time just before becoming an adult

4 2.10 Match the words from the box with sentences 1–5. Write the answers in your notebook.

Vocabulary

Personality

adventurous aggressive forgetful impulsive lovable

- 1 Grandpa often loses his glasses. forgetful
- 2 Harry often buys things without thinking.
- 3 The Smiths love travelling to exotic, dangerous places.
- 4 Male rabbits often fight when they live together.
- 5 My puppy is friendly, fun and attractive.
- 5 In pairs, ask and answer the questions.
 - 1 What do your parents or teachers criticise you for?
 - 2 Do you agree with their opinion?

Those difficult teenage years

When Sally was an adolescent, she was noisy. She was adventurous, lovable and sometimes shy. She was often forgetful too. Sally was my dog.

Adolescent dogs (from six months to a year old) are a little bit like human teens. They explore their world and test their own abilities. They love adventures and they often look for attention. One minute they're tired – then suddenly they're lively and energetic. Sometimes it can be hard for others to understand them.

And dogs aren't the only animals with a 'teenage' time in their lives. Between the ages of ten and twenty, male African elephants leave their family groups and live in large male gangs. These young elephants don't always behave well. They can be noisy and aggressive. They sometimes terrorise other groups and in some cases they kill other animals for sport.

Male sea otters also have a 'teenage' stage. They take risks and ignore their parents' advice. Sometimes they swim near dangerous white sharks and sometimes the sharks eat them. But that doesn't stop other adventurous young otters from playing this dangerous game.

For many animals, the time between childhood and adulthood is difficult. They lose the care and protection which they get from their parents. But they need risk and adventure to learn about the dangers of the world. In other words, impulsive or even crazy behaviour is an important part of an animal's education. It is often the key to success as adults. Just like for humans.

I can use the Past Simple of regular verbs to talk about the past.

Lee: Amy!

Amy: Lee! What's wrong?

Lee: It's Daisy, Krystal's dog! I can't find her.

Amy: Calm down! What's the matter?

Lee: Daisy needed to go outside so we walked to the park and when we arrived there, I decided to take off the leash to let her run around, you know. But then I answered a phone call and then when I finished talking, Daisy wasn't there. I looked everywhere but ...

Amy: When did this happen?

Lee: About an hour ago. Some people helped but we ...

Amy: Did you go to Krystal's?

Lee: Yes, I did but the dog wasn't there. And then I hurried back here. I didn't know what to do so I phoned you. Krystal gets back from her holiday today! She asked me to look after her dog and I promised to do it but I didn't. Oh!

play with them much and they eat live animals. They're beautiful but some people are frightened of them. I can make and respond to apologies.

CULTURE & SKILLS

Why do parrots talk?

Pets around the world

For a long time, people used animals for food and for work. Today, many of us keep animals in our homes as pets and people all over the world love dogs and cats. In the UK, there are more than nine million pet dogs! Here are some other popular pets that you might find surprising.

Guatemala

A popular pet in Guatemala is the Macaw parrot. It has colourful feathers and can copy words and sounds. These birds live in the rainforest but there aren't many left now. Because of this, people can only buy them from special places.

China

Chinese people like many different animals but one very popular pet is the goldfish. For Chinese people the colour gold means money and they believe goldfish are lucky. People say that the goldfish has a bad memory – they're very forgetful and can only remember things for five seconds!

Japan

In Japan, they like keeping rabbits. Many Japanese people are vegetarian – they don't eat meat – and rabbits are vegetarian too! They're gentle animals with soft fur but when they're angry or frightened, they get aggressive and tap their feet on the ground loudly! They're also very small, which is important for people who live in a small apartment.

The USA

Snakes are very popular in the USA. They can live up to forty years and people don't need to feed them a lot. They don't usually move very much and some snakes sleep for several months every year. Most pet snakes are born in special centres. They're not dangerous or poisonous – unlike the snakes in the wild!

