Introduction

DEAR TEACHER,

We are writing to you to introduce the new edition of Focus, our five-level course for upper secondary students. As writers, it is always a privilege to be invited to 'have another go' and we are grateful to our publisher Pearson for giving us this opportunity. At the same time, we are particularly wary of introducing change for change's sake. 'If it ain't broke, don't fix it' is a maxim we set great store by. In our own classrooms, we are still using ideas and teaching techniques that we learnt early on in our careers. Why? Because they still work.

Consequently, the changes you will find in this new edition have been influenced by three important factors:

1) Your feedback, which we are happy to say has been overwhelmingly positive and extremely helpful in identifying areas to focus on.

2) Changing circumstances, where we have responded to the continuing evolvement of the Matura exam – for instance: a renewed focus on Use of English tasks – as well as important new Ministry requirements concerning student book recycling.

3) New opportunities, in particular the strategic partnership between our publisher Pearson and the BBC. This has enabled us to include some delightful BBC clips in each unit, adding an exciting new dimension to the course.

All that said, we still believe that writing language learning materials is not an exact science. A 'one size fits all' set of materials just doesn't exist. It can't. There are too many variables:

- The students – number, age, personality, attitude, life and learning experience, home support, class dynamic …
- The school – syllabus, timetable, policies, Ministry reforms, classroom environment, equipment …

And most importantly, you:

- The teacher – your experience, your training, your beliefs, your motivation …

So we accept that everybody's teaching context is unique and the perfect English course is an unattainable dream. However, our own experience in the classroom has taught us to value three things above all when using teaching and learning materials: reliability, flexibility and credibility.

Reliability

Quite simply, we want the materials to work. We don't want the course to let you down in the classroom. So we continue with our clean design, clear, easy-to-understand instructions and a wide variety of engaging topics, texts and tasks that have been combined in a logical way that will make sense to you and to your students. We are pragmatic. We've made it clear when a lesson starts and when a lesson ends. We don't want to give you any nasty surprises. We don't want to overcomplicate things. The less time you spend setting activities up, the more time your students spend practising the language. And maximizing language practice time is key – particularly for the core skills. Students learn by doing. They learn reading by reading more; listening by listening more; writing by writing more; and speaking by speaking more. Let's give them more time to 'do'.

Needless to say, the course covers all the necessary language work appropriate for the level and follows Ministry guidelines and the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). We hope you will appreciate the stimulating and memorable way in which each carefully selected grammar structure and vocabulary item is presented. But we are well aware that presenting language is not even half the story. We have designed these materials so that they systematically recycle the language that has been presented. 'Use it or lose it' is our motto. You will discover that this course, with all its supporting print-based and digital materials, provides your students with the repeated exposure and practice they require. Reliability = trust. We are confident you will be able to trust Focus Second Edition.

Flexibility

One of the things we learnt early on in our careers is that you teach the students, not the lesson plan. There is no point in slavishly following a prescribed 'teaching path' through a set of materials if the students are not with you. Your ability to react to emerging classroom situations and adapt your lesson accordingly is a vital teaching skill. So while a course might provide you with a reliable framework that you feel comfortable with, you will always need options, you will always need variety, you will always need alternative ways of presenting and practising language. We strongly believe that a rigid unit structure does NOT have to be a teaching straitjacket. The lessons themselves are brimful of different ideas, task types and interesting information. Then the supplementary material we have developed, both print-based and digital, offers you almost limitless flexibility. You can give extra multiple choice grammar exercises, do a communicative A/B information-gap activity or watch a specially selected BBC clip. Flexibility = choice. We think you will appreciate the range of choice in Focus Second Edition.

Credibility

So, while we are sure that a reliable and flexible course will help you, it's this third characteristic that really counts. You have to believe in the materials. You have to understand and assess the broad educational and methodological principles that underpin our materials and decide: are the ideas and the approach credible? Do they reflect your own views of how languages are learned? We'd like to take this opportunity to summarise our thinking on this and explain what lies at the heart of Focus Second Edition. We can do this by grouping our thoughts under three words beginning with 'M': Motivation, Memory and Meaning.

Motivation

The American linguist and philosopher Noam Chomsky once said that almost everything in the education process was about getting the students' interest in what they're being taught. This is our starting point: students learn best when they are interested in the material. It's as simple as that. We may not have got it right every time for your particular teaching context, but our overriding concern has been to select topics, texts and tasks that engage students both emotionally and intellectually. You need to organise the learning around things your students can relate to – things that are part of their life experience or things that they aspire to. An engaged learner is a more successful learner. We think course materials can play a big part in this key area of engagement.

Memory

'Learning is remembering', or so the adage goes. With the pressure all teachers are under to cover the syllabus, complete the course and finish the book, we worry that not enough time is spent on recycling. Too much presentation, not enough practice. Systematic recycling of new language is a core feature of Focus Second Edition. There is a particular emphasis on vocabulary. The linguist David Wilkins noted back in the 1970s that while we can convey very little without grammar, we can convey nothing without vocabulary. Words are the basic building blocks of any language, but how many times do you need to see a new word before you truly acquire it? Ten? Twenty? Thirty times? It's definitely more than once! In the new Focus on words sections, students using Focus Second Edition will devote valuable time to new vocabulary, as well as learning a variety of ways of recording it.

Meaning

As the linguist and academic Rod Ellis reminds us, motivation in second language learning is derived from getting meanings across successfully. We are strongly opposed to mechanistic practice and drills where form dominates and meaning is irrelevant. If you ask your students to choose the correct quantifier in the question: How much/ many petrol is there in the car? I'm sure most of them will correctly choose much. But they might also legitimately wonder whose car we are talking about. And then think, 'But I don't have a car. I've never bought petrol in my life. I can't even drive …' Why not ask them to choose the correct quantifier in this question: How much/many water do you drink? Then, when they have chosen the correct quantifier, they can at least ask their partner the question. Information is exchanged; students practise their speaking; the exercise is meaning*ful*, not meaning*less*. This is one tiny example of an approach to learning that we passionately believe in. Don't practice language for the sake of it. Language exists to make meanings, and our learning materials should reflect this.

These are some of the more important ideas that we hold dear. Over the years, they have influenced our teaching and our writing. Credibility = belief. We want you to believe in Focus Second Edition.

So, now it's over to you. We'd like to take this opportunity to wish you and your students every success.

Our warmest regards,

Sue and Vaughan

KALENDARIUM ZMIAN W SYSTEMIE EDUKACJI – SZKOŁY PONADPODSTAWOWE

IX 2019
- Rozpoczęcie kształcenia w 4-letnim liceum, 5-letnim technikum i branżowej szkole I stopnia na podbudowie ośmioletniej szkoły podstawowej
- Rozpoczęcie realizacji nowej podstawy programowej w szkołach ponadpodstawowych na trzecim etapie edukacyjnym

IX 2020
- Rozpoczęcie kształcenia w branżowej szkole II stopnia na podbudowie gimnazjum i branżowej szkoły I stopnia
- Start oddziałów wstępnych w liceach (ewentualnie technikach) w zakresie kształcenia dwujęzycznego

V 2023 – Egzamin maturalny na wyższym poziomie

STARA I NOWA PODSTAWA PROGRAMOWA

Kurs Focus Second Edition jest przeznaczony do pracy zarówno z uczniami szkół ponadgimnazjalnych zgodnie z wariantami podstawy programowej IV.1P, IV.1R, IV.0 oraz IV.2, jak również z uczniami liceum ogólnokształcącego i technikum zgodnie z wariantami podstawy programowej III.1.P, III.1.R, III.2, III.2.0 oraz III.DJ (rozporządzenie Ministra Edukacji Narodowej z 30 stycznia 2018 r.).

MATURA Z JĘZYKA OBCEGO DO ROKU 2022

Egzamin maturalny składa się z części pisemnej i ustnej. Obecnie w części pisemnej zadania maturalne na poziomie podstawowym odpowiadają poziomowi B1, a zadania na poziomie rozszerzonym – poziomowi B2/B2+ według skali Europejskiego systemu opisu kształcenia językowego (ESOKJ). Do egzaminu pisemnego można podejść:
- jako do przedmiotu obowiązkowego na poziomie podstawowym (zgodnie z wymogami podstawy programowej w zakresie IV.1P) oraz
- jako do przedmiotu dodatkowego na poziomie rozszerzonym (zgodnie z wymogami podstawy programowej w zakresie IV.1R).

Egzamin pisemny trwa:
- 120 minut na poziomie podstawowym,
- 150 minut na poziomie rozszerzonym.

Egzamin ustny nie ma określonego poziomu i jest zdawany jako przedmiot obowiązkowy lub dodatkowy. Ta część egzaminu maturalnego trwa około 15 minut. Dokładne informacje dotyczące formy i charakteru zadań oraz sprawdzanych struktur gramatycznych, a także szczegółowe kryteria oceniania można znaleźć w Informatorze o egzaminie maturalnym z języka angielskiego od roku szkolnego 2014/2015 wydanym przez Centralną Komisję Egzaminacyjną.

KURS FOCUS SECOND EDITION I PRZYGOTOWANIE DO EGZAMINU MATURALNEGO

Kurs Focus Second Edition gwarantuje rzetelne przygotowanie do egzaminu maturalnego:
- na poziomie 1 (A2/A2+ wg ESOKJ) zaznajamia z formułą maturalną, umiejętnościami egzaminacyjnymi i kryteriami oceny, praktycznie przygotowując do egzaminu na poziomie podstawowym;
- na poziomie 2 (A2+/B1 wg ESOKJ) podsumowuje i ugruntowuje wiedzę oraz umiejętności potrzebne do zdania egzaminu dojrzałości z języka angielskiego na poziomie podstawowym, jednocześnie wprowadzając niektóre założenia poziomu rozszerzonego;
- na poziomie 3 (B1/B1+ wg ESOKJ) zawiera ćwiczenia z obu poziomów egzaminu maturalnego – podstawowego i rozszerzonego – przygotowując uczniów do rozwiązywania wszystkich typów zadań;
- na poziomie 4 (B2/B2+ wg ESOKJ) skupia się na umiejętnościach potrzebnych, aby zdać egzamin na poziomie rozszerzonym, wprowadzając jednocześnie niektóre założenia poziomu dwujęzycznego;
- na poziomie 5 (B2+/C1 wg ESOKJ) ćwiczy umiejętności niezbędne do zdania egzaminu na poziomie rozszerzonym oraz dwujęzycznym.

Focus Second Edition na wszystkich pięciu poziomach kładzie nacisk na umiejętności produktywne, czyli mówienie i pisanie, w formie wymaganej na egzaminie maturalnym. Uczy środków językowych w przemyślany sposób, przykładając wielką wagę do ich różnorodności i poprawności zgodnie z obowiązującymi kryteriami oceny. Ponadto kurs kładzie większy nacisk na zadania otwarte. Szczegółowe informacje na temat przygotowania do matury z języka angielskiego w poszczególnych komponentach poziomu 2 kursu Focus Second Edition znajdują się w tabeli obok.

Warto zwrócić także uwagę na unikatowy charakter książki nauczyciela (Focus Second Edition* Teacher's Book), która została zaprojektowana w taki sposób, by ułatwić przygotowanie do lekcji i usprawnić pracę w klasie, ale przede wszystkim skutecznie przygotować uczniów do egzaminu maturalnego.
- Strony głównej części książki nauczyciela mają taką samą numerację jak strony książki ucznia.
- Na stronach książki ucznia naniesiono rozwiązania zadań.
- Książka nauczyciela zawiera pomniejszone strony zeszytu ćwiczeń wraz z naniesionymi rozwiązaniami zadań.
- Na końcu książki nauczyciela znajduje się sekcja Culture notes, w której uwzględniono elementy wiedzy o krajach anglojęzycznych obowiązujące na egzaminie maturalnym.
- Nauczyciel ma też do dyspozycji dodatkowe materiały do kopiowania. Wśród nich znajdzie między innymi ćwiczenia sprawdzające znajomość środków językowych w formacie zadań maturalnych, jak również ćwiczenia przygotowujące ucznia do wykonania zadań maturalnych w zakresie mówienia i pisania.

- Mirrors the Student's Book's unit structure and pagination
- Speaking Bank with phrases for the oral part of the Matura exam in the Speaking lessons
- Self-check after each unit with Vocabulary, Grammar and Use of English exercises
- BBC and Focus Vlog video worksheets
- Wordlist for Matura exam with practice exercises
- Grammar Review with explanation of grammar points from Focus 1 and extra practice activities
- Grammar: Train and Try Again – additional grammar activities
- Writing Bank with phrases for the written part of the Matura exams
- REMEMBER THIS boxes drawing attention to tricky language
- REMEMBER BETTER boxes with tips on remembering new language

Online Practice (powered by MyEnglishLab)

Online Practice is a collection of extra digital activities available to students in either self-study mode or assigned by the teacher. The access codes to these materials are provided in every Workbook together with an instruction how to register.

Extra digital activities include:

- Vocabulary and Grammar Checkpoints which give students further practice of the core content in every unit of the Student's Book and Workbook and help them prepare for tests,
- Use of English, Reading and Listening activities which provide extra skills practice.

Online Practice also includes all Student's Book audio and video.

Testing Programme

The Testing Programme is more than just a collection of tests. It offers a coherent system of evaluation and grading which covers a wide range of test types delivered in PDF and editable formats.

The Testing Programme includes:

- Matura speaking tests for the students and examiners accompanied by detailed assessment criteria;
- A & B Vocabulary quizzes for each vocabulary lesson;
- A & B Grammar quizzes for each grammar lesson;
- A & B Use of English quizzes for each Use of English lesson;
- A & B unit MiniMatura tests (checking vocabulary, grammar, Use of English, reading, listening and writing) accompanied by detailed assessment criteria for the writing tasks for each unit;
- four Cumulative tests (units 1–2, 1–4, 1–6, 1–8);
- sample Matura test;
- Placement test;
- End-of-year test;
- answer keys and audioscripts.

Online Practice (powered by MyEnglishLab)

- Teacher's view of Online Practice
- Extra digital activities: Vocabulary and Grammar Checkpoints and Use of English, Reading and Listening activities
- All Student's Book audio and video
- Automatic marking and instant feedback
- Two optional ways of using:
  1 creating a course for your students which enables assigning tasks, monitoring students' activity and performance in an online gradebook;
  2 students' mode.

Using videos in the classroom

There are four types of videos in Focus Second Edition:

1 BBC VIDEOS

These are short (2–3 minutes) video clips produced by the BBC. As an extension of the topics covered in all vocabulary lessons, the authentic, natural-language BBC videos give students an opportunity to hone their reception skills while further enhancing their vocabulary. Each video is accompanied by a Video worksheet for students to practice comprehension and use the extra vocabulary. For the Video worksheets, go to lesson 9 in each unit in the Workbook. Students also are prompted to discuss the topics covered in the videos and relate them to their own experiences, improving their critical thinking skills.

You can use the BBC video at the end of the Vocabulary lesson or at the end of the Unit. Alternatively, you can use the video at the very beginning of the unit as an introduction to the unit topic.

No. of videos: 8 (1 per unit)

2 FOCUS VLOGS (VOX POPS)

These short clips have been given the form of a vlog. Filmed on the streets of London, they feature real people answering questions that touch upon their lives and opinions, while following the topics and themes covered in the lesson they appear in. They present the target grammar structures in a real context in small, easy-to-manage chunks for the students to model their own speech on, helping them improve their productive accuracy. The vlogs feature unscripted, authentic, spontaneous speech of speakers of English from the UK as well as from other countries and as such, they expose students to real language they can encounter in their lives. Each vlog is accompanied by a Vlog worksheet in the Workbook.

You can use the vlogs at the end of the Grammar lesson that they appear in.

No. of videos: 8 (1 per unit)

3 GRAMMAR ANIMATIONS

Each of these videos features two parts: an animated cartoon presenting the grammar structure in context and a teacher's explanation with the purpose of reinforcing students' understanding and learning of the structure. You can use all or only part of the video to help your students learn grammar in an engaging and attractive way.

Not being part of the lesson, these videos can be used independently as an introduction to the Grammar lesson, as its summary or even mid-lesson as an extra resource to facilitate students' learning.

No. of videos: 17

4 INTERACTIVE SPEAKING VIDEOS

The function of these short videos is to present the key Speaking lesson language provided in the SPEAKING FOCUS box by showing it used in real-life situations. They enable students to not only learn, but acquire language by offering them visual clues such as location, body language and facial expressions, which help to improve students' communication skills in terms of both reception and speaking fluency. Each video has an A and B version for the students to role-play available on Pearson English Portal only.

Use the interactive speaking videos at the end of the Speaking lessons.

No. of videos: 27

Assessment for Learning and GSE

ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING

Focus Second Edition includes elements of Assessment for Learning methodology. The aim is to enhance learning by supporting students in understanding what they know and what they need to do next, making them active in their own learning. At the same time, using Assessment for Learning helps teachers to understand where their students are in their learning and make decisions about how to help students improve.

When we talk about Assessment for Learning, we're really talking about assessing students formatively, watching and listening to our students to see how far they understand and using this to help decide what we need to do next. This can be during any activity in class or using a test from the Testing Programme.

In Focus Second Edition, a handful of Assessment for Learning techniques and activities have been integrated into each unit to give students an awareness of what and how they are learning and give you, the teacher, lots of opportunities to assess how each student is doing.

Each unit starts with the unit objectives, to help students understand the goals. There is a thought-provoking quote linked to the topic of the unit to get students thinking about the theme as a whole, as well as help them remember any topic vocabulary that they already know. The SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW section at the start of the unit reinforces this and helps all students start from a confident beginning.

Throughout the unit, you can use class activities and/or the quizzes in the Testing Programme to check students' learning and deal with any misunderstandings or areas of weakness during the cycle of learning. Consider using the quizzes and other tests in alternative ways: have students work on them together or mark each other's papers. Ask them to highlight areas for revision or further work. Rather than marking papers right or wrong, indicate how many answers are wrong and ask students to work together to find the errors, using their classmates' feedback, the Internet, or reference books to help make the corrections.

The Workbook units finish with a Self-check – a review of the grammar and vocabulary from the unit.

The Global Scale of English

The Global Scale of English is a standardized, granular scale from 10 to 90, which measures English language proficiency. Unlike other benchmarks that describe attainment in broad bands, it identifies what a learner can do at each point on the scale across speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills. For instance, a person who has a speaking ability of 47 'can describe their dreams, hopes, and ambitions.'

The scale is designed to motivate learners by demonstrating incremental, step-by-step progress in their language ability. Teachers can use their knowledge of their students' Global Scale of English level to choose materials that are precisely matched to ability and learning goals.

The Global Scale of English serves as a standard against which English language courses and assessments worldwide can be benchmarked, offering a truly global and shared understanding of language proficiency levels.

Mediation in Focus Second Edition

In 2017, the Council of Europe released the CEFR Companion Volume with New Descriptors – a set of new Can Do statements to complement the original 2001 publication. A key focus for this new set of descriptors is Mediation.

When most people think of Mediation, they either think about disputes (resolving conflict between two parties) or, in the context of language, they think of translation and interpreting. Both are true, but the term is used more broadly to cover spoken and written language functions in which the learner is conveying and interpreting meaning. Mediation descriptors may be new to the CEFR, but mediation itself is not new – within the same language (intralingual) or from one language to another (interlingual). It combines reception, production and interaction and is a common part of everyday language use – making communication possible between people who, for whatever reason, are unable to communicate successfully with each other: they may speak different languages and require a translation, they may not have the same subject knowledge information and need an explanation or simplification, they may not be of the same opinion and need someone to identify common ground. Mediation can also involve written texts – with the reader summarising, paraphrasing or interpreting the information for a different audience.

How is Mediation organised in the CEFR?
The scales (categories) for mediation are presented in three groups, reflecting the way in which mediation tends to occur.

1 Mediating a text consists of passing on to another person (in speech or writing) the content of a text which is, for various reasons, inaccessible to them. It includes:
- relaying specific information (e.g. listening to or reading something and then passing the information on to a third party). This may not be an explicit activity at the lower levels of the course, but this skill is practiced whenever learners are asked to listen for information or scan the text and then tell the teacher/classmate what they have understood;
- explaining data (e.g. in graphs, diagrams, charts);
- processing text (e.g. summarising a text or set of texts, making a technical text understandable to a non-specialist, passing on key information from an announcement or set of instructions);
- translating a written text;
- note-taking (lectures, seminars, meetings);
- expressing a personal response to creative texts (including literature) (e.g. explaining why you like a story/film, interpreting a character's reactions, describing how a creative text makes you feel);
- analysis and criticism of creative texts (including literature) (e.g. critically evaluating the success of a creative text, comparing different approaches to a subject in different creative texts, explaining the techniques used by the author to create emotions, atmospheres).

2 Mediating concepts involves facilitating access to knowledge and concepts for others. It includes:
- collaborating in a group (e.g. asking for other people's opinions, inviting others into the discussion, saying why you agree or disagree with an opinion, asking questions to keep the discussion going, highlighting the main issues that need to be discussed);
- leading group work (e.g. allocating turns in a discussion, keeping the discussion on topic, asking questions to clarify meaning, asking others to explain their reasoning behind an opinion, encouraging others to elaborate on what they have said).

3 Mediating communication facilitates understanding and successful communication between users who may have individual, sociocultural, sociolinguistic or intellectual differences. It includes:
- facilitating pluricultural space (e.g. supporting inter-cultural exchanges, understanding cultural differences, demonstrating an understanding of different perspectives);
- acting as intermediary in informal situations (with friends and colleagues);
- facilitating communication in delicate situations and disagreements.

Where is Mediation in Focus Second Edition?

Plenty of Mediation activities can be found in Focus Second Edition – both for mediating the texts intralingually and interlingually. Look out for all open reading and listening comprehension tasks, translation and transformation tasks, gapped summaries, rewriting texts in a different register (formal/informal), picture description, speculating or drawing conclusions.
There are also numerous tasks which cater for mediating concepts and communication – look out for communicative pairwork or groupwork tasks, projects or problem-solving activities.

How to teach with projects

THE BENEFITS OF TEACHING WITH PROJECTS

The benefits

Projects help students to work together to produce a presentation, a poster, etc. in English. They usually require students to do research and present the information in a creative way. Projects in the English language classroom provide several benefits:

1 Authentic use of language
Students work on a task which requires them to use English authentically. Projects also often develop all four skills: reading, writing, listening and speaking.

2 Development of personal skills
Projects often require learners to collaborate, enabling them to develop skills such as the ability to cooperate, solve problems and communicate.

3 Development of autonomy
As project work involves students making decisions about how to achieve their learning objective, they are able to develop learner autonomy with support and guidance from their teacher.

4 Development of critical thinking skills
Students can develop information literacy and media literacy when doing research online, determining what information is useful, biased, false, etc. They can also develop critical thinking skills when analysing that information, evaluating it and deciding how to use it.

5 Development of creativity
Many projects require learners to be creative in some way. Creativity, along with collaboration, communication and critical thinking skills are considered to be key skills for 21st century learning.

6 Increased motivation
Project work adds variety to lessons and gives students an opportunity to use English in contexts close to their lives. Students' motivation increases when they make their own decisions regarding what exactly their project will focus on and then have a chance to present it to others.

It is important to note that while project work provides many development opportunities, students are likely to need support in exploiting those opportunities, such as advice from their teacher on how to work independently or feedback on their communication skills.

HOW TO EXTEND FOCUS PROJECTS

The teacher's notes to each Vocabulary lesson include a topic for a project. We encourage teachers to acquaint their students with the project at the beginning of the unit so that they can work on it over a longer period of time. Here is one of the topics from Focus 2 Second Edition:

> Work in groups. Do some research to find out about unusual scientific work or a place to do science experiments. Prepare a presentation about it and then present it to your class.

To expand the project, students' work on it could be divided into a few stages:

1 In class: After the first lesson of the unit, students are given the topic of the project.
Homework: Each student researches unusual scientific work or a place to do experiments.

2 In class: Students share their research with their groups and then select one piece of work or place they are most interested in.
Homework: Students go away and do more research on the scientific work or place to do experiments they have selected. They take notes. They plan a presentation about it.

4 In class: Groups work together and give each other oral feedback and suggestions on their plans.
Homework: Then they prepare their presentations.

5 In class: Students present their work to the class. Then they vote on their favourite unusual scientific work or place to do experiments and discuss why.

Exercise 3

1 It connects young people with old people.
2 The young can help older people with technology/ practical jobs.
3 The old can help the young with advice/ by listening.

1.1 VOCABULARY

Personality • un-, in-, im- ir-, dis- • questions with like

I can describe people's personality and emotions.

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 Make pairs of opposite adjectives from groups 1–6 and a–f.

1 funny e	a boring
2 interesting a	b stressed
3 loud f	c negative
4 positive c	d unsociable
5 relaxed b	e serious
6 sociable d	f quiet

2 SPEAKING Use the adjectives in Exercise 1 to describe people you know.

3 SPEAKING 1.2 Look at the photos and discuss the questions. Then listen and check your ideas.

1 What is the purpose of the charity organising these activities?
2 What can young people do to help older people?
3 What can older people do to help young people?

4 Read the comments in the text. Who benefits most: the young or the older people? Why?

YOUNG PEOPLE SAY ...

You do charity work because you're kind and generous, right? Well, that's a bit dishonest. In fact, I really enjoy spending time with older people.

Thanks to my visits, I hope she feels less lonely than before. Mitzi helped me a lot when I had some work problems.

She's a good listener. I talk to her about my worries and she gives me advice. She's wise, sensitive and has a lot of experience. I'm talkative, and they like that.

My grandparents are very quiet and polite, but older people are not all like that. John's really loud and funny. We laugh a lot together.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Personality

5 1.3 In your notebook, write pairs of adjectives in red in the text and their antonyms. Then listen, check and repeat.

1	caring	≠ selfish	4	hard-working	≠ lazy
2	cheerful	≠ miserable	5	outgoing	≠ shy
3	generous	≠ mean	6	sensible	≠ silly

6 Replace the phrases in brackets with the adjectives in Exercise 5. Write them in your notebook.

1 Charity workers are caring (not selfish). They are kind and helpful.
2 Teenagers are miserable (not cheerful). They are always in a bad mood.
3 Young professionals are hard-working (not lazy). They want to be successful.
4 Many billionaires are generous (not mean). They give lots of money to charities.
5 Most children are shy (not outgoing). They're not confident with strangers.
6 Young people are often silly (not sensible). They make stupid decisions.

7 SPEAKING Are the statements in Exercise 6 true? Discuss with a partner.

OLDER PEOPLE SAY ...

He's adventurous – he travels to exciting places. I love hearing about his adventures.

I can look after myself – I like to be independent but I look forward to the weekly visits.

She's outgoing and always cheerful – she makes me feel young again.

I like being with young people. I am more confident when I use the Internet now.

You read so many bad things about young people in the press – that they're selfish or irresponsible, but he's caring, sensible and hard-working.

He's got tattoos and long hair. He looks like a hippy, but he's lovely and very popular with the ladies!

FOCUS ON WORDS | un-, in-, im- ir-, dis-

8 1.4 Copy Focus on Words and complete it with the underlined adjectives in the text to make pairs of antonyms. Then listen, check and repeat.

3 'Why do you admire her ?'
'I admire her because she does a lot of good work with young people.'
4 'What is she trying to do ?'
'She's trying to teach children about exercise and health.'
5 'Have you ever seen her in person ?'
'No, I haven't seen her in person, but I've watched her online.'
6 'What is she doing now ?'
'She is still working with young people.'

5 In your notebook, write questions about the subject (a) and about the object (b) of each statement.

1 [a]Emily and Peter like watching [b]science-fiction films.
a Who likes watching science-fiction films?
b What do Emily and Peter like watching?
2 [a]Neil has joined [b]Amnesty International.
a Who has joined Amnesty International?
b Which organisation has Neil joined?
3 [a]Rosie can speak [b]three languages.
a Who can speak three languages?
b How many languages can Rosie speak?
4 [a]Dave has visited [b]London.
a Who has visited London?
b Which capital city has Dave visited?
5 [a]Tom is reading [b]Barack Obama's biography.
a Who is reading Barack Obama's biography?
b What is Tom reading?

p. 7

NEXT CLASS
Ask students to write 2–3 sentences to answer the question: What are teenagers in your country like?

1.4 READING

Matching

I can identify specific information in an article.

1 SPEAKING Name three people you know for each age group. Then talk about each person and discuss the questions.

X (Age 40–59)
Y (Age 20–39)
Z (Age 15–19)

1 What are they like?
2 What do they like?
3 How often do they use technology?

2 Read the text. Compare your ideas in Exercise 1 with the information in the article.

READING FOCUS Matching

3 Read the text again. In your notebook, match each generation X, Y and Z with questions 1–4. One generation matches two questions.

Which generation …

1 don't enjoy much job satisfaction?
– Y (they find it hard to get jobs that make them happy)
2 are afraid they can't afford studying?
– Z (they worry about university fees)
3 are least likely to discriminate?
– Z (they don't care about where you are from or the colour of your skin) 4 don't depend on anything or anybody?
– X (they are independent)

4 SPEAKING Are you typical of Generation Z? Discuss with a partner.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Verb + preposition

5 1.16 Copy Focus on Words and complete the gaps with the verbs in blue in the text. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 care / think / ___worry___ about
2 ___believe___ in
3 ___depend___ / focus on 4 ___listen___ to 5 connect / ___deal___ with

6 Which prepositions complete the sentences correctly? Check the verb + preposition structures in Exercise 5.

1 Amy is a cheerful kind of person. She always focuses ___on___ positive things.
2 Billy believes ___in___ working hard and playing hard.
3 Carol never looks at a map. She depends ___on___ her phone for directions.
4 David thinks ___about___ his health too much. He always thinks he's ill.
5 Emily has younger brothers and sisters. She has to deal ___with___ a lot of noise at home.
6 Fred doesn't care ___about___ the environment. He never recycles anything.
7 Gabrielle worries ___about___ her grandparents because they're old.
8 Helen prefers to connect ___with___ her friends face to face.
9 George always sings along when he listens ___to___ music. It's so annoying!

7 SPEAKING Change the names in Exercise 6 to make some true sentences about people you know. Tell your partner about them.

8 In your notebook, complete the questions with the correct preposition.

1 At the moment, what sort of music are you listening ___to___ ?
2 At school, which subject is hardest to focus ___on___ ?
3 What is the worst situation you have ever had to deal ___with___ ?
4 In your family, who's the person you can most depend ___on___ ?
5 Which global problems do you most worry ___about___ ?
6 Before you fall asleep, what do you think ___about___ ?

9 SPEAKING In pairs, ask and answer the questions in Exercise 8.

EXTRA ACTIVITIES

• Students share the sentences that they prepared for this class about teenagers in their country and compare their ideas to the ideas in the text.

• Students work in pairs. Each student chooses three verbs with prepositions from the lesson they find most difficult to remember and write sentences for their partner to complete.

• Students work in pairs. They take turns to say a verb with a preposition from the text for their partner to translate into Polish. Then they take turns saying these verbs in Polish for their partner to translate into English.

A BRIEF GUIDE TO THE GENERATIONS

GENERATION X

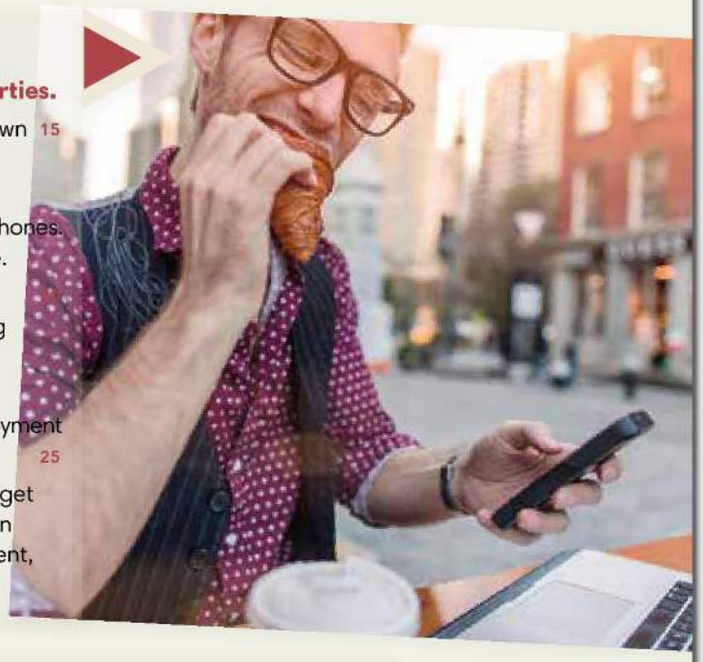

Born between 1965 and 1980, now in their forties and fifties.

- Generation X created the Internet. When they were teenagers, mobile phones were enormous, and not many people had computers at home. They had to deal with big changes in technology. But this generation is adventurous and adaptable – they are not afraid of change. Now they use wearable technology to stay fit and healthy. Generation X believe in looking after themselves and staying young.
- Generation X grew up with both parents at work during the day. This is one of the reasons they are independent.
- Generation X are very sociable, but also hard-working. Even when they go out until late, they still get up for work.
- They're passionate about music. They invented punk, grunge and techno. When they were teenagers, they listened to music on cassette and CD players.

GENERATION Y / MILLENNIALS

Born between 1980 and 2000, now in their twenties and thirties.

- Generation Y, or Millennials, are the selfie generation, also known as Generation Me Me Me. Some people say they focus on themselves too much.
- They grew up with technology and they depend on their smartphones. They download and listen to music on their phones all the time.
- Generation Y have FOMO or 'fear of missing out'. They like to share experiences on social media, and they worry about being popular and having a good time. 53% prefer to spend money on an experience than a possession.
- Lots of Generation Ys went to university, but because of unemployment they find it hard to get jobs that make them happy.
- Many of them live at home and depend on their parents. They get married later than Generation X — the average age for women is 27 and for men it's 29. They would like to be more independent, but they can't afford to be.

GENERATION Z

Born between 1995 and now.

- Generation Z are good at multi-tasking. They can use several screens at the same time and this is why they're called Screenagers. They're fast thinkers, and when something doesn't happen quickly, they get impatient.
- Generation Z are the 'we' generation. They don't think about themselves too much. Instead they focus on global problems like terrorism and global warming.
- They're sociable and they enjoy connecting with friends on social media, but they can also feel very lonely. Generation Z love going to gigs or amusement parks. 80% prefer to spend time with their friends in person than on the phone or online.
- Generation Z believe in getting a good education, but they worry about university fees. This generation is ambitious and want to start their own businesses.
- Generation Z don't care about where you're from or the colour of your skin.
- Music is an essential part of their day.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Mainly As I LOVE THEM

You enjoy [15] thinking (think) about clothes (perhaps a bit too much), and the way you look is important for your personal identity.

Mainly Bs I NEED THEM

You don't mind [16] thinking (think) about clothes, but they are not your priority. You prefer casual clothes because you need [17] to be (be) comfortable.

Mainly Cs I HATE THEM

You hate [18] thinking (think) about clothes! You choose [19] to spend (spend) your time and money on other things. But don't forget, clothes can be fun.

1 SPEAKING Which words from the box match which clothes 1–6 in the pictures? Which of the clothes do you have? Tell your partner.

hoodie 1 jacket 2 suit 5 sweatpants 3 tie 4 uniform 6

2 Which sentence best describes your opinion about clothes?

1 I want to look good at all times.
2 I enjoy wearing comfortable things.
3 I'm not interested in clothes.

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. What verb patterns in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 4

Verb + -ing or verb + to infinitive

- After some verbs and verb phrases you usually use the to infinitive.

  Examples: agree, can't afford, choose, decide, hope, manage, need, pretend, refuse, want, 'd like, 'd prefer

  I want [1] to look good at all times.

- After some verbs and verb phrases you usually use the -ing form of a verb.

  Examples: avoid, can't stand, consider, don't mind, enjoy, hate, like, love, miss, prefer, spend time

  I enjoy [2] wearing comfortable things.

4 In your notebook, write the correct forms of the verbs in brackets in the questionnaire.

5 SPEAKING Do the questionnaire. What is your attitude to clothes? Tell your partner.

6 Which form, to wear or wearing, completes the sentences correctly? Which sentences are true for you?

1 I can't stand wearing formal clothes like suits.
2 I don't mind wearing second-hand clothes.
3 I refuse to wear skinny jeans. They're too uncomfortable.
4 I hate wearing heavy winter coats.
5 I can't afford to wear designer clothes. They're too expensive.
6 I avoid wearing anything yellow or pink.

7 In your notebook, complete the sentences with information about yourself. Write five true sentences and one false.

1 I love …
2 I need …
3 I've decided …
4 I spend a lot of time …
5 I sometimes pretend …
6 I hope …

8 SPEAKING Read your sentences in Exercise 7 to your partner for him/her to guess which sentence is false.

1.6 USE OF ENGLISH

so and such

I can use so and such correctly.

1 SPEAKING Read the introduction. Then discuss the questions.

1 Do you, or would you like to, live with three generations of your family?
2 What advantages can you think of?
3 What disadvantages can you think of?

One home, three generations

Around the world, many families live with several generations in the same house. This is because young people can't afford to move away from home. Also the older generation live longer now, and they want to be useful. These homes are crowded, but the generations help and support each other. So what's it like to have grandparents, parents and children living together? We asked members of three generations of the same family.

2 1.17 Listen to the father's views. Which of your ideas in Exercise 1 does he mention?

3 1.17 Listen again. Read sentences 1–5 and write the correct option in your notebook.

1 We have three generations in this house: it's (so) / such crowded!
2 New Zealand is so / (such) a long way from the UK.
3 Childcare is (so) / such expensive in London.
4 We were (so) / such poor that we couldn't go on holiday.
5 The house is very small for so / (such) a big family.

4 1.18 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. In your notebook, write so or such to complete the daughter's views in the text below correctly. Listen and check.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

so* and *such

- You use so to emphasise adjectives.
  so* + adjective > It's so crowded!
- You use such to emphasise nouns.
  such* + noun phrase > It's such a long way.
  We're such close friends. They give such good advice.

I don't mind living with my grandparents, they're [1] so lovely. I like talking to them – they're very experienced and give [2] such good advice. Mum and Dad are [3] so busy. They don't have time to listen to our problems. My parents are [4] so lucky because grandma and granddad are very helpful in the house. Grandma is [5] such a good cook that she does most of the cooking, while granddad looks after the garden.

5 1.19 USE OF ENGLISH Decide which option (A, B or C) completes the text with the grandmother's views correctly. Then listen and check.

We thought about it for a long time because we're [1] ___ independent people. Some elderly people are lonely, but not us – we've got [2] ___ friends that we never feel lonely. But we wanted to help with the children. We try to be useful and it's [3] ___ fun to spend time with my grandchildren. People say that teenagers are selfish and rude, but I must say my granddaughter's [4] ___ polite young lady and she's very kind. I worry about her little brother though. He's [5] ___ lazy!

1	A so	(B) such	C such an
2	(A) so many	B such many	C such a
3	(A) such	B such a	C so
4	A such	B so	(C) such a
5	(A) so	B such	C such a

6 SPEAKING Which generation do you think benefits most from living in 'one home'? Discuss with a partner.

Use of English page 118

REFERENCES
Audioscript p. 228

EXTRA ACTIVITIES
Students write five sentences about their city/country or themselves using so and such, then compare with a partner, e.g. I live so close to school that I can get there by foot in two minutes.

NEXT CLASS
- Ask students to find examples of emoticons and what they mean, e.g. :) (= happy) or :((= sad).
- Ask students to prepare for a 10–15-minute Use of English quiz: Testing Programme, Unit 1.6, Use of English.

1.7 WRITING

A personal email/letter

I can write a short personal email to introduce myself.

1 SPEAKING Choose five qualities to describe the ideal exchange student. Discuss with a partner.

confident and independent | friendly and outgoing | generous | good-looking | good at sport | honest | interested in computers | into the same music as me | keen on the same hobbies as me | sensible

2 Read the email from an exchange student. Which topics from the box does the student write about?

family ✓ food | hobbies ✓ music ✓ school ✓ sport ✓

3 SPEAKING Does the person in the email sound like your ideal exchange student? What details would you change? Tell your partner.

4 In your notebook, put the sentences summarising the email in the correct order (1–5).

a basic information about yourself 2 b a greeting and information about why you are writing 1 c another way of saying that you're looking forward to seeing him/her 4 d a friendly goodbye 5
e information about your likes/dislikes/ hobbies, etc. 3

5 Read the WRITING FOCUS. Which underlined phrases from the email complete the examples correctly?

WRITING FOCUS

A personal email/letter

- Start the letter/email with a friendly greeting: Dear Nick,/[1] Hi Jo,
- Don't use full forms. Use contractions: you're (NOT ~~you are~~)/[2] I'm
- Use emoticons (☺) or abbreviations (but don't overuse them): Bye for now = Bye 4 now.
- Ask questions to show you want a reply: What do you enjoy doing at weekends? What [3] about you ?
- Finish the letter/email with a friendly goodbye, e.g. All the best/[4] Bye 4 now .

To: Jo
Subject: C U soon!

Hi Jo,

How are you doing? I'm really excited about coming to stay with you. I'm writing to tell you a bit more about myself.

As you know, I'm sixteen and I live in Venice. My brother and I go to the same school. I'm not crazy about studying but it's OK – my favourite subject is Art. What about you? What subjects are you good at?

In my free time, I'm keen on sports and I'm not bad at volleyball. I'm also passionate about music, especially British bands. At the moment I'm listening to Little Mix all the time. What kind of music are you interested in?

At weekends, my friends and I love going to the cinema. What do you enjoy doing at weekends?

I can't wait to see you next month! I'm sure we'll have fun.

OK, time to finish. Write soon ☺

Bye 4 now.

NEXT CLASS

Ask students to read ex. 1 on p. 14 and make notes to discuss in class.

6 Are these phrases usually used in the first paragraph or in the last paragraph?

1 How are you? F
2 I'd better stop now. L
3 Looking forward to hearing from you/seeing you. L
4 Give my love to .../Say hello to ... L
5 It was good to hear from you. F
6 Cheers, L
7 Dear ... F
8 I'm writing to tell you about .../say sorry about .../thank you for ... F
9 C U (see you) soon/next week/in a few months. L

7 Which phrases from Exercise 6 can replace the phrases in purple in the email?

8 SPEAKING Which of these statements illustrate good (G) or not good (NG) exchange students? Why? Discuss with a partner.

1 I'm obsessed with hiphop.
2 I'm mad about shopping. I spend lots of money on clothes.
3 I watch a lot of DVDs, especially horror films.
4 I'm serious about politics.
5 I love acting – I'm involved in a local theatre club.
6 I'm afraid of animals, especially dogs.
7 I'm ambitious – I'm always disappointed with low marks at school.
8 I'm useless at sport and I'm very unfit.

9 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. What prepositions complete the examples correctly? Use the examples in the email in Exercise 2 and in Exercise 8.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Adjective + preposition

Use an adjective + preposition to give information about yourself.

I'm crazy/excited/mad/passionate/serious/worried [1] about
I'm bad/good/useless [2] at I'm involved [3] in
I'm afraid [4] of
I'm keen [5] on
I'm disappointed/obsessed [6] with

Note: It's okay for questions to end in a preposition, e.g. What subjects are you good at?

10 SPEAKING In your notebook, complete the questions with the correct preposition. Then ask and answer the questions in pairs.

1 What sort of things are you interested in ?
2 What after-school activities are you involved in ?
3 What bands and singers are you keen on ?
4 What sports or games are you good at ?
5 What sort of things are you serious about ?
6 What are you most passionate about ?

9 Zapoznaj się z poniższą kartą ucznia A. Zdecyduj, które cztery z podanych opcji a–f najlepiej pasują do tematu zadania.

UCZEŃ A
Wraz z uczniem A, który bardzo dobrze rysuje, chcesz tworzyć komiks internetowy o sprawach interesujących młodych ludzi. Zastanawiacie się, kim powinien być bohater waszego komiksu. Poniżej podane są cztery kwestie, które musisz omówić. Rozmowę rozpoczyna uczeń B.

a Ubiór
b Przyjaciele
c Stan zdrowia
d Zainteresowania
e Cechy osobowości
f Plany dotyczące pracy

10 Pracując w parach, wykonajcie zadanie.
Zadanie ucznia A: użyj karty z ćwiczenia 9.
Zadanie ucznia B: użyj karty poniżej.

UCZEŃ B
Bardzo dobrze rysujesz. Wspólnie z uczniem A planujecie tworzenie komiksu internetowego o sprawach interesujących młodych ludzi.
W zależności od tego, jak potoczy się rozmowa, wykorzystaj wszystkie lub wybrane zdania. Rozmowę rozpoczynasz ty.

- So, what kind of person do you want to write about?
- I'm not sure if it's a good idea.
- What exactly do you mean by young/miserable?

PISANIE

E-mail/List prywatny

11 Przeczytaj zadanie. Do każdego podpunktu napisz w zeszycie po jednym pasującym zdaniu. Następnie wymieńcie się zeszytami w parach. Rozwiń zdania kolegi/koleżanki.

W tym semestrze jesteś na wymianie uczniowskiej w Wielkiej Brytanii. Napisz e-mail do kolegi ze Stanów Zjednoczonych. W swoim e-mailu:

- wyjaśnij, gdzie jesteś, i wyraź opinię na temat tego miejsca,
- opowiedz o rodzinie, u której przebywasz,
- opisz koleżankę z nowej szkoły,
- napisz, jak minął ci poprzedni weekend.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów.
Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

12 Wykonaj zadanie w ramce z ćwiczenia 11.

3 person they chose/person they wanted/person they knew
4 brains
5 less happy than

Exercise 8
Verbs: clean up, pick up, carry, wear, belong, protect Nouns: wood, trees, rubbish, outfit, bags, gloves, volunteers
The photo shows a few young volunteers in the wood. They are carrying plastic bags and picking up rubbish, that's why they are wearing rubber gloves. They are also wearing blue outfits, probably because they belong to a voluntary group. They are protecting the environment. This could be one of the 'Clean up the world' activities. In the background there are a few trees and bushes but there aren't many leaves yet so it is early spring. It's sunny and warm. The people look serious but I think they're enjoying the job.

2.2 GRAMMAR

Past Continuous and Past Simple

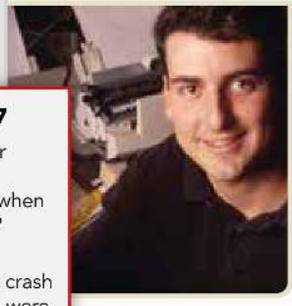

I can use the Past Simple and Past Continuous to describe past events.

Exercise 2
Joe Jacobson was a researcher.
Because he finished his book and wanted another one to read.

1 SPEAKING Read what people say about e-books and printed books. Which comments do you agree with? Think of more advantages and disadvantages. Discuss with a partner.

1. When I go on holiday, I don't have to pack heavy books.
2. I like the feel of a real book in my hands.
3. I work with computer screens all day – I don't want to read books on a screen too.
4. Books are so expensive. E-books are cheaper.

2 Read about E ink. Who was Joe Jacobson and why did he have a 'Eureka' moment?

In 1997 Joe Jacobson was working as a researcher for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). One summer, he went on holiday to the coast. He was lying on a beach when he finished his book. Unfortunately, he didn't have another one with him. At that moment, he imagined an electronic book that he could download any time he wanted and read in direct sunlight. It was a 'Eureka' moment. His vision became E ink technology and helped develop the e-readers that we have today.

Exercise 7
1 Were your parents studying when they met?
2 Did your computer crash when you were doing your homework last night?
3 Were you watching a film when your mum got home yesterday?
4 Was it raining when you woke up this morning?
5 Did you burn yourself when you were making breakfast?
6 Did a friend text you when you were walking to school?

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which past forms in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

2.3 LISTENING

Matching

I can identify key details in a simple recorded narrative about scientists.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Science and scientists

1 1.30 Decide which photos A–F illustrate the words in the box. Then listen, check and repeat.

linguistics C geology B marine biology E archaeology A psychology F conservation D

2 SPEAKING 1.31 Which job descriptions 1–6 define the jobs below? Listen and check. Do you know anybody who does one of these jobs? Tell your partner.

A linguist A geologist A marine biologist
A psychologist An archaeologist A conservationist

1 A linguist studies and often speaks a lot of languages.
2 A conservationist studies ways of protecting the environment.
3 A geologist studies rocks and the history of the earth.
4 A psychologist studies how people behave and how their minds work.
5 An archaeologist studies people who lived thousands of years ago.
6 A marine biologist studies, observes and protects oceans.

3 1.32 Listen to five speakers talking about why they became scientists. Which job in Exercise 2 does each person do?

LISTENING FOCUS Matching

4 1.32 Listen again. In your notebook, match speakers 1–5 with statements A–F. There is one extra statement.

Speaker 1: B Speaker 3: A Speaker 5: C
Speaker 2: F Speaker 4: D

A I'd like to find out how early childhood affects behaviour.
B I'm keen on researching how machines can talk to one another.
C I'm passionate about preserving life under the sea.
D I became interested in my field after an educational visit.
E I want to study the evolution of our planet.
F I'm focussed on developing alternative forms of sustainable energy.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Collocations

5 1.33 In your notebook, complete the collocations with the words in the box. Then listen, check and repeat.

data the environment evidence hours a research paper

1 analyse data / evidence
2 collect data / evidence
3 protect the environment
4 publish a research paper / data
5 spend hours

6 In your notebook, complete the statements about the speakers with the words and phrases in Exercise 5.

1 The marine biologist wants to collect data/evidence about global warming.
2 The linguist has published a research paper on robot communication.
3 The psychologist loves doing research and analysing data .
4 The archaeologist spent hours in the Egyptian room in the Louvre.
5 The conservationist is doing research into climate change to help protect the environment .

7 SPEAKING How common is it to study the same subjects as your parents? Think about your friends and family. What will you do? Discuss with a partner.

PRONUNCIATION FOCUS

8 1.34 Copy the table and complete it. Then listen, check and repeat. Mark the stress.

Subject	Job
1 archaeology	archaeologist
2 analysis	analyst
3 conservation	conservationist
4 geology	geologist
5 linguistics	linguist
6 psychology	psychologist

9 SPEAKING Practise the words in Exercise 8 as in the example. Pay attention to the stress.

A: What does an archaeologist do? B: Archaeology.

Exercise 3
Speaker 1: A linguist
Speaker 2: A conservationist
Speaker 3: A psychologist
Speaker 4: An archaeologist
Speaker 5: A marine biologist

Science at the South Pole

1.36

Jane Roberts is a marine biologist. She worked for two years in Antarctica. Here, she answers your questions.

Is there really a pole at the South Pole?

Yes, there is. It's in front of the Amundsen-Scott South Pole Station. In 1911 a Norwegian explorer called Roald Amundsen was the first person to get there, followed by a British man, Robert Falcon Scott, thirty-four days later. Unfortunately, Scott and his team of five all died on the return journey. When the first explorers reached the South Pole there was nothing there. Now, several hundred people work at the Station. There's an airstrip for small planes, a canteen, hot showers, a post office, a tourist shop, a basketball court and a movie theatre.

Who does Antarctica belong to?

Antarctica doesn't belong to any nation. There's no permanent population, but there are bases that look like small towns. Thirty different countries run about seventy research stations in Antarctica. People stay there between three and eighteen months. Most people work only in the summer months, but some stay all year round. The population is around 4,000 in summer and 1,000 in winter.

Why did you want to work in Antarctica?

I was studying in London and I read about an exciting research project in Antarctica. I applied for the job, but thousands of other people also applied. I was lucky!

What exactly were you doing there?

I was doing research into marine life. I collected specimens of ice and examined them in the laboratory. There are layers of ice thousands of years old! We found the remains of a dinosaur. It was in millions of pieces and we had to put all the pieces together like a jigsaw. Our research showed us that millions of years ago the Antarctic was much warmer.

What did you wear in Antarctica?

It's extremely cold all year round. When I was doing experiments outside, I wore three pairs of socks and often five layers of clothing. Winter temperatures fall to −80°C and even summer temperatures are below zero at the South Pole. For several months, there's no sunlight at all. Sometimes it's too cold to go outside.

What did you do in your free time?

When it was snowing, we read lots of books and played games. There isn't much to do in Antarctica, but I enjoy reading and I made some good friends there too.

Did you miss home?

No, but I missed colours – it's very white in Antarctica! But I was working all day and it was really interesting work.

  [1] While they were working for NASA, they earned less than their white colleagues.
- You use conjunctions after/[2] ___as soon as___ /before/when to link things that happen in an order. [conjunction + subject + verb]
  [3] ___When___ the film came out, Johnson met the actress who played her.
- You use prepositions during/for/until (till)/by as follows:
  during + noun phrase to say when something happens –
  [4] ___during___ the 1950s and 60s until (till) + noun phrase to talk about a state that continues up to a point in time – Segregation continued [5] ___until___ the mid-1960s.
  by + noun phrase to talk about an action that happens at or before a point in time –
  Segregation stopped by the late 1960s.

4 Choose the correct option. Then change the information to make the sentences true for you.

1 I haven't been to the cinema for / during several weeks.
2 I saw Hidden Figures during / while I was on holiday.
3 I learnt a lot about American Civil Rights during / while the film.
4 I didn't know that segregation in the US continued until / by 1964.
5 I ate some popcorn when / after I was watching the film.
6 As soon as / While the film finished, I went home.

Hi Adam,

I've just come back from a visit to the Copernicus Science Centre – it's really cool! You MUST go! You'll love it. I like the Planetarium best. Make sure you visit the Robot Room. It's great fun. It's open every day except Monday from 9 a.m. Arrive early because it's always crowded. Don't go by bus – take the underground because there's a station near the centre. Wear comfortable shoes because it's a very big place. Don't take sandwiches – there's a good canteen, but take a bottle of water.

Have fun.

See you,

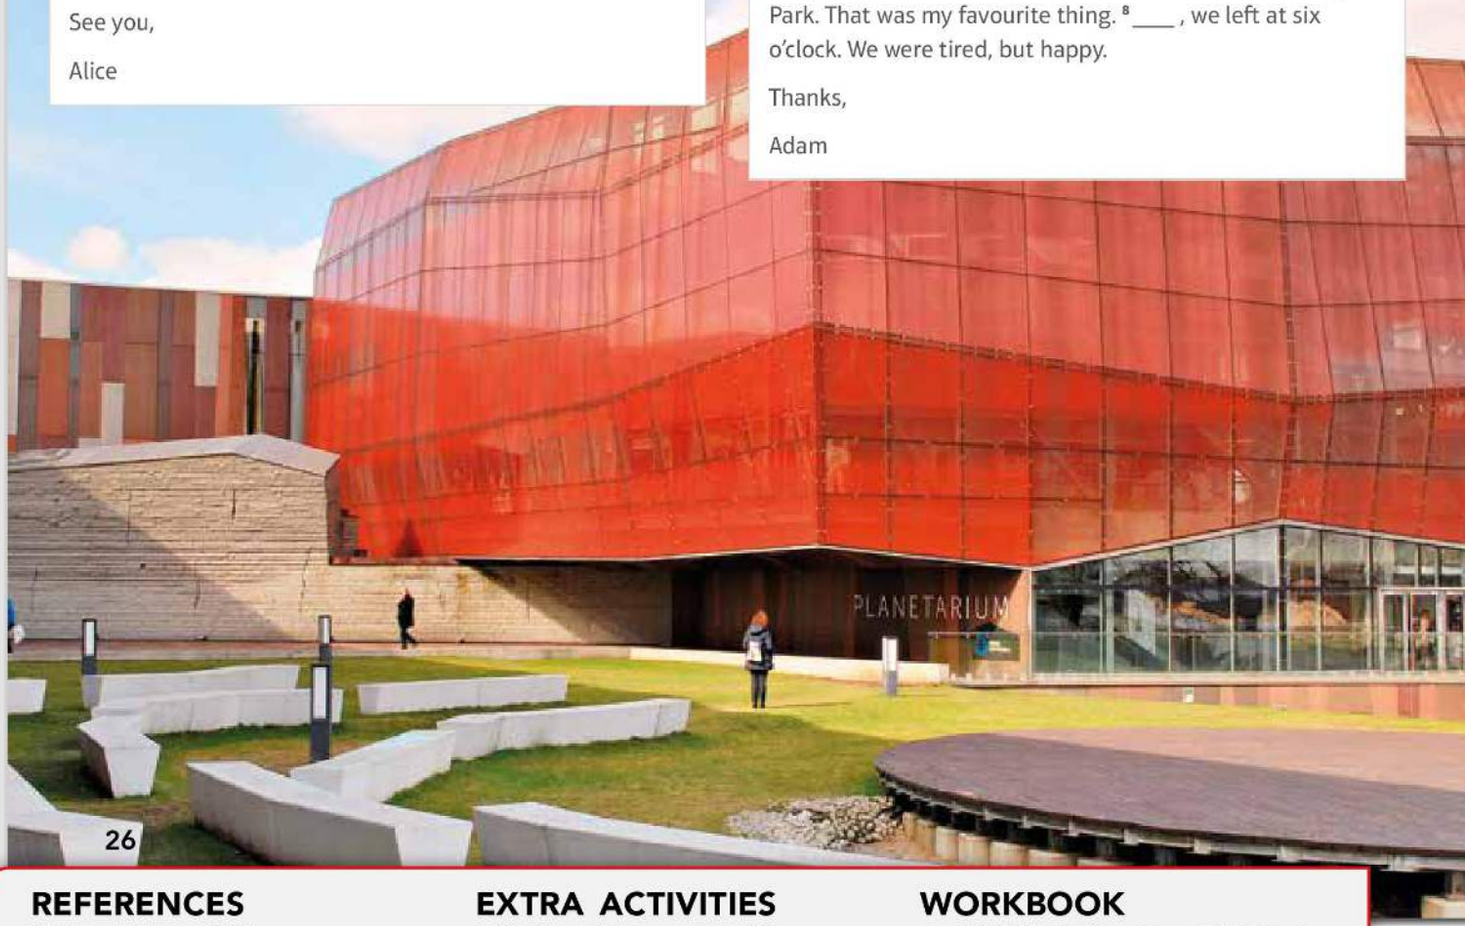

Alice

Subject: Re. You must see this!

Just a quick message to say a big THANK YOU for suggesting the Copernicus Science Centre. It was a perfect day. [1] ___ we went to the Gallery and did some interactive experiments – we really enjoyed that. [2] ___ we went to the Robotic Theatre. That was amazing – the actors are robots! It was brilliant and we stayed there for ages, but [3] ___ it finished and we went to the canteen for lunch. [4] ___, we went to the Planetarium. We stayed there for at least two hours. [5] ___ we watched a film about the history of space – wow, I learnt so much. [6] ___ we watched another film about black holes – that was scary. [7] ___ we were tired, so we relaxed in the Discovery Park. That was my favourite thing. [8] ___, we left at six o'clock. We were tired, but happy.

Thanks,

Adam

2.8 SPEAKING

Telling a story

I can tell a story and show interest in someone's story.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photo of Tom. Then ask and answer the questions in pairs.

1 Where was Tom? In Australia
2 What was he doing? He was climbing a mountain.
3 What was the problem? It became foggy and he got lost.

2 1.43 Read and listen to the story. Compare your ideas in Exercise 1.

Lisa: Hi Tom. How was your holiday in Australia?
Tom: It was really good, thanks … except for the day I nearly died. ❶
Lisa: What happened?
Tom: I was doing some climbing. At first the sun was shining and I was enjoying myself. ❷ But all of a sudden the weather changed. It became really foggy and I couldn't see the path. ❸
Lisa: Oh dear, that sounds frightening.
Tom: I was pretty worried. I continued for a while, but finally I realised I was lost.
Lisa: What did you do?
Tom: Fortunately, I had my phone with me so I called my father – 9,000 miles away in England! He called the Australian police and told them where I was. Then they called me. Unfortunately, my battery went dead after five seconds. It was dark and cold. I sat under a rock, put on my torch and waited. ❹
Lisa: Oh no, what a nightmare!
Tom: Eventually, they found me. I was so relieved. I used to go climbing on my own all the time, but I'll never do it again. ❺

3 There are often five stages in a story. Which stage 1–5 in Tom's story matches which heading a–e below?

SPEAKING FOCUS 10

Telling a story

Use the right tenses

- Past Continuous for the 'background':
  The sun [1] was shining and I was enjoying myself.
- Past Simple for the 'problem' and the 'main events':
  The weather changed. I couldn't see the path.

Use linkers

- Beginning: To start with/At [2] first
- Middle: Suddenly/All of a [3] sudden /Luckily/ Fortunately/[4] Unfortunately
- End: In the end/Finally/[5] Eventually

Say how you felt

I was excited/frightened/surprised/shocked/worried, etc.

It was the best/worst day of my life!
I'll never forget the look on his face!
I'll never [6] do it again .

Listening to a story

Neutral response

Really?/Oh dear./Oh no.

Strong response

That sounds amazing/funny/[7] frightening .
What a great story/[8]a nightmare !

Respond with questions

What happened? What did you do?

5 Follow the instructions to prepare your story.

1 Choose a topic from the box or one of your own ideas.

a dangerous situation a mistake some good or bad news some good or bad luck a nice surprise something that happened on holiday a problem with technology

2 Think about what you are going to say and make notes in your notebook under the headings for the five stages of a story in Exercise 3.

6 SPEAKING Follow the instructions below to practise telling your stories. Then act out your dialogue to the class.

Student A: Use your notes in Exercise 5 to tell the story.
Student B: Use the SPEAKING FOCUS to respond to what Student A says.

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

• Students study the list for a few minutes, then close their books. Play Snowman with words from the list. One student draws a dash for each letter of the word and then a part of the snowman for each wrong guess. Students get a point when they guess the word before the snowman is complete. They lose a point when they guess wrong and the last part of the snowman is complete. Only the student drawing the snowman can check the spelling in their book. They take turns.

• Students study the list for a few minutes and then work in teams. Call out a word in Polish and ask them to give you the English word. The first team to answer correctly gets a point. Now call out a word in English and ask students to give you a translation. Continue for five minutes calling out words in both languages. The team with the most points wins.

Underwater forest

Several years ago, scuba diver Chas Broughton discovered an underwater forest of massive ancient cypress trees. Located twenty kilometres from the coast of Alabama, in the Gulf of Mexico, it is home for thousands of sea animals. Chas told a local journalist about the discovery, but they kept it secret until 2004, when Hurricane Ivan uncovered some of the trees. Then scientists started exploring the area. They have suggested that the forest is more than 50,000 years old. In the past, the ocean level in the area was 125 metres lower than today, but when it rose, the water swallowed the trees up. The forest is so unique that conservationists are now working to make it a marine protected area.

1 The scientists
A found out about the discovery from a local journalist.
B started visiting the area after the 2004 hurricane.
C are trying to protect the forest.

A want to buy a 3-D printer.
B are professional designers.
C want to use 3-D printing technology.

Last week I took part in an unusual survey. A psychologist invited forty-four families and asked us different questions about eating habits now and in the past. She wanted to find out why fathers give children less healthy food than mothers. Strange, isn't it? But it's true in my family.
When my mum isn't at home for dinner, Dad orders a pizza. Mum doesn't accept unhealthy food because she feels responsible for what we eat. Dad cares more about my education or hobbies. According to the survey, in most families the situation was and is similar. Teenagers observe their parents and learn how to behave in the future. My parents used to observe their parents and now I am observing them. This is how people learn some gender norms.

3 The survey the writer took part in shows that
A mothers and fathers look after families in different ways.
B fathers don't care about families as much as mothers.
C teenagers would like to change eating habits in their families.

3.1 VOCABULARY

Watching habits • TV programmes • adjectives • elements of a film/TV drama

I can use language related to films, film-making and TV.

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 In your notebook, put the words and phrases in the box under an appropriate verb.

the telly Internet radio stations my favourite rock album ~~blogs on my laptop~~ fashion magazines horror movies music on my mobile e-books YouTube clips

Read	Watch	Listen to blogs on my laptop

2 SPEAKING Think of three more words and phrases for each verb. Which of them do you do? Tell your partner.

I read blogs on my laptop.

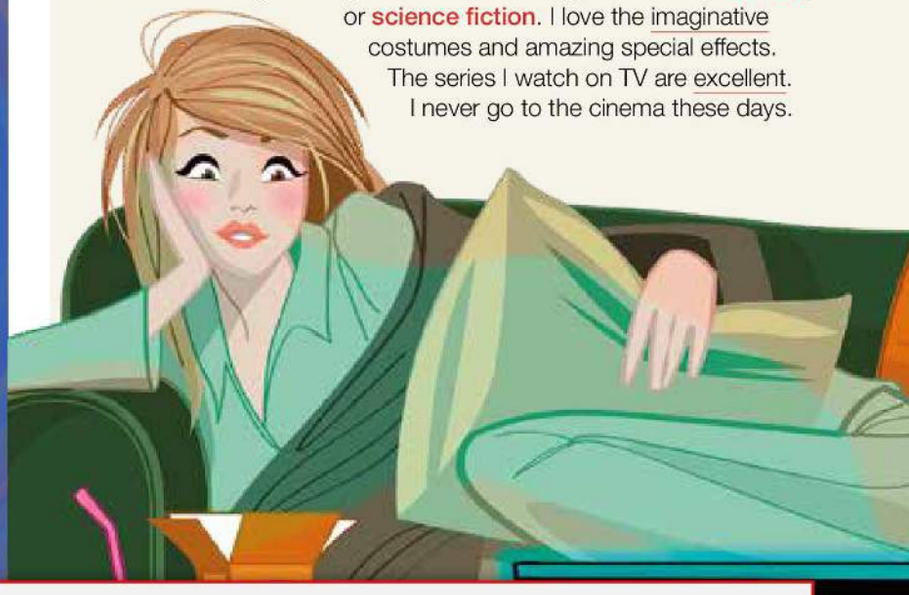

One episode is never enough

I have an embarrassing confession to make – I am a TV binge watcher! Of course I don't mean traditional TV programmes – documentaries, chat shows, reality TV and the old soap operas my grandmother likes to watch. They're boring. No – I mean the on-demand TV series that are so engaging and addictive.

When I was a teenager, before on-demand TV, I was a bookworm. I used to sit down with a gripping novel, and read chapter after chapter, sometimes a whole book in a day. Now, I'm twenty-seven and I do the same with TV.

TV audiences are becoming more difficult to please, so TV channels are producing better dramas more quickly. The best drama series have complex plots and fascinating characters. I just have to watch the next episode.

My greatest weakness? I really like dramas that are funny and moving with brilliant acting. But my absolute favourite type of series is fantasy or science fiction. I love the imaginative costumes and amazing special effects. The series I watch on TV are excellent. I never go to the cinema these days.

NEXT CLASS

Ask students to do Show What You Know in the WB, p. 38.

36

A

One of the most popular cinema genres of the twenty-first century so far is the superhero movie. Some people say that superhero movies are the new westerns. Both genres have similar themes: the good guys fighting the bad guys, protecting the innocent and giving up their life for the good of others.

B

When a new superhero movie comes out, it dominates the box office for weeks. The trailer for Captain America: Civil War was one of the most downloaded trailers ever and A-list actors are keen to take on superhero roles.

Many superhero films have had Oscar nominations, and fan events like Comic-Con* keep fans excited about the latest blockbusters.

C

First of all, there's the adventure, the action and the costumes, the great soundtracks, the special effects and computer-generated images. They're fun and entertaining, and we love the escapism. But is that enough?

You have to look deeper to find out why people love them. Superheroes have feelings. They cope with human experiences that we can relate to. In other words, they are not so different from regular people. Psychologist Mary Tavost has written books about the psychology of superheroes, and she thinks that they inspire their fans because their goals in life are similar to human goals.

They want peace, justice and love, just as we do. The lives of superheroes reflect real life as we know it.

D

Batman dedicates himself to fighting crime after somebody murders his parents in front of him. In real life, people who experience a trauma often decide to help others. But he also shows a very human side because love is his motivation. In The Dark Knight, his love for Rachel makes him weak. As a result, he often makes bad decisions. When Hulk is angry, he causes terrible destruction. He finds it difficult to control his angry feelings, and then he feels guilty when he loses control. This is easy to understand – extreme anger is a very human emotion.

E

Superheroes cope with problems and find meaning in loss and trauma. When they discover their powers, they use them for a good purpose. X-Men are 'mutants' – people reject them because they are different and 'weird' – but they use their powers to stand up for the innocent. They inspire us to accept ourselves and be proud of who we are. Before Spiderman had superpowers, his classmates bullied him at school. Later, he uses his abilities to protect people who can't protect themselves. These superheroes may be larger than life, but we have no problems identifying with their human side.

bully – znęcać się nad escapism – ucieczka do krainy marzeń reject – odrzucić

- Favourite male singer

2 Read about The BRIT School in London. What do Leona Lewis, Adele and Jessie J all have in common?

They all went to the same school.

A SCHOOL FOR STARS

The BRIT School opened in 1991. Over the years, it has produced many successful graduates. Leona Lewis, Adele and Jessie J are three former students – they have sold millions of albums between them. In 2006, Leona Lewis won The X Factor and she has already sold more than ten million albums worldwide. Adele has had No 1 hits in the British and American charts including the single Hello from her album 25, the best-selling album of 2015. Singer and songwriter Jessie J has already won numerous music awards and she's written songs for other international artists such as Miley Cyrus.

Another term has just ended at the Brit School. Have they produced new stars? Probably! We haven't heard of them yet, but we will!

GRAMMAR FOCUS 13

Present Perfect with just, already, (not) yet and Past Simple

- You use the Present Perfect to talk about finished actions in time 'up-to-now'. You never say exactly 'when' they happened.

  Time expressions: ever, never, since then, just, already (usually affirmative), (not) yet (usually negative or questions) just = has happened very recently

  Another term [1] ___has___ just ___ended___ at the Brit School.

  (not) yet = hasn't happened but probably will happen

  We [2] ___haven't heard___ of them yet.

  already = has happened earlier than expected

  She [3] ___has___ already ___won___ numerous music awards.

- You use the Past Simple to talk about finished actions in past time. You usually say 'when' they happened.

  In 2006, Leona Lewis [4] ___won___ The X Factor.

Exercise 2

1 Birthday money
2 A school trip to London
3 That Aunty Susan failed her driving test
4 A Sunday lunch

Dear Aunty Susan and Uncle Tom,

I hope you're both well. Thanks very much for the money for my birthday. I've bought some new paints and brushes. Actually, I think my painting is improving and I'm still hoping to go to art school one day.

I've just come back from my school trip to London. I had a great time. We did some sightseeing and saw a fantastic photography exhibition at the Portrait Gallery. We also went to the theatre and saw a play called War Horse. I have to say, it's the best play I've ever seen.

I'm sorry to hear that you've failed your driving test again Aunty Susan. You must be very disappointed. Do you think you'll take it again?

By the way, we're having a family lunch on Sunday. Would you like to come? It would be lovely to see you.

Well, that's all for now. Thanks again for the present – it was very kind of you.

Hope to see you on Sunday,

Love,

To: Ron

Dear Ron,

How are [1] things with you? It was very [2] kind of you to invite me to stay with you in Scotland. I had a fantastic time and really enjoyed meeting your friends.

I [3] must tell you about my journey home. The weather was terrible and it was nearly midnight when my flight left! I started talking to a nice girl from my city and we are going to meet for coffee.

It's a [4] shame you can't come to visit me next month. Perhaps you can come in the summer instead.

It's my eighteenth birthday in August and I'm having a big party. I hope you can [5] make it.

I must be [6] going now. Homework is waiting.

Look forward to [7] seeing you in the summer I hope.

Bye 4 now.

Alex

Kolega poznany w szkole językowej w Londynie wysłał ci e-mail z odnośnikami do stron internetowych z interesującą muzyką. Jednocześnie poinformował cię, że nie zdał końcowego egzaminu z języka angielskiego.

W swoim e-mailu:

- podziękuj za interesujące linki i napisz, która muzyka najbardziej ci się spodobała,
- napisz, co u ciebie słychać,
- wyraź współczucie z powodu wyniku egzaminu i zapewnij kolegę, że następnym razem na pewno zda,
- zaproś go do siebie i opisz, jak wspólnie spędzicie czas.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów.
Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

Dear Sam,

How are things with you? It was very kind of you to send me those music website links.

3.8 SPEAKING

I can give an extended description of people, places and experiences.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photos and discuss the questions.

1 Who are the people?
2 Where are they?
3 What are they doing?

2 Copy the sentences 1–3 and complete them in as many ways as possible with the adjectives in the box. Some adjectives can be used more than once.

bored crowded empty excited famous shy friendly frightened happy irritated miserable nervous noisy proud quiet tired young

1 (describing people) He or she is …
2 (describing feelings) He or she is feeling …
3 (describing places) It is …

3 2.3 Listen to a description and decide which photo it describes. Explain your decision.

C – it describes the street artist.

4 2.3 Decide which words and phrases from the SPEAKING FOCUS complete the description correctly. Then listen again and check.

[1] In this photo I can see a street artist drawing a portrait on the pavement. [2] In the background there are some people watching him. They're wearing shorts and T-shirts, so [3] I think it's summer. The street is quite crowded, so perhaps this is a tourist area. The street artist has got dark hair and he's wearing jeans and a bright green T-shirt. [4] He looks quite young. [5] Next to him is a picture and he's copying it. [6] In my opinion he's a very good artist. [7] I imagine he's going to collect money from the people who are watching him. [8] Personally, I'd give him some money because I think he's done a good job.

SPEAKING FOCUS

Beginning a description
In this photo, I can see …/there is …/there are …
This photo shows …

Saying where (place)
There are … so I think they're in a street/in an art gallery/at a concert, etc.

Saying where (in the photo) in the background/in the middle/in the foreground/on the left/on the right/in front of/behind/next to

Speculating
He/She looks shy/bored/tired, etc. She's probably …
Perhaps/Maybe/I imagine/I'm sure he's very proud.

Giving your opinion
I think … I don't think … Personally, … In my opinion, …

5 SPEAKING Discuss the questions about Photo C with a partner.

1 Who do you think the man sitting on the right is?
2 Describe a time when you saw a street artist.
3 Do you give money to street artists or other street performers? Why?/Why not?

7 2.4 Listen to model descriptions of Photos A and B. Then do Exercise 6 again.

8 SPEAKING Follow the instructions below to talk about Photos A and B. Use the SPEAKING FOCUS to help you.

Student A: Ask Student B the following questions:
- What kind of music do you enjoy listening to and who is your favourite band or singer?
- Describe a time when you saw live music.

Student B: Ask Student A the following questions:
- What kind of art do you like and why?
- Describe a time when you visited a gallery or museum.

Exercise 1

A A crowd of young people. At a pop concert/festival listening/dancing to a band.

B Three adults and three kids. In an art gallery. Adults looking at the painting and kids looking at their screens.

C People in the street. A street artist. Looking at a drawing on the street.

Exercise 2

1 He or she is … famous, friendly, shy, young, bored, excited, frightened, happy, irritated, miserable, nervous, proud, tired , noisy, quiet.

2 He or she is feeling … bored, excited, frightened, happy, irritated, miserable, nervous, proud.

3 It is … crowded, empty, famous, noisy, quiet.

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

- Students study the word list for two minutes and then close the books. Divide the class into teams. Call out a category, e.g. art, types of books and films, music, TV and the media, etc. The teams write down as many words as they can for that category. The team with the most words writes them on the board and gets one point for each correct answer. Other teams add other words they have. Check spelling and pronunciation. Continue with more categories. At the end of the game, the team with the most points wins.
- Students work in pairs. Student A says a word, Student B spells it and gives the translation. Then Student B says a word for A to spell and translate. Pairs continue for five minutes. Feedback with the class about any problems.

CZYTANIE

Dobieranie

7 Które z podanych nagłówków A–F poprawnie uzupełniają tekst? Dwa nagłówki zostały podane dodatkowo i nie pasują do żadnej części tekstu.

WSKAZÓWKA
Pamiętaj – do każdego fragmentu tekstu należy dopasować zdanie, które go podsumowuje, a nie tylko odnosi się do zawartej w nim informacji szczegółowej.

A Dealing with clients
B A modest artist in the background
C Art is not for sale
D Two definitions
E A photographer's perspective
F A famous person in the foreground

1 D

Are photographers artists or only craftsmen? What is the difference? A craftsman creates useful objects by hand and then sells them. An artist creates things just to express emotions, entertain or tell a story. But is it really so simple?

2 F

Let's take Annie Leibovitz, for example, who is now the most famous portrait photographer in the world. She has photographed well-known actors, singers, Olympic champions and designers. Her photographs always tell an emotional story and are true pieces of art. But she also earns money on them.