I collect USB gadgets — they're small gadgets which you plug into your laptop or tablet. They don't need a battery because they charge from your computer's USB port. There are a lot to choose from and they're usually quite cheap. I've got eighteen different gadgets in my collection but I'm always looking for new ones!

Some USB gadgets are practical.

For example, my USB electric gloves. You charge them for two minutes in your USB port and they stay warm for hours.

It's very useful when I'm at my keyboard in winter and my hands get cold!

Another useful gadget is my special USB pen drive. It looks like a boat but it's got 32 GB of memory. I keep all my digital photos on it – I love it.

My favourite gadget is my USB helicopter. It's got a joystick to control it and it really flies!

About Nick and his application

16-year-old Nick D'Aloisio from London designed an iPhone app called Summly in 2011. The app makes the search for information on the Internet simpler. You don't need to read a five-page article, Summly will give you a summary of it so you know if the article includes the information you need, or not. The application lets you do your homework or prepare for exams much faster.

Nick is not only creative, but also lucky: a billionaire from China got interested in Nick's idea and invested $250,000 in the project in 2011. When the young programmer started selling his app on the Internet, over 200,000 people downloaded it. It was a huge success and so in 2012 Nick received even more money: $1,000,000 to improve the app. This time the investors were international celebrities such as Yoko Ono and Ashton Kutcher. They probably didn't regret their investment because in 2013 Summly was sold to Yahoo, one of the biggest Internet companies, for 30 million US dollars!

 - Do you believe in ghosts?

- 2 2.45 Read the story. Who is the girl in the drawing?

THE GIRL IN THE PICTURE

I woke up because I heard a cat. I was surprised because my grandmother doesn't have a cat. It was dark so I switched on the lamp. I listened really carefully but I didn't hear anything. Maybe it was a dream, I thought.

The next night I heard the noise again but this time there was a black kitten on the bed. It jumped to the floor and ran quickly outside. I followed it along the narrow corridor, through the large hall and upstairs into the attic. I switched the light on. The room was very messy. There were old carpets, curtains, chairs and paintings. I looked everywhere but I couldn't find the kitten. It was a mystery.

In the morning I told Gran about the cat.

'Don't be silly, Tom,' she said impatiently.

That night, a girl came to my room. She was beautiful with long brown hair and soft green eyes.

'You have to help me,' she said. She spoke quietly. It was hard to hear her voice.

She took my hand and I followed her to the garden. She pointed to the roof. I looked up. The kitten was near the chimney. When I turned back, the girl wasn't there.

In the morning I told Gran about the girl.

She turned slowly and took an old photo from the wall. It showed a woman sitting in a cosy armchair in an old-fashioned room. At her feet was a small black cat. Next to her was a beautiful girl.

'These people lived here a hundred years ago,' Gran explained. 'They sold the house after something terrible happened.'

'What?' I asked.

'The girl fell from the roof and died. She was only thirteen years old.'

Hi Callum,

How are things? I hope you're well and that your dad is out of hospital now. Big news! My dad changed jobs so last week we moved to a new flat in a new town.

The town is called Harlow Mill. It's in the south of England, not far from London. It's quite small (about 40,000 people) but it seems nice. There's a canal, a great park and a really cool shopping centre. The flat isn't very big but it's bright and modern. It's on the seventh floor so there's a great view over the park from the living room.

 I have to go now because I'm going for a walk along the canal with a girl that I met yesterday:-) Her name is Krystal and she lives in the flat next door!

All the best, Billy

Why are there houses stilts?

HOUSES AROUND THE WORLD

In the UK, people often live in brick houses with two floors and a garden. In the USA and Australia, people's houses are often made of wood from trees. In some countries, the houses are very different. Is there a reason for this?

Underground houses

People in North Africa and southern Europe started to live in underground houses a long time ago, in the seventh century. Underground houses kept them safe from enemies – people who wanted to hurt them - and the hot sun. Today in Adelaide, South Australia, some people still live in underground houses that miners made a hundred years ago. Adelaide can get very hot and these houses are nice and cool.