3 B

The backgrounds for her portraits are created by another person, Sarah Oliphant. Her works include huge landscapes, abstract paintings or small objects. She says she is a craftsperson, not an artist, because everything she makes is useful to other people and they pay her for it. But people can see her work as art too.

4 E

So what is the answer? I am a photographer and I know that people who work in the photography business are almost always craftsmen. They produce images for money on their clients' orders. But sometimes they use their talent, tools and skills to create something personal. And then they become artists.

What do you think?

MÓWIENIE

8 Popatrz na zdjęcie i wybierz wyrazy, które najlepiej przydadzą się do jego opisu. Następnie opisz zdjęcie.

ambitious ballet room dancer easy mirror music professional purple singer stretch teenage girl theatre trainers

9 Odpowiedz na pytania dotyczące zdjęcia z ćwiczenia 8. Które z nich bezpośrednio go dotyczy?

1 Is the activity easy for the girl to do? Why?/Why not?
2 What artistic skills would you most like to learn? Why?
3 Tell us about an artistic competition you watched or took part in.

PISANIE

E-mail/List prywatny

10 Przeczytaj zadanie. Które zdania a–d pasują do jego części 1–4?

a I must tell you that our theatre group has just returned from the festival in Athens.
b It's a shame that your photos didn't receive any awards in the competition.
c It would be lovely to see you then.
d It was very kind of you to send me some links.

Należysz do amatorskiej grupy teatralnej w swoim mieście. Właśnie wróciliście z festiwalu teatralnego w Grecji. Po powrocie piszesz list do znajomej z Anglii, która interesuje się fotografią. W liście:

1 podziękuj za informacje dotyczące wydarzeń artystycznych w Londynie i wyjaśnij, do czego ci się one przydały/przydadzą, d
2 zrelacjonuj wydarzenie, które miało miejsce w czasie twojego pobytu w Grecji, a
3 wyraź współczucie z powodu rozczarowującego wyniku konkursu fotograficznego, w którym znajoma brała udział, oraz nadzieję, że jej zdjęcia zostaną jeszcze docenione, b
4 zaproś koleżankę do wzięcia udziału w podobnym konkursie w Polsce. c

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość listu powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

11 Wykonaj zadanie w ramce z ćwiczenia 10.

4.2 GRAMMAR

Present Perfect with for and since

I can use the Present Perfect with for and since to talk about duration.

1 SPEAKING Look at the places below. Where have you slept? What was the most unusual place? Tell your partner.

- in my bed
- on a couch
- on a train
- on a floor
- in a hotel
- other

2 SPEAKING Read US TODAY. What is couchsurfing? Is couchsurfing popular in your country? Would you like to do it? Why?/Why not? Discuss with a partner.

Couchsurfing is a worldwide travel network.

US TODAY

We asked CS employee, Dan, about the world's largest travel community.

What is it?
A worldwide travel network connecting travellers with people who offer free accommodation.

Who is it for?
People who don't want to stay in hotels but want to meet local people and experience new cultures.

How much does it cost?
Nothing! It's free.

How long have you worked for CS?
I've been here since it started in 2004. I've worked with people from all over the world for more than ten years. Together we want to create a global community.

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which Present Perfect forms in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 16

Present Perfect with for and since

You use the Present Perfect to talk about unfinished situations that started in the past and continue in time 'up to now'.

- You use How long to ask about the length of time 'up to now'.
  How long [1] ___have___ you ___worked___ for CS?
- You use since when the answer is a point in time: e.g. since 1998, since last week, since I was born.
  I [2] ___'ve been___ here since it started in 2004.
- You use for when the answer is a period of time: e.g. for six hours, for a few days, for a long time.
  I [3] ___'ve worked___ with people from all over the world for more than ten years.

4 2.10 In your notebook, write for or since and the Present Perfect form of the verbs in brackets. Then listen and check.

Couchsurfer

I [1] 've been (be) a member [2] for / since three years now. [3] For / Since I became a member, I [4] 've stayed (stay) in thirty-two countries in different types of accommodation. I [5] 've slept (sleep) in a luxury studio apartment in Manhattan, on a houseboat in Amsterdam and in a basement flat in London – all for free!

Host

I [6] 've been (be) a couchsurfing host [7] for / since two years now and I [8] 've already met (already/meet) more than thirty people. At the moment, Miki is visiting from Tokyo. I [9] 've only known (only/know) her [10] for / since a week, but I'm sure we'll remain friends. Miki is happy too – she [11] 's studied (study) English [12] for / since ten years, but she [13] 's never had (never/have) the chance to speak with a native speaker before. She [14] has been (be) here [15] for / since nearly a week, but she [16] hasn't felt (not feel) homesick because she says I make her feel at home.

5 In your notebook, write the second sentence so that it has a similar meaning to the first.

1 My dad was born in our house.
My dad has lived (live) in our house since he was born.
2 My dad gave my mum this watch when she was forty.
My mum has had (have) this watch since she was forty.
3 I met my best friend two years ago.
I 've known (know) my best friend for two years.
4 I bought these trainers last Christmas.
I haven't bought (not buy) any new trainers since last Christmas.
5 I joined this English class three months ago.
I 've been (be) in this English class for three months.
6 I had breakfast at 7 a.m.
I haven't eaten (not eat) anything since 7 a.m.

6 In your notebook, write true sentences from the prompts. Use the Present Perfect and since and for.

1 I/know/(name of your neighbour) … I've known …
2 I/live in/(name of your neighbourhood) … I've lived in …
3 I/like/(name of your favourite band) … I've liked …
4 I/have/(make of your phone) … I've had …
5 I/be interested in/(name of a subject) … I've been interested in …
6 My dad/have/(type of your dad's car) … My dad's had …

7 SPEAKING Use the sentences in Exercise 6 to make dialogues. Then ask and answer as in the example.

A: Who is your neighbour? B: Barry.
A: How long have you known him? B: For five years.

4.3 LISTENING

Matching, gap fill

I can identify key details in a simple narrative about teenagers' rooms.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photo. How different or similar is the bedroom to your own? Discuss with a partner. Think about:

1 the size: bigger/smaller, more/less spacious, the same
2 the decoration: more/less modern, colour of walls/curtains/carpet, posters, etc.
3 the furniture: bookcase, bed, wardrobe, desk, etc.
4 other details: more/less tidy, clothes, musical instruments, computer, etc.

2 2.12 Listen to five teenagers describing their rooms. Are statements 1–5 true or false?

1 Speaker 1 lives in a quiet house. F
2 Speaker 2 isn't like her sister. T
3 Speaker 3 doesn't like music. F
4 Speaker 4 is often out. T
5 Speaker 5 never invites her friends round. F

LISTENING FOCUS Matching

3 2.12 Listen to the teenagers again. In your notebook, match speakers 1–5 with statements A–F. There is one extra statement.

Speaker 1: B Speaker 3: A Speaker 5: C
Speaker 2: F Speaker 4: E

A uses his/her room as a creative space.
B likes to escape to his/her room to get some peace.
C uses his/her room as a place to socialise.
D likes having an untidy room.
E is rarely in his/her room.
F shares his/her room with someone.

4 SPEAKING Which teenager's situation is most similar to your own? Discuss with a partner.

5 2.13 Listen to two teenagers talking about their most treasured possessions. In your notebook, complete the information.

DAFYDD

1 a laptop: has had it for two weeks, a birthday present.
2 a guitar: has had it for five years, it used to belong to his father.
3 a Welsh flag: he feels proud of being Welsh.

KAREN

1 a collection of toy animals: keeps them on top of her wardrobe, has had them since she was a baby.
2 a bedside lamp: a gift from her father, brought from Africa.
3 a collection of shells: they remind her of all the holidays she has had since she was five.

6 2.13 In your notebook, choose the correct preposition and try to complete the sentences from memory. Then listen again and check.

1 Dafydd's laptop is on / next to his desk.
2 His guitar is on / in the corner above / next to the bookcase.
3 His Welsh flag is onto / on the wall onto / above his bed.
4 Karen's collection of animals is on top of / above the wardrobe.
5 Karen's bedside lamp is on / in her bedside table.
6 Her collection of shells is in / on the bottom shelf of her bookshelves, which are opposite / in front of her bed.

7 SPEAKING What are your own most treasured properties? Where is everything in your room? Tell your partner.

PRONUNCIATION FOCUS

8 2.14 Listen and repeat the words with long vowel sounds. Then put them in an appropriate column in the table in your notebook.

art calm floor free meet new room sea

4.4 READING

Gapped text

I can understand the main points in a simple descriptive text on a familiar topic.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photos. What are the advantages and disadvantages of living in each place? Could you live there? Discuss with a partner.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Landscape features

2 2.17 Which words in the box can you see in the photos? Use your dictionary if necessary. Then listen and repeat.

a cave ✓ a crater ✓ an island ✓ a rainforest ✓ rocks ✓ ruins ✓ stilts ✓ a treehouse ✓
a turquoise ocean ✓ a volcano ✓

3 Read the text and answer the questions.

1 Why do the Korowai Tribe build their houses in trees?
2 Why do people in Coober Pedy prefer living underground?
3 Why do people on Aogashima want to live in a volcano?
4 Why do the Bajau people feel uncomfortable on land?
5 Why have most people recently moved from Petra to a nearby village?

Exercise 3

1 Because there are dangers on the ground.
2 Because it's very hot outside.
3 Because there are no traffic jams and there are great activities.
4 Because they live most of the time on the sea.
5 Because the government wanted to protect Petra.

READING FOCUS Gapped text

4 Read the text again. Which sentences A–F complete gaps 1–5 in the text? There is one extra sentence.

A Alternatively, you can take a helicopter and it only takes two hours.
B It looks like most people live very healthy lives.
C In fact, income from tourism is helping to keep their traditions alive.
D It has to be strong because sometimes a family of twelve people live there.
E However, if you look closer, you can see chimneys on the surface of the dry landscape.
F Also, they start hunting when they're just eight years old.

People who don't live in traditional houses

1 Living in trees

The Korowai Tribe of Papua New Guinea are strong and good at climbing. They have to be! They live in treehouses, sometimes forty-five metres above the ground. The dense rainforest is hot and humid; there are insects and dangerous animals. Treehouses protect the tribe from these dangers on the ground. They use material from the forest to build the houses. They cut off the top of a tree and build the floor first. [1] D They use a ladder to get up and down. Imagine the breathtaking views from one of these treehouses!

EXTRA ACTIVITIES

- Students write questions about the texts, e.g. How many people live in Coober Pedy? How many people live on Aogashima? Which country is Petra located in? Collect the questions and then divide students into teams. Give them a few minutes to look at the texts again, then use the questions for a class quiz.
- Students write sentences using the key vocabulary in the lesson.

WORKBOOK

pp. 50–51

NEXT CLASS

Ask students to do Show What You Know in the WB, p. 52.

2 Living underground

In the desert of Southeast Australia, 500 miles away from the nearest city, is a mining town called Coober Pedy. On the sandy surface, there isn't much to see. [2] E Almost all of the 3,500 residents live underground and work in the opal mines. To escape from scorching temperatures, they have created an impressive underground world where you'll find everything from a bookstore to a church, and even a hotel.

3 Living in a volcano

Aogashima is a Japanese island in the Philippine Sea. Over 230 years ago, a volcanic eruption killed half of its population. Now about 200 people live in the old volcanic crater. They try not to worry too much about another eruption. They love living on the island – there are no traffic jams or crowds of people. Fishing, hiking, camping and swimming are popular activities. Aogashima's natural hot springs and lush vegetation attract a lot of visitors, but the island is not so easy to reach. You can take a fourteen-hour boat trip from Tokyo. [3] A

4 Living on the sea

The Bajau /ˈbɑːdʒaʊ/ people of Borneo in Southeast Asia, also called sea gypsies, live on boats or houses on stilts in the turquoise Pacific Ocean. When they go on land, they feel 'landsick'. Bajau children don't go to school on land. But from an early age they learn to swim and dive. [4] F The best Bajau divers can dive 20 metres to the bottom of the ocean to search for fish. Young Bajau children spend so much time in the ocean that their eyes develop excellent underwater vision.

5 Living in caves

The ancient city of Petra is a popular tourist destination. It is located in the rose-coloured mountains of south-western Jordan and was once a busy trading centre. Then, its residents abandoned the city and for thousands of years only the Bedouin, a nomadic tribe, lived in caves among the spectacular historic ruins. However, the government has recently decided to move them to a nearby village to protect Petra. But the Bedouins' way of life has not changed much. [5] C Some of them work in Petra, selling souvenirs or transporting tourists on horses, camels and donkeys around the historic monuments.

5 Which function a–c do 'clues' 1–3 indicate?

1 she, he, it, her, him, one, this, that, here, there c
2 But, However, Alternatively, Instead b
3 Also, In addition, For example, In fact a a they introduce additional information b they introduce contrasting information

c they refer back to something in the text

6 Find examples of 'clues' in sentences A–F in Exercise 4. Do they 'add', 'contrast' or 'refer'?

Exercise 6
A Alternatively – contrast
B –
C In fact – add
D It – refer
E However – contrast
F Also – add

4.5 GRAMMAR

Future forms: Present Continuous, be going to and will

I can talk about the future using the Present Continuous, going to and will.

1 SPEAKING What makes a good house party? In your notebook, add your own ideas to the ones below and put them in order of importance. Then compare your ideas with a partner.

decoration food and drink furniture lighting music people theme

2 2.21 Read and listen to the dialogue. Then answer the questions.

1 Why is Tony having a party?
2 Where and when is he having it?
3 How is Luisa going to help?

Tony: I'm having a birthday party on the 25th. Can you come?
Luisa: That's next Saturday, right? Yes, that sounds great. Are you having it at home?
Tony: No, our apartment isn't big enough. I'm using my aunt and uncle's house. They're really nice – they say it's fine.
Luisa: That's kind of them – do they know how many friends you've got?
Tony: Not yet. I'm going to tell them later. We'll probably use the basement. It's huge.
Luisa: A basement? Are you going to decorate it?
Tony: I suppose so. I'm not very good at that sort of thing.
Luisa: Don't worry, I'll help you. What are you doing later?
Tony: I'm going to text everybody with the invitation now, but after that I'm free.

Exercise 2
1 Tony is having a party because it's his birthday.
2 He's having it next Saturday at his aunt and uncle's house.
3 Luisa is going to help with the decoration.

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which future forms in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly? Find more examples of each future form in the text.

GRAMMAR FOCUS 18

Future forms: Present Continuous, be going to and will

- You use the Present Continuous for future arrangements. You often mention a time, a date or a place.
  I [1] 'm having a birthday party on the 25th.
- You use be going to for future intentions. You have already decided to do something and you tell people about it.
  I [2] 'm going to tell them later.
- You use will for spontaneous decisions. You often use expressions like: I think I'll …, I'll probably … , Don't worry, I'll … Don't worry, I [3] 'll help you.

4 2.22 Decide which future form is the most appropriate in each case. Then listen and check.

Tony: Two of my friends [1] are helping / will help me prepare the room on Saturday afternoon. We [2] 're going to hang / 'll hang sheets on the walls and the ceiling. Then we [3] 're going to put / 're putting coloured lights everywhere. We [4] 'll have / 're having a band and a DJ from eight to midnight. I've already booked them.
Aunt: Okay, I think I [5] 'll warn / 'm going to warn the neighbours!
Tony: We've decided to have a fancy dress theme – everybody [6] will come / is coming as their favourite film character.
Uncle: Oh good, I think I [7] 'll come / 'm going to come as Captain Jack Sparrow!
Aunt: No, we [8] 'll go out / 're going out to the theatre, remember? I told you yesterday.
Uncle: I know, I was joking. Now, what are you [9] eating / going to eat?
Tony: That's all arranged. Mum [10] will make / is making some pizzas.
Aunt: And what about the cleaning the next day?
Tony: Oh, erm … Don't worry, I [11] 'll do / 'm doing that with my friend Luisa. She won't mind!

5 In your notebook, complete the email with appropriate future forms in gaps 1–6 and your own ideas in gaps a–c.

Hi Amy,

You know I [1] 'm moving (move) house next week. Well, I've decided that I [2] 'm going to have (have) a house-warming party in the new house. The theme is Superheroes, so I [3] 'm going to dress up (dress up) as [a] _____. You know my mum's a fantastic cook so she [4] 's making (make) [b] _____. I think everybody [5] 'll like (like) that. I'm not sure about the music. I think I [6] 'll get (get) a DJ and ask him to play lots of [c] _____.

6 SPEAKING You are responsible for organising an end-of-term party for your school year. Discuss with a partner. Follow the instructions.

1 Make some decisions about location, food and drink, music, decoration, theme, etc.
2 Write an email to the class to explain your ideas. Use all three future forms.

As a class, decide whose party ideas are best.

4.6 USE OF ENGLISH

Adverbs

I can form adverbs and qualify them with really/quite/very.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photos. What are the advantages and disadvantages of each place? Where would you like to spend the weekend? Discuss with a partner.

2 2.23 Listen to Robbie trying to decide which place to go to. How many of your ideas in Exercise 1 does he mention? What does he decide to do and why? He decides to go to his grandparents' farm in the country because he wants to get to know a local girl better.

3 2.23 Listen again and choose the correct option.

1 She doesn't speak French very well / very well French.
2 I speak more well / better than she does.
3 I stay up late / lately.
4 That sounds extreme / extremely boring.
5 Everybody goes to bed really early / real early.
6 Time goes unbelievably slowly / unbelievably slow in the country.

4 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. In your notebook, form appropriate adverbs from the adjectives in bold in sentences 1–6 below. Then put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Adverbs

- You use adverbs to modify verbs, adjectives and other adverbs.
- You form adverbs by adding -ly, -y, -ily to adjectives:
  slow => slowly, unbelievable => unbelievably, lucky => luckily.

Note: Some adverbs and adjectives have the same spelling:
hard, fast, late, early.
He is a fast runner./He runs fast.

- You never put an adverb between a verb and its object.

VERB OBJECT
He speaks English well. NOT ~~He speaks well English.~~

- Use adverbs of degree to modify adjectives and adverbs.

WEAKER		STRONGER
a little/a bit/slightly	quite/rather/pretty	really/extremely/completely
She's a little shy.	My French is pretty bad.	Everybody goes to bed really early.

- You form comparative adverbs with more:
  Alice speaks more clearly than John.

Note: Some comparative adverbs are irregular:
well => better, badly => worse, hard => harder.

1 go to bed / I / at the weekend / real late
2 eat / I / quite healthy
3 I / my money / wise / spend
4 extreme easy / new words / learn / I
5 pretty fast / drives / My father / his car
6 understand / My parents / I do / English / than / good

5 In your notebook, write the sentences in Exercise 4 so they are true for you.

6 USE OF ENGLISH In your notebook, complete the second sentence with option A, B or C so that it has a similar meaning to the first.

1 My house is not very far from the school.
My house is ___ near the school.
A very (B) quite
C completely

2 My cousin really hates meeting people.
My cousin is ___ shy.
(A) extremely B a little
C slightly

3 I don't get up early during the holidays.
I get up ___ during the holidays.
(A) late B lately
C more late

4 I don't sing as well as my best friend.
My best friend sings ___ than me.
A well B good
(C) better

5 I have to make more effort in English.
I have to work ___ in English.
A hardly B more harder
(C) harder

7 SPEAKING In your notebook, write the sentences so they are true for you. Then compare your sentences with a partner.

1 The countryside near my house is … [adverb] + [adjective]
The countryside near my house is extremely beautiful.
2 The streets in my neighbourhood are … [adverb] + [adjective]
3 The capital city is … [adverb] + [adjective]
4 My school is … [adverb] + [adjective]
5 I usually get to school … [comparative adverb] … my schoolmates
6 I speak English … [adverb] + [adverb]

Exercise 4

1 I go to bed really late at the weekend.
2 I eat quite healthily.
3 I spend my money wisely.
4 I learn new words extremely easily.
5 My father drives his car pretty fast.
6 My parents understand English better than I do.

4.7 WRITING

A blog entry

I can write a description of a recent trip.

1 In your notebooks, list as many British cities as you can think of in sixty seconds.

2 Read a blog about Bath. Which topics does the blogger mention?

a Art and culture
b Food and drink
c Entertainment and nightlife d General information e Shopping
f Tourist highlights

3 SPEAKING Would you like to visit Bath? Why?/ Why not? Discuss with a partner.

13 January

Last weekend, I visited my cousin in Bath, Somerset, in the southwest of England. Bath is a popular tourist destination and is famous for its historic sites. Today's blog entry is about my visit.

I met my cousin on Saturday morning and we walked around the city. Bath is a lovely place. The centre is small, so most people tend to visit it on foot. It was very busy, but we saw some really beautiful architecture. For visitors, a walk along the river is a must.

We stopped for lunch in a traditional tearoom. One of the local specialities is the Sally Lunn Bun. It was delicious! After lunch, we went shopping. Bath has a wide selection of shops. According to fashion magazines, Bath is 'Britain's best fashion secret'. I bought a cool T-shirt, some sunglasses and a hat.

In the evening, we went to the Roman Baths. It is the most popular attraction in the city. If you're tired after a long day, I would definitely recommend relaxing in the thermal waters of Bath Spa. I thought it was wonderful!

EXTRA ACTIVITIES

- Photocopiable resource 26 A blog entry (15 min.) pp. 257, 295
- Briefly discuss blogs with the class. Ask: Why do people write blogs? How often do you think they write them? Have you read any blogs? Why did you like them or not like them? What makes a blog interesting? Listen to students' ideas about what kind of information you could include in a travel blog.

WORKBOOK

pp. 54–55, including Show What You've Learnt and Show That You've Checked

NEXT CLASS

Ask the students to look at the attractions in ex. 1 on p. 56 to prepare to discuss them.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Sightseeing

4 2.24 In your notebook, write the words and phrases in purple in the blog which match the definitions below. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 an interesting thing to see or do = attraction

- Use a comma after time expressions at the beginning of a sentence –
  [5] Last weekend, I visited .../In the evening, we went ...

8 Read the text about the Lake District and decide where commas should be added.

The Lake District

The Lake District, Cumbria is the UK's most popular national park. Every year, 15 million people visit the area. The landscape is wonderful – there are lakes, mountains, beaches and breathtaking views. The Lake District is the wettest place in England, but the dramatic skies are part of the attraction. Lake Windermere is eleven miles long and is a must for all visitors. If you enjoy walking, hiking, climbing or water sports, the Lake District is an ideal place for a holiday.

SHOW WHAT YOU'VE LEARNT

9 Do the writing task in your notebook. Use the WRITING FOCUS and the LANGUAGE FOCUS to help you.

Napisz notatkę na blog, w której opiszesz swoje wrażenia z pobytu w miejscu często odwiedzanym przez turystów. W swojej notatce:

- przedstaw odwiedzone miejsce i napisz, kiedy odbyła się ta wycieczka,
- na podstawie swoich doświadczeń opisz, co można tam robić,
- opisz swoje wrażenia i wyraź swoją opinię na temat miejsca,
- przekaż swoje rady czytelnikom.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów.
Długość notatki powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

• Divide students into teams and play True or False? Ask teams in turn true/false questions about the vocabulary on the Word List, e.g. A basement is at the top of a house. True or false? (F) You can use the word 'cosy' to describe a house. True or false? (T) The translation for the word 'carpet' is … – true or false? You use the verb 'do' with the phrase 'a complaint'. True or false? (F), etc. The team with the most points wins. Students can also play in groups once they understand the game.

• Students work in pairs. They write anagrams for their partner, e.g. WUNBGAOL (bungalow), ASNTEMEB (basement), OGHINUS SATEET (housing estate). They can tell their partner the word category to help them.

5.1 VOCABULARY

Places in school • education • phrasal verbs • collocations

I can use language related to school life and equipment.

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 SPEAKING Look at the words and discuss your favourite/least favourite place in school. Where do you spend most time?

canteen/cafeteria classroom corridor gym library playground reception school hall school office science lab sports field staff room

2 Read three descriptions of different school systems. Which text describes a school in Brazil, Finland and Japan? For the answers, go to page 142. 1 – In Finland, 2 – In Brazil, 3 – In Japan

1 Our school is quite informal – we can call our teachers by their first names. We don't move up to secondary school when we're 11 because we attend the same comprehensive school from 7 to 16. All our classes are mixed ability. The curriculum includes academic subjects but also Art, Music and PE, with only about 30 minutes of homework every day. We're lucky – we don't have to pay tuition fees to do a degree at university.

School is compulsory between the ages of 6 and 14. Our school terms are from February to June and August to December. We break up in December for our summer holiday. I set off for school very early because my lessons start at 7 a.m. and finish at 12. My school's open all day to cope with the high numbers of students. There are three sessions, from 7 to 12, 12 to 5 and 5 to 10 o'clock in the evening. In the afternoon I do after-school activities like football or music. When I finish high school, I'll take an entrance exam to get into university.

3 English is my favourite subject, but I can't keep up with all the homework! We have to learn lists of vocabulary by heart. At elementary school, the timetable includes earthquake practice. If there's an earthquake when children are outside, they have to line up in the playground. At the end of the day, we have to clean our classroom. Most of my classmates will go to university. In my country, 50% of the population are university graduates.

- Students choose five new words from this lesson that they want to remember and write sentences about their lives.

3 Compare the descriptions with your own school system. Find a piece of information for each line in the table. Make notes in your notebook.

This is true for me/my school
This isn't true for me/my school
I like this
I don't like this
This is interesting, strange or unusual

4 2.28 Listen to a UK school head teacher. What did she change in her school and why?

5 2.28 Listen again. Which three problems were the result of sleepiness?

1 Students dropped subjects.
2 Students thought that teachers set too much homework.
3 Students didn't hand in their homework on time.
4 Students skipped lessons. ✓
5 Students couldn't pay attention in class. ✓
6 Students made lots of mistakes. ✓

6 SPEAKING In your notebook, prepare a timetable for 'perfect school day'. Compare it with your classmates. Who has the best day?

FOCUS ON WORDS | Education

7 2.29 In your notebook, complete the list with the words or phrases in red in the text. Add a translation. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 academic subjects = przedmioty akademickie
2 after-school activities = zajęcia pozalekcyjne
3 classmate = kolega z klasy
4 compulsory = obowiązkowy
5 curriculum = program nauczania
6 learn by heart = uczyć się na pamięć
7 mixed ability = klasa dla uczniów o różnym poziomie zaawansowania
8 term = semestr
9 timetable = plan lekcji
10 university graduate = absolwent wyższej uczelni

8 In your notebook, complete the sentences with words or phrases in Exercise 7. Which sentences are true for you?

In my school …
1 it's compulsory to wear a school uniform.
2 the school year starts in September and is divided into three terms .
3 students at the same level learn together. There are no mixed ability classes.
4 we focus on academic subjects . Personally, I prefer subjects like drama and PE.
5 our English teacher gives us long lists of vocabulary to learn by heart .
6 the history curriculum only covers the twentieth century.
7 the timetable includes a break in the morning and a long break for lunch.
8 I get on really well with all my classmates .

FOCUS ON WORDS | Phrasal verbs

9 2.30 In your notebook, write the base form of the underlined phrasal verbs in the text and in Exercise 5 to match the definitions. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 stop working at the end of term = break up
2 manage a difficult situation = cope with 3 get a place (at university) = get into 4 give a piece of work to a teacher = hand in 5 learn at the same speed as other students = keep up with 6 stand in a line = line up
7 change to the next level, year or school = move up

10 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct particle and your own ideas. Then compare your sentences with a partner.

1 We break up for summer on [date] _____ .
2 The last piece of homework I handed in was [subject] _____ .
3 It's hard to keep up with all the homework in [subject] _____ .
4 Next year I'll move up to [year/school] _____ .
5 If you want to get into university, you have to pass [name/type of exam] _____ .
6 The thing I find most difficult to cope with at school is [your idea] _____ .

FOCUS ON WORDS | Collocations

11 2.31 In your notebook, complete the collocations with the base form of the highlighted words in the text and in Exercise 5. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 pay attention
2 do /get/have a degree
3 take /pass/fail/revise for an exam
4 pay tuition fees
5 set /do/hand in/mark homework
6 skip /miss lessons
7 make /learn from mistakes
8 attend /go to/start/finish/leave school
9 drop /take a subject

12 SPEAKING In your notebook, complete the statements with the correct verb. Sometimes more than one answer is possible. Do you agree with the statements? Why?/Why not? Tell your partner.

1 Parents should pay a fine if their children skip/miss lessons.
2 It's impossible to pay attention in class straight after lunch.
3 You shouldn't have to pay university tuition fees. All education should be free.
4 English teachers don't set enough homework. We want more!
5 You have to go to university and do/get a degree if you want a good job.
6 Students should be able to drop a subject if they are not interested in it.

Exercise 4
The head teacher changed the timetable to start later to fit in with teenagers' body clocks to help them get enough sleep.

5.2 GRAMMAR

First Conditional

I can use the First Conditional to predict possible results of actions or situations.

1 SPEAKING Read UK TODAY. What is a gap year? Do you think it's a good thing to do? Do young people in Poland tend to take a gap year? Why?/Why not? Discuss with a partner.

UK TODAY

Did you know that about 10 percent of students in the UK do a gap year between leaving school and going to university?

What do they do?
• travel abroad • go backpacking • do voluntary work

Where do they go?
• Africa • Southeast Asia
• Australia and New Zealand • South America

How much does it cost?
Usually about £4,000.

Exercise 2
Dad is against, mum is in favour.

2 2.32 Look at the photo of Ricky's parents and read the sentences. Who do you think is in favour of Ricky doing a gap year and who is against? Listen and check.

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which First Conditional forms in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 21

First Conditional

- You use the First Conditional to predict the future result of an action.

action	→	future result
if* + Present Simple		will/won't* + verb

If he [1] ___goes___ to South America next year, he [2] ___'ll go___ to university the year after.
If he doesn't go to university, he won't get a decent job.

- You can put the if clause after the main clause.
He'll waste a year if he goes travelling.

4 2.32 In your notebook, match the halves of sentences from the conversation. Then listen again and check.

1 If Ricky doesn't go to university this year, b
2 He'll get a lot out of it e
3 He'll do bungee jumps and get a tattoo a
4 If he goes away on his own, c
5 If he doesn't do anything on his own, d a if he does a gap year.

b he'll never go.
c he'll get into trouble.
d he'll never be independent.
e if he goes to South America.

VIDEO 21

5 2.33 What other reasons might Ricky have for going to South America? Listen and check your ideas.
to learn languages, to see a girl

6 2.33 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct form of verbs in brackets. Then listen again and check.

1 He thinks if I ___go___ (go) travelling, I ___won't go___ (not go) to university when I come back.
2 If I ___tell___ (tell) them the truth, they definitely ___won't let___ (not let) me go.
3 You ___won't learn___ (not learn) any Spanish if you ___visit___ (visit) her!
4 If my dad ___doesn't agree___ (not agree), I ___won't be able___ (not able) to go.
5 If your mum ___thinks___ (think) it's a good idea, she ___'ll convince___ (convince) your dad.

7 SPEAKING Work in groups of three. Look at the prompts and practise the conversation as in the example.

A (student's wish)	B (positive parent)	C (negative parent)
1 live abroad	new culture	miss friends
2 join a band	have a lot of fun	not do schoolwork
3 part-time job	earn money	get up early

A: I want to live abroad.
B: Great! If you live abroad, you'll learn about a new culture.
C: Oh dear. If you live abroad, you'll miss all your friends.

5.3 LISTENING

Answering questions

I can understand the main points of a narrative conversation about a familiar topic.

1 SPEAKING Read the tips for dealing with exam stress. Which tips do you usually follow? Can you add any more tips? Discuss with a partner.

Get rid of exam stress

- ✓ Create a revision schedule – and follow it! ✓
- ✓ Don't get exhausted – get plenty of sleep.
- ✓ Study in a group from time to time. ✓
- ✓ Be positive – imagine yourself passing the exam. ✓
- ✓ Take regular breaks – do things you enjoy. ✓
- ✓ Remember, it's only an exam. You won't die if you fail!

2 2.34 Listen to Grace and Tom talking about exams. Which tips in Exercise 1 does Grace mention?

3 Read questions 1–6 in the LISTENING FOCUS. In your notebook, match the underlined words and phrases with the words and phrases in the box.

alone	___	blame Grace	___
enjoy yourself	___	marks	___
nervous	___	take it easy	___

LISTENING FOCUS Answering questions

4 2.34 Listen to the conversation again and answer the questions.

1 What sort of grades does Tom get in school?
2 Why does Grace want Tom to relax?
3 What does Grace think about studying on your own?
4 How does Grace deal with being stressed about exams?
5 Why is Tom not keen to go out and have a good time before the exams?
6 Why will Tom say it's Grace's fault if he fails his exams?

5 Do you have to take an entrance exam to get into university in your country? Read the information about British universities. Is the missing word a noun or a number?

How to get a place at University in Britain

1 Apply for a place at university when you're in your last year of secondary school: Year 13 . number
2 You can apply to five universities. number
3 To get into university, you have to get good grades in three or four A levels. noun
4 To get into Oxford or Cambridge University, you have to take an entrance exam . noun
5 Last year 600,000 students applied for 400,000 university places. number
6 You have to pay university tuition fees up to £ 9,000 a year. number

Notes:
A levels = Advanced level exams.
Students usually do A levels at eighteen.

6 2.35 Listen. In your notebook, write the words which complete the information sheet in Exercise 5.

7 In groups, write an information sheet which explains how to get a place at university in Poland.

PRONUNCIATION FOCUS

8 2.36 Listen and decide which number you hear. Then listen again and repeat.

1 (15.1)	50.1	4 (18.18)	80.18
2 (170)	117	5 14,440	(40,414)
3 13,990	(30,919)	6 660,000	(616,000)

9 In your notebook, write six similar numbers. Take it in turns to dictate them to your partner. Check your answers.

FOCUS ON WORDS | get

10 2.37 In your notebook, put the collocations and phrasal verbs with get under the correct heading. Then listen, check and repeat.

~~get exhausted~~ get good grades get ill get a job get into trouble get nervous get rid of sth get* + adjective or past participle = become 1 get exhausted 2 get ill 3 get nervous get* + noun = buy, obtain or receive 4 get good grades 5 get a job phrases and phrasal verbs with get 6 get into trouble 7 get rid of sth

Exercise 3

Exercise 2
3 Words not in the text are 'food' and 'money'.

5.4 READING

Matching

I can scan a short text to locate specific information.

1 SPEAKING Look at the photos and the title of the article. Discuss the questions.

1 What do you know about the people? What are they famous for?
2 What do you think the text is about?
3 Which of the words and phrases in the box do you expect to see in the text?

ability animals autism dyslexia food hard work help learning disorders money strong successful support

2 Read the text and check your ideas in Exercise 1.

READING FOCUS Matching

3 Read the text again. In your notebook, match questions 1–6 with the people described in the text. Write MP, TG, KK or RB.

1 Which person's teacher changed his/her life in a positive way? TG
2 Who is able to concentrate on his/her strengths because of his/her learning disorder? RB
3 Who became better at something when learning about his/her favourite subject? MP
4 Who changed in a positive way thanks to getting over his/her learning difficulties? KK
5 Who did something to help others understand a learning disorder? TG
6 Which person got over his/her difficulties to have a job of his/her dreams? KK

Different, not less

Many people have learning disorders. They suffer in school: other children bully them or make fun of them and call them 'slow'. However, people can get over their learning disorders and have successful careers with the help and support of family, teachers and doctors, as these examples prove.

At school, Michael Phelps could not sit still and found it difficult to concentrate. His teachers said he couldn't focus on anything. But then he found his passion for sport. His mother encouraged him and helped him to develop his swimming ability. His reading improved when he read books about sport. And his Maths improved when the problems reflected his interests, for example, 'How long will it take to swim 500 metres if you swim three metres per second?' Through hard work and never missing a day's practice, Michael became an Olympic champion, winning twenty-eight medals, twenty-three of them gold.

EXTRA ACTIVITIES

- Ask students to answer question 1 in ex. 1 using the notes they have prepared.
- Students write true and false sentences about the people in the Reading text. They exchange the sentences with a partner who decides whether the sentences are true or false and corrects the false ones.
- Students do a role-play in pairs. Student A is an interviewer on a TV chat show, Student B chooses one of the people in the reading text. Student A interviews Student B about his or her learning disorders.

In the world of autism, Dr Temple Grandin is an important voice. Autistic herself, she is an expert on how to teach people with autism, and she has written six books about the condition. She describes herself as a visual thinker and says that her mind is like Google Images. School was difficult for her because she didn't think in the same way as other children. But one summer, she worked on a farm and discovered that she 'understood animals'. At school, her Science teacher became her mentor. With his help and support, Grandin became interested in animal science. She later became a professor of animal science at Colorado State University.

Keira Knightley found out she had dyslexia at the age of six and she remembers other children calling her stupid. She believes that her problems with reading and writing made her strong. Knightley struggled with reading and writing, but she dreamt of being an actress, so she had to read scripts. She had to work harder than other children to improve her literacy, but she finished school with top grades.

Richard Branson is one of the most successful entrepreneurs in the world. He says that because of his dyslexia, he has learnt to keep things simple, ignore difficulties and focus on what he is good at. However, he grew up at a time when dyslexia was misunderstood – his teachers made the mistake of thinking that he was lazy or 'not very clever'. His head teacher at secondary school told him: 'I predict that you will either go to prison or become a millionaire.' He was right.

So don't worry if you are different – you never know where your differences could lead you.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Nouns and verbs

4 2.39 Look at the words in blue in the text and note how the phrases in italics can help you understand their meaning. In your notebook, match the words with the definitions. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 try to hurt or frighten someone who is weaker = bully
2 a very experienced person who helps a less experienced person = mentor
3 think very carefully about something you are doing = concentrate 4 someone who has special knowledge of a subject = expert
5 to give someone the confidence to do something = encourage 6 try very hard to achieve something that is difficult = struggle with 7 not liked by other people in a way that is unfair = misunderstood
8 someone who imagines words as pictures = a visual thinker

5 In your notebook, fill the gaps with a word in Exercise 4. Then complete the sentences in your own words.

1 I find it difficult to concentrate when …
2 The best way of dealing with someone who bullies you is …
3 The school subject I struggle with most is …
4 A good way to encourage students to work harder is …
5 A person I know who I'd like as a mentor is …
6 I'd like to become an expert on …

6 SPEAKING Compare your sentences in Exercise 5 with a partner. How similar or different are you?

FOCUS ON WORDS | of and for 7 2.40 In your notebook, complete the phrases with of or for. Use the underlined words in the text. Then listen, check and repeat.

1 make fun of sb
2 be/become a professor of sth
3 have/find a passion for sth
4 dream of sth
5 make the mistake of doing sth

5.5 GRAMMAR

Defining relative clauses

I can use who/that/which in basic defining relative clauses.

1 SPEAKING Read an extract from The British Students' Manifesto. How is this school similar or different to your school? Discuss with a partner.

> The school that we'd like is: A school which is for everybody, with boys and girls who come from all backgrounds and abilities, a place where we don't compete against each other, but just do our best.

2 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which relative pronouns in blue in Exercise 1 complete the rules correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 22

Defining relative clauses

- You use [1] who or that for people.
- You use [2] which or that for things.
- You use [3] where to refer to a place.

The relative pronoun usually comes immediately after the person, thing or place it refers to. You can leave out that, which or who when it comes before a noun or a pronoun.

3 Read The British Students' Manifesto. Find the nouns that relative pronouns 1–10 refer to. Write the correct relative pronoun in your notebook.

4 Which relative pronouns complete these definitions of words from the Manifesto correctly?

1 An uncluttered classroom is a classroom which/that is tidy with no unnecessary things in it.
2 A beanbag is a large cushion which/that forms a comfortable shape when you sit on it.
3 A person that/who scrapes their knees may get small cuts.
4 Chill out is an informal expression that/which means 'to relax'.
5 Blinds are like curtains which/that you use to keep out the light.
6 A swipe card is a plastic card that/which works like a key and lets you in or out.
7 A rigid timetable is a timetable that/which you can't change.
8 A relevant school is a school where lessons are directly connected with real life.

5 In which sentences in Exercise 4 can the relative pronoun be left out? 5 and 7

6 SPEAKING Work in groups. Prepare a manifesto about your ideas for a perfect school. Think about:

1 classrooms and study areas,
2 gardens and sports grounds,
3 equipment and technology,
4 school uniforms,
5 canteen.

7 SPEAKING Present your manifesto to the rest of the class.

FOCUS VLOG 23 About education

2.41 Listen to the Focus Vlog. How do the speakers describe a perfect student? Write the answers in your notebook.

Focus Vlog
a perfect student: wants to learn and puts a lot of effort in; isn't afraid to spend lots of long hours in a library; is happy, enjoys reading, learning and being with lots of people; has the right amount of balance between work and play, dedicates enough time to study in the week

Grammar page 129

The British Students' Manifesto
We, the school pupils of Britain, have a voice.

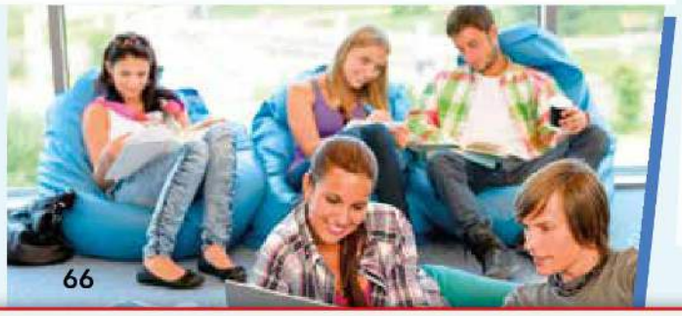

This is what we say.

The school that we'd like is:

A beautiful school [1] where / that the classrooms are uncluttered and the walls are brightly coloured.

A comfortable school with sofas and beanbags, cushions on the floors, tables [2] who / that don't scrape our knees, and quiet rooms [3] where / which we can chill out.

A light school with huge windows [4] that / where let the sunshine in, but blinds [5] who / which keep out the sun when we want to watch something on a screen.

A safe school with swipe cards for the school gate, anti-bully alarms, first aid classes, and someone [6] where / that we can talk to about our problems.

A flexible school without rigid timetables or exams, without compulsory homework, [7] where / who we can follow our own interests and spend more time on the subjects [8] who / which we enjoy.

A relevant school [9] who / where we learn through experience, experiments and exploration, with field trips to historic sites and other places of interest.

A school that is for everybody with students [10] which / who come from all backgrounds and abilities, a place where we don't compete against each other, but just do our best.

The British Students' Manifesto was the result of a nationwide survey of over 15,000 students in England and Wales.

Basketball

2 2.42 Listen to Isabel and Monica discussing their hockey team and answer the questions.

1 How much of her free time does Isabel spend playing hockey? All her free time three times a week and every weekend.
2 How does she feel about it? She's bored with it.
3 What does she agree to do? To talk to the team and Miss Temple before she decides to resign.

3 SPEAKING Do you know anyone who spends all their free time training for something? Tell your partner.

4 2.42 In your notebook, complete the sentences from the conversation with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Then listen again and check.

1 If you ___leave___ (leave) the team, we ___won't win___ (not win) our next match.
2 I ___won't have___ (not have) time to do anything else unless I ___give up___ (give up) hockey.
3 As soon as I ___get___ (get) home tonight, I ___'ll change___ (change) into my hockey kit.
4 I ___'ll call___ (call) her when I ___have___ (have) a minute.
5 Before I ___decide___ (decide), I ___'ll discuss___ (discuss) it with the rest of the team.

5 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. Which is the most appropriate conjunction in sentences 1–5 below?

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Future time and conditional clauses

- When you are talking about the future, you use the present tense after the conjunctions if, when, as soon as, unless (=if not), before and after.
  After you get your own place, you'll need money to live.
  You won't pass your exams unless you do some work.
- The clause with the conjunction can come before or after the main clause. When it comes before, you need a comma to separate the two clauses.

1 (When) / If school finishes today, I'll probably go straight home.
2 (As soon as) / Unless I get home, I'll change into my football kit.
3 I won't get into the school team if / (unless) I train hard.
4 (Before) / If I finish training, I'll do some shooting practice.
5 (After) / Before I finish training, I'll have a shower.

6 USE OF ENGLISH In your notebook, complete the sentences by translating the part in Polish.

1 You won't pass your exams unless you start revising (chyba że zaczniesz powtarzać) now.
2 I'll test you on your vocabulary when we get/reach home (kiedy dotrzemy do domu).
3 As soon as I pass the exams (Kiedy tylko zdam egzaminy), I'm going to go on holiday.
4 I'll apply to university as soon as I get my exam results (jak tylko otrzymam wyniki egzaminów).
5 He thinks he'll do a gap year before he goes to university (zanim pójdzie na studia).

7 SPEAKING In your notebook, complete the sentences with your own ideas. Then compare your sentences with a partner.

1 When this term ends, …
When this term ends, I'll be very happy!
2 I'll stop studying English as soon as …
3 If I fail any of my end-of-school exams, …
4 Unless I keep up with my schoolwork, …
5 My parents will go mad unless …

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am a seventeen-year-old Italian student, and I am writing to enquire about doing an English course at your school next summer. I am particularly interested in doing the Cambridge First Certificate exam. I got good marks in my English exam this year, and I think I am B2 level. Could you tell me how long I will need to study and how much it will cost?

I would also like to know if you can arrange accommodation for me. Could you tell me what kind of accommodation you provide, and how much it costs?

Finally, I would be grateful if you could send me details of how to book a course and how to pay for it.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

Analisa Bargellini

2 Read Analisa's email of enquiry. Did she ask any of the questions you wrote down?

3 In your notebook, put the sentences summarising the email in the order they appear (1–3).

a polite questions about the information you need 2 b what you would like the reader to do 3 c information about yourself and why you are writing the email 1

4 Read the WRITING FOCUS. Which phrases in purple from the email in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

WRITING FOCUS

An enquiry

- Start the email with Dear Mr or Mrs and the person's surname. If you don't know the person's name, you use [1] Dear Sir or Madam,
- Don't use abbreviations or contractions. Use full forms: I would (NOT ~~I'd~~)/[2] I am (NOT ~~I'm~~)
- Use formal expressions to:
  - a say why you are writing the email: [3] I am writing to enquire about
  - b ask for information: I would also like to know if .../ [4] Could you tell me
  - c ask somebody to do something for you: I would be grateful [5] if you could
  - d say that you expect a reply: I look forward to [6] hearing from you
- Finish the email with Yours sincerely if you know the name of the person you're writing to, or [7] Yours faithfully if you don't.

5 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. Find examples in the email in Exercise 2.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Indirect questions

- You use indirect questions in formal letters and emails when you want to be more formal.
- Word order in indirect questions is the same as in a statement: subject + verb (+object).

How long will I need to study and how much will it cost?
→ [1] Could you tell me how long I will need to study and how much it will cost?

What kind of accommodation do you provide and how much does it cost?
→ [2] Could you tell me what kind of accommodation you provide, and how much it costs?

- When there is no question word in a direct question, you use if or whether in the indirect question.

Can you arrange accommodation for me?
→ [3] I would also like to know if you can arrange accommodation for me.

Could you send me details of how to book a course?
→ [4] I would be grateful if you could send me details of how to book a course.

6 Write the indirect questions in your notebook.

1 Does your school have a canteen? →
Could you tell me if/whether your school has a canteen ?
2 Can my friend stay in with the same host family? →
I would like to know if/whether my friend can stay in with the same host family .
3 How far is the school from the nearest tube station? →
Could you tell me how far the school is from the nearest tube station ?
4 How many students are there in a class? →
I would like to know how many students there are in a class .
5 Could you send me an application form? →
I would be grateful if you could send me an application form .

7 In your notebook, rewrite the email so that it is more formal. Use the ideas in the WRITING FOCUS and the LANGUAGE FOCUS to help you.

Hi,

I'm coming to London in July and I'd like to attend your school and improve my English. Please tell me how I can register with your school.

Do you have a space for me? I'm 17 years old and I'm from Spain. How much does it cost? I don't have anywhere to stay in London – can you help me with accommodation?

I hope you reply soon.

Thanks.

NEXT CLASS

Ask students to make a list of phrases they know for giving opinions, agreeing and disagreeing, e.g. I think, In my opinion …, I agree, I don't agree. Begin the class by pooling their ideas and writing them on the board.

5.8 SPEAKING

Giving an opinion • agreeing and disagreeing

I can express belief, opinion, agreement and disagreement politely.

1 SPEAKING Why do some students choose to leave school early and not go to university? Discuss with a partner.

2 2.43 Listen to a dialogue between Tom and Susie. Look at the statements. Do Tom and Susie agree or disagree?

	Tom	Susie
1 Robert should leave school if he wants to be an actor.	A	D
2 He doesn't need to do A levels.	A	D
3 He might need to get a proper job.	D	A
4 Robert's good-looking and talented.	A	A
5 He should do his A levels first.	D	A

3 2.43 Listen again. In which order do you hear these expressions?

SPEAKING FOCUS 24

Giving an opinion

I think he … 10
I don't think it's … 1
Personally, I think … 3
I really believe … 12
In my opinion, … 13
If you ask me, … 8

Agreeing

I couldn't agree more. 6
That's a good point. 9

Disagreeing politely

I see what you mean, but … 2
That's true, but … 5
I'm not so sure. 7

Disagreeing

I totally disagree! 11
Oh come on! That's nonsense. 4

4 Which response is appropriate?

1 A: What do you think about single-sex schools?
B: I don't think / Personally, I think they're a good idea. It isn't normal to separate boys and girls.
2 A: If you ask me, I think we get too much homework.
B: I'm not so sure. / I couldn't agree more. I never have time to do sport or relax in the evenings.
3 A: I don't think my pronunciation is very good.
B: I totally disagree. / I see what you mean , but if you practise, I'm sure you'll improve.
4 A: I think the food in the school canteen is too expensive.
B: Oh come on! That's nonsense. / That's a good point. If you go to a restaurant in town, you'll pay much more.
5 A: In my opinion, it's a waste of time going to university – I want to get a job and earn some money.
B: I totally disagree. / I couldn't agree more. If you go to university, you'll get a much better job.

5 SPEAKING Discuss the subjects in the box.

leaving school at sixteen having extra lessons after school learning by heart playing sport at school wearing a uniform doing a gap year skipping lessons

A: Ask what your partner thinks.
B: Give your opinion.
A: Agree or disagree and say why.

6 SPEAKING Your school has received a donation of €5,000. Photos 1, 2 and 3 show three possible ways your school could spend the money. Follow the instructions below and present your choice to the class. Use the SPEAKING FOCUS to help you.

1 Choose the option which, in your opinion, is the best for the school.
2 Support your choice with some reasons.
3 Explain why you have rejected the other options.

I think the school should spend the money on computers because …
I don't think the school should choose option … because …

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

- Students choose 5–10 words that they want to remember and write example sentences.
- Divide students into teams. Choose e.g. ten words from the list. One member of each team comes to you and you give them the first word you have chosen – they have to return to their teams and give clues to the rest of their team to guess the word. They can give definitions or draw clues, but cannot say the word until their team members guess. As soon as the team guesses, another team member comes to you for the second word. The first team to finish all ten words correctly wins.

A school on every doorstep

In India there are 1.4 million children aged 6–11 who do not attend any school. That is why in 1988, two passionate teachers started a non-formal education project, Door Step School, for fifty children in a small slum in Mumbai. A year later the project turned into an official programme aiming to teach children to read and write.

At the beginning, the teachers walked from door to door looking for children who did not go to school, speaking to parents and asking them to send the children to their school. They arranged classrooms everywhere: in marketplaces, on pavements, at railway stations and even in a bus.

The idea spread very quickly to neighbouring communities. More and more teachers as well as volunteers decided to join the programme. Now, the Door Step School has a team of 1,000 teachers and volunteers in India and deals with over 70,000 students every year.

Since 1988, the teaching conditions in the Door Step School have changed a lot. Now, buses called School on Wheels serve as libraries and mobile classrooms with computers, TVs and DVD players. Apart from learning basic skills such as reading, writing and arithmetic, children also have lessons on hygiene, and health and safety.

Subject: interesting article!

Hi Matthew,

I've just read a very interesting article. It's about the Door Step School – an educational initiative in India, which in 1989 became [1] an official programme . The idea came from [2] two (passionate) teachers who wanted children from a small slum in Mumbai to learn how to read and write. It started with only fifty children but now the numbers of teachers, [3] volunteers and students involved in the project are much higher. Children also study new subjects and the teaching conditions are [4] very different from/much better than those in 1988.

Really interesting! I can send you a link if you like.

Love, Emma

3 … I'm not prepared to put out / up with …
4 … If I come up / into with a good idea, my boss …
5 … Nothing puts me down / off my work except …

What's your worst work experience?

We interviewed four people who run very successful companies. We wanted to find out about the jobs they did before they became their own bosses and we asked them about their worst work experiences.

1 EVA

- applied for a job during her school holidays
- was badly paid
- worked long hours
- didn't enjoy dealing with customers
- almost got the sack for offering a customer a bigger size

2 MARCUS

- had a part-time job
- was responsible for washing the machines
- didn't find the job challenging
- put up with a horrible smell

3 CHRIS

- worked night shifts
- found the job boring and repetitive
- had to stand for hours
- had two managers who came up with different tasks at the same time

4 AMY

- had to get up very early
- couldn't turn up for work one minute late
- worked outdoors
- had to answer difficult questions and found it really stressful

PROJECT

What is your dream job? Write down some ideas to describe it (typical activities, working conditions, workplace etc.) and do some research to find out about the education and training you need to do it. Then prepare a presentation and share it with your class.

6.2 GRAMMAR

Second Conditional

I can use the Second Conditional to describe hypothetical results of a current action.

Exercise 6

1 If I had a part-time job, I'd earn money.
2 If I earned money, I'd go out.
3 If I went out, I'd meet new people.
4 If I met new people, my life wouldn't be boring.
5 If my life wasn't/weren't boring, I'd be happy.
6 If I was/were happy, I wouldn't need a part-time job.

1 SPEAKING How can students earn money in your country? In your notebook, make a list of part-time jobs. Which jobs would you like/not like to do? Why? Discuss with a partner.

2 Look at the questionnaire. Decide which answers are best for you and find out what your ideal part-time job is.

Your ideal part-time job

1 If I had a day off tomorrow, I'd spend the day with a friend. We'd ...
A go swimming. B watch films at home. C go shopping.

2 If I won the lottery, I'd give some money to a charity. I'd choose ...
A Free Sport for Everyone. B Save the Children. C Love Eco Fashion.

3 If I had to describe myself in six words, it would be easy. I'd say ...
A I love walking by the sea. B I want to help other people. C I like spending time in shops.

4 If I needed money, I'd get a part-time job ...
A in a sports centre. B at home. C in a shop.

5 If I was super rich, I'd live in a big house ...
A near a beach. B with all my family. C in the city centre.

What your score means

Mainly As = Your ideal part-time job is outside, possibly something connected with sport, e.g. a lifeguard or a skiing instructor.
Mainly Bs = You would be good at caring for people, e.g. a babysitter or a carer for elderly people.
Mainly Cs = Your ideal part-time job is in retail, e.g. a shop assistant or a beautician.

Exercise 8

1 If you wanted advice about getting a job, who would you ask?
2 If you needed to borrow some money, who would you ask?
3 If you could work anywhere in the world, where would you work?
4 If you didn't have a phone, how would you call home?/what would you do?
5 If you were an animal, what would you be?
6 If you didn't have to study, what would you do?

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which Second Conditional forms in blue in Exercise 2 complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 26

Second Conditional

- You use the Second Conditional to talk about the present or future result of an imaginary situation.

imaginary situation	→	result
if* + Past Simple		would/wouldn't* + verb

If I [1] had a day off tomorrow, I [2] would spend the day with a friend.
(but I don't have a day off tomorrow so I won't spend the day with a friend)
If I was super rich, I'd live in a big house.

Note:
- 'd = would
- If I/he/she/it were ... is more formal than If I/he/she/it was ...
If he were rich, he wouldn't work.
If I were you, I'd get a summer job.

Focus Vlog

4 In your notebook, write the correct Second Conditional form of the verbs in brackets.

1 If everybody went (go) to university, nobody would want (want) to do manual jobs.
2 There wouldn't be (not be) so much traffic if more people worked (work) from home.
3 Family relationships would improve (improve) if parents took (take) more time off work.
4 If people retired (retire) at fifty, there would be (be) more jobs for young people.
5 The world would be (be) a better place if everybody had (have) a job.

5 SPEAKING Do you agree with the statements in Exercise 4? Discuss with a partner.

6 In your notebook, rewrite these real situations as imaginary situations. Begin each sentence with if.

1 I don't have a part-time job, so I don't earn money.
2 I don't earn money, so I don't go out.
3 I don't go out, so I don't meet new people.
4 I don't meet new people, so my life is boring.
5 My life is boring, so I'm not happy.
6 I'm not happy, so I need a part-time job.

7 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets and your own ideas.

1 If I wanted (want) advice about getting a job, I'd ask my uncle.
2 If I needed (need) to borrow some money, I ...
3 If I could (can) work anywhere in the world, I ...
4 If I didn't have (not have) a phone, I ...
5 If I were/was (be) an animal, I ...
6 If I didn't have to (not have to) study, I ...

8 SPEAKING In your notebook, write questions about the imaginary situations in Exercise 7. Then ask and answer the questions as in the example.

A: If you wanted advice about getting a job, who would you ask?
B: I'd ask ...

6.4 READING

Gapped text

I can make basic inferences from simple information in a short text.

1 What are you like? Use the adjectives in the box to finish the sentences.

1 I'm … 2 I'm sometimes … 3 I'm not …

active adventurous caring friendly funny hard-working independent optimistic quiet responsible sensible sociable

2 SPEAKING Follow the instructions to complete the task.

1 Choose three adjectives in Exercise 1 or your own ideas to describe your partner's personality.
2 Read the article quickly and decide which personality type best describes your partner.
3 Check if your partner agrees.

3 Choose the best title for the article.

1 There's more to a job than a good salary
2 Career choices for your personality type
3 Personality test: what job would make you happiest?

READING FOCUS Gapped text

4 Read the text again. Which sentences A–F complete gaps 1–4 correctly? There are two extra sentences.

A Reading is your favourite way to learn new knowledge. 4
B You stay positive even when you have to deal with difficult situations. 2
C When there's a problem, you quickly understand the causes, and solve it. 3
D You think about things for a long time before you make a decision.
E You're good at making decisions and people trust you. 1
F You make good business investments.

Are you thinking about careers and what kind of job you'd like in the future?

It will help if you ask yourself the question: 'What am I like?'. Some jobs are more suitable for you than others. We've matched jobs to seven different personality types.

The Leader

When you go out with friends, you're the person who decides where to go. [1] E At work and in your social life, you love organising people and projects. At work, you're a good problem-solver and you enjoy dealing with challenging jobs. You like to be your own boss.

JOBS: businessperson, judge, politician

The Artist

You love to be creative. You're quiet, easy-going and peaceful. You don't like stressful situations and you avoid arguments. You're friendly and caring, and you like spending time with family and close friends, but you also need your personal space. You're a nature lover and you enjoy being outdoors. You prefer jobs where you make things.

JOBS: musician, designer, writer

The Doer

You're very sociable and you have a wide circle of friends who think you're funny, friendly and charming. You're very active and good at encouraging other people. You're always optimistic. [2] B You're adventurous and competitive, and you take risks if necessary.

JOBS: police officer, sales representative, ski instructor

EXTRA ACTIVITIES

Students work in groups. They take it in turns to describe a classmate using the vocabulary in the lesson. The other group members guess who is being described and try to match him or her to one of the categories in the Reading text.

6.6 USE OF ENGLISH

Adjectives ending in -ed and -ing

I can form adjectives from verbs and nouns with -ed and -ing.

1 SPEAKING Read UK TODAY. Discuss the questions.

1 What is work experience and why is it useful?
2 Can Polish students do work experience at school?
3 If you could do work experience, what would you do and why?

UK TODAY

Did you know that nearly all 15- or 16-year-old students in the UK do work experience before they leave school?

What is work experience?

- 1–3 weeks off school working full-time for a local employer.

What are the benefits of work experience?

- It teaches useful work skills.
- It makes you think about possible careers.
- It develops self-confidence and communication skills.

2 3.14 Listen to Sharon and Adam talking to their teacher about their work experience. Then answer the questions with Sharon or Adam.

Who …

1 had a disappointing time? Adam
2 is excited about his/her future career? Sharon
3 was embarrassed because he/she turned up for work in the wrong clothes? Adam
4 got encouraging feedback when he/she finished something? Sharon
5 thinks you learn things if the work is challenging? Sharon

3 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. In your notebooks, complete the adjectives with -ed or -ing in comments 1–7 from the conversation.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Adjectives ending in -ed and -ing

- You form pairs of -ed and -ing adjectives from verbs: confuse → I was confused. The situation was confusing.
- -ed adjectives describe how people feel. I'm excited about my future. I was bored most of the time.
- -ing adjectives describe the thing (or person) that causes the feeling. Did you do interesting jobs? He was very encouraging.

Note: Some -ed adjectives do not have -ing equivalents. e.g. ashamed, delighted, relieved.

1 I'm relieved .
2 I had a really rewarding time.
3 That's amazing !
4 I was really embarrassed because everyone else was in jeans.
5 It was very confusing .
6 I was bored most of the time.
7 It sounds like you had a very satisfying experience.

4 3.14 Listen again and check your answers in Exercise 3.

5 USE OF ENGLISH Decide which sentence A, B or C completes the dialogue correctly.

1 X: Why are you going to bed so early? Y: ____
A Because it's very tiring.
B Because I'm very tiring.
C Because I've had a very tiring day.

2 X: She always turns up late when we meet. Y: ____
A I know, it's so annoying!
B Really? I'm so relieved!
C Oh no, I feel so ashamed!

3 X: Did your mum like her birthday present? Y: ____
A She was encouraging.
B She was delighted.
C She was amazing.

4 X: I can't stand this wet weather. Y: ____
A Yes, it's really depressing.
B Yes, I'm really depressed.
C Yes, I'm really depressing.

6 SPEAKING In your notebook, write questions using beginning 1 or 2 and an appropriate adjective in the box or your own ideas. Then ask and answer the questions as in the example.

bored/boring disgusted/disgusting exhausted/exhausting inspired/inspiring moved/moving shocked/shocking

1 When was the last time you were …?
2 When was the last time you thought that something/someone was …?

A: When was the last time you were exhausted?
B: I think it was after PE yesterday. We did cross-country and I hate running!

6.7 WRITING

A job application

I can write a basic letter of application.

Exercise 1
1 An office helper
2 No
3 Students' own answers
4 Sixteen
5 Reliable, hard-working, friendly, willing to learn
6 Flexible

1 Read the job advert and answer the questions.

1 What kind of job is it advertising?
2 Is it a permanent job?
3 Is it a well-paid job?
4 How old do you have to be to apply?
5 What characteristics should the candidate have?
6 What are the working hours?

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A SUMMER JOB?

JOHNSON'S BUILDERS REQUIRES an office helper – €10 per hour

ARE YOU
• 16 or over? • reliable and hard-working? •
• friendly and willing to learn? •

WE OFFER
• excellent conditions • flexible hours •
• a chance to learn office skills •

NO PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE NECESSARY!

2 Imagine you want to apply for a job. Which five pieces of information should you include in your application letter?

✓ • Say where you saw the advert.
✓ • Say what you are doing now.
• Say how you intend to spend your salary.
✓ • Give reasons why you are interested in the job.
✓ • Mention any relevant work experience.
• Say why you liked or didn't like previous jobs.
✓ • Say when you are available for interview.
• Warn them not to call you at certain times.

3 Read the letter of application. Check your ideas in Exercise 2. Which three sentences are NOT appropriate?

Dear Sir or Madam,

With reference to your advertisement in yesterday's Devonshire Times, I would like to apply for the position of office helper. At the moment, I am in my final year at school, and I will be available to start work from 1st June. I really need this job because I want to earn some money to go on holiday.

I am particularly interested in your company because I hope to study architecture at university. I attach my CV for your information. As you will see, I worked on a building site last summer. It was a bit hard, but I got a really good suntan.

I do not have much experience of office work, but I am a fast learner. I have good communication skills and I enjoy working as part of a team. For these reasons, I feel I would be a suitable candidate for the job you are advertising.

I can be available for interview at any time. I have listed my contact details on my CV. Please don't call me before ten o'clock in the morning.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

Richard Dawson

4 Read the WRITING FOCUS. Which phrases in purple in the letter in Exercise 3 complete the examples correctly?

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

• Choose expressions of more than one word. Say the first word or first part of the expression and ask students to complete it, e.g. be a fast … (learner), work as part of a … (team), shop … (assistant), etc. If you like, students can work in teams.

• Write some of the words from the word list on the board without vowels – students write the full words, e.g. hrdrssr (hairdresser), scntst (scientist), pltcn (politician). If you prefer, you can show the number of spaces, e.g. j _ _ rn _ l _ st (journalist).

5 Do you always keep / stay your receipts? Why?
6 Have you ever taken something back and got / asked a refund? What was it?

THE TRUTH ABOUT SHOPPING

	BETH	MIA	RYAN	SAM
1 What do you think about shopping for clothes?	I love it! But I really don't want to look the same as everyone else. So I go to charity shops and a second-hand jeweller's. I want to look original.	I'm addicted to clothes and shopping. The bad news is that I'm poor! So I can't afford to buy much, except during the sales. But I go window shopping – it's still fun to look.	I really enjoy shopping. I love designer clothes. I mean, they're really expensive but I think they're worth it. Anyway, I want to look smart like my favourite celebrities.	My mum buys all my clothes! I don't care what I wear. I don't think you should judge people by the brands they wear. I hate clothes that have logos all over them.
2 How often do you go clothes shopping?	Probably once a month. Or more often if I need something for a special occasion. Sometimes I shop online too – there are some great online vintage shops.	Oh dear, it's bad. I get bored with my clothes – I can't help it. Fortunately, you don't have to be rich to buy second-hand clothes.	I don't need to go shopping often because I buy good quality clothes made from nice natural materials like cotton and wool. They last for ages.	As I said, I never go shopping. I don't even know what suits me. If something fits me and it feels comfortable – like my favourite hoodie – then I'm happy.
3 When was the last time you picked up a bargain?	I always pick up a bargain! Last time I went to my favourite charity shop, I found this gorgeous silk dressing gown.	Last weekend my favourite High Street store had a sale. I got an amazing leather jacket for half price.	A bargain – hm. Oh yes, I got a really nice cashmere pullover – it was on special offer.	You'll have to ask my mum!

NEXT CLASS

- Ask students to do Show What You Know in the WB, p. 90.

PROJECT

Work in pairs. Think about a successful company (other than Amazon) and do some research online into it. Then create a digital presentation or poster explaining its success and how it was achieved and present it to your class.

7.2 GRAMMAR

The Passive

I can use the Passive in the Present Simple, Present Perfect and Past Simple.

1 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

1 Who usually does the shopping in your family?
2 What food products do you and your family usually buy?
3 Which of the things in the box are important when you buy these kinds of products?

the quality	how it is produced
where it is produced	a fair price

2 Read the text about Fairtrade. Why is it good for farmers?

Many of the products we buy in supermarkets are grown by farmers in developing countries. But farmers aren't paid enough to make a living.

So the idea of 'fair trade' has been around for many years. When you see the FAIRTRADE mark on a product, you know that the farmers have been paid a fair price for their crops. You also know that they have been given extra money – the Fairtrade premium. This can be used by farmers to develop their businesses, invest in their communities or protect the environment.

In 1997, many organisations from different countries came together and one international Fairtrade organisation was formed. So far, the lives of approximately seven million people in developing countries have been improved by Fairtrade.

Exercise 2
Fairtrade is good for farmers because they are paid fairly for their crops.
They have also been given the Fairtrade premium, which they can use for their businesses, their communities or the environment.

Exercise 7
1 Was your house built more than fifty years ago?
2 Is your name pronounced the same in English?
3 Were your shoes made in Italy?
4 Was this school opened in the 1990s?
5 Have you ever been stopped by the police?
6 Are Fairtrade products sold in your country?

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Then find all the passive verb forms in the text in Exercise 2.

GRAMMAR FOCUS 31

The Passive

You use passive forms when it isn't important (or you don't know) who performed the action. Passive verbs have the same tenses as active verbs.

The Passive: be + Past Participle

\+ Fairtrade products are grown in developing countries.
– Fairtrade products aren't grown in developed countries.
? Where are Fairtrade products grown?

4 Which passive forms in blue in the text complete the examples in the table correctly?

Present Simple

Active
People don't pay farmers enough.
Passive
Farmers [1] aren't paid enough enough.

Past Simple

Active
In 1997, somebody formed one international Fairtrade organisation.
Passive
In 1997, one international Fairtrade organisation [2] was formed .

Present Perfect

Active
Fairtrade has improved the lives of approximately seven million people in developing countries.
Passive
The lives of approximately seven million people in developing counties [3] have been improved by Fairtrade.

5 In your notebook, write the correct form of the verbs, active or passive.

Chocolate & Fairtrade

Last year, more than one billion kilos of chocolate [1]ate / were eaten around the world. Chocolate [2]makes / is made from the cacao plant. However, many cacao farmers [3]don't earn / aren't earned enough money and [4]can't afford / can't be afforded food, medicine or clean water. In Africa, a typical cacao grower [5]pays / is paid less than a dollar a day. Now Fairtrade is helping farmers to get fair prices. Farming organisations [6]have set up / have been set up in African countries and the extra money [7]invests / is invested into projects such as drinking water.

6 In your notebook, complete the passive sentences with the Present Simple, Past Simple or Present Perfect form of the verbs in brackets.

1 My house was built (build) more than fifty years ago.
2 My name isn't pronounced (not pronounce) the same in English.
3 My shoes were made (make) in Italy.
4 This school was opened (open) in the 1990s.
5 I 've never been stopped (never/stop) by the police.
6 Fairtrade products are not sold (not sell) in my country.

7 SPEAKING In your notebook, rewrite the sentences in Exercise 6 to make them true for you. Then make questions and ask your partner.

1 Was your house built more than fifty years ago?

THE BRAINS BEHIND AMAZON.COM

3.25

Amazon.com is a household name, but what do you know about the billionaire entrepreneur, Jeff Bezos, who started it in a garage in 1994?

GLOSSARY
a household name – powszechnie znana nazwa an entrepreneur – przedsiębiorca an account – rachunek, konto

His [1] biological father was a unicyclist

Bezos was born in 1964 when both his parents were still teenagers, and his father was a unicyclist in the circus. They divorced after a year. When Bezos was four, his mother remarried and he was adopted by his stepfather, Miguel Bezos, a Cuban immigrant to the United States. Jeff learnt that he was adopted when he was ten.

He showed an early interest in science and [2] technology

When he was a schoolboy, Bezos made an electrical alarm to keep his younger brother and sister out of his room. Later, he graduated in electrical engineering and computer science. He was working in a well-paid job in New York when he heard about the rise of Internet use by 2,300% in one year. It was 1994, and he decided to start his own Internet business.

His [3] company wasn't called Amazon at first

Amazon started as a bookstore in a garage, and grew fast. In its first month of business, orders came in from forty-five countries around the world. At first, the online bookstore was named Cadabra, but it was hard to say, and some people thought it was similar to 'cadaver' (dead body). Instead he chose the name Amazon: firstly, it appeared at the top of lists of website addresses because it begins with 'A'; secondly, Bezos could see the similarity between the world's largest river and the world's largest bookshop.

He survived a [4] helicopter accident

A helicopter Bezos was travelling in crashed. Bezos and the other passengers were not badly hurt, but the accident put him off helicopters. However, flying objects are still a passion for him. Amazon is working on drones that can deliver orders in thirty minutes.

He's passionate about exploring [5] space

Bezos has dreamt about space travel since he was a child. At high school he said he wanted '… to build space hotels, amusement parks and colonies for two or three million people.' He started a company, Blue Origin, to make space travel more widely available. With Amazon he made shopping easy, and now he wants to do the same for space travel.

He has big ideas for the [6] future of Amazon

Jeff Bezos is always trying to improve the customer experience. His latest innovation is Amazon Go, or the 'just walk out' store. Amazon Go is a supermarket where you take food off the shelf, put it in your bag and leave. No credit cards, no queues at the checkout desk. All you need is a smartphone and an Amazon account. Bezos sees this as the future of shopping.

7 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

1 How many online shopping stores can you think of?
2 Do you like the idea of Amazon Go? Why?/Why not?
3 What do you think the future is for the following forms of payment: cash; debit/credit card; smartphone?

8 SPEAKING In your notebook, complete the sentences with the words in the box to make them true for you. Then compare your sentences with a partner.

7.5 GRAMMAR

Quantifiers

I can use a wide range of quantifiers with countable and uncountable nouns.

1 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

1 Which of these types of shoes have you got?

ballet flats knee-high boots flip-flops high heels sandals trainers

2 Where is the best shoe shop in your city?
3 When was the last time you bought a pair of shoes?

2 Read the text. What happens when you buy a pair of TOMS shoes? A child in need gets a new pair of shoes.

Do you have too many pairs of shoes? How many pairs do you need? Most people have a few pairs of trainers, some smart shoes, a pair of boots and some sandals. But can you imagine living without any shoes at all?

Blake Mycoskie was shocked when he found out that a lot of children around the world were growing up without any shoes. So he set up a company called Shoes for Tomorrow (TOMS). Every time he sells a pair, he gives a free pair to a child in need. He doesn't have to do much advertising – when people hear about TOMS, they tell one another. Over the years, he's given away lots of shoes to people in need – more than a million, in fact. TOMS has become the One for One™ company who give eyewear as well as shoes to people around the world. With a little imagination and a lot of hard work, Mycoskie has transformed the lives of a lot of people.

3 Look at the examples of nouns and quantifiers in blue in the text. Which of the underlined nouns are countable and which are uncountable?

4 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which rules should be completed with countable or uncountable?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 32

Quantifiers

You can use different expressions to talk about quantity:

- With [1] countable nouns you use:
  very few/a few/too many/How many?
- With [2] uncountable nouns you use:
  very little/a little/too much/How much?
- With both [3] countable and [4] uncountable nouns you use:
  any/some/a lot of/lots of Note: Usually, you use a few, a little or some in affirmative sentences and many, much or any in negative sentences and questions.

5 Read the text. Which quantifiers complete the text correctly?

FAQ

How did TOMS begin?

When Blake Mycoskie was twenty-nine, he took [1] a little / a few time off work to go travelling. He met a charity worker, and she told him how [2] much / many children in developing countries were without shoes. This gave Mycoskie an idea for a shoe company, and a way to help [3] some / any of these children.

How [4] much / many difference can a simple pair of shoes make to so [5] much / many children's lives?

A pair of shoes can make [6] many / a lot of difference to a child. Firstly, there are [7] lots of / a little diseases in the soil, and shoes protect children's feet. Secondly, [8] very few / very little schools allow children to attend classes without shoes. So shoes help children to get an education.

6 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the correct Present Simple form of the verbs in brackets.

1 There ___are___ (be) lots of shoe shops near here.
2 A lot of people ___do___ (do) their shopping online.
3 There ___is___ (be) a lot of pollution in our city.
4 A lot of fast food ___is___ (be) bad for you.
5 Lots of department stores ___are___ (be) closed on Sundays.
6 A lot of people in my country ___know___ (know) about TOMS.

7 Read REMEMBER THIS. In your notebook, rewrite the sentences in Exercise 6 replacing a lot of/lots of with little or few. Which sentences from Exercises 6 and 7 are true for you?

1 There are very few shoe shops near here.

REMEMBER THIS

little = not much few = not many	BUT	a little = some a few = some 8 In your notebook, write negative sentences using not much or not many. Which sentences are true for you?

1 I eat a lot of bread. → I don't eat much bread.
2 I send a lot of texts. → ___I don't send many texts___.
3 I drink a lot of water. → ___I don't drink much water___.
4 I do a lot of homework. → ___I don't do much homework___.
5 I talk to a lot of people. → ___I don't talk to many people___.

9 SPEAKING What's your typical school day? Use How much ...? or How many ...? with the activities in Exercise 8 and the activities in the box. Ask and answer the questions as in the example.

watch/television spend/time online do/exercise spend/money listen to/music get/sleep

A: How much bread do you eat?
B: Lots. How about you?
A: Very little. I don't like bread.

7.6 USE OF ENGLISH

Indefinite pronouns: someone, anything, nowhere, everybody, none, etc.