Snow houses

In some very cold parts of the world like the Arctic, Alaska and Greenland, people build their houses from blocks of snow. It's strange but inside the snow walls the temperature can be fifteen degrees when outside it's minus forty!

Stilt houses

In some parts of Asia, South America and West Africa, people live in stilt houses. The stilts lift the houses above the ground or the water. This protects the houses when the sea level rises in bad weather. Sometimes the sea gets very high. On land, the stilts stop animals, like rats and mice, getting into the house. And over or near the water, the stilts stop dangerous animals, like crocodiles.

People everywhere build houses to protect them from different dangers, like the weather, enemies and animals. It seems that the shape and the size of our houses depends on what we need.

Dear Polly,

Last night at ten o'clock I was online when my dad told me to get ready for bed. Two hours later I was in bed with my eyes open. I didn't feel sleepy so I got up. My parents were on the sofa. They always fall asleep in front of the TV. They don't go to bed when they are sleepy so why do I have to go to bed when I'm not sleepy? Then last Saturday my mum woke me up at 11.00 a.m. She says I'm lazy but that's not fair. I always feel tired in the morning but I get up early and work hard all week so why can't I stay in bed at the weekend?

Karl, 15

Hi Karl,

Your parents don't want you to stay up late because they think you need to sleep. And they're right! Teenagers need a lot of sleep. How much? That depends on the person but usually about nine hours a night – that's more than adults!

But it's difficult for teens to wake up early and to go to sleep early. Often they feel lively at night when adults feel sleepy. That's because teenagers' brains produce melatonin* later in the day. When you see bright lights, your brain stops making melatonin. That means you can't sleep well. So during the school week you shouldn't surf the internet or watch too many TV programmes before bedtime. It's better to read or listen to music. And during the day don't drink too much tea or coffee.

Sleep is important for our health. If you don't get much sleep, your memory and concentration suffer. So try to go to bed early during the week but tell your parents you need to stay in bed late at weekends.

My heart beats for beets!

I talked to my grandma about changes in Polish eating habits. Here's what she told me.

When I was a teenager, in the 1960s, my family always had Sunday lunch together. We usually had chicken soup with fresh noodles which my mum made herself. She was a great cook but she only prepared traditional Polish food. Back then we didn't eat meat every day. We ate a lot of potatoes and pearl barley. Cabbage, beetroot and carrots were the most popular vegetables, but we didn't eat them raw. We never went to a restaurant to have lunch. I didn't eat any fast food either. A typical snack for me was an apple or a sandwich. I never ate bananas or other exotic fruits because there weren't any in the shops.

Now Polish cuisine is different. We use many different kinds of fruit, vegetables and spices which were not available when I was young. For example, peppers first arrived in Poland in the 1970s, and I ate my first kiwi and broccoli in the 1990s. Naturally, the way I cook is different from my mother's. I still make traditional Polish dishes but I also like trying new recipes from around the world.

My heart beats for beets!

Polish cuisine is changing, but one thing stays the same – the menu for dinner on Christmas Eve.

We start with a beetroot soup with uszka (a kind of dumplings), mushroom soup with noodles, or fish soup – it depends on the region of Poland. Traditionally, people don't eat red meat or poultry on Christmas Eve so the main course is fish, usually carp. There are also pierogi and all sorts of dishes with cabbage. For dessert, you can have noodles with poppyseed – my favourite! My grandma also makes a special dried fruit drink which I don't really like very much. By tradition, there should be twelve dishes on the table and an empty plate for an unexpected guest. Everyone is welcome!

 - 2 A large shop which sells lots of things:

In 1938, an Austrian architect called Victor Gruen arrived in New York with eight dollars and no English. He started designing shops and quickly became one of the most successful architects in the city.