I can use a range of indefinite pronouns.

1 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

1 Are there any street markets near you?
2 What kind of things can you do and buy there?
3 When was the last time you went to a market and what did you buy?

2 3.28 Listen to two people at Camden Market in London. In which order do they visit the shops in photos A–D? What do they buy?

1C, 2D, 3A, 4B
They only bought some pancakes.

3 3.28 Choose the correct option. In your notebook, write sentences in full. Then listen again and check.

1 Are you doing anything / nothing tomorrow?
2 Who told you that? Anybody / Nobody.
3 How many pairs of Dr Martens have you got? None / Any.
4 Everybody has / have a pair of Dr Martens!
5 Are you kidding? No one / None would wear that!
6 Nothing / None of them fit.
7 Let's have something / anything to eat first.
8 I haven't eaten something / anything since breakfast.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Indefinite pronouns

- You use indefinite pronouns to talk about people, things or places when you don't know who, what or where they are, or it is not important.

PEOPLE	THINGS	PLACES	EXAMPLES
someone/ somebody	something	somewhere	Affirmative sentences: Let's find somewhere to eat. Requests/Offers: Would you like something on your pancake?
anybody/ anyone	anything	anywhere	Negative sentences or questions: Is anyone at home?
no one/ nobody	nothing	nowhere	Affirmative sentences (negative meaning): Nobody knows.
everyone/ everybody	everything	everywhere	All people/things/ places: Is everything ready?

- You use a singular verb: Everybody has a pair of Dr Martens!
- You can give extra information with …
  a to-infinitive: I need something to wear.
  b an adjective: We have something similar.
  c a relative clause: It's somebody who serves customers.
- none means 0 (zero). NOT ~~nothing~~ or ~~anything~~
  None of my friends. NOT ~~No one of my friends.~~

4 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS. Which indefinite pronouns can replace the underlined phrases in sentences 1–7?

1 I know I put my bag down ~~in a place~~ somewhere in this shop.
2 There is ~~not one item of clothes~~ nothing in this shop that fits me!
3 ~~All the things~~ Everything I wanted to buy cost a fortune.
4 ~~Not one~~ None of the shop assistants offered to help.
5 My girlfriend says she hasn't got ~~one single thing~~ anything to wear.
6 ~~Not one of the people~~ Nobody knew who I was.
7 ~~Not one place~~ Nowhere in this town sells TOMS shoes.

5 USE OF ENGLISH In your notebook, write a second sentence so that it has a similar meaning to the first. Use the words in brackets.

1 There is nothing to see here. (anything)
2 There wasn't anybody to talk to. (nobody)
3 I met a person who knows you. (somebody)
4 Is there a quiet place where we can talk? (anywhere)
5 I wanted some flip-flops but there weren't any in stock. (none)
6 We all know what you're thinking. (everyone)
7 Let's go to a hot place for our next holiday (somewhere)
8 He doesn't have any friends who like window shopping (none)

6 In your notebook, complete the sentences with an appropriate indefinite pronoun. Which sentences are true for you?

1 There is ___nothing___ to do in my town. It's so boring!
2 I didn't go ___anywhere___ last night. I stayed in.
3 I'd like ___something___ to eat. I'm really hungry!
4 I can't find my sunglasses. I've looked ___everywhere___.
5 I bought my mum ___something___ expensive for her last birthday.
6 ___None___ of my old jeans fit me any more.
7 I don't think ___anybody___ in the class enjoys doing the shopping.
8 I love vintage shops, but there are ___none___ in my city.

Use of English page 136

Exercise 5

1 There isn't anything to see here.
2 There was nobody to talk to.
3 I met somebody who knows you.
4 Is there anywhere quiet where we can talk?
5 I wanted some flip-flops but there were none in stock.

7.7 WRITING

A formal written complaint

I can write a basic email of complaint requesting action.

1 SPEAKING Have you, your family or your friend had any of the problems listed below when buying something? Tell your partner.

1 It was past its sell-by date.
2 It didn't work.
3 It was broken or damaged.
4 Some parts were missing.
5 The service was bad.
6 The delivery was late.
7 It was different from the description.
8 It was the wrong product.

2 Read Email 1 and answer the questions.

1 Which problems in Exercise 1 did the customer have?
2 Do you think this is a formal written complaint? Why?/Why not?

Exercise 2
2, 3, 5, 8
The letter is not formal and detailed enough.

(1)

Your company is rubbish.

I got some headphones from you online but they didn't work. So I sent them back and you swapped them for a new pair. They weren't the right ones, so I sent them back again. I got another pair from you today and they're broken and they don't work.

I'm so angry! You can keep the headphones but I want all my money back now, and I'll never use your store again.

3 Read the tips in the WRITING FOCUS. Which tips does Email 1 NOT follow?

WRITING FOCUS

A formal written complaint

- Open and close the email or letter formally.
- Give a reason for writing.
- Say what you bought and when.
- Explain the problem giving details.
- Tell the reader what you expect them to do.
- Use formal language with no contractions.

4 Read Email 2. For WRITING FOCUS tips 1–6, find examples of formal language in the email.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to complain about the service provided by your company.

I bought a pair of headphones (Model: SA-DIV-RED) from your website on 3rd March and paid for them online. They arrived the next day, but when I tried them, they did not work, so I returned them to you on 5th March and you exchanged them for a new pair. Unfortunately, the second pair you sent were the wrong model, so I emailed you again and sent them back one more time. I received a pair of headphones from you today, but when I unpacked them, I found they were damaged, and they do not work.

I am very disappointed with your service. I do not want another pair of headphones. I would be grateful if you could send me a full refund for the headphones and the cost of sending them back to you three times.

Yours faithfully,

R. Barker

WORD LIST ACTIVITIES

- Play Snowman with the new words. On the board, write a dash for each letter of a word to guess. Draw a part of the snowman for each wrong guess (e.g. the body, its eyes). The team who guesses the word before the snowman is complete wins a point. If a team makes a wrong guess and you draw the last part of a snowman, it loses a point.
- Divide students into teams. Call out a word for the first team. They have to say the category and explain the meaning.

Mystery shopping
– a type of market research

Kara, 19, a university student, has a very [1] unusual part-time job. She works as a mystery shopper. What does she do? One day she [2] buys a pair of glasses at an optician's, another day she has a meal in a restaurant. She looks like an average customer, but after the visit she writes a report about the place and sends it to the company's office. This is how the shops and restaurants get information about their goods or services and whether anybody is not [3] satisfied .

'It's the perfect job for me', explains Kara. [4] Going shopping has always been my hobby but I don't have much money to buy what I like. With this job I can have a free meal in an elegant restaurant or get some designer clothes. Mystery shopping also gives me something interesting to do at weekends and during my lunch hours.'

Market Force, the company which employs people like Kara, says: 'Mystery shoppers are paid once a month. To make sure that our [5] employees are honest and reliable, we sometimes send a few shoppers to the same place'.

CZYTANIE

7 Przeczytaj tekst. Które z podanych opcji A–D są poprawne?

THE HIGH STREET

Last summer I visited Britain. On the first day I needed some aspirin for my headache, so I asked the hotel owner where I could get some. She said: 'There's a chemist's on the high street.' I soon learned that a chemist's is what British people call a pharmacy and high street is called main street in America. That was a classic illustration of two nations divided by a common language.

The phrase high street is hardly ever explained to tourists because it is a part of everyday life in the UK. It means the main commercial street in every British town. What can be surprising is that a town's high street is not always the most important place in town and is not often called High Street, but has another official name.

In small villages, the high street has little more than a mail box, a newsagent's and a small supermarket. In a bigger town, you will find a chemist's, a DIY store, a pub and also traditional food shops like a butcher's or greengrocer's. In big cities, apart from pubs, clothes shops, toy shops, banks or an estate agent's line up on the high street. But there are not many vintage shops or fast food bars, unless they are part of big, multinational companies. This is because high street rents are usually the highest for businesses in the town.

Another surprise is high street fashion, which does not refer to the clothes that are sold in the high street shops – it only describes the clothes that are not too expensive but are fashionable. They are usually produced from good quality materials and you can find them everywhere, from big department stores to small local shops. Everyone can afford them.

Is the high street going to disappear from the British culture? I don't think so. Every year the competition for The Best High Street is announced. In 2016, there were 900 candidates. The title went to Blackburn, a big town in the north of England and one of my favorites.

1 The writer:
A is a British tourist to the USA.
B is an American tourist to the UK.
C runs a shop in the high street.
D lives in Blackburn.

2 What did the writer find out about the high street?
A It is the central part of every British town.
B Every high street looks the same.
C Most town sellers have their shops there.
D You can't have a fast food meal there.

3 High street fashion refers to:
A the most popular clothes.
B clothes on special offer.
C good quality brands.
D very expensive clothes.

4 In the text, the writer:
A gives the reasons for the differences between British and American English.
B invites people to go shopping in the high street.
C encourages towns to take part in the competition for the Best High Street.
D shares his/her discoveries about British culture.

MÓWIENIE

8 Pracując w parach, wykonajcie zadanie.

UCZEŃ A
Spędzasz wakacje u rodziny w Anglii. Chcesz kupić kuzynce prezent w sklepie z ubraniami. Rozmawiasz ze sprzedawcą na temat wyboru najlepszego prezentu. Poniżej podane są cztery kwestie, które musisz omówić. Rozmowę rozpoczyna uczeń B.

Element stroju	Sposób płatności
Styl, rozmiar	Możliwość zwrotu

UCZEŃ B
Pracujesz w sklepie z ubraniami. Uczeń A chce kupić prezent dla swojej kuzynki, ale nie jest pewien, co wybrać. W zależności od tego, jak potoczy się rozmowa, wykorzystaj wszystkie lub wybrane zdania. Rozmowę rozpoczynasz ty.
- Can I help you?
- This is the (biggest/smallest) size we've got.
- How would you like to pay?
- Unfortunately, we can't give you a refund but we can exchange it for a different item.
- Make sure you keep the receipt.

PISANIE

E-mail/List formalny

9 Zapisz w zeszycie, które problemy a–d mogą pojawić się przy zakupie produktów 1–4. Następnie, pracując w parach, dopiszcie po jeszcze jednym możliwym problemie do każdego produktu.

PRODUCTS	PROBLEMS
1 a box of chocolates c	a Some pages are missing.
2 a book a	b It has bad sound quality.
3 a pair of jeans d	c They are past their sell-by date.
4 an MP3 player b	d They shrank after the first wash.

10 Wybierz jeden z przedmiotów z ćwiczenia 9 i wykonaj zadanie.

Od twojego zakupu w sklepie internetowym minęło kilka tygodni. Pomimo zapewnień sprzedawcy, że paczka dotrze do ciebie w ciągu dwóch dni, czas oczekiwania był znacznie dłuższy. Po otwarciu paczki okazało się, że jest problem z zamówionym towarem. Napisz e-mail z reklamacją.
W swoim e-mailu:
- wyjaśnij, co i kiedy zostało kupione,
- poskarż się na nieterminowe dostarczenie przesyłki,
- opisz problem dotyczący otrzymanego towaru,
- przedstaw oczekiwany przez ciebie sposób rozwiązania problemu.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

8.1 VOCABULARY

Body parts • symptoms • health • phrasal verbs

I can use language related to wellness and illness.

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 In your notebook, write the body parts in order from head to toe in each set of words.

1 mouth forehead ear heart > forehead ear mouth heart
2 shoulder nose throat eyebrows eyebrows nose throat shoulder
3 hip tongue back foot tongue back hip foot
4 chest lips eyelashes knee eyelashes lips chest knee
5 tooth finger neck leg tooth neck finger leg

2 SPEAKING Point to a part of your body and ask your partner to say the word.

3 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.

1 How many apps do you have on your phone?
2 What are the apps for and which ones do you use most?
3 What apps do you know of that help you keep fit and stay healthy?

4 Read the article. In your notebook, match headings A–E with paragraphs 1–5.

A Feel calmer 3
B Get the right music 1
C Stay well 5
D Keep fit 4
E Eat and drink the right things 2

5 SPEAKING Which apps would you like to use and why? Discuss with a partner.

APPS TO KEEP YOU FIT

Feel unhealthy or unfit? Need to lose weight? Stressed out? No worries – just get the right app!

Here are five types of app that will help to improve your general health and levels of fitness.

1 B
You'll find it easier to work out if you have the right tunes. Fit radio lets you choose your own playlist, for Zumba®, running or aerobics.

2 E
Do you sometimes feel dizzy after doing exercise? Get an app that tells you to drink water before you pass out. Apps like Fooducate can also help you to make healthy food choices and cut out things that are bad for you. Scan a barcode and get nutritional information like how many calories it contains.

3 A
Are those exams stressing you out? Does your head hurt? Get a mindfulness app like Aura and learn how to be calm. Meditation will reduce anxiety and stress.

4 D
Everyone should exercise regularly. If you prefer to do your exercise outdoors, take up cycling. Strava can find you a route and track your distances. It can also check your pulse and heart rate.

5 C
You've got a temperature, a headache and you've come out in a rash! Or maybe you've got a cough, a sore throat and a pain in your chest. Symptomate will tell you what the problem is and how to get over it. You know you're allergic to nuts, or you suffer from a runny nose in spring? Get Allergy Alert to keep track of your symptoms.

8.2 GRAMMAR

Past Perfect

I can use the Past Perfect in a range of common situations.

1 Read Part 1 of a story about a very lucky footballer. What happened to Fabrice Muamba?

He had a heart attack during a football match.

Part 1

Shauna Muamba was watching her fiancé play football on television with her three-year-old son Joshua and her mother when Josh said 'Mummy, Daddy is frozen.'

Bolton footballer, Fabrice Muamba, had fallen down on the pitch. 'He's probably passed out' Shauna's mother said.

But he hadn't fainted – he had had a heart attack.

Around the world, millions of people were watching the FA Cup match between Tottenham and Bolton. Everyone knew it was serious because he had fallen like a tree – he hadn't put out his arms, he'd just dropped to the ground. By the time the medical people got to him, his heart had stopped.

2 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS and answer the questions.

1 How do you form the Past Perfect?
2 When do you use the Past Perfect?
3 According to the text, what things had Fabrice Muamba done/not done before the medical people got to him?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 37

Past Perfect

You use the Past Perfect to make it clear that one past action happened before another past action.

By the time the medical team got to him, his heart had stopped.

past — present

Note: By the time + Past Simple, Past Perfect.
Past Perfect: had + Past Participle

+	I had ('d) worked.
–	He had not (hadn't) worked.
?	Had they worked? Yes, they had./No, they hadn't.

3 Read Part 2 of the story. In your notebook, write the correct verb options. Who/What saved Fabrice Muamba's life?

Part 2

The Bolton physiotherapist [1] was / had been the first to notice that Muamba [2] fell down / had fallen down. He screamed, 'Get on the pitch, get on the pitch!' It [3] was / had been obvious that something serious [4] happened / had happened. But Muamba was lucky. Tottenham fan Dr Deaner, a consultant cardiologist, was one of the 35,000 spectators at the match that day. When he [5] saw / had seen that Muamba [6] dropped / had dropped to the ground, he turned to his brothers and said 'I should help.' He [7] ran / had run onto the pitch and told the ambulance to take Muamba to the London Chest Hospital. He [8] knew / had known that they had specialist equipment. This decision saved Muamba's life. When he finally [9] woke up / had woken up, he [10] was / had been 'dead' for 78 minutes.

Dr Deaner and the specialist equipment at the London Chest Hospital saved Fabrice Muamba's life.

4 Compare these sentence pairs. In each sentence, decide what happened first. Which sentences are true for you?

1 a When I got home yesterday, my mum had made dinner.
  b When I got home yesterday, my mum made dinner.
2 a When I got to school this morning, I had breakfast.
  b When I got to school this morning, I'd had breakfast.
3 a This lesson started when I arrived.
  b This lesson had started when I arrived.
4 a When the lesson began, I read about Fabrice Muamba.
  b When the lesson began, I had read about Fabrice Muamba.

5 In your notebook, write six Past Perfect sentences about yourself. Use By the age of ... and verb phrases in the box or your own ideas.

learn how to read/swim/ski buy (or get) my first phone/laptop/bike go to the capital city/a foreign country/a live concert

By the age of six, I had learnt how to swim.
By the age of ...

The Tower That Sucks in Smog and Spits Out Clean Air

3.39

The city of Beijing has such a big problem with its air quality that there are days when you can't see the buildings on the other side of the street. According to Nature Magazine, air pollution is responsible for three million deaths per year, and most of these deaths are in Asia. More and more people suffer from chest pain and have difficulty breathing. Children and the elderly are most at risk.

The 'Smog' – a blend of the words 'smoke' and 'fog' – is mainly caused by car exhaust fumes, factory smoke and dust storms from local construction projects. To protect themselves from the unhealthy effects of pollution, people wear face masks and children play sports indoors.

Last week, a Smog Free Tower was erected in the arts district of Beijing. It is part of an air purifying project by Daan Roosegaarde from Holland and is designed to take in smog and release clean air. The seven-metre-high tower resembles the kind of air purifier you may have in your house. Roosegaarde describes it as the largest smog vacuum cleaner in the world.

The Smog Free Tower was created by Roosegaarde and a green tech company in the Netherlands. It runs on renewable power. Smog particles that are dangerous to health are collected and stored inside the tower. The tower then blows out cleaner air. Roosegaarde uses the collected smog particles to make jewellery. When you buy a Smog Free Ring or a pair of cufflinks, you buy 1,000 cubic metres of clean air.

Roosegaarde got the idea for the Smog Free Project when he visited Beijing in 2013. One day he looked out of his hotel window and he simply couldn't see anything. The city had disappeared under a thick layer of smog.

Roosegaarde's project has the support of the Chinese Ministry of Environmental Protection, who have requested towers in four other cities. Roosegaarde is planning to set up 800 of his giant air purifiers in parks all over China to raise awareness of the huge problem of pollution. He believes that both citizens and the government need to work together to fight pollution. His dream is that in ten to fifteen years from now, we won't need his towers anymore.

8.5 GRAMMAR

Reported Speech

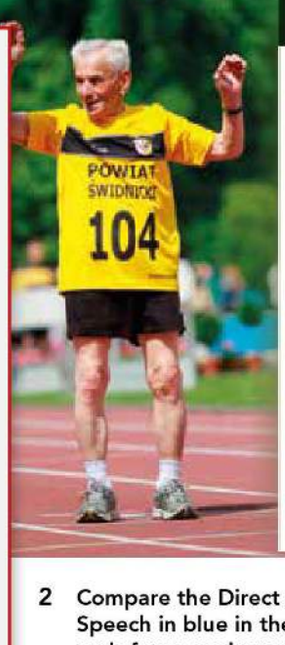

I can make tense changes in reported speech.

Exercise 2
The tense 'moves back' and the pronouns change from first person to third in Reported Speech.

1 Read the text and answer the questions.

1 What records has he broken?
The oldest person to run a 100-metre race.

2 What is his secret for a healthy life?
Do everything you want to do, cycle or walk 10 km every day.

Stanislaw Kowalski

Stanislaw Kowalski has become the oldest person in Europe to run a 100-metre race. When he crossed the finishing line, the 104-year-old grandfather said that he felt like a new man. He said he wasn't surprised that he had lived to such an old age. He said he had always done everything he wanted to do and he had never been to the doctor's. He also said that he had cycled or walked 10 km to work every day of his working life. He told reporters that he was looking forward to breaking the world record for the 60-metre race, which he actually did half a year later.

Exercise 4
1 A – he was 119 years old
2 E – he wasn't only the oldest athlete in the world
3 D – Singh was lying about his age
4 B – he couldn't prove his age
5 F – they understood that he had never known his real age
6 G – he thought the people who had accused him of lying were jealous
7 C – his secret was cow's milk

The officials didn't believe him because he didn't have a birth certificate and couldn't prove his age.

2 Compare the Direct Speech 1–6 below with the Reported Speech in blue in the text. What changes are there to the verb forms and pronouns?

1 'I feel like a new man.'
2 'I'm not surprised that I've lived to such an old age.'
3 'I've always done everything I want to do.'
4 'I've never been to the doctor's.'
5 'I cycled or walked 10 km to work every day.'
6 'I am looking forward to breaking the world record.'

3 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Which verb forms complete the examples correctly?

GRAMMAR FOCUS 39

Reported Speech

In Reported Speech verb forms and pronouns change depending on the context.

Direct Speech	→	Reported Speech
Present Simple 'I work,' she said.	→	Past Simple She said she worked.
Present Continuous 'He's working,' we said.	→	Past Continuous We said he [1] __was working__ .
Present Perfect 'We've worked,' he said.	→	Past Perfect He said they [2] __had worked__ .
Past Simple 'She worked,' they said.	→	Past Perfect They said she [3] __had worked__ .

Exercise 6
1 You aren't concentrating.
2 You look tired.
3 I haven't slept very well.
4 I watched a really scary film.
5 That is why I didn't do my homework.
6 You've used that excuse before.

REMEMBER THIS

Say* + (that) something
He said that he felt like a new man.
Tell* + somebody + (that) something
He told reporters that he was looking forward to breaking the world record.

4 Read the text. In your notebook, rewrite sentences A–G in Reported Speech and use them to complete the text. Why didn't the officials believe Dharam?

A I am 119 years old. = He said he was 119 years old.
B He can't prove his age.
C My secret is cow's milk.
D Singh is lying about his age.
E I am not only the oldest athlete in the world.
F We understand that he has never known his real age.
G I think the people who have accused me of lying are jealous.

Dharam Pal Singh

When Dharam Pal Singh, a farmer from India, entered an Australian Athletics competition, he told the officials that [1] he was 119 years old. He said that [2] __E__ , but he was also the oldest man in the world. The officials told reporters that [3] __D__ . They said that Singh had never had a birth certificate so [4] __B__ . They said that they liked him, and [5] __F__ . Singh said that [6] __G__ of his health and his running ability. He told reporters that [7] __C__ , herbal chutney and fruit.

5 Which option is correct?

1 My teacher said / told me I wasn't concentrating.
2 He said / told I looked tired.
3 I said / told him that I hadn't slept very well.
4 I said / told I had watched a really scary film.
5 I said / told him that was why I hadn't done my homework.
6 He said / told I'd used that excuse before!

6 In your notebook, rewrite the sentences in Exercise 5 in Direct Speech.

1 You aren't concentrating.

7 SPEAKING Follow the instructions to complete the task.

1 Tell your partner five true facts about yourself. Use some of the 'facts' in the box or your own ideas.

I am/am not tired I can/can't snowboard
I like/don't like politics
I've been/haven't been to London
I'm going out/not going out tonight
I watched/didn't watch TV last night

2 Your partner then reports back. How many facts can your partner remember correctly?

A: You said you could snowboard.
B: Yes, that's right.
A: You said you liked politics.
B: No, I said I didn't like politics.

WRITING

A reader's comment

I can write a simple online posting giving opinions.

Newsfocus.com: Daily Discussion

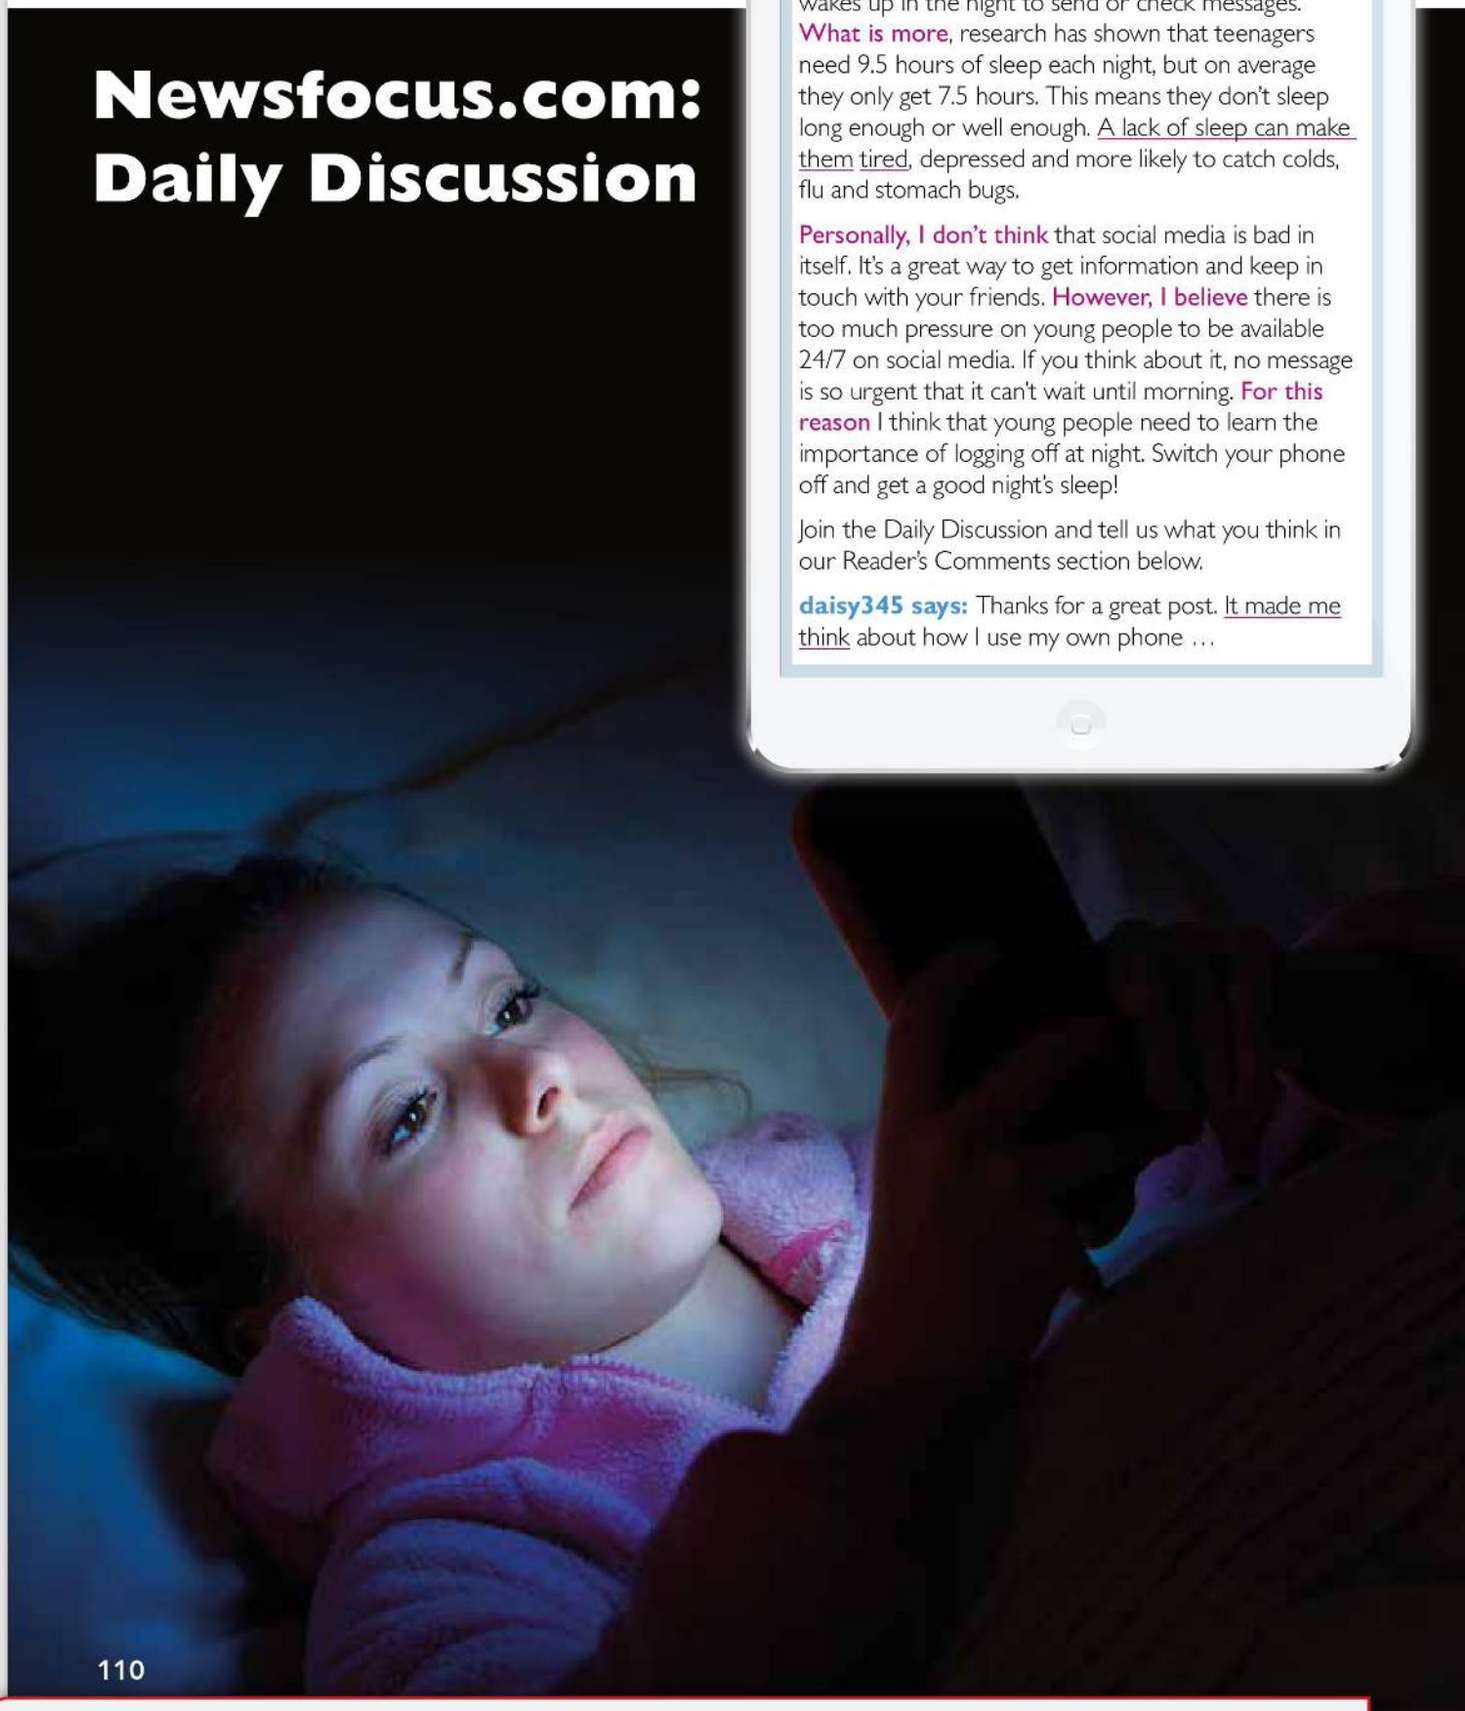

Is social media making you lose sleep?

A new study has found that one in five young people wakes up in the night to send or check messages. What is more, research has shown that teenagers need 9.5 hours of sleep each night, but on average they only get 7.5 hours. This means they don't sleep long enough or well enough. A lack of sleep can make them tired, depressed and more likely to catch colds, flu and stomach bugs.

Personally, I don't think that social media is bad in itself. It's a great way to get information and keep in touch with your friends. However, I believe there is too much pressure on young people to be available 24/7 on social media. If you think about it, no message is so urgent that it can't wait until morning. For this reason I think that young people need to learn the importance of logging off at night. Switch your phone off and get a good night's sleep!

Newsfocus.con: Daily Discussion

Does social media make you happy?

The answer is probably not. A recent survey found that one in five people say they feel depressed when they use social media. Academic research suggests that regular use leads to feelings of anxiety, stress and poor sleep. We use social media to present a false picture of our lives – like a movie of the life we'd like to live rather than the one we're actually living. If we post something and don't get enough 'shares' or 'likes', it makes us feel bad or unloved. What is more, teenagers are losing the ability to communicate face-to-face. Social media is addictive, and like all drugs, it is doing us more harm than good. Just say no!

8.8 SPEAKING

Describing symptoms to a doctor; formulating diagnosis and treatment

I can describe basic symptoms to a doctor.

1 In your notebook, complete the sentences with the words in the box.

arm	back	chest
a cough	dizzy	foot
ill	indigestion	left leg
neck	a runny nose	shoulder
sick	a sore throat	a temperature
thumb	very well

1 I've got a cough/indigestion/a runny nose/a sore throat/a temperature .
2 I've got a pain in my arm/back/chest/foot ./My left leg/neck/shoulder/thumb hurts.
3 I feel dizzy/ill/sick/very well .

2 3.43 Read the dialogue. In your notebook, write the correct options. Then listen and check.

Doctor: Hello, Andrew. What's the problem?
Andrew: I've got a [1] pain / sore in my chest.
Doctor: I see. And when did it start?
Andrew: A few days ago.
Doctor: Do you have any other [2] sicknesses / symptoms?
Andrew: Yes, sometimes my stomach [3] hurts / is dizzy.
Doctor: And how are you feeling now? Have you got a headache? Do you [4] have / feel dizzy?
Andrew: No, I feel okay. But when I have a stomachache I feel a bit [5] sick / hurt.
Doctor: I see. And do you have this [6] illness / pain all the time?
Andrew: No, I get it in the evening after dinner, and sometimes after lunch.
Doctor: Aha. Okay, I'm going to examine you.

3 3.44 Read and listen to Part 2 of the dialogue and answer the questions.

1 What does Andrew think the problem is?
2 What does the doctor think the problem is?
3 What does the doctor suggest?

Doctor: Now … Breathe in and out for me. Good, thank you. Now, open wide – hmm, that looks fine. Right, I'm just going to take your temperature … Okay, that seems normal. Now lie down, please. If I push here, does it hurt?
Andrew: Ow. A little bit. Do you think it's my heart, doctor?
Doctor: Your heart! Why would it be your heart? You're sixteen years old.
Andrew: My mum says I eat the wrong things and I eat too quickly and she thinks I'll have a heart attack before I'm twenty.
Doctor: I see. Well, your heart is fine. We don't need to operate just yet. I think you've got indigestion. But your mother's right – you need to eat more slowly, and you should drink more water. I'm going to give you a prescription – take one tablet after each meal. Make another appointment to see me in a month.
Andrew: Aren't you going to do a blood test?
Doctor: No, I don't think that's necessary.
Andrew: Oh good, thank you very much.

Exercise 3
1 Andrew thinks it's his heart.
2 Indigestion
3 eat more slowly, drink more water, take one tablet after each meal, make another appointment

1.2 GRAMMAR

Present tenses – question forms

W języku angielskim pytania ogólne (Yes/No questions), szczegółowe (Wh- questions) i pytania o podmiot (subject questions) tworzymy w różny sposób. Przeanalizuj poniższe tabelki dla czasów Present Simple, Present Continuous i Present Perfect.

Present Simple

Pytania ogólne (Yes/No questions)
Do		I/you/we/they	speak English?
Does		he/she/it
Pytania szczegółowe (Wh- questions)
What languages	do	I/you/we/they	speak?
	does	he/she/it
Pytania o podmiot (Subject questions)
Who		speaks	English?

Present Continuous

Pytania ogólne (Yes/No questions)
Am		I	working now?
Are		you/we/they
Is		he/she/it
Pytania szczegółowe (Wh- questions)
What	am	I	doing?
	is	he/she/it
	are	you/we/they
Pytania o podmiot (Subject questions)
Who		is working	now?

Present Perfect

Pytania ogólne (Yes/No questions)
Have		I/you/we/they	swum in a river?
Has		he/she/it
Pytania szczegółowe (Wh- questions)
What	have	I/you/we/they	done?
	has	he/she/it
Pytania o podmiot (Subject questions)
Who		has swum	in a river?

Tworząc pytanie szczegółowe z czasownikiem, któremu towarzyszy przyimek i rzeczownik, np. work with somebody itp., i pytając o ten właśnie rzeczownik, nie przenosimy przyimka na początek pytania (jak to robimy w języku polskim), ale zostawiamy go tam, gdzie jest, czyli po czasowniku.

Who does Emily work with*?* Z kim pracuje Emily?

W czasie Present Simple w pytaniach o podmiot nie stosujemy czasowników posiłkowych do i does. Porównaj:

Julia gives money to charity.

Who gives money to charity? Kto przekazuje pieniądze organizacjom charytatywnym?

Julia gives money to charity.

What does Julia give to charity? Co przekazuje Julia organizacjom charytatywnym?

1 Choose the correct option.

1 Who sits / does sit next to you in class?
2 Where does your best friend live / lives your best friend?
3 Which capital cities has visited your best friend / has your best friend visited?
4 You are watching / Are you watching the news now?
5 Why Jamie and Toni have been / have Jamie and Toni been so quiet today?
6 What you do / do you do at the weekends?

2 Write questions about the underlined information.

1 My grandparents give money to a charity.
What do your grandparents give money to?
2 Tina has tried Japanese food.
Who has tried Japanese food?
3 I'm dreaming about my winter holiday in Zakopane.
What are you dreaming about?
4 My best friend lives in Frankfurt.
Where does your best friend live?
5 Jo has visited Poland, Russia and Slovakia.
What countries has Jo visited?
6 Jim is watching a comedy at the moment.
Who is watching a comedy at the moment?

3 Translate the words in brackets into English.

1 Who cooks dinner (Kto gotuje obiad) in your family?
2 Have you ever met (Czy kiedykolwiek poznałeś) a celebrity?
3 What is Adam's brother like (Jaki jest brat Adama), in your opinion?
4 Is Leonardo DiCaprio working now (Czy Leonardo DiCaprio pracuje teraz) on a new film?
5 Does Tom look like (Czy Tom wygląda jak) his dad?
6 What are you reading (Co czytasz) at the moment?
7 Have you been (Czy byłaś) to London recently?
8 Is Emilia cheerful (Czy Emilia jest radosna) and outgoing?
9 Does your English teacher sing (Czy twój nauczyciel języka angielskiego śpiewa) in a rock band?
10 What do you like doing (Co lubisz robić) after school?

4 Complete the questions with the correct forms of the auxiliary verbs do, be or have. One question does not need an auxiliary verb.

1 What music __do__ you like, Sebastian? I like hip-hop.
2 Who __are__ your parents talking to in the kitchen?
3 __Have__ you seen my laptop? I can't find it anywhere.
4 Why __is__ Asia always so serious? She never looks happy.
5 What __has__ Martin eaten this afternoon?
6 __Is__ Jane looking for her glasses? They're over here.
7 Who ____ wants to help me bake dad's birthday cake?
8 __Do__ you like apples? These ones are really juicy.

1.5 GRAMMAR

Verb + -ing or verb + to infinitive

W zdaniach w języku angielskim często występują po sobie dwa czasowniki. W zależności od tego, jaki czasownik stoi na pierwszym miejscu, drugi przybiera formę z końcówką -ing lub bezokolicznika z to.

Forma z końcówką -ing (gerund) występuje po:

- czasownikach wyrażających emocje, np.: enjoy, hate, like, love, (not) mind
  I hate wearing a suit and a tie. Nie cierpię nosić garnituru i krawata.
- po niektórych czasownikach i wyrażeniach: avoid, consider, can't stand, prefer, spend time
  Laura prefers texting to sending emails. Laura woli wysyłać SMS-y niż e-maile.

Bezokolicznika (to + czasownik) używamy po następujących czasownikach i wyrażeniach:

- po większości czasowników wyrażających plany, decyzje, wolę, zamiary: hope, want, decide, choose
  Tim wants to study Law. Tim chce studiować prawo.
- po takich czasownikach jak: agree, can't afford, manage, need, pretend, refuse
  Why do you refuse to lend me your shoes? Dlaczego nie chcesz pożyczyć mi swoich butów?
- po czasownikach wyrażających preferencje: would like, would love, would prefer
  I like going out with my friends, but today I would like to stay at home. Uwielbiam spędzać czas z przyjaciółmi poza domem, ale dziś wolałabym zostać w domu.

1 Complete the sentences with the correct forms of the verbs in brackets.

1 I don't mind getting up (get up) early.
2 Karen spends a lot of time chatting (chat) online.
3 I refuse to wear (wear) this skirt – it is too short!
4 I always agree to help (help) my brother at home.
5 They hope to meet (meet) Sting after the concert.
6 I can't stand shopping (shop). It's so boring!
7 Peter wants to be (be) like Steve Jobs.
8 Sue has decided to lend (lend) me her new dress.
9 Does Angela enjoy working (work) as a volunteer?

2 Translate the fragments in brackets into English.

1 A lot of people can't afford to buy (nie stać na to, by kupować) new clothes every season.
2 In the winter I always miss swimming (tęsknię za pływaniem) in the sea.
3 Most of my friends prefer wearing (woli nosić) jeans to sweatpants.
4 Jim has decided to buy (zdecydował się kupić) a blue suit.
5 Rob would like to spend (chciałby spędzać) more time with his friends.
6 Amy works for a charity – she loves helping (uwielbia pomagać) people in need.
7 We've managed to finish (Zdołaliśmy skończyć) our project on time.
8 Peter likes working (lubi pracować) in a team.

3 Complete the sentences using the prompts in brackets. Add any necessary words. Do not change the order of the words given.

1 I can't stand spending (stand/spend) holiday at home. I'd like to go somewhere exotic!
2 Why does Peter pretend to worry about (pretend/worry) Sarah? He clearly doesn't like her.
3 It's a good idea to avoid depending on (avoid/depend) people that you don't know very well.
4 I finally managed to focus on (manage/focus) my homework.
5 We hope to see (hope/see) you both at the party.
6 Roger doesn't mind talking about/to (not/mind/talk) his ex-girlfriend. They're still very good friends.
7 I miss spending time with (miss/spend/time) my best friend from primary school.
8 Edgar hates listening to (hate/listen) heavy metal music. He prefers hip-hop.

4 Complete the second sentence so that it means the same as the first. Use no more than five words including the word in capitals.

1 I don't want to wear the same clothes every day. REFUSE
I refuse to wear the same clothes every day.
2 It's not a problem for me to get up early in the morning. MIND
I don't mind getting up early in the morning.
3 He didn't want to see me, so he stayed at home. AVOID
He stayed at home to avoid seeing me.
4 It's my choice to study Art at university next year. CHOSEN
I have chosen to study Art at university next year.
5 Karen doesn't want to go to the theatre, she wants to go to the cinema. PREFER
Karen doesn't want to go to the theatre, she would prefer to go to the cinema.
6 It is really fun for me to play football with my team. ENJOY
I really enjoy playing football with my team.

5 Complete the text with the correct form of the verbs in the box.

change do go join play practise spend tell win

Last month I decided [1] to change my lifestyle. Why? Well, I don't mind [2] telling you that I was a bit worried about my size and my weight. I spent too much time [3] playing computer games and I refused [4] to do any kind of exercise as well.
Firstly, I considered [5] going to the gym. But this is expensive and I can't afford [6] to spend much money. Plus, it's a little boring and unsociable, I think. So, I chose [7] to join a badminton club, instead. I wasn't very good at first, but I managed [8] to win my first game yesterday so I'm really happy. Of course, I need [9] to practise more, but I'm really passionate about my new hobby.

Comparative and superlative adjectives

- Przymiotników w stopniu wyższym oraz słówka than (od, niż) używamy w celu porównania dwóch osób lub rzeczy:
  Daniel Craig is taller than Zac Efron. Daniel Craig jest wyższy od Zaca Efrona.
- Aby porównać dwie osoby lub rzeczy, możemy także użyć konstrukcji not as + przymiotnik + as (nie tak … jak):
  Rupert Grint is not as famous as Daniel Radcliffe. Rupert Grint nie jest tak sławny jak Daniel Radcliffe.
- Przymiotników w stopniu najwyższym używamy, by powiedzieć, że ktoś lub coś posiada jakąś cechę w największym natężeniu (w porównaniu z przynajmniej dwoma innymi rzeczami lub osobami):
  Daniel Craig is taller than Zac Efron. Sean Connery is the tallest of them all. Daniel Craig jest wyższy od Zaca Efrona. Sean Connery jest najwyższy z nich wszystkich.

Przymiotniki (Adjectives)		Stopień wyższy (Comparative)	Stopień najwyższy (Superlative)
Jednosylabowe	young nice hot	younger nicer hotter	the youngest the nicest the hottest
Jedno- lub dwusylabowe, zakończone na -y	dry pretty	drier prettier	the driest the prettiest
Dwusylabowe lub dłuższe	attractive difficult	more attractive more difficult	the most attractive the most difficult
Nieregularne	good bad far	better worse further	the best the worst the furthest

Porównując dwie osoby lub rzeczy, możemy również używać następujących konstrukcji:

- (just) as + przymiotnik + as, aby powiedzieć, że dwie osoby/rzeczy są takie same:
  The plot of Angela's latest novel is as complex as her previous one. Fabuła ostatniej powieści Angeli jest tak złożona jak fabuła jej poprzedniej (książki).
- not as + przymiotnik + as, aby powiedzieć, że dwie osoby/rzeczy nie są takie same:
  For me, talent shows aren't as interesting as game shows. Moim zdaniem, pokazy talentów nie są tak interesujące jak teleturnieje.

Aby zmodyfikować znaczenie przymiotnika, do jego stopnia wyższego dodaje się takie słowa jak a bit (trochę) lub much/far (o wiele, dużo):

- a bit (trochę): Listening to an audiobook is a bit easier than reading an e-book. Słuchanie audiobooka jest trochę łatwiejsze niż czytanie książki w wersji elektronicznej.
- much / far (dużo/daleko bardziej):
  This television is much more expensive because it has a better screen. Ten telewizor jest dużo droższy, ponieważ ma lepszy ekran.

1 Translate the words in brackets into English.

1 Watching films at home with friends is just as interesting as (tak interesujące jak) going to the cinema.
2 Ballet is a bit less boring than (jest odrobinę mniej nudny niż) opera for me.
3 They're both actors, but Ben is far/much more talented than (dużo bardziej utalentowany niż) Mia.
4 Taylor Swift is not as popular as (nie jest tak popularna jak) Beyoncé.

3 The soundtrack to this movie is just as moving __as__ the script.
4 This romantic comedy is much funnier __than__ I expected.
5 Reality TV shows aren't as imaginative today __as__ they used to be.
6 The plots of thrillers are usually far __more__ complex than the plots in horrors.

3 Complete the text with the adjectives in brackets in comparative or superlative form.

The first Blade Runner film was made in 1982. It wasn't [1] as exciting (exciting) as the usual science-fiction film because it was actually quite slow; it didn't have lots of fast action or spaceships fighting wars to save the world. For many people, however, the very unusual story was full of mystery and for them it was the [2] most fascinating (fascinating) film of the 80s.
When I heard they were making a second film thirty-five years later, like many fans I was far [3] more worried (worried) than happy. The second film in a series is usually much [4] worse than (bad) the first. Fortunately, the new film, Blade Runner 2049, is actually much [5] more gripping than (gripping) the first film because the story continues to have surprises and leaves a lot of questions without an answer.

too and not enough

Przysłówków too (zbyt) i enough (wystarczająco) używamy, aby porównać osoby/rzeczy lub zasygnalizować nadmiar bądź niedobór jakiejś cechy.

Przysłówka too używamy:

- przed przymiotnikiem: (not) too + przymiotnik:
  The painting is too dark and I can't see what's in it. Obraz jest zbyt ciemny i nie widzę, co się na nim znajduje.
  Przysłówek too ma znaczenie negatywne, jeśli występuje w zdaniu twierdzącym, a jeżeli używamy go z przeczeniem, wówczas niesie znaczenie pozytywne:
  The plot is too complex – I can't understand it.
  Fabuła jest zbyt złożona – nie rozumiem jej.
  The plot isn't too complex – it's easy to follow it.
  Fabuła nie jest zbyt złożona – łatwo ją śledzić.
- z rzeczownikiem w wyrażeniach too many/much* + rzeczownik:
  There are too many horrors in the cinema these days. Obecnie w kinach jest zbyt wiele horrorów.
  The artist didn't give too much advice to the kids so they painted how they liked. Artysta nie dał dzieciom zbyt wielu rad, zatem rysowały tak, jak miały ochotę.

Przysłówka enough używamy:

- po przymiotniku: (not) przymiotnik + enough:
  The special effects weren't realistic enough so the film wasn't very popular. Efekty specjalne nie były wystarczająco realistyczne, więc film nie był bardzo popularny.
- przed rzeczownikiem: (not) enough + rzeczownik:
  I think there are enough cooking programmes on TV nowadays. Sądzę, że obecnie w telewizji jest wystarczająco (dużo) programów kulinarnych.

Przysłówek enough ma znaczenie pozytywne, jeśli występuje w zdaniu twierdzącym, a jeżeli używamy go z przeczeniem, wówczas niesie znaczenie negatywne:

We had enough photos to prepare the exhibition. Mieliśmy wystarczającą liczbę zdjęć, aby przygotować wystawę.

We didn't have enough photos to prepare the exhibition. Nie mieliśmy wystarczającej liczby zdjęć, aby przygotować wystawę.

Present Perfect with for and since

Czas Present Perfect stosujemy między innymi do opisywania stanów i czynności, które rozpoczęły się w przeszłości i trwają do chwili obecnej. Zwykle posługujemy się wtedy wyrażeniami z since i for.

- Since określa moment, w którym rozpoczęła się dana czynność lub stan trwający do chwili obecnej:
  since 2000 / Monday / last summer / my birthday / I was born* – od 2000 r. / poniedziałku / ostatniego lata / moich urodzin / narodzin
- For określa okres, przez który trwa dana czynność lub stan:
  for five minutes / two weeks / a long time / ages* – od/przez np. od pięciu minut / dwóch tygodni / długiego czasu / wieków; przez pięć minut / dwa tygodnie / długi czas, itd.

Tłumacząc zdania tego typu na język polski, używamy czasu teraźniejszego:
My parents have had this house since 1990. Moi rodzice mają ten dom od 1990 roku.
I have known Carol for ten years. Znam Carol od dziesięciu lat.

Aby zapytać, od jak dawna trwa jakiś stan lub odbywa się jakaś czynność, używamy wyrażenia How long …?:
How long have you lived in this house?* Jak długo mieszkacie w tym domu?

1 Look at today's date and time and complete the table with the correct time expressions.

since		for
1 since December	=	for … months
2 since Saturday	=	for … days
3 since … (o'clock)	=	for 45 minutes
4 since breakfast	=	for … hours
5 since 19…	=	for 27 years
6 since …	=	for five weeks
7 since I started school	=	for … years

2 Write questions with How long …? Then write two answers to each question – one with since and one with for.

1 you / live in your house or flat?
How long have you lived in your house or flat?
Since … .
For … years.

2 you / know your best friend?
How long have you known your best friend?
Since … .
For … years.

3 you / be at this school?
How long have you been at this school?
Since … .
For … years.

4 you / have a mobile phone?
How long have you had a mobile phone?
Since … .
For … years.

3 Complete the sentences with the Present Perfect form of the verbs in brackets. Then choose for or since.

1 We have lived (live) in this house for / (since) 2005.
2 I haven't seen (not/see) Rob for / (since) my birthday six weeks ago.
3 Birgit has worked (work) in Paris (for) / since ages.
4 We haven't visited (not/visit) grandma for / (since) last winter.
5 It looks like you haven't cleaned (not/clean) this kitchen (for) / since several weeks.
6 My family has stayed (stay) in this holiday villa in Spain every year for / (since) I was born.
7 John and Magda haven't spoken (not/speak) to each other (for) / since five days.
8 Karen hasn't been (not/be) near the sea (for) / since a long time.

4 Correct the mistakes.

1 How long ~~has~~ have Marta and Ania owned this cottage?
2 I have lived in the suburbs ~~since~~ for three weeks.
3 I love the countryside. How long ~~you have~~ have you been here?
4 Karol, have you ~~did~~ done the ironing?
5 Bob, look! Monica has ~~came~~ come round to visit us.
6 I haven't spent Christmas with my family ~~for~~ since 2015.
7 I have known her ~~from~~ for ten years.
8 Sarah hasn't got any money left because she has ~~buy~~ bought a new flat.

5 Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use no more than five words including the word in capitals.

1 We moved to Wrocław two years ago. FOR
We have lived in Wroclaw for two years.
2 I last saw Mark in February. SINCE
I have not seen Mark since February.
3 Annette bought the cooker last week. HAD
Annette has had the cooker since last week.
4 Dad stopped making furniture about five years ago. NOT
Dad has not made furniture since about 2014.
5 I met my neighbour a long time ago. KNOWN
I have known my neighbour for ages.

6 Complete the text with the correct form of the verbs in the box. There are two extra gaps. Use for or since in the extra gaps.

invite make move plan promise show

I'm really happy because my family has just [1] moved near the sea. In fact, we've lived here [2] for one month. Of course, I was sad to leave my friends back in Manchester, but I've [3] invited them to stay with me next summer and I've [4] promised to write to them often. I've been at my new school [5] since last Monday and I have already [6] made some new friends. They're really nice and have [7] shown me the best places to see. I'm sure they've [8] planned something interesting for this weekend too. I think I'm going to really enjoy living here.

Future forms: Present Continuous, be going to and will

- Czasu Present Continuous używamy w odniesieniu do przyszłości, mówiąc o sprecyzowanych planach, w realizacji których poczyniono już przygotowania, a ich szczegóły (czas, miejsce, itp.) zostały określone. W języku polskim również posługujemy się w takich sytuacjach czasem teraźniejszym:
  I can't go shopping tomorrow at five. I'm playing tennis with Joy. – Nie mogę iść na zakupy jutro o piątej. Gram w tenisa z Joy. (Już się z nią umówiłem/umówiłam.)
- Konstrukcji be going to + bezokolicznik używamy, mówiąc o zamiarach i planach na przyszłość, które mogą ulec zmianie:
  Are you going to invite your aunt to the party?*
  Czy zamierzasz zaprosić swoją ciocię na przyjęcie?
- Formy will + bezokolicznik używamy do wyrażania spontanicznych decyzji, często podejmowanych w momencie mówienia i będących reakcją na nową sytuację. W zdaniach z will często używamy zwrotów takich, jak:
  I think I'll …, I'll probably …, Don't worry, I'll …
  I think I'll ask Luke for help. Myślę, że poproszę Luke'a o pomoc.

Adverbs

Przysłówki zwykle są określeniami:

- czasowników:
  Are you sitting comfortably? Czy siedzisz wygodnie?
- przymiotników:
  The living-room is really beautiful. Salon jest naprawdę piękny.
- innych przysłówków:
  We drove incredibly slowly because of the traffic jams. Jechaliśmy niesłychanie powoli z powodu korków ulicznych.

Przysłówki tworzymy poprzez dodanie końcówki -ly do przymiotnika (soft – softly). Jeżeli jednak przymiotnik kończy się na:

- -le – to końcówkę -e zamieniamy na -y (possible – possibly),
- spółgłoskę + -y – to końcówkę -y zamieniamy na -i oraz dodajemy -ly (happy – happily).

Niektóre przysłówki zachowują taką samą formę jak przymiotniki: hard – hard, fast – fast, late – late, early – early.

Przysłówek opisujący czasownik występuje:

- od razu po czasowniku:
  She dances beautifully. Ona pięknie tańczy.
- po dopełnieniu, jeżeli znajduje się ono po czasowniku:
  We ate our breakfast quickly and left for our holidays. Szybko zjedliśmy śniadanie i wyruszyliśmy na wakacje.

Większość przysłówków stopniujemy poprzez dodanie more (stopień wyższy) lub the most (stopień najwyższy):
beautifully – more beautifully – the most beautifully.

Przysłówki, które zachowują formę przymiotnika, stopniujemy tak, jak te przymiotniki:
low – lower – the lowest.

Niektóre przysłówki są stopniowane w sposób nieregularny:

- well – better – the best (dobrze – lepiej – najlepiej)
- badly – worse – the worst (źle – gorzej – najgorzej)

Przed przymiotnikiem i przysłówkiem możemy dodać przysłówek stopnia, który wzmacnia lub osłabia ich znaczenie:

- a little / a bit / slightly (nieco):
  Sue says that living in the suburbs is slightly better now because there are more shops. Sue twierdzi, że obecnie życie na przedmieściach jest nieco lepsze, ponieważ jest tam teraz więcej sklepów.
- quite / rather / pretty (całkiem):
  Since we redecorated the room, it looks pretty good. Po odnowieniu pokój wygląda całkiem dobrze.
- really (naprawdę) / extremely (wyjątkowo) / completely (zupełnie):
  You need to move this chest of drawers extremely carefully because it is an antique. Powinniście przesunąć tę komodę wyjątkowo delikatnie, ponieważ to antyk.

1 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences.

1 father / the / my / cleans / rather / house / quickly
My father cleans the house rather quickly.
2 you've / beautifully / your / decorated / room
You've decorated your room beautifully.
3 pancakes / makes / pretty / good / Janice
Janice makes pretty good pancakes.
4 your / mine / bigger / is / slightly / wardrobe / than
Your wardrobe is slightly bigger than mine.
5 the / carefully / door / close / extremely / front
Close the front door extremely carefully.
6 loudly / Laura / the / housework / does / really

2 Make adverbs from the adjectives in the box. Then complete the sentences with the correct adverbs.

careful easy fast good lucky slow

1 You can ___easily___ have a party in this cosy cottage.
2 How ___well___ do you play the piano, Bjorn?
3 Please do the washing up ___carefully___ . I don't want you to break my expensive plates.
4 Never drive ___fast___ in a small village – even when you are in a hurry.
5 I love walking ___slowly___ through the city centre when I have lots of time.
6 I missed the bus, but ___luckily___ there was another one in twenty minutes.

3 Choose the correct answer, A, B or C, to complete the text.

Moving from the city centre and living in the countryside was very strange for me at the beginning. To start with, it is [1]___ quiet compared to living in the city as there is almost no traffic on the roads. We live in a small village and there aren't too many terraced or semi-detached houses. There are beautiful, [2]___ designed stone cottages – most of them with only one or two floors. We live in a bungalow which is [3]___ spacious. My room, however, is small – but it is very cosy. It's not very entertaining here – there aren't many shops or cafés but there are some amazing [4]___ monuments nearby. I especially like the ruins of the old castle. We walk there sometimes at the weekends and it's such a fascinating place with lots of gripping stories about it from the past. There are [5]___ views there too, and this Sunday my family and I [6]___ a picnic there. I don't miss life in the city at all!

Defining relative clauses

Tworząc zdania podrzędne, które podają informację pozwalającą zidentyfikować konkretną osobę, rzecz lub miejsce (relative clauses), używamy następujących zaimków względnych (relative pronouns):

- who i that, gdy mówimy o ludziach:
  This is the teacher who/that teaches my class. To jest nauczyciel, który uczy moją klasę.
  Do you know the girls who/that are talking to the PE teacher? Czy znasz dziewczyny, które rozmawiają z nauczycielem WF-u?
- which i that, gdy mówimy o rzeczach:
  Is this the laptop which/that you ordered? Czy to jest laptop, który zamówiłaś?
  I'll visit you during the term break which/that begins next week. Odwiedzę cię w czasie przerwy semestralnej, która rozpoczyna się w przyszłym tygodniu.
- where, gdy mówimy o miejscach:
  We're going to visit the school where my mum taught for twenty years. Odwiedzimy szkołę, w której moja mama uczyła przez dwadzieścia lat.
  Ella went to a school where most pupils were girls. Ella uczyła się w szkole, w której większość uczniów stanowiły dziewczęta.

Zaimki względne who, which, where i that zwykle stawiamy tuż po osobie, rzeczy lub miejscu, do których się odnoszą. Zaimki who, which i that można pominąć, jeżeli następuje po nich zaimek osobowy lub rzeczownik:
We have a timetable (which/that) we can change. Mamy plan zajęć, który możemy zmieniać.

Zaimka względnego nie można pominąć, jeżeli nie następuje po nim zaimek osobowy lub rzeczownik.

Future time and conditional clauses

Zdania warunkowe wprowadzamy za pomocą spójników takich jak:

- if (jeżeli): If Mark doesn't hand in his homework today, his Maths teacher will get really angry. Jeżeli Mark nie odda swojej pracy domowej dziś, to jego nauczyciel matematyki bardzo się zdenerwuje.
- unless (chyba, że / jeśli nie): Amy will not make any progress unless she works systematically. Amy nie zrobi żadnych postępów, jeśli nie będzie systematycznie pracowała.

Zdania okolicznikowe czasu wprowadzamy za pomocą następujących spójników:

- when (kiedy): When the new term starts, the teachers will attend a conference. Kiedy zacznie się nowy semestr, nauczyciele wezmą udział w konferencji.
- before (zanim, przed): Before I take Chemistry and Physics for my A-levels, I will talk to my teachers. Zanim wybiorę chemię i fizykę jako przedmioty maturalne, porozmawiam z moimi nauczycielami.
- after (po tym, jak; kiedy): After you mark your students' homework, you will know where they tend to make most mistakes. Po tym, jak sprawdzisz prace domowe swoich uczniów, będziesz wiedzieć, jakie błędy popełniają najczęściej.
- as soon as (jak tylko): The kids will feel better as soon as the school breaks up for holiday. Dzieci poczują się lepiej, jak tylko skończy się szkoła i rozpoczną się wakacje.

W zdaniach warunkowych i okolicznikowych czasu, które odnoszą się do przyszłości, w języku angielskim zawsze używamy czasu teraźniejszego, mimo że w języku polskim stosujemy w nich czas przyszły.

Zdanie podrzędne (subordinate clause)		Zdanie główne (main clause)
if unless when before after as soon as	+ Present Simple	will/won't + czasownik

My sister will never succeed unless she learns from her mistakes. Moja siostra nigdy nie odniesie sukcesu, chyba że wyciągnie lekcje ze swoich błędów.

Zdania podrzędne i główne możemy zamieniać ze sobą miejscami. Gdy całe zdanie zaczyna się od zdania podrzędnego, wówczas oddzielamy je przecinkiem od zdania głównego. Nie wstawiamy przecinka, gdy zdanie rozpoczyna się od zdania głównego:

I will let you know about the time of our meeting as soon as I get my new timetable. Dam ci znać, o której godzinie się spotkamy, jak tylko dostanę mój nowy plan zajęć.

As soon as I get my new timetable, I will let you know about the time of our meeting. Jak tylko dostanę mój nowy plan zajęć, dam ci znać, o której godzinie się spotkamy.

Second Conditional

Zdań warunkowych drugiego stopnia (Second Conditional) używamy, mówiąc o:

- obecnych sytuacjach lub stanach, których zmiana jest niemożliwa lub mało prawdopodobna:
  If I weren't so tall, I would become a figure skater.* Gdybym nie była tak wysoka, zostałabym łyżwiarką figurową.
  If I were rich, I would live in a huge house.* Gdybym był bogaty, mieszkałbym w ogromnym domu.
- czymś, co teoretycznie mogłoby nastąpić w przyszłości, ale jest mało realne:
  If he left home earlier, he would never be late for work.* Gdyby wychodził z domu wcześniej, nigdy nie spóźniałby się do pracy.

W zdaniu podrzędnym rozpoczynającym się od if (opisującym warunek) używamy czasu Past Simple.

W zdaniu nadrzędnym (opisującym konsekwencję) używamy would/wouldn't. (Forma skrócona czasownika would to 'd.)

Podobnie jak w zdaniach warunkowych pierwszego stopnia zdania składowe mogą wystąpić w dowolnej kolejności. Jeśli zdanie podrzędne występuje jako pierwsze, stawiamy po nim przecinek.

If + Past Simple (warunek),	would / wouldn't + bezokolicznik (konsekwencja).
If Sue knew Italian,	she'd apply for this job.
Gdyby Sue znała włoski,	ubiegałaby się o tę pracę.

would / wouldn't + bezokolicznik (konsekwencja)	if + Past Simple (warunek).
Sue would apply for this job	if she knew Italian.
Sue ubiegałaby się o tę pracę,	gdyby znała włoski.

W zdaniach warunkowych drugiego stopnia po I, he, she oraz it można użyć zarówno formy was, jak i were. Formy were używamy częściej w wypowiedziach formalnych i w języku pisanym.

Warto pamiętać, że w wyrażeniu If I were you (Gdybym był/była tobą / Na twoim miejscu) zazwyczaj używa się were.

If I were you, I would tell him the truth.* Na twoim miejscu powiedziałbym/powiedziałabym mu prawdę.

1 Choose three to five words from each set to complete the sentence below it.

1 were, would, for, a, be, apply, she, applied
If she were older, she would apply for a job in a clothes shop.
2 brother, did, would, I, when, a, have, had
I would never be lonely if I had a brother or sister.
3 afford, afforded, will, could, house, a, can, big
If we could afford a big house , we'd have lots of parties.
4 time, didn't, she, have, hadn't, any, wouldn't
If Sue worked long hours, she wouldn't have time to go out with friends.

2 Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Use the Second Conditional.

1 If everybody went (go) to university, nobody would want (want) to do hard physical work.
2 Buses wouldn't be (not be) so crowded if more people worked (work) from home.
3 If people didn't apply (not apply) for low-paid jobs, salaries would go (go) up.
4 Family relationships would improve (improve) if parents spent (spend) more time with their children.
5 You would be (be) happier if you had (have) an interesting and well-paid job.

3 Rewrite the sentences using the Second Conditional.

1 I don't earn money because I am unemployed.
If I wasn't/weren't unemployed, I would earn money.
2 Sue doesn't have a boss because she's self-employed.
Sue would have a boss if she wasn't/weren't self-employed.
3 Ian sleeps during the day because he works night shifts.
Ian wouldn't sleep during the day if he didn't work night shifts.
4 We have to work outdoors because we're builders.
We wouldn't have to work outdoors if we weren't builders.
5 Jim isn't happy because he is badly paid.
Jim would be happy if he wasn't/weren't badly paid.
6 Abigail has eight weeks of holiday because she is a teacher.
If Abigail wasn't/weren't a teacher, she wouldn't have eight weeks of holiday.

4 Choose the correct option.

What would you do if you ¹*are / were / be* me? I'm a shop assistant, but if I ²*hadn't / wouldn't have / didn't have* a job, I ³*like / liked / would like* to go travelling all year round. But of course, no work means no money. If somebody ⁴*offered / would offer / did offer* me a job in which I could earn money and travel, however, I ⁵*would take / took / had taken* it without thinking! Maybe I should apply for a job as a flight attendant?

Modal verbs for obligation and permission

Aby wyrazić nakaz, konieczność lub przymus, używamy:

- czasownika modalnego must, zwłaszcza kiedy opisujemy wewnętrzną konieczność odczuwaną przez osobę mówiącą:
  I must talk to her right now. Muszę z nią natychmiast porozmawiać. (Mam taką potrzebę.)
- konstrukcji have to, kiedy opisujemy przymus zewnętrzny wynikający z przepisów lub ustaleń:
  My brother has to wear a suit to work. Mój brat musi nosić do pracy garnitur. (Takie są tam zasady.)
- konstrukcji need to:
  Neil often needs to do overtime. Neil często musi brać nadgodziny.

Aby wyrazić brak przymusu lub konieczności, używamy:

- konstrukcji don't have to:
  A tourist guide doesn't have to do physical work. Przewodnik turystyczny nie musi pracować fizycznie.
- konstrukcji don't need to / needn't:
  You don't need to write the essay again. Nie musisz pisać tej pracy jeszcze raz.
  You needn't come to the office. You can work from home. Nie musisz przychodzić do biura. Możesz pracować w domu.

Mówiąc o tym, co jest dozwolone, używamy czasownika can: Journalists can work flexible hours. Dziennikarze mogą pracować w elastycznych godzinach.

Mówiąc o tym, co jest niedozwolone, używamy:

- czasownika can't, zwłaszcza kiedy opisujemy przymus zewnętrzny:
  I can't leave the office during office hours. Nie mogę wyjść z biura w godzinach urzędowania.
- czasownika mustn't, jeśli chcemy wyrazić bardzo silny zakaz:
  You mustn't check your private email at work. Nie wolno sprawdzać prywatnej poczty e-mail w pracy.

Konieczność/ przymus	Brak przymusu	Pozwolenie	Brak pozwolenia/ zakaz

The Passive

Stronę bierną w poszczególnych czasach gramatycznych tworzymy za pomocą odpowiedniej formy czasownika be + Past Participle (III forma czasownika).

Designer clothes are sold in the High Street. Markowa odzież jest sprzedawana w sklepach usytuowanych przy głównej ulicy.

Stronę bierną z wykorzystaniem czasownika modalnego tworzymy według wzoru:

modal verb + be + Past Participle.

Designer clothes can be found in the High Street shops. Markową odzież można znaleźć w sklepach usytuowanych przy głównej ulicy.

Stronę bierną (The Passive) stosujemy, gdy bardziej interesuje nas sama czynność niż to, kto ją wykonuje. Jeżeli jednak chcemy wspomnieć o wykonawcy czynności, używamy słówka by:

This shopping mall is visited by about 50,000 people every day. To centrum handlowe odwiedzane jest przez około 50 000 osób dziennie.

Tłumacząc zdania w stronie biernej z angielskiego na polski, niekiedy używamy strony biernej, a niekiedy formy bezosobowej (np. dano, powiedziano, podaje się, mówi się, trzeba, można):

How many languages are spoken in the USA? Iloma językami mówi się w USA?

Present Simple Passive	Tea is grown in India. Herbata uprawiana jest w Indiach. Cars are not repaired here. Tutaj nie naprawia się samochodów. Where are the tickets sold? Gdzie sprzedawane są bilety?

3 Complete the text with the correct form (active or passive) of the verbs in brackets.

Post offices [1] have been used (use) to deliver letters and packages for over 300 years. In fact, the term 'post office' [2] existed (exist) even in the 1650s in the UK. Early mail [3] was delivered (deliver) on horses, and 'post houses' [4] were built (build) every few miles between major cities. Here, postmen could feed their horses and rest for a while. These post houses, or 'post stations' in the US, [5] disappeared (disappear) when trains and trucks [6] became (become) a more popular way of transporting mail. Today, post offices are very different. Of course, they still [7] send (send) our mail. But other services like banking [8] are offered (offer) there too. Since the invention of the Internet, however, the post office has become less important in our lives and, because of modern technology, the transfer of information is now quicker and cheaper than ever before.

4 Correct the mistakes.

1 My car has been stolen from the shopping centre car park.

6 How many leather jackets (Ile skórzanych kurtek) do you own, Clint?
7 There's too much salt (za dużo soli) on this pizza. I'm going to complain.
8 Sally has very little time (ma bardzo mało czasu) to go window shopping.

4 Choose the correct option.

There may be [1] a lot / a lot of shopping centres in town but there are actually [2] very little / very few products to choose from when you want to buy something. How is this possible? Well, although each shopping centre tries to be different, they all have [3] far too many / a bit too many of exactly the same shops. This also means that there [4] isn't any / is any reason to visit a shopping centre which isn't your local one. Indeed, I haven't got [5] some / any friends who go shopping near me, because they can buy the same things close to where they live. The question I often ask myself is this: [6] how much / how many of these shopping centres do we really need?

Indefinite pronouns

Zaimków nieokreślonych używamy, kiedy mówimy o bliżej nieokreślonych ludziach, rzeczach lub miejscach.

Wszystkie zaimki nieokreślone występują z czasownikiem w liczbie pojedynczej.

Everybody is fashionable in their own way.* Wszyscy są modni na swój własny sposób.

Ludzie	Rzeczy	Miejsca
someone/somebody (ktoś)	something (coś)	somewhere (gdzieś)
anyone/anybody (ktoś, nikt)	anything (coś, nic)	anywhere (gdzieś, nigdzie)
no one/nobody (nikt)	nothing (nic)	nowhere (nigdzie)
everyone/everybody (każdy, wszyscy)	everything (wszystko)	everywhere (wszędzie)

W zdaniach twierdzących oraz pytaniach o charakterze prośby lub propozycji używamy form someone/somebody, something, somewhere: Somebody has left their receipt on the counter.* Ktoś zostawił paragon na ladzie.

W zdaniach przeczących oraz pytaniach używamy form anybody/anyone, anything, anywhere: I haven't bought anything made of leather for a long time. Od dawna nie kupiłam niczego zrobionego ze skóry.

W zdaniach twierdzących o znaczeniu zaprzeczenia używamy form no one / nobody, nothing, *nowhere: I'm not going to the shopping centre today. There will be nowhere to park. Dziś nie jadę do galerii handlowej. Nie będzie nigdzie miejsca do zaparkowania.

Zaimki te zawierają w sobie znaczenie zaprzeczenia, dlatego zdania, w których występują, mają konstrukcję zdań twierdzących. W języku polskim używamy wtedy podwójnego przeczenia.

Zaimka none (of) (nic, żaden z) używamy w odniesieniu do trzech lub więcej przedmiotów/osób. None występuje samodzielnie: I was looking for some comfortable high heels but I found none. Szukałam wygodnych butów na wysokim obcasie, ale żadnych nie znalazłam.

Po none of używamy rzeczownika z przedimkiem (the people) bądź przymiotnikiem dzierżawczym (my friends) lub zaimka osobowego (us). Jeżeli rzeczownik występuje w liczbie mnogiej, czasownik może przyjąć liczbę pojedynczą lub mnogą: None of her children is/are into trade.* Żadne z jej dzieci nie interesuje się handlem.

Używając zaimków nieokreślonych, możemy dodać więcej informacji poprzez zastosowanie:

- bezokolicznika z to: There is nobody to go window shopping with me. Nie ma nikogo, kto poszedłby ze mną pooglądać wystawy sklepowe.
- przymiotnika: Joan needs to go somewhere quiet to rest after work. Joan musi pojechać w jakieś ciche miejsce, aby odpocząć po pracy.
- zaimka względnego (who, which, that): A debtor is somebody who has spent more money than he or she has got. Dłużnik to osoba, która wydała więcej pieniędzy niż ma/miała.

Past Perfect

Czasu Past Perfect zwykle używamy, opisując zdarzenia z przeszłości, które wymieniamy w kolejności niechronologicznej. Czas Past Perfect wyraźnie wskazuje wtedy, że dana czynność poprzedzała inne czynności (zwykle wyrażone w czasie Past Simple).
When Alex got to hospital, he had already come out in a rash. Kiedy Alex dotarł do szpitala, miał już wysypkę. (Wysypka miała miejsce wcześniej niż dotarcie do szpitala.)

Zastosowanie czasu Past Perfect może niekiedy całkowicie zmienić sens zdania:
The children went to sleep when we came. Kiedy przyszliśmy, dzieci poszły spać. (Dopiero po naszym przyjściu.)
The children had gone to sleep when we came. Kiedy przyszliśmy, dzieci już spały. (Dzieci poszły spać, zanim przyszliśmy.)

Charakterystycznym wyrażeniem dla czasu Past Perfect jest by + określenie czasu, np. by the age of six, by the time I was six, by 1978 (do szóstego roku życia / zanim skończyłem/ skończyłam sześć lat / do 1978 roku):
By the time I was six, I had learnt to read.* Zanim skończyłem/ skończyłam 6 lat, nauczyłem/nauczyłam się czytać.

Reported Speech

Przytaczając słowa innej osoby, możemy zacytować jej wypowiedź dosłownie (mowa niezależna) lub przekazać jej treść pośrednio (mowa zależna).

W mowie niezależnej (Direct Speech) przytaczana wypowiedź nie ulega zmianie:
'We are playing on a new basketball court.' → They said: 'We are playing on a new basketball court.'
„Gramy na nowym boisku do koszykówki". → Powiedzieli: „Gramy na nowym boisku do koszykówki".

W mowie zależnej (Reported Speech) często przytaczamy wypowiedzi za pomocą czasowników takich jak say i tell oraz spójnika that (że), który możemy pominąć. Czasownik tell wymaga dopełnienia (me, us, itd.):
'The match is great.' → She told me/said (that) the match was great.
„Mecz jest świetny". → Powiedziała (mi), że mecz jest świetny.
'I felt dizzy.' → He told me (that) he had felt dizzy.
„Miałem zawroty głowy". → Powiedział mi, że miał zawroty głowy.

W zdaniach w mowie zależnej zmianie ulegają:

- czasy – według następującego schematu:

Mowa niezależna (Direct Speech)	→	Mowa zależna (Reported Speech)
Present Simple Sam: 'I work.' 'Sue doesn't work.'	→	Past Simple Sam said (that) he worked. Sam said (that) Sue didn't work.
Present Continuous Sam: 'I'm working.' 'Sue isn't working.'	→	Past Continuous Sam said (that) he was working. Sam said (that) Sue wasn't working.
Present Perfect Sam: 'I've worked.' 'Sue hasn't worked.'	→	Past Perfect Sam said (that) he had worked. Sam said (that) Sue hadn't worked.
Past Simple Sam: 'I worked.' 'Sue didn't work.'	→	Past Perfect Sam said (that) he had worked. Sam said (that) Sue hadn't worked.
can Sam: 'I can work.' 'Sue can't work.'	→	could Sam said (that) he could work. Sam said (that) Sue couldn't work.