Victor thought American cities were uglier than European cities like Vienna. He wanted to make them more beautiful. His dream was to make shopping centres like traditional European town centres, lovely places with parks, schools and homes around them. So in 1956, he built Southdale, a shopping centre near Minneapolis. It had the usual shops, department stores, public toilets and a big car park. But Southdale was more pleasant than other shopping centres. All the shops were under the same roof. It was on two levels with escalators to take shoppers and their trolleys up and down. And in the middle was a garden with a café.

Southdale was very popular. Afterwards, most new shopping centres followed the Southdale model. Unfortunately, they didn't become the centre of beautiful new towns. Instead, they were ugly out-of-town buildings with seas of cars around them.

In 1978, Victor went back to Austria but what did he find in Vienna? A large ugly shopping centre with a multi-screen cinema and a food court! It was more popular than the traditional shops and many of them had to close.

Victor Gruen invented the modern shopping centre to make the USA more like Vienna but in the end his invention made Vienna more like the USA.

Where can you buy a town?

Amazing things sold on eBay

Most people love shopping. It's a popular hobby but our shopping habits don't always stay the same. They change. Today we can buy things in many places and more and more people are buying things online. There are lots of websites where you can buy normal things but if you want something really unusual, go to an online auction site, like eBay. The company started in the USA but now operates in thirty different countries. It celebrated its twentieth birthday in 2015. Here are some of the amazing things people sold on the site.

Bridgeville

In 2008, the small town of Bridgeville in California was for sale and someone paid 1.25 million dollars for it! It's a very small place and in 2008 it had only thirty people, eight houses, a post office, a café and a cemetery. The town needed a lot of money and work and the new owner sold it again a few years later.

A life

lan Usher was very sad after his wife left him. He decided to put his whole life for sale on eBay! He sold everything that he had – his house, his car, introductions to his friends and his job. Someone paid 300,000 dollars and lan started a new life with the money.

A forehead

Kari Smith sold her forehead for advertising space! A company paid her 10,000 dollars to tattoo the name of their company on her forehead!

A vacht

One of the most expensive things for sale on eBay was a big yacht. Roman Abramovich (who owned Chelsea football club) bought it for 168 million dollars. It had a gym, a cinema, a spa and a lift.

Have you got something unusual you would like to sell on eBay?

BEYONCÉ CUT MY HAIR

Some celebrities know what it's like to look for a job and to work from nine to five. For example, did you know that Johnny Depp sold pens in a call centre before he became an actor? It's hard to believe but it's true.

And Johnny Depp is not the only famous person who had a normal job before becoming famous. Model Megan Fox worked as a waitress. Beyoncé helped out at her mother's beauty salon. Jennifer Lopez (JLo) had a temporary job in a lawyer's office. And Tom Cruise had a part-time job delivering newspapers.

Some celebrities had jobs that don't seem surprising. Writer J.K. Rowling was an English teacher. She had a full-time job in a school in Portugal before she wrote about Harry Potter.

But other famous people had more surprising jobs. Brad Pitt, for example, once got a very strange job. He had to dress up as a giant chicken to attract customers to a restaurant! It was better than being unemployed but I'm sure he wasn't upset when he lost that job.

It shows that people with ordinary jobs can become famous. Perhaps your postman will win a TV talent show. Maybe the sales assistant in the games shop will win a Nobel Prize one day. And perhaps that young waitress with a summer job in your local café will become a film star. Who knows?

1 CLASS VOTE Which of these famous people is the most popular in the class?

Lee: Billy's mum lets him go out in the evenings!

It's not fair!

Mum: Billy always gets better marks than you. You'll have to repeat the year if you don't get better marks. And if you have to repeat the year, you won't be with your friends at all.

They were flying over the rainforest of Peru when suddenly there was a storm and the pilot lost control of the plane. Many of the passengers started crying but Juliane calmly held her mother's hand. After that, the plane blew up. Juliane found herself outside the plane but still in her seat, high above the earth. She fell more than three kilometres. She remembered seeing the rainforest below her but after that she fainted.