- zaimki osobowe oraz zaimki i przymiotniki dzierżawcze:
  'My brother has bought a new tennis racket.' → She said that her brother had bought a new tennis racket.
  „Mój brat kupił nową rakietę tenisową". → Powiedziała, że jej brat kupił nową rakietę tenisową.

Phrasal verbs

Czasowniki złożone (phrasal verbs) to czasowniki, które składają się z czasownika głównego i przyimka lub przysłówka:
look – patrzeć (czasownik główny) look for – szukać (czasownik główny + przyimek)

Rodzaje czasowników złożonych:

- bez dopełnienia, czyli niewymagające określenia: join in (włączyć się w coś), work out (ćwiczyć), fit in (zostać zaakceptowanym), pass out (zemdleć):
  How often do you work out in the gym? Jak często ćwiczysz na siłowni?
  Yesterday was very hot and a few people passed out because of it. Wczoraj było bardzo gorąco i kilka osób zemdlało z tego powodu.
- z dopełnieniem (czyli niezbędnym określeniem), które może wystąpić po czasowniku złożonym lub między czasownikiem a przyimkiem. Jeżeli dopełnieniem jest zaimek (him, them, it), to wówczas musi on znaleźć się pomiędzy czasownikiem a przyimkiem:
  I took up handball and rugby at the same time. Zająłem się piłką ręczną i rugby w tym samym czasie.
  I took handball and rugby up at the same time. Zająłem się piłką ręczną i rugby w tym samym czasie.
  I took them up at the same time. Zająłem się nimi w tym samym czasie.
- z dopełnieniem, które występuje po przyimku, bez względu na to, czy jest nim rzeczownik, czy zaimek:
  Every spring my brother suffers from an allergy. Każdej wiosny mój brat cierpi na alergię.
  Every spring my brother suffers from it. Każdej wiosny mój brat cierpi na nią.

Czasowniki złożone mogą także składać się z trzech elementów, po których występuje dopełnienie w postaci rzeczownika lub zaimka:
look forward to sth – nie móc się doczekać czegoś (czasownik główny + przysłówek + przyimek + dopełnienie)
We look forward to playing basketball in our new court. Nie możemy doczekać się gry w koszykówkę na nowym boisku.

caring ~~cheerful~~ generous hard-working mean miserable selfish shy silly

A few months later ...

L: So, how are things with Simon? Is he the perfect boyfriend?
A: Well, nobody's perfect, but you know what? He's really great. First of all, he's really cheerful, you know, always happy and smiling. And he's very [1]hard-working. He wants to be a teacher and he does lots of studying in the evenings.
L: Does he have any time for you then?
A: Oh sure. He's a very [2]caring guy. He calls me every night and asks about my day.
L: Wow. Lucky you! Dave never asks about my day. He only thinks about himself. He's so [3]selfish. Dave also thinks he's the best boyfriend in the world but he never buys me anything nice and he doesn't like paying for me when we go out. He's really [4]mean.
A: Poor you. Simon is exactly the opposite. He takes me to a restaurant sometimes and he always pays for the food and drinks. And he often buys me flowers. He's very [5]generous. I'm really happy, you know.
L: Well, good for you. Unfortunately, I'm not. I'm unhappy; really [6]miserable. I think I need a new boyfriend. I don't know what to do. Does Simon have a twin brother?

1.4 READING

Classroom psychology • verbs & nouns • verb + preposition

1 Read the text quickly and choose the best title.

1 Where you sit is how you feel ☐
2 Where you sit is where you are ☐
3 Where you sit is how you fit ☑

Today's hot article

[1]D For more than 70 years, psychologists and teachers have studied the link between the place where students choose to sit in class and what they are like as people and learners. Where do you usually decide to sit? Have you ever really thought about the reasons for your decision?

At the back

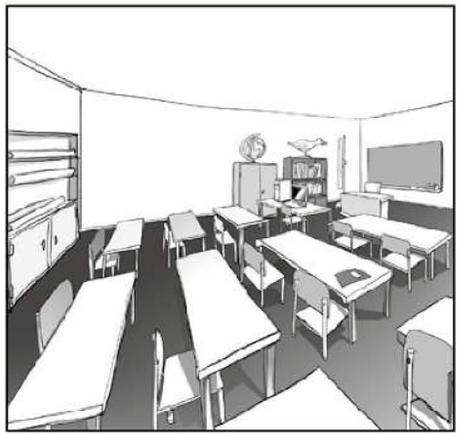

People often think that students who sit at the back are lazy. But is this really true? Well, some researchers say it is not. In fact, shy students often choose the back row because it is far away from the teacher and they don't want to answer questions or be involved* in discussions. At the back, students probably won't speak much, but in big classrooms, it can be hard to see the whiteboard and hear what the teacher is saying. [2]B. For students with poor sight or hearing, a seat at the back of the classroom is definitely not a good choice.

On one side

Students who sit on one side of the class, are normally interested in lessons, but they like watching and listening rather than joining in. These students are usually also very good at taking notes. [3]F. On the sides of the classroom you will generally find modest* and thoughtful people. These people usually get good marks at school and are keen* on learning.

In the middle

Do you sit in the middle of the classroom? Yes? Then the statistics say you probably like your teacher. [4]A Caring, outgoing and cheerful people usually sit in the middle. They are normally serious about learning and feel disappointed* with low marks in tests and exams.

At the front

Are you passionate about knowledge? Do you like being in control? Are you worried about missing important information in lessons? Yes? Then you probably sit right at the front of the class. Students at the front usually want to discuss things with the teacher and are often very enthusiastic about school. They want to be in the best place to see and hear everything the teacher does and says. The only problem with sitting at the front is that it can be difficult to see and hear what other students do and say in class. [5]C

We need YOUR opinion. Tell us what you think of this article. Add your comments below.

GLOSSARY

involved (adj) – someone who is involved in an activity or event gives it a lot of time, attention; zaangażowany modest (adj) – someone who is modest doesn't like talking about their abilities, skills, success, talents, etc.; skromny keen (adj) – someone who is keen on something is very interested in it or enjoys doing it very much; zainteresowany disappointed (adj) – unhappy because something you hoped for did not happen, or because someone or something was not as good as you expected; rozczarowany

2 Read the text. Match sentences A–F with gaps 1–5. There is one extra sentence.

A You probably also have a good relationship with your classmates.
B This could be the reason why students who sit here often get lower marks in tests and exams.
C So, if you really want to hear what everyone says in class, choose a different place to sit.
D Research suggests that the chair you choose in the classroom says a lot about you and your personality.
E This means it's a good idea to sit in a different place every day.
F Next time you miss a lesson, borrow notes from someone who sits here.

3 Read the summary of the text and complete the gaps with 1–3 words.

The article discusses the results of some classroom research. The findings suggest that where you sit in the classroom shows [1]what kind/sort/type of person and learner you are. For example, if you often choose a seat at the back, you're probably a [2]shy person who doesn't enjoy talking. However, you shouldn't really sit there if you wear [3]glasses/contact lenses or have problems with hearing. According to the article, students who choose to sit on one side of the classroom really know how to [4]take notes and usually do well at school. It's very possible you sit at the front of the classroom if you like taking an active [5]part in lessons. The article doesn't tell readers where to find the [6]best place(s)/seat(s)/chair(s) in the classroom, it only discusses typical characteristics of students who choose to sit in different places.

4 Complete the table with underlined nouns and verbs from the text.

2.3 LISTENING LANGUAGE PRACTICE

Science and scientists
• collocations

1 Read the extracts of interviews with two people and choose the correct answers.

1 Speaker A is a child psychologist / a children's doctor.
2 Speaker B is a deep sea diver / a marine biologist.

2 Complete the text with the correct verbs from the box. Change the form of the verb if necessary.

analyse collect do (x2) explore protect

Extract from Students' Book recording 1.32

A: I always want to understand why people do what they do – why do they behave that way? What are they thinking? I'm interested in how we develop from birth to the age of seven. […] I love doing research and [1]analysing data. When I finish my studies, I want to work in a children's hospital. […]

B: The first time I went scuba diving, I saw a little fish swimming away into the distance, and at that moment I thought 'Oh yes, that's what I want to do – I want to [2]explore oceans, [3]collect evidence about global warming and help to [4]protect marine life.' I love my work – I can't understand why everybody isn't [5]doing my job.

3 Choose the word which does not form a collocation. Use a dictionary if necessary.

1 explore oceans / planets / people / countries
2 analyse chemistry / data / evidence / research
3 do experiments / solutions / research / business
4 collect evidence / signatures / information / science
5 protect marine life / the environment / wildlife / biology

4 Complete the sentences with collocations from Exercise 3.

Even simple things like not throwing rubbish in the sea help to protect marine life.

1 I don't like beach holidays. I prefer to explore different countries and to visit places where tourists don't usually go.
2 The police analysed the evidence but weren't able to solve the crime.
3 My dad is travelling for work again. His company is doing business with a Japanese car company.
4 Emma's got a summer job with a marketing company doing research in a shopping centre. She has to stop shoppers and ask them a few questions.
5 Our class is collecting signatures for a petition against scientific experiments on animals.
6 The government should not build a new road here. We need to protect wildlife and the natural environment in this area.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Science and scientists

5 Choose a word or phrase from each pair in the box to complete the sentences.

archaeology / an archaeologist conservation / a conservationist geology / a geologist linguistics / a linguist marine biology / a marine biologist psychology / a psychologist

Did you know that a linguist studies how languages work?

1 You must be able to swim if you want to be a marine biologist. You will probably work in the sea a lot of the time.
2 Haley has a psychologist that she meets. He helps her to talk about her feelings.
3 There's an interesting course on conservation in Poznań. Maybe I can do it and then help people learn more about saving the planet.
4 Rafał wants to be an archaeologist because he's always liked looking for old things buried in the ground.
5 I don't think I'd like geology – you often examine rocks and stones and get your clothes and hands dirty all the time.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Collocations

6 Complete the sentences with the missing verb in the correct form. The first letters are given.

Allan analysed the data yesterday and sent me the results this morning.

1 It's important to collect lots of data before making any hypothesis.
2 Next week, Margaret will publish her first research paper in a science journal. She's very excited.
3 Everybody is responsible for helping to protect the environment. So turn off the computer when you are not using it!
4 Dr. Brown often spends hours looking at test results before he finds a problem.

2.4 READING

All about passwords • antonyms • nouns and verbs • the temperature

1 Read the text quickly and choose the best title.

1 How to create a secure and easy-to-remember password
2 How to remember all your passwords
3 How to guess someone's password

[1] D

We all know the basic rules for choosing good passwords and keeping them secret. Rule number one: use numbers, symbols and a good mix of letters – upper case (A, B, C) and lower case (a, b, c). Rule number two: use a different password for each of the devices you use or for each website you visit. Rule number three: change your passwords regularly. Rule number four: never write your passwords down. These rules sound easy to follow, right?

[2] G

Well, not really. The rules say that a secure password should look something like this: 'N0r@5%_fpO&47d1nk'. Do you think you can remember that? Don't forget you should have several different ones, you shouldn't write them down AND you have to change them every few weeks. Does this sound like an impossible task? Well, for most people, it is. So what do most of us do?

[3] E

Recently, researchers had a chance to analyse secret information about passwords. They found that many of us totally ignore the experts' advice and choose simple, easy to remember and extremely insecure passwords. Data shows that one out of every ten people uses '1234' as the pin number for their bank cards, and that the passwords 'welcome', '123456', 'ninja' and of course 'password', are some of the most popular choices. Even governments choose terrible passwords. It seems hard to believe, but in the 1980s, the American government actually used the 'secret code' '00000000' to unlock its nuclear missiles.

[4] H

So how can we make our passwords secure and memorable*? Well, first, the length of your password is important. For a hacker with a computer that can make 1000 guesses per second, a lower case, 5-letter password like 'ftmps' takes only around 3hrs and 45 minutes to crack*. A similar password with 20 letters takes a little longer – around 6.5 thousand trillion centuries*!

[5] A

Hackers are very good at guessing when we choose symbols and numbers instead of letters. For example, the password 'M@nch3st3r' seems like a good one, but the code is actually very simple – first letter = upper case, @ = a, 3 = E. It is easy for hackers to program their computers to look out for these kinds of codes. Because the length of the password is so important, a group of words written in lower case, e.g. 'help cheese monkey swimming' is much more secure than something like 'M@nch3st3r', and probably a bit easier to remember (think of a monkey – it is shouting for help and swimming towards some cheese!).

[6] C

One day, we probably won't have to worry about all this because we won't need passwords. Some laptop computers already have fingerprint* readers. Recently, scientists in the US have designed a prototype ring for your finger that sends electricity through your skin to a touch screen to tell computers and phones who you are. For now though, we still need passwords, and if you want one that is secure and memorable, the best advice is to make it looooooooo ooooooooooooooooooooooooong.

GLOSSARY

memorable (adj) – easy to remember; zapadający w pamięć crack a code or a password (v) – work it out or solve it; złamać kod/hasło century (n) – 100 years; wiek (100 lat) fingerprint (n) – a mark made by the pattern of the skin on the end of your fingers; odcisk linii papilarnych palca

A modern genius

Stephen Hawking was one of the most famous scientists in the world. He was born in Oxford in 1942 and lived there [1]__ the moment he moved to Cambridge to complete his PhD. [2]__ this, however, people already knew that he was intelligent. He enjoyed Maths and Science in school very much. He found both subjects very easy, and it was [3]__ he was studying there that his friends began to call him 'Einstein', for fun.

Stephen's first university was actually Oxford, where he studied Physics and Chemistry. [4]__ his studies there, at the age of 21, he became very sick and had problems speaking and moving. [5]__ he realised he was extremely ill, he decided to work harder. This was because he really wanted to finish his PhD [6]__ he died.

Hawking finished his PhD when he was only 24. Later he wrote over 15 very popular science books. His doctors didn't expect him to live long. He died at the age of 76 – definitely too early, as many say.

Your Irish friend, Suzie, is thinking of visiting you and she has written to you asking for your advice on things to do or see in your town. Write your reply in about 80–130 words. Include and develop these points:

- Tell Suzie about a museum or exhibition you visited.
- Say what you liked and didn't like about the exhibition.
- Describe an interesting or funny event that took place there.
- Recommend the museum or exhibition to Suzie.

Hi Suzie,

Yesterday I [1]visited (visit) the new exhibition at the Metro Gallery. First I [2]saw (see) the part called Home Art. Then a funny thing [3]happened (happen) while I was there! I [4]was walking (walk) around a room on my own when it suddenly [5]went (go) dark. I could see a light switch on the wall, so I [6]tried (try) to turn on the light and guess what? The switch was a 3D projection! It was part of the exhibition. ☺

There are lots of other interesting things to see but I [7]didn't like (not /like) the 'photo' paintings. I [8]was looking (look) around the exhibition for hours when I realised it was time to leave – so it means it's good. Don't forget to visit it and me before the end of May!

Speak soon,
Daniel

F: We had a fantastic time on our summer holiday – except for the day we went to the island.
E: What [1]happened?
F: We were travelling by fast boat to visit a beautiful little island. The captain of the boat was going very fast and the waves were really big. [2]Suddenly, the boat hit a giant wave.
E: Oh no!
F: There was a loud bang, the front window broke and lots and lots of water rushed in.
E: Wow! That [3]sounds really frightening.
F: Yeah, well, we were [4]shocked because it happened so quickly and the water hit us really hard. [5]Luckily, nobody was seriously hurt.
E: What did you do?
F: Well, in the end we got to the island – wet but very [6]relieved to be back on dry land.
E: What a [7]nightmare!
F: [8]Next time, we'll take the slow boat.

Conversation 1: Alice and Cindy

A: I once met someone famous.
C: Really? Who?
A: Well, I was sitting in Manchester airport, waiting for a flight to Warsaw. I remember, I was reading Harry Potter at the time. Suddenly, the lady next to me said 'Excuse me, [1]are you enjoying that book?'
C: Who was it?
A: Well, I looked at her and I thought, 'I know you', and then I realised it was J. K. Rowling.
C: What? The author of the book you [2]were reading? That's amazing! What did you say?
A: Well, to start [3]with I didn't know what to say, but fortunately, she was really friendly. [4]In the end, we chatted for about ten minutes and I told her how much I love her books.
C: What a great story.
A: I know, and she signed my book!

Conversation 2: Andrew and Nancy

A: I'm afraid [1]of horses.
N: What? Why?
A: Well, when I was twelve years old, my neighbour took me riding on her horse.
N: [2]What happened?
A: It was my first time on a horse. [3]At first, everything was OK. We [4]were going very slowly. My neighbour was holding the horse and I was sitting [5]on its back. I was enjoying the ride, but then all [6]of a sudden, there was a loud noise and the horse got scared and started running ... really fast!
N: That sounds really frightening.
A: It was. Luckily, I didn't fall off. I stay away from horses these days.

BBC Urban legends

Before you watch

1 SPEAKING Only one of the sentences 1–5 is a fact, the others are urban legends. Which sentence do you think is true? Discuss.

1 You can see the Great Wall of China from space with the naked eye.
2 People only use 10% of their brains.
3 An earthquake can change the length of a day.
4 Chewing gum stays in your body for seven years.
5 Elvis Presley is alive.

2 Choose the correct option.

1 You measure an earthquake on the Richter / Weighing / Global scale.
2 A crowd is a small / large / young group of people.
3 When you want to test a theory, you make / carry / do an experiment.

While you watch

3 Complete the presenter's introduction to the video with the correct words in the box. There are two extra words.

exactly entire move billion all stop

Imagine in five minutes' time, everyone on the [1]entire planet was going to jump at [2]exactly the same time. From London to Sydney, Delhi to New York, 6.9 [3]billion people leap in the air. Could they make the earth [4]move?

4 6 Watch the first part of the video (00:00 – 00:53) and check your answers.

5 What do you think is the answer to the question in Exercise 3?

6 6 Look at the photo. What kind of event is it? Why did Greg choose this place to do the experiment? Watch the next part of the video (00:53 – 01:30) and check your ideas.
It's a music festival – Reading Festival. Greg chose it because there are a lot of people there.

7 6 Watch the rest of the video (01:30 – 03:13). Put the events in chronological order.

a Greg tests Paul Denton's machine. 2 b Greg arrives at Reading Festival. 1 c Everybody jumps. 5
d So the urban legend is completely untrue. 8
e The jump measures 0.6 on the Richter Scale. 6
f You can see the jump on Paul's machine. 3
g Greg tells the crowd about his experiment. 4 h But you need 8 on the Richter scale to move the planet. 7

The Giants of Georgia

In 2008, a farmer was walking with his animals through the Caucasus Mountains in Georgia. He used [1]to do this often, but on this day he saw the unusual [2]remains of an old stone structure. The farmer decided to explore the area. Inside the structure were two human skeletons. They [3]were sitting on chairs in front of a table. What was so interesting? The bodies were extremely large.

He contacted a team of archaeologists. On the way there, they saw some very large statues and what seemed to be a large stone road through the forest.

The scientists [4]collected evidence (i.e. some of the bones) and took it to Tbilisi, the capital city of Georgia. They asked Professor Vikua, famous for discovering Homo Erectus Georgicus, to help them. But he died before he could do any research. When the scientists looked for the bones that Professor Vikua had, they could not find them.

In 2014 the Science Channel opened a new investigation but they haven't found any new evidence or [5]developed a theory to explain these mysterious giant bones.

3 The arts

3.1 VOCABULARY

Watching habits • TV programmes • adjectives • elements of a film/TV drama

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 Complete the text with the correct words. The first and last letters are given.

MyBlog

I love the media and the arts. Every day (after I finish my homework, of course!) I watch YouTube clips online. Sometimes they are so funny – especially the ones with animals or people doing silly things. In the evening I watch the [1]telly because that's when they show the best [2]horror movies. I like anything with vampires and werewolves!

But I don't only watch things. Sometimes I read my favourite [3]blog on my laptop. My friend writes it and it's about social media. Before I go to sleep I read my [4]e-book or a fashion [5]magazine. 'Look Good' is the one I like and I can think about what to wear the next day at school.

When I read, I often listen to my favourite rock [6]album – Dark Side of the Moon by Pink Floyd. It's a classic! I usually listen to music on my [7]mobile phone but sometimes, when I want to listen to something different, I listen to an Internet [8]radio station. Do you love the media and the arts more than me? I don't think so!

FOCUS ON WORDS | TV programmes

2 Match the film titles to the type of film.

	La La Land	h	a animation
1	The Hobbit	c	b comedy
2	Se7en	e	c fantasy
3	Blade Runner 2049	g	d horror
4	Angry Birds	a	e thriller
5	Bridget Jones's Baby	f	f romantic comedy
6	The Exorcist	d	g science fiction
7	Mr Bean's Holiday	b	h musical

3 Complete the sentences with a type of TV programme. Some letters are given.

I never watch r e a l i t y TV programmes because I don't think they are anything like real life.

1 Zosia loves a good t a l e n t s h o w – maybe one day she'll go on one, win the competition and then become a famous singer.

2 I watched this excellent p e r i o d d r a m a yesterday about King Henry VIII and his wives. The actors were fantastic!

3 My favourite g a m e s h o w is the one where you start with fifteen people but only one person wins the prize money.

4 Sir David Attenborough, famous for his excellent wildlife shows, has a new d o c u m e n t a r y on TV called Planet Earth 2.

5 Friends is such a good s i t c o m . It's quite old now but it still makes me laugh.

4 Complete the sentences with the names of programmes. There are two words in each gap.

We saw Brad Pitt on a chat show last week. He's quite funny and answered some interesting questions about his life.

1 My cousin's mum watches all of the sopa operas. I don't like them because everyone is so miserable all the time and has problems in their lives.

2 Trevor and Sharon are flying to Cuba next year. They watched a travel show about it and now they really can't wait to go there on holiday.

3 Did you just see that news bulletin? There's been a big fire near the city centre.

4 Before we decide to go for a picnic, let's check the weather forecast to see if it's going to stay sunny.

5 Sam got this special pierogi recipe from a cooking programme that she watched on TV yesterday.

6 Mum's watching a crime drama about this criminal that used to be a police officer.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Adjectives

5 Choose the correct adjectives.

1 Evelyn doesn't understand what's happening in this crime drama. The story is too complex / gripping / addictive for her.

2 This comedy isn't funny – it's excellent / embarrassing / entertaining. We both feel silly and uncomfortable watching it.

3 Carrie isn't coming to the theatre. She's watching a really addictive / imaginative / embarrassing soap opera and she can't leave home.

4 A good crime drama needs to be gripping / inspiring / moving, which normally means you don't know how it will end.

5 Have you seen the animation film The Lion King? It's so addictive / engaging / moving that everyone usually cries at the end.

6 I thought the film was fascinating / disappointing / gripping, to be honest. I was expecting it to be much better.

7 Walter found the documentary very inspiring / imaginative / addictive. Now he wants to volunteer to help homeless people too.

8 That was one of the most imaginative / embarrassing / complex things I've ever seen. How is it possible to be so creative?

9 I watched a documentary about how to make glass bottles. I know it sounds boring but it was actually really moving / fascinating / disappointing.

FOCUS ON WORDS | Elements of a film/TV drama

6 Jake and Angela have just watched a film at the cinema. Complete their dialogue with the missing words. The definitions in brackets are given to help you.

J: What did you think of the movie, Angela? Excellent, eh?

A: Erm. Not really. The plot (what happens in the story) was really silly. For example, why did they go to the island with no food, no water and no map?

J: Because it's a film! What did you think about the [1]acting (what the actors do)? That was good. Some of the actors might even win an Oscar.

A: Well, I don't think they'll win any Oscars for the [2]script (the text in a drama). What the [3]characters (people in a drama) said was clichéd and not very realistic. But I have to say that the [4]soundtrack (music during a drama) was great. It created a very frightening atmosphere. And the [5]special effects (illusions created by computers) were also very good. The monsters on the island looked real.

J: I agree. And I think all of the [6]costumes (clothes the actors wear) were good. I thought the [7]setting (the place or time of a drama) was really original and the [8]ending (how a drama finishes) was a big surprise for me. I really enjoyed the film.

A: Really? They're showing Hitchcock's The Birds next week. Maybe you'd like to see a really good film?

REMEMBER THIS

Czasowniki be/appear/star in a film/play/TV show występujące po rzeczownikach actor/actress oznaczają jedynie występowanie (pojawienie się) w danej produkcji, natomiast czasownika play użyjemy, gdy chcemy powiedzieć, jaką rolę odgrywał dany aktor czy aktorka.

Porównaj:

Johnny Depp stars in the Pirates of the Caribbean films. He plays a pirate called Captain Jack Sparrow.

7 Read REMEMBER THIS. Choose the correct words.

I really like director Peter Jackson's Hobbit films. They are fantasy films. Martin Freeman and Ian McKellen [1]star / play in them. Martin Freeman [2]appears / plays Bilbo Baggins and Ian McKellen [3]is / plays Gandalf the wizard.

SHOW WHAT YOU'VE LEARNT

8 Choose the correct words.

Conversation 1: Owen and Billy

O: Have you seen that new animation where all of the [1]special effects / characters / acting are funny animals that have a secret life at night?

B: No, I haven't. Let's watch it. It sounds [2]entertaining / moving / inspiring.

Conversation 2: Mike and Ellie

M: I bought two DVDs for Laura for her birthday. One is a [3]horror / fantasy / thriller about dragons, wizards and magic.

E: What's the other one?

M: It's a [4]romantic comedy / crime drama / period drama about a woman who falls in love with a man from Mars. People say it's very funny.

Conversation 3: Olivia and Beth

O: Did you watch the latest episode of your favourite [5]weather forecast / news bulletin / soap opera? I heard it was boring.

B: I did. And it was. So after half an hour I changed channels and watched something with a better [6]acting / plot / special effects.

Conversation 4: Jenny and Holly

J: Let's watch that new [7]talent show / chat show / game show and try to answer the questions.

H: I don't watch those kinds of programmes. They're too [8]addictive / engaging / moving for me and then I need to watch them all.

Conversation 5: Al and Ben

A: The [9]script / setting / acting of this film is Birmingham in the 1960s.

B: I know. And I read in the newspaper that the [10]script / plot / soundtrack was written by a real ex-gangster, so how the characters speak is quite authentic.

Auxiliaries • radio programmes • art

1 Complete the dialogue between the presenter and Katy West with the correct form of the auxiliary verbs do, be or have.

Extract from Students' Book recording 1.50

P: It's two thirty on Saturday afternoon, and you are listening to the Culture Programme. In this part of the programme, we invite a guest to talk about their 'Artist of the Week'. This week, we have Katy West in the studio. Katy is the Editor of Photo Monthly Magazine. Welcome to the Culture Programme.
KW: Thank you.
P: Katy, tell us about your 'Artist of the Week'.
KW: My 'Artist of the Week' is a French photographer. He takes photographs and makes them enormous. Then he pastes them in public places.
P: [1]Does he have a name?
KW: Ah, well, he's called JR. [...]
P: So what kind of photographs [2]does he take, and where can we see them?
KW: He takes black and white portraits of people and pastes them on buildings, walls and bridges. He [3]has had exhibitions in museums such as the Pompidou Centre in Paris, but his favourite art gallery is in the street. He wants people who [4]don't usually go to museums to see his work.

2 Complete the questions with the correct forms of the auxiliary verbs be, do or have. Match them with the answers a–e. There is one extra question.

What is this street artist called? e

7 Art in public places / in an art gallery / at a museum is great because everybody can see it for free – even when they walk to work. Yes, I love street art.

3.4 READING

Readers • books • film reviews • cinema • phrasal verbs

1 Read book reviews A–F. Mark them as F for fiction or N for non-fiction.

A F B N C N D F E F F N

2 Read descriptions 1–5 about people's taste in books and book reviews A–F. Decide which book would be most suitable for each person to read. There is one extra review.

1 Gareth F
2 Karen B
3 Nathan A
4 Sean E
5 Jemma D

1 Gareth, 16

I'm training to be a professional chef, so I'm very busy. When I find time to read, I like books that help me forget about my work and studies. I love reading about the real lives of successful, famous people. I'm not really into romantic stories.

2 Karen, 18

I'm a student and I don't have much time to read for pleasure. I enjoy practical books – one of my favourites is 101 Things Every Student Needs to Know. I hate books about monsters and space.

3 Nathan, 16

I love getting lost in great stories. I enjoy reading stories about the lives, love and relationships of people from the past. I like a book to make me laugh and cry, and to show me what life was like in other countries, at other times.

4 Sean, 15

I like books where the heroes are teenagers like me. I prefer stories that don't follow the rules of the real world. My favourite books have incredible people, strange aliens and amazing events. I don't like stories with romance in them.

5 Jemma, 18

I'm studying Science, but I prefer fictional books that make me forget about the real world. When I was a little girl I used to imagine I had magic powers. I killed monsters and fought dragons – things like that. Now I'm older, I like stories that mix romance with fantasy.

A

The Great Gatsby by F. Scott Fitzgerald

The Great Gatsby is the story of rich, successful Jay Gatsby and his beautiful friend Daisy Buchanan. They live in a magical world of love, jazz and champagne in 1920s New York. There is romance and happiness, but like in many classic novels, there is also sadness and heartbreak.

B

Real Food, Real Fast by Sam Stern

Teenage chef Sam Stern introduces delicious healthy recipes which you can have on your plate in just a few minutes. This useful book is great for amateur chefs and busy students. Sam's recipes are cheap, fast and delicious.

C

Ritz Paris: Haute Cuisine

Do you want to learn to cook like a professional chef? Are you interested in the history of great French food? This is not a cookbook for the average home cook. The recipes are long and challenging, the ingredients are unusual and expensive and the food … is absolutely delicious!

D

Twilight by Stephenie Meyer

This is a fantastic story about a young student called Bella. She falls in love with Edward and then finds out he's a vampire. Vampires are usually found in stories of the past, but Stephenie Meyer's book brings them to modern America. This book will make you laugh, cry and dream of romance with vampires! We think it is a future classic.

E

Night of the Purple Moon by Scott Cramer

Scientists say a comet from deep space is passing Earth and it will make the moon purple. Teenager Abby Leigh is looking forward to watching this happen. But the comet carries a terrible secret – an alien virus that kills all the world's adults. Abby is suddenly responsible for her brother and young sister's survival in this world without adults.

F

Steve Jobs: The Exclusive Biography by Walter Isaacson

This is the life story of Apple's former boss Steve Jobs. Walter Isaacson tells us about the professional and personal life of one of modern America's most successful businessmen. We learn about Jobs' family, his loves and the ideas he had for the future of Apple before his sad death in 2011.

3 Book E is a science fiction book. Underline four more words in the review connected to this type of book. Comet is underlined as an example.

4 Books B and C are cookbooks. Match words from the reviews to these definitions.

an adjective; delicious — tasty
1 an adjective; good for you — healthy
2 a noun; instructions for how to make food — recipes
3 a noun; you eat your dinner off a … — plate
4 a noun; this person's job is to cook food — chef
5 a noun; the different foods you put together to make a meal — ingredients

Arrival

by Denis Villeneuve

jellybean_21 says: Some films in the science-fiction gender / genre are very unrealistic but I thought Arrival seemed very real – very human. Often with this kind of film you can't relate to the characters but Arrival was completely different. Plus, I had no idea how it was going to finish! Wonderful.

comedyfan246 says: I enjoyed Arrival, but I think every film should have funny moments and there was nothing to laugh at in this one. I also didn't like the main character very much – the one that A*takes* on the job of talking with the aliens – even though she was played by an 1A-listed / A-list actor. So, not a great film but it's OK.

LaraNYC says: I knew from the very beginning that the professor would B*give* up her job (and possibly her life!) to help the military, but the rest of the film was not easy to predict. During the film I felt scared, excited, happy and sad and I didn't expect to feel all those different emotions. A very entertaining and engaging film – not a 2blockbuster / blockbuster movie but I loved it!

debsterHK says: I watched the 3trainer / trailer, so I was expecting something special. Unfortunately, Arrival is the same as all the other sci-fi films I've seen – I thought it was very predictable and unoriginal – in other words, nothing new. For example, there's always the bad military character who is C*standing* up for the humans and too many 4computer generation images / computer generated images in every scene. Boring. You also really need to D*dedicate* yourself to watching this film because it's very slow and long.

ianbSMC says: Normally I enjoy relaxing films, and I often fall asleep before the end! Arrival was not this kind of film. It took me to another world for two hours. A very unusual film and a very good one. Well worth the price at the 5boxing office / box office. When does Arrival 2 E*come* out?

6 Read the task below. Then read the email and put the adjectives in brackets in the correct comparative or superlative form.

Your American friend has sent you an email. He asks if you liked the book that he bought you for your birthday and if you have seen any good films recently. He also informs you that he didn't get the job in the art gallery that he wanted. Write an email of about 80–130 words. Include and develop these points:
- Thank him for the book and tell him your opinion of it.
- Tell him how you won cinema tickets in a radio competition.
- Tell him which film you saw and what you thought of it.
- Express sympathy for him about not getting the job he wanted.

Hi Gregg,

Thanks for the book. It's [1]the most gripping (gripping) [A]short story / fantasy novel / fairy tale I've ever read. It's also [2]the longest (long). 955 pages!!
Guess what? Last week I won a quiz on a radio [B]game / chat / talent show and the prize was some cinema tickets. I used the tickets yesterday and watched [3]the latest (late) Star Wars film. I have to say, it's [4]the most disappointing (disappointing) [C]science fiction / comedy / thriller film I've seen and I usually love this [D]genre / script / character. It's a bit [5]slower (slow) than the other films in the series and the [E]plot / special effects / costume is far [6]worse (bad) than the other episodes.
It's a shame that you didn't get the job. I'm sure you'll find a much [7]better (good) one than that soon.
Well, that's all for now. Thanks again for [8]the most wonderful (wonderful) present I've ever had!

Bye 4 now,
Philip

1 Read the text quickly and choose the best title.

1 England's Shyest Man ☐
2 England's Most Unusual Duke ☑
3 England's Strangest House ☐

W.J. Cavendish-Scott-Bentinck, the fifth Duke* of Portland, was a very wealthy and very odd Englishman. He was born in 1800 and lived to be nearly 80 years old. The Duke was a successful businessman with lots of money and an amazing home, but he was not an average aristocrat.

The first unusual thing about him was his choice of clothes. [1]E He also liked wearing wigs*, and pieces of material tied around his ankles (nobody knows why!).

Another unusual thing about him was his incredible shyness. He lived in a huge house called Welbeck Abbey, but spent most of his time in just one or two of the rooms. He had many servants*, but he was too shy to talk to them. [2]A If servants did meet him anywhere in the house or garden, they had to stand completely still, say nothing, and look down at the ground until he was gone. Inside Welbeck Abbey, there was a mini-railway and, to avoid any face-to-face contact, the servants from the kitchen used to send meals to his room on the mini-train.

As well as this unusual form of transport, there were many other amazing things in the Duke's house. [3]F Also underground*, he built many tunnels and used them to move around his giant house and garden without seeing anyone. One of the tunnels went all the way from Welbeck Abbey to the nearby town of Worksop – almost 3 km away! Welbeck Abbey wasn't the Duke's only home. [4]B He didn't build this one though; the Duke's grandfather won it in a game of cards! In total, nearly 1,500 people worked for W.J. Cavendish-Scott-Bentinck. Sometimes he was a moody and unusual boss, but at other times he was very kind. [5]D He also built a boating lake, an area for ice-skating and a horse-riding school for his servants to use. The horse-riding school had a glass roof over 100 metres long!

When the Duke died in 1879, his relatives found that most of the rooms in his house had no furniture and the walls were all pink. In one room, there was only a toilet – nothing else at all! In another room were hundreds of green boxes, and in each one there was a dark brown wig. Nobody knows how many of them he actually wore.

GLOSSARY

duke (n) – a very important English aristocrat; książę wig (n) – false hair worn on the head; peruka servant (n) – in the past, people paid servants to cook and clean, etc. for them; służący underground (adj, adv) – below the ground, e.g. you can leave your car in the underground car park; rabbits live underground; podziemny, pod ziemią

2 Read the text again. Complete gaps 1–5 with sentences A–F. There is one extra sentence.

A Instead, he communicated with them by ringing a bell and leaving notes in special boxes.
B He had another beautiful house in London and sometimes stayed there.
C A third unusual thing about him was that he hated all kinds of dancing.
D For example, he gave each servant an umbrella and bought horses for them to ride through the gardens and in the tunnels under his house.
E He often wore two or more coats at the same time and a very strange hat – it was nearly a metre tall.
F For instance, he built an underground ballroom with space for 2,000 guests, but he never used it because he was too shy to invite anyone.

3 Read the text again. Answer the questions about the text in your notebook.

1 What was unusual about the Duke's hat?
2 Why did he write notes to his servants?
3 How did his servants deliver his food?
4 Why were there underground tunnels in the house?
5 How did the Duke's grandfather get the house in London?
6 How long was the roof of the riding school?

4.7 WRITING

A blog entry

FOCUS ON WORDS | Sightseeing

1 Read the blog about Manchester and choose the correct words a–e.

BLOG

[1]Last month, I spent a day in Manchester with my friend, Emily. Today, I'm blogging about it.

Manchester [2]is the UK's third largest city and is a very popular [a]speciality / destination, especially for fans of fashion and music.

I met Emily on Saturday morning and we went shopping. The city has a wide [b]attraction / selection of shops, and [3]most people tend to visit one of the large shopping centres. But if you are looking for experimental fashions, then go to Affleck's Palace. It's [c]a historic site / must – a building in the centre with lots of really cool shops.

After shopping, we were hungry, so we went to Chinatown. For Asian food, Chinatown is a [d]must / local speciality. [4]We had a delicious lunch.

Old Trafford football ground is one of the most popular [e]attractions / specialities in the city, but we went on a musical tour. Oasis and The Stone Roses come from Manchester, and if you like 90s music, [5]I would recommend doing the tour.