The next day Juliane woke up. She had a broken shoulder bone and cuts on her leg. She was completely alone. Although she felt afraid, she knew she couldn't give up. Juliane came to a river and started walking down it – she hoped it would take her to civilisation. She walked for nine days. At night it was very cold and Juliane was wearing only a short dress. She had no food, except one bag of sweets.

On the tenth day, Juliane felt very weak and had to stop walking. But she came across an empty boat and knew that people must be near. She slept near the boat and the next day she heard men's voices. When the men saw the thin, hungry girl they were very frightened. But Juliane knew some Spanish and she told them about the accident. The men took her to a doctor. She later found out that all the other ninety-one passengers on the plane were dead.

This took place forty years ago. There have been two films about Juliane's adventure and many newspapers and magazines have written about her. Juliane has also written a book, 'When I Fell From The Sky'. She now works as a zoologist but has often gone back to the rainforest in Peru. She has tried to have a normal life but she has often asked herself, "Why was I the only person to survive?"

Bartek's blog

The Vistula River Cities Challenge

My English friends have recently completed the Three Peaks Challenge. It's very popular in the UK although it's quite difficult: you have to climb the highest mountains of England, Scotland and Wales within 24 hours. I really like the idea because it encourages people to get to know their own country better. We don't have such challenges in Poland, but we can change this! Here is my idea for the Vistula River Cities Challenge. You have 8 hours to do these things:

- tell the legend of the Wawel Dragon to three foreign tourists in Cracow,
- take selfies with two monuments of the mermaid in Warsaw,
- eat gingerbread ice cream on the Vistula bank in Toruń.

Do you want to take up the challenge?

- 7 Do you like Bartek's challenge? Do you think it's possible to complete it within 8 hours?
- 8 4.43 Imagine that you take part in a similar challenge.
 - You start in Warsaw. You have 24 hours to do three tasks in different locations in Poland.
 - Choose three numbers from 1 to 10.
 - Listen to the recording and note down the tasks you have to do.
- Work in pairs. Discuss your challenge with your partner. Is it possible to complete it in 24 hours?

PROJECT

- 10 Work in pairs. Prepare a challenge to encourage tourists to visit the area where you live.
 - 1 Choose three places that you think are interesting.
 - 2 Think of three tasks that tourists could do there.
 - 3 Set a time limit for the challenge.
 - 4 Make a map for the challenge with short descriptions of the places and the tasks.
 - 5 Present the challenge to your class. Use your map.
 - 6 Encourage your classmates to take your challenge and report the results to the class.

CULTURE & SKILLS

How many fish ...?

Sea life numbers

Fish is a popular meal for many people. It's healthy, tasty and often cheap because there are lots of fish in the sea. But are there? Perhaps you've noticed that sometimes we can't buy our favourite fish. The reason is that in the last thirty years we've taken too many fish out of the sea. Fishermen must stop catching some fish for a while and catch others instead. Man has caused lots of problems to other sea animals too.

There aren't many sea turtles left in the world. People kill them for food and many also die when they get caught in fishermen's nets. What's worse, people have built houses and hotels on the coast, which makes it difficult for turtles to lay their eggs on the beach. When the baby turtles come out of their eggs, they need to get to the sea. But many of them don't survive, they get lost or sea birds kill them. Today in many places, like Cancun in Mexico, people help them to get to the sea.

Sea birds are also becoming rarer. Beautiful birds, like the albatross, spend nearly all their lives in the air and eat fish to live. Some types of fishing are very dangerous for these birds. Like the turtles, they get caught in fishing nets and drown. Some areas, like South Georgia, have created big protected areas to help these birds. Also conservation groups are encouraging fishermen to use new fishing techniques.

All sea birds need to catch fish to live. So for them and for us we need to control fishing.

conservation group (n phr) people who work to protect animals, plants etc. drown (v) to die from being under water for too long get caught (v phr) to be in a situation that you cannot easily get out of lay their eggs (v phr) to produce eggs net (n) something used for catching animals, e.g. fish or insects