Manchester is a great city. Visit it if you have the chance! ☺

2 Put the words in order to make phrases. Then match them with similar phrases 1–5 in the blog.

seem / people / to ... / Most Most people seem to ... (3)

visitors, / For / must / tour / is / the / a 1 For visitors, the tour is a must (5)

was / Lunch / fantastic!
2 Lunch was fantastic! (4)

Last / went / month, / to ... / I
3 Last month, I went to ... (1)

very / a / ... is / city / big 4 ... is a very big city. (2)

3 Match the sentence halves. There is one extra ending.

The Cartoon Art Museum is (g)
1 It's one of (d)
2 Most tourists tend (e)
3 I would definitely (b)
4 One of the local (f)
5 Paris is a popular tourist (a)

a destination of all the people in love.
b recommend seeing the city centre by night.
c shopping for traditional food.
d the busiest capital cities in Europe.
e to stay in smaller, cheaper hotels.
f specialities of Iceland is shark meat.
g a must for all comic lovers.

4 Add seven commas to the text about Hampstead Heath.

BLOG

Hampstead Heath

I've never been to Manchester but it sounds great! But I know England's capital city, so I'll write about that. If you are in London, you must visit Hampstead Heath, Camden. Each year, over 10 million visitors come to this beautiful part of England's most famous city. This ancient park is famous for its summer concerts, but you can also enjoy the restaurants, lakes, wildlife and outdoor art gallery which make the area so special. Take a relaxing walk through nature and then climb Parliament Hill to see the spectacular panoramic view of London.

5 Read the task below. Then read the first paragraph of the blog entry and in 1–3 choose the correct word, for or since.

You are on holiday in a country you are visiting for the first time. Write a blog entry of about 80–130 words. Include and develop these points:

- Introduce the country and say how long you have been there.
- Write about what you have done so far and what you plan to do on your trip.
- Give your opinion of the country as a place for a holiday.
- Write about ideas you have for a future trip or trips.

I've been in Ireland [1]for / since 10 days now and [2]for / since I've been here I've met some wonderful people and have had great fun. I've enjoyed the city centre of Dublin and the wild nature in the countryside because the weather has been good [3]for / since I came to this magical island.

Tomorrow I [4]'m travelling (travel) to Belfast and I think I [5]'ll stay (stay) there for three days. Then I [6]'m visiting (visit) my sister who lives in Cork. She's expecting me. I [7]'m flying (fly) home next Friday, so hopefully I [8]'ll see (see) a lot more before then.

Ireland is a beautiful place that you must see. For my next trip I [9]'ll go (go) to Spain. Or maybe Italy.

6 Read the rest of the blog entry. Put verbs 4–9 into the correct future forms.

ASK ANYTHING

jayne17 asks ...
What will I have to do if I want to learn to drive? I'm 17 years old. Can anyone help?

MOST HELPFUL ANSWERS

carfanbrendan answers ...
Hi Jayne. Before you learn to drive, you'll need to choose a driving instructor (or teacher). It's important to choose carefully because if you [1]don't like your instructor, you [2]won't enjoy the lessons. My instructor was great and I really enjoyed learning to drive. Good luck ☺

philthechill answers
You will probably feel nervous the first time you drive, but if your instructor [3]takes you to a quiet place to practise, it [4]'ll be much less stressful.

agablueeyes answers
My brother is learning to drive and he's worried about the theory test (the one you do on a computer). I think that he [5]'ll pass the test without any problems if he [6]learns the rules of the road.

jayne17 asks ...
Thanks for the advice. One more question. If I [7]don't pass the test, will I have to pay again?

Extract from Students' Book recording 2.34

G: Hi Tom. Are you coming out [1]with / by / for us tonight?
T: Oh no, I can't. I'm revising [2]to / about / for exams. I need to learn fifty French verbs [3]on / by / with heart tonight.
G: But the exams don't start until next month.
T: I know, but I get really nervous [4]on / about / for exams. If I don't revise every night, I'll get stressed.
G: I don't know why you're so worried. You always get good marks in class.
T: I know, but that's different. In exams, I panic. And I really want to get good grades for my A levels. I want to get [5]into / with / in a good university.
G: Listen, you need to take it easy. If you continue like this, you'll get ill.
T: Well, what can I do?
G: Okay, first you need to make a revision timetable. If you make a timetable, you'll see that you have plenty of time to do everything.
T: Um, yeah, that's quite a good idea.
G: And I think you spend too much time alone – sometimes it's good to study [6]about / by / with other people.
T: Is it? I'm not so sure. They might know more than I do!
G: You're so negative.
T: Well, it's okay for you, you don't get nervous.
G: Of course I get nervous. But I try to be positive. For example, [7]before / in / on an exam, I imagine myself [8]to / in / on the exam – I know all the answers, and I pass the exam [9]on / by / with the best marks.
T: Hm. It's true, I'm not very confident.

2 Complete the sentences with a preposition in each gap.

Studying in the UK • verbs with prepositions • nouns and verbs

1 Read the text quickly and decide why it was written.

1 To explain how to get a job you love ☐
2 To give advice on where to study the subject you love ☑
3 To present the benefits of studying a subject you love ☐

Do What You Love, Love What You Do

Do you dream of creating video games or cooking in a top restaurant? How about designing clothes or managing a football team? Would you like to do what you love and love what you do? Check out these schools, colleges and universities that could help you train for your dream job.

A So you love ... video games?

A new course at the University of Derby in the UK could be ideal for you if you dream of a job in the video game industry. The School of Computing and Mathematics offers a degree in Computer Games Modelling and Animation. Students on the course develop their artistic skills and learn how to create game characters and digital worlds using the university's powerful computers and software. Lecturers on the course have years of industry experience and the company that created Lara Croft from the famous Tomb Raider games helped to design the course. Students can choose to take their third year as a work placement* year and get some experience of what it's really like to work in the video games industry. If you want to apply for a place on the course, you will need a good grade in A level Art and Design, and of course you will need to love computers and video games!

B So you love ... cooking?

If you are happier in the kitchen than in front of a computer screen, you might be interested in a course organised by the London School of Hospitality and Tourism. Many students on the Culinary Arts and Professional Cookery course go on to work in top restaurants after they graduate. The school has its own award-winning training restaurant called 'Pillars'. 'Pillars' is a real working restaurant, so you'll experience what it's like to work in the restaurant industry and customers will come and pay to eat your homework! On the course, you'll study French and Italian cooking, and if you decide on this course, you'll need to buy chef's whites, the traditional all-white uniform of professional chefs.

C So you love ... clothes?

The UK's capital city is the place to study if you want to be the next Armani or Versace. London College of Fashion offers a wide range of degree courses for the fashion industry. If you love shoes then you could try the degree in Footwear* Design and Development. Perhaps you are more interested in designing clothing for sports – check out the course in Fashion Sportswear. There are design courses for menswear, womenswear and even for underwear! The course is popular with international students, so it's not unusual to hear lots of foreign languages at the college. Every year the college organises fashion shows and some of the biggest clothing companies and buyers with years of experience are there to look at students' designs.

D So you love ... football?

Do you love football? Do you dream of managing Manchester United or Real Madrid? Southampton Solent University could help to make your dreams come true. Football is part of the history of Southampton and if you get a place to do the Football Studies degree, you'll go on field trips* to the most well-known stadiums and football clubs in the region. Famous managers and players from the world of football regularly give guest lectures at the university. Students have the opportunity to hear about their years of experience in the football industry. Many students find jobs with big international football clubs such as Chelsea FC or FC Spartak Moscow after they finish the course. For this reason, graduates who speak another language have a real advantage in the world of modern football.

4 ★★★ Choose the correct answers A–C.

A sports education

A lot of people say that you won't get a good job [1]___ you get a university degree. But in fact, that's not true. Steve Jobs never finished his university education and Abraham Lincoln didn't even finish school! Nowadays, people who are interested in sport like I am, have plenty of other options. A good education is important, however, and one thing is for sure: [2]___ you study hard at school, you won't regret it.

I'm quite lucky because I know exactly what I want to do. [3]___ I finish school with good grades in Physical Education, I'll go to a sports academy in Berlin and I'll train to become a basketball coach [4]___ I get there. I won't need to get a degree but I will need to study for a special diploma in Sports Science and Psychology [5]___ I become qualified. What next? Well, [6]___ I finish my training, I will get a job with a successful basketball team.

Giving an opinion • agreeing and disagreeing

BANK ZWROTÓW DO WYPOWIEDZI USTNEJ

Giving an opinion	Wyrażanie opinii
I think he …	Myślę, że on...
I don't think it's ...	Nie sądzę, że to jest…
Personally, I think ...	Moim zdaniem…
I really believe ...	Naprawdę wierzę, że...
In my opinion, ...	Moim zdaniem...
If you ask me, ...	Jeśli o mnie chodzi / Jeśli chcesz znać moje zdanie…
Agreeing	Zgadzanie się
I couldn't agree more.	Lepiej bym tego nie ujął/ ujęła / Całkowicie się z Tobą zgadzam.
That's a good point.	Słuszna uwaga.
Disagreeing politely	Wyrażanie odmiennego zdania w grzeczny sposób
I see what you mean, but …	Rozumiem, co masz na myśli, ale ...
That's true, but …	To prawda, ale...
I'm not so sure.	No nie wiem.
Disagreeing	Wyrażanie odmiennego zdania w zdecydowany sposób
I totally disagree!	Zupełnie się nie zgadzam!
Oh come on! That's nonsense.	Daj spokój! Przecież to nonsens.

1 Find and correct the mistakes.

	I'm not to sure.	so
1	I see ~~that~~ you mean, but ...	what
2	I ~~am~~ totally disagree.	am
3	Oh come ~~all~~! That's nonsense.	on
4	That's a good point.	a good point
5	That's ~~a~~ true, but ...	That's true
6	I couldn't agree ~~most~~.	more

2 Complete the dialogue with the phrases for expressing opinions, agreeing and disagreeing. The first letters are given.

A: I~~f~~ you a~~s~~k me, I t~~h~~ink learning a language on your own without a teacher is really difficult.

B: Really? [1]I totally disagree. [2]In my opinion, it's a good way to learn because you can choose what and when you study. If you have a busy day, you don't have to do a lesson, but if you have some free time, for example at the weekend, you can study then.

A: [3]That's true, but what if you need to ask a question? [4]Personally, I think that learning with a teacher is better. You can ask questions and the teacher can explain things and correct your mistakes. [5]I think private lessons are best. You get lots of attention from the teacher if you are the only student.

A: Well, [6]I see what you mean, but I get stressed if it's just me and the teacher. I'd prefer to learn in a group. In a group you can stay quiet. You don't have to speak if you don't want to.

B: [7]Oh come on! That's nonsense. If you don't practise speaking in lessons, you will never pass your speaking exam.

A: Hmm. You sound like our teacher.

3 Put the words in order to make phrases and complete the conversations. There is one extra phrase for each dialogue.

1 ~~I / believe ... / really~~
~~That's / come / Oh / on! / nonsense.~~ agree / more. / couldn't / I

A: Students worry too much about fashion and not enough about studying. I really believe that wearing a uniform to school would help to improve exam results.

B: Oh come on! That's nonsense. It is possible to be fashionable and hardworking, you know.

2 ~~I / you / If / me, / ask / think ...~~ point. / a / That's / good
~~so / not / I'm / sure.~~

A: [1]If you ask me, I think doing a gap year is a great idea. Young people get a lot out of travel.

B: [2]I'm not so sure. Isn't it better to get your qualifications first and then travel?

3 couldn't / more. / agree / I ~~doesn't / think ... / she~~ ~~true, / but ... / That's~~

A: Well, I spoke to my sister and [1]she doesn't think single-sex schools are a good idea at all. She thinks girls and boys should learn to live, study and work together from a young age.

B: [2]That's true, but exam results are often better at single-sex schools. What is more important?

4 ~~think ... / Personally, / I~~ totally / I / disagree.
~~agree / I / more. / couldn't~~

A: [1]Personally, I think doing sport at school is as important as learning to read and write.

B: [2]I couldn't agree more. If kids are going to do well at school, they need to be fit and healthy.

4 Complete the dialogue between Ellie and Auntie Jean with the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

AJ: You look unhappy, Ellie. What's the matter?
E: Well, you know I'm starting university next year and I have some difficult choices to make. The first decision is where to study. If I go (go) to university in my hometown, I'll stay with Mum and Dad, but if I decide to study in London, I [1]will rent (rent) a flat with my friend Lena. I'm sure I [2]will save (save) more money if I live at home with my parents, but Lena says we'll have more fun if we [3]get (get) a flat together in London.
AJ: So you have to decide what is more important to you.
E: Well, another problem is, Lena is a good friend, but she's not a very good student and she [4]won't pass (not/pass) her exams if she doesn't revise a lot. If she [5]fails (fail) her exams, she won't go to university at all and then I'll be on my own in London. Why is life so complicated?
AJ: Hmm. Do you really want to go to university and live with someone who is not a good student?

able academy active attentive learn revise stress teach

A PRACTICAL EDUCATION

Would you like to go to a school which doesn't teach traditional academic subjects like Maths and Science in the classroom? How about a school where they don't set any exams for the students? No time is spent on [1]revision/revising for tests and nobody learns boring facts by heart! And most importantly, students don't get [2]stressed about exams. Sounds great, right? Well, in fact, such schools exist.

There are a number of schools across Europe and America that follow a non-traditional curriculum. Students study subjects like Maths and Science through practical projects like building boats or making sculptures. They are also given a choice of many different after-school [3]activities.

Some of these schools began because they wanted to help children that used to get into trouble in a regular school. They behaved badly, didn't pay [4]attention in class and struggled with learning in the classroom. Other students in these schools have parents who do not agree with traditional methods of teaching and testing.

Unfortunately, all these schools have something in common: they are expensive. Parents must pay high tuition fees for their children to attend. So unless you are the child of someone with plenty of money to spend, you need to do most of your [5]learning in the classroom.

Planning your future? [1]Applying on / for / to your first job? Thinking about [2]resigning from / off / down your current job? We tell you the truth about jobs: the pluses and minuses from A–Z!

You searched for three jobs. Here are the best results:

Tour Guide:

Pluses: Many tour guides [3]get / are self-employed, so they can't [4]get / have the sack. It's also easy to [5]take / do days off when you choose, because you run your own company.

Minuses: Most tour guides [6]are / have badly-paid. Because they [7]do / work outdoors, tour guides often only have a [8]full-time job / part-time job when the weather is not very good. In the summer, however, when there are lots of tourists, you can expect to work [9]nights shifts / long hours every day.

Doctor:

Pluses: Experienced doctors are generally pretty [10]well-paid / badly paid. They can take between 20 and 30 days [11]overtime / paid holiday per year.

Minuses: Training is long and expensive. Junior doctors usually work [12]long hours / a job which also often involves doing 24-hour [13]night shifts / overtime one day per week.

Office Manager:

Pluses: Office managers have a [14]part-time job / full-time job and like other employees they [15]have / do four weeks' paid holiday per year.

Minuses: Office managers rarely travel in their jobs and often have to work [16]overtime / indoors after their regular 8-hour day. They are usually [17]responsible / fired for keeping an office problem-free, so it can be very stressful work when things go wrong.

Summer jobs • collocations related to work • compound nouns • word families

Summer jobs for active teenagers

Every year, when school finishes for the summer, thousands of teenagers earn extra money by doing temporary* summer jobs. We spoke to three young people who have had active, outdoor jobs and asked them about their experiences. This is what they told us:

Aaron, 16, Australia
Summer job: lifeguard, Sydney

I enjoyed my summer as a lifeguard. The beach was a great place to work and the views of the ocean were beautiful, but there wasn't much time to relax. It's a serious job and someone has to watch the swimmers all the time. It's hard for one person to concentrate for so long. [1]___ Each lifeguard watches for an hour, then has a break. I'm proud* to say that my partner and I rescued* seven people this summer.

As well as being very strong swimmers, lifeguards should be at least sixteen years old and have qualifications in first aid* and water-rescue techniques. [2]___ I'd recommend this job to anyone who lives near the coast. The pay is average and it can be stressful, but it feels great to rescue someone, and the 'office' is the best in the world!

Kuba, 19, Poland
Summer job: windsurfing instructor, Mazury

I started windsurfing when I was 12, so I'm quite good. Last summer, I trained as an instructor and this year I got a job at the lake near our village. There are lots of tourists in the summer and most of them are beginners. They generally spend more time in the water than on the board! [3]___ Most sensible people stay where the water is shallow*, so they don't have a problem. Plus, it's much easier to windsurf on a lake than on the sea because lakes don't usually have big waves.

It's not a very well-paid job, but I think it's cool if you can do something you love – and of course, it's a great way to meet girls.

Yasmin, 18, UK
Summer Job: activity leader, Devon

This summer I worked at a children's summer camp as an activity leader. It was exhausting but fun. We organised sports, games and activities for the kids, many of them in the huge camp swimming pool. We also took the older children swimming in the river. [4]___ In the evenings, we organised discos and quizzes. Most of the time the kids were great and I worked with some lovely people and made some really good friends.

It is quite well-paid and you are so busy that you don't have time to spend any money. I lived for free in the camp accommodation. [5]___ All our meals were free too, so I saved a lot of money over the summer.

GLOSSARY

temporary (adj) – used to describe something you do for a short time only; tymczasowy proud (of) (adj) – feeling pleased about something you have done; dumny (z) to rescue (v) – to save someone or something from danger; uratować first aid (n) – simple medical treatment given straight after an accident; pierwsza pomoc

E If you work hard, you can earn a lot of money in this job. ( )
F I did a training programme and learnt these skills before I started work. (2)

2 Read the summary of the text and complete the gaps with 1-3 words.

The article presents the experiences of three young people who decided to earn extra money in the summer. They had three different outdoor jobs (a lifeguard, a windsurfing instructor and an activity leader) and worked in three 1 countries / places. All the teenagers enjoyed their summer jobs but only Yasmin was happy about the [2]pay / money / money she earned. She was also pleased that both her [3]accommodation and food / meals were provided, so she could save even more. To be able to do their summer jobs, Aaron and Kuba needed some special [4]training / qualifications / skills. Kuba is quite an expert at windsurfing since he's been doing it for [5]seven / 7 years. Aaron loved the beach and the ocean views but he didn't [6]have (enough) time to enjoy them.

Modal verbs for obligation and permission

SHOW WHAT YOU KNOW

1 Complete the sentences with must or mustn't.

I must try to do more exercise. I want to be fit and healthy.

1 We are lucky to have enough food and a warm house. We mustn't complain about unimportant things.

2 I feel exhausted all the time. I must try to get more sleep.

3 We mustn't be late again. We don't want the others to think we are unreliable.

4 I must stop biting my nails. They look terrible.

2 Complete the sentences with the correct form of have to or don't have to and the words in brackets.

The gallery is free if you have a student card, so students don't have to pay (students/pay).

1 Emma has to miss (Emma/miss) school today because she's going to the hospital.

2 It's unfair. Alec doesn't have to clean (Alec/clean) his own bedroom, so why should I?

3 I can't concentrate on my homework. Do you have to sing (you/sing) so loudly?

4 (Nina/go) Nina doesn't have to go to school on Monday because it's a national holiday.

3 ★ Complete the gaps with the modal verbs in capitals. One verb in each group is not needed.

NEEDN'T / HAVE TO / CAN'T

1 A You needn't walk – why not save your energy? I'll take you in the car.
B You can't walk – it's freezing cold and you don't have a coat.

HAS TO / DOESN'T HAVE TO / CAN

2 A Beth can bring food to the party, but it's not really necessary.
B Beth doesn't have to bring food to the party – we've already got plenty.

HAVE TO / MUSTN'T / DON'T HAVE TO

3 A The students have to revise – the exams are in three weeks.
B The students don't have to revise – the exams finished last week.

HAS TO / CAN / MUSTN'T

4 A Katy has to wear formal clothes – the wedding invitation says 'formal dress'.
B Katy can wear formal clothes, but not everyone is going to be smart.

4 ★★ Think about rules and arrangements and choose the most suitable modal verb.

1 Sarah must / has to be there at four o'clock. The others will be waiting for her.
2 I must / have to stop staying up so late. I fell asleep at school yesterday!
3 The sign says you can't / mustn't park here.
4 I can't / mustn't forget to speak to Dad tonight. I need to ask him for some money.
5 Police officers and soldiers must / have to wear uniforms.
6 You can't / mustn't go on this rollercoaster if you are less than 1.4 metres tall.

5 ★★★ It's Julia's first day of work experience. Complete the dialogue with the most suitable modal verbs. Sometimes more than one answer is possible.

W: So, Julia, welcome to the chocolate factory. I'm William. Nice to meet you.
J: Hi. Nice to meet you too.
W: OK. Let's have a look round first of all. There are a few rules in the factory – you need to/have to wear these special plastic shoes at all times and I'm afraid you [1]can't wear any jewellery … oh, actually if you are married, you [2]needn't / don't have to take off your wedding ring, but no other jewellery, please.
J: OK, that's fine. I'm not married, so no problem.
W: OK. Follow me then please ...This is where we make the chocolate. We tell our workers that it's OK to eat as much chocolate as they like and of course, they [3]needn't / don't have to pay – it's free.
J: Really? [4]Can I try some?
W: Of course, but you [5]mustn't / can't use your fingers. Here, put this glove on.
J: Thanks. Mmmm, it's delicious. Oh dear, I [6]mustn't eat too much though.
W: Don't worry. We usually find that after a few days, people have had enough.
J: Hmm. I'm not sure about that.

Adjectives ending in -ed and -ing

1 ★ Choose the correct words.

Ann: How was your first day at work?
Max: Hmm. It was OK, but I found a lot of things really [1]confused / confusing.
Ann: Well, that's not [2]surprised / surprising. It was your first day.
Max: I know. But I made lots of mistakes, so it was also quite [3]embarrassed / embarrassing. To be honest, I feel a little [4]depressed / depressing.
Ann: Oh, Max. Don't be silly! Tomorrow will be better. What about the work? Is it [5]interested / interesting?
Max: It is, yes. I admit that I was a little [6]frustrated / frustrating but my day certainly wasn't [7]bored / boring. And I think the job will be very [8]rewarded / rewarding.
Ann: Well, then. So don't be [9]annoyed / annoying with yourself. Give it a little more time and everything will be perfect! Let's have an ice cream to celebrate finishing your first day!

REMEMBER THIS

Everybody was interested in the exhibition.

1 What's the highest building or structure you've ever been to the top of? How did you feel then?
2 What could you see when you looked down?

2 Decide whether the adjectives are positive (P), negative (N) or can be both (B).

complex B disappointing N excellent P fascinating P good P iconic P intense B lovely P nervous N nice P terrified N scared N

While you watch

3 25 Watch the video. Which words from Exercise 2 can you hear? Which words does Dallas use most? intense (×2), nice (×2), scared (×2), nervous, terrified, iconic, lovely, good

4 SPEAKING Discuss the questions.
1 What is Dallas's job for the day?
2 How does Dallas feel before he starts working and after he has finished?

1 For the day, Dallas is a window-cleaner on the Burj Khalifa.
2 He feels really nervous, absolutely terrified, but impressed and happy afterwards.

5 25 Complete quotes 1–5. Then watch the video again and check your answers.
1 I was secretly hoping that it was going to be too windy today and it would all be cancelled and we could all just go home and somehow the windows would just clean themselves.
2 I'm absolutely terrified right now. I've never been so scared in my life.
3 I haven't looked down yet. Now I've looked down.
4 It's hard to believe how high these windows are.
5 If Dallas dropped something it could do a lot of damage.

6 25 Complete the email to Dallas. If necessary, watch the video again and check your answers.

Hi Dallas,

Welcome to Dubai. Please come to the Burj Khalifa – we're proud of it because it's the [1]tallest building in the world. When you get here, take the lift to Floor [2]160. Ask for the [3]window-cleaning team. We need to prepare you for your day's work. When you begin your window-cleaning, try not to [4]look down – you will be more than [5]600 metres above the ground – that's higher than the world's [6]previous tallest building.
Don't worry about the [7]wind. The Burj Khalifa has an aerodynamic design and it is not a problem. Don't [8]drop anything – you could do a lot of damage. There are [9]2400 windows to clean. It takes three [10]months to clean them all. Then we start cleaning them again!

See you soon,
The Burj Khalifa window-cleaning team.

First job advice

Starting any new job can be scary, but perhaps nothing is more frightening (FRIGHTEN) than starting your first job ever. Here's some advice for you at the very beginning of your career.

Firstly, what you need to remember is that you are likely to start your working life at the very bottom. You can expect to be doing rather repetitive and less [1]challenging (CHALLENGE) work initially, but it's important to show a high level of [2]determination (DETERMINE) to do the job well and learn as much as you can. Your colleagues will notice if you have a bad attitude.

Secondly, your new career will probably be nothing like school or university. You will need to prove that you are [3]reliable (RELY) and can be trusted to turn up on time and cope with [4]demanding (DEMAND) amounts of work. You don't want to get fired after the first week because you can't organise your new life.

Thirdly, it's a good idea to ask questions and be open to learning from colleagues with more experience than you. Also, don't be too [5]competitive (COMPETE) and be sure to pay attention to the things that people tell you.

1 Read the radio presenter's interview with Amy. Put the words in phrases 1–6 in the right order.

Extract from Students' Book recording 3.21

RP: Hello and welcome to Ask the Expert. The topic of today's programme is buying presents, and our expert is psychologist Amy Black. Thanks for joining us this afternoon Amy.
Amy: You're welcome. I'm pleased to be here.
RP: Amy, can you tell us presents / at / good / person / sort of / what / is / choosing what sort of person is good at choosing presents?
Amy: Well, it's true that [1]buying / really / presents / some / are / people / good at some people are really good at buying presents and some people are really bad, but I don't think it's a question of personality. I think anybody can buy a good present but they have to do some research ... [2]presents / are / The best / after / a lot of / chosen / thinking. The best presents are chosen after a lot of thinking.
RP: Do you think women are better than men at buying presents?
Amy: Well, I suppose women like shopping more than men and this means they don't mind spending hours in shopping centres or online. But as I said, [3]buy / present / can / a good / anybody anybody can buy a good present.
RP: Okay, let's read our first question. This was sent by Isabelle, 17 years old, from Bristol. She says 'My mum is going to be 40 ... and [4]want / special / get / I / to / her / something I want to get her something special to cheer her up.' What do you think Amy?
Amy: Well, Isabelle, it's great that you want to get your mum something special. If you want to cheer her up, [5]idea / good / toiletries / a / are / always toiletries are always a good idea but be careful. Your mum doesn't want to feel old. So don't buy face cream for the older woman.

2 Replace the underlined words in these sentences with an underlined word from the text in Exercise 1.

Can we go home now please? We've been in the shopping centre for ages / hours.

you searched for 'Boxing Day'

In Britain, Canada, New Zealand and parts of Australia, the 26th of December is Boxing Day. Originally, this was the day when rich people gave their servants small Christmas gifts, but these days Boxing Day is all about shopping. There are big sales with reductions on everything, and customers spend huge amounts of money. Shops and shopping centres open very early (some of them as early as 5 a.m.) and shoppers often start queuing* for bargains in the middle of the night, hours before the sales actually begin. 1

Safari _23 says: For the last ten years, I have owned a clothes shop called 'Safari' on the main street of our town. About six months ago, a big shopping centre opened just outside the town and since then business has been bad. Every month fewer customers come into the shop and it is getting harder to make a living. I used to love my job, but standing there all day with hardly any customers is really boring. The little café opposite had to close down* last month. I know that other small businesses on the street are having big problems too. Some of them have actually moved to the shopping centre recently. I am not sure what the solution is, but I feel sad and angry, and I'm afraid that I will have to close down my shop too. 2

The shopping centre opened at half past nine. They met by the entrance at twenty-five past. There was no one else around. They waited next to the sign that showed the centre rules – no smoking; no dogs; no radios; no skateboards. They looked at each other nervously. At half past, the cleaner unlocked the doors. They were still the only people waiting. It looked safe. It was time. Through the doors, boards ready and then suddenly, full speed! They flew through the shopping centre, the wheels of their skateboards speeding silently on the perfectly flat floor. The feeling was fantastic, amazing; just as they imagined. And then ... they saw the security guard. 3

We are looking for

'secret shoppers'

to work for our large chain* of clothing shops

Our secret shoppers travel around the UK, visit different stores* and pretend to be real customers. On a typical visit, they go into one of our stores and ask questions about our clothes and shoes. Their main job is to check that our in-store sales assistants are friendly, and know a lot about our products. Secret shoppers have to listen carefully, remember all the details and then send a report to our London office to describe their visit. If you are offered a job as a secret shopper, you will have to keep your job and your identity secret.

For an application form, email targetstores.qm@css.net. Interviews start in October. 4

2 Complete the model email with the words from the box. There are two extra words.

bought complain disappointed faithfully grateful refund sincerely Sir or Madam wrong

Dear Sir or Madam,
I am writing to [1]complain about the service provided by your restaurant.
I recently organised my seventeenth birthday party at 'JW's All-American Diner'. I booked a table for 10, but when we arrived, the waitress said there was no reservation. We waited half an hour for a table. When we finally sat down, we were told that the chef was sick that day and we would have to wait at least an hour for our meal. The food arrived after 75 minutes and 4 out of 10 orders were [2]wrong. My vegetarian friend was given a steak!
I am very [3]disappointed with your service and feel sorry that I chose your restaurant for my birthday party. I would be [4]grateful if you could send me a [5]refund for the cost of the meal, or invite my friends and me to one of your other restaurants for a free meal.
Yours [6]faithfully,
Kay Jones

Feedback and Suggestions

We are always keen to hear from our customers.
Tell us about your experience at Sunshine Gym & Fitness.

I want to complain about your service. On 18/11, I paid 200 euros to join your gym for a year, but I am not happy. Half of the machines in the gym are broken or dangerous, the changing rooms are always smelly and dirty and the staff are rude. When I complained about the broken running machine last week, the man at the desk told me I should run home instead! I'm not going to come to your gym anymore and I want all my money back.

Who would buy that?

The online shopping website that we know today as eBay [1]was created in 1995. Its first name was AuctionWeb, and it started life as a small part of the personal website of the company's inventor, French-American Pierre Omidyar.

The first item for sale on the site was a broken laser pointer. When Pierre found a [2]customer who was happy to pay $14 for this, he asked the buyer why he wanted it. The answer was simple – the man collected laser pointers. Because of this experience, Pierre believed that he could sell [3]anything through his new online shop – and it didn't matter whether the item was working or broken.

Pierre's idea became a huge success and the company grew quickly after he invited other people to sell their items on his website. In 1997, Pierre changed the name to eBay and, one year after this, only three years after the company had started, Pierre was a billionaire.

Today eBay is worth about $10 billion, operates in 30 countries and has between 20-25 million [4]sellers who advertise their things for sale. And now, you can buy anything from broken laser pointers to the latest [5]products of technology and high street fashions.

How to shop and save

Most people love spending money on clothes. But shopping can be expensive. So here are some tips to help you save money when you go looking to fill up your wardrobe.

Firstly, always remember that there are a [1]lot of High Street stores that sell clothes that everyone can afford. Plus, they often [2]have sales at the beginning of each new season. This is because when shops have new and more fashionable clothes coming in, they need to sell older items quickly. So, if you want to [3]pick up a bargain, this can be the best time.

Charity shops and other second-hand shops also offer a variety of cheap clothes. Although they don't usually have items [4]on special offer, it's not difficult to find something at a good price. There's an added advantage too – when you buy second-hand clothes, there's a bigger chance you will find something that looks original compared to clothes from the High Street.

One more way to save money is to buy good quality clothes. Even some expensive designer clothes are not actually very well made. Make sure you buy something that will last. Then, even if it wasn't so cheap to buy, you'll see that the product was [5]worth it in the long-term.

Tip-Top Health Q & A

Have you got a health concern? Here are some common questions and their answers.

Q: I want to go on a diet. What do I need to know?

A: Right, so you've [1]made / done the big decision to [2]keep / lose weight? Great! Firstly, add some exercise to your daily routine. Join a gym. The high-tech machines will help you to [3]check / keep your heart rate while you exercise to make sure you don't exercise too hard. Secondly, you need to learn how to [4]make / do the right food choices. There are plenty of diets online if you can't see a dietician.

Q: I think I [5]am / have allergic to something I'm eating. What should I do?

A: Lots of people have allergies. One sign is [6]coming / being out in spots. To identify the problem start by [7]keeping / losing track of what you eat. A food diary will help. Once you know what the problem is, you should visit a doctor.

Q: [8]Am / Have I asthmatic?

A: Only your doctor can tell you if you have asthma. Sometimes, however, breathing problems are the result of stress. Try to [9]reduce / lose the anxiety in your life and [10]check / make your pulse regularly. A fast heart rate might show that stress is the problem, not asthma!

Q: I've [11]reduced / lost my appetite. What's wrong with me?

A: Try to [12]reduce / lose the amount of stress you have. Some people eat more when they are stressed but others stop eating. Have you [13]come / make out in a rash? A rash can be a sign of stress and anxiety. Also, try to [14]keep / be fit. Exercise is a great way to get rid of stress and create a healthy appetite!

Green cities • collocations • pollution • word families

1 Read the text quickly and decide why it was written.

A To explain how to do more recycling in cities ☐
B To present a particular environmental project ☑
C To give advice on how to save energy at home ☐

Greener and cleaner cities

1 E
Today, there are around 7.4 billion people living on the planet. The Earth's population, however, is growing at 1.1% each year, which means that by the year 2030 there will be about 8.4 billion people. What's more, most people choose to live in cities because it is easier to find work. Busier and larger cities, however, use a lot of natural resources such as gas and electricity. It also means more vehicles* on the roads and greater use of public transport by people who commute to work.

One key question, then, is this: what can we do to protect the environment and deal with the larger number of people living on the planet?

2 G
One idea might be the construction of lighthouse* cities. At present, Stockholm, Barcelona and Cologne are part of an experimental project to create cleaner, more energy efficient* cities for people to live in. If the results of these experiments prove successful, the ideas and technology will be transferred to other cities to help the creation of a better, more environmentally friendly Europe.

3 C
One of the major technological inventions these cities are using is connected to recycling. But not the recycling of plastic, glass and paper which we all know. The lighthouse cities want to recycle heat.

Experts have realised that the great amount of hot air created by computer data centres, stadiums and supermarkets is wasted. But in Stockholm this 'waste heat' is already used to create hot water which is then pumped around the city into private houses and housing estates. This recycling of energy is saving both money and the resources which generate* heat in the first place.

4 A
When it comes to fighting pollution, lighthouse cities aim to encourage the use of car-sharing to help reduce the number of vehicles on the roads. In Cologne, there are plans to build special car parks for electric cars which local people can 'book' and then share with other passengers on their journeys. When the cars are parked, they transfer energy to each other so that each vehicle is ready for a journey and that energy is used efficiently.

5 B
Another aim of the lighthouse city project is to make people understand how to save on natural resources. Residents in all cities will be able to use apps to monitor how much energy they are using and when is the best time to clean the house, for example, or do the washing. There may even be prizes for the 'greenest' residents. The idea here is that if people can save money and save the environment at the same time, they will probably act more responsibly.

That's why the lighthouse cities like Stockholm, Cologne and Barcelona, like the lighthouses of the past, are 'showing the way' to a safer future.

GLOSSARY

vehicle (n) – a machine with an engine such as a car, bus, or truck; pojazd lighthouse (n) – a tower with a powerful flashing light that guides ships away from danger; latarnia morska efficient (adj) – if someone or something is efficient, they work well without wasting time, money, or energy; wydajny generate (v) – to produce or cause something; wytwarzać, powodować

I enjoyed your article about the benefits of taking part in team sports.

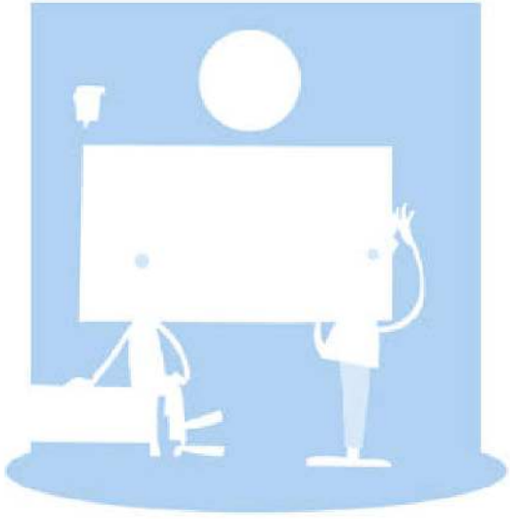

2 I think young people nowadays do too little exercise. 1 4 I also think that teenagers can learn a lot of useful skills when they are training for particular sports. 2 5, 6 Moreover, I think that young people need to develop a good attitude to team work as this will be valuable later in life.

3 7 However, I agree that being too competitive can have negative effects on children. 4 3, 1 Therefore, I think schools should pay attention to helping young people understand this.

5 Match beginnings 1–6 with endings a–e. There is one extra sentence beginning.

A calculator would make f
1 Our mum makes us c
2 Stewart's jokes always make me a
3 The dentist makes me b
4 My father often makes me
5 Morning exercise can make you d
6 This fitness app has made my e a laugh because they are so silly.

b nervous because I hate pain.
c do our homework before we can watch TV.
d feel healthy the whole day.
e life much better.
f things a lot easier.

6 Complete the sentences with the correct forms of make and the words in brackets. Put make in the correct place in the sentence.

If I marry you, will you make me cut my hair (me / cut / my hair)?
1 When we were younger, our parents made us clean our room(s) (us / clean / our room).
2 Sad films always make Sue cry (always / Sue / cry). Isn't she silly?
3 Adam's morning meditation makes him feel relaxed (him / feel / relaxed) the whole day.
4 The nurse at the hospital made me turn off my smartphone (me / turn off / my smartphone), so I couldn't call you.
5 Doing exams has never made James anxious (has never / James / anxious). He's always enjoyed doing them.
6 Next week Dad will make us go (will / us / go) fishing with him again. Boring!

7 Read the task below. Then read the email response to the online article and put the verbs in brackets in the correct form. Add any extra words you need.

You have just read an online article on educating students in schools about the environment. The article says that schools should:

- Teach students more about what pollutes the air.
- Help students understand more about the dangers of pollution – both now and in the future.
- Educate students about how to protect the environment.

Write a reader's comment of 80–130 words. Include and develop these points:

- Give your opinion about the article.
- Say what you agree with and why.
- Say what you disagree with and why.
- Give your conclusion.

Sulu93: Thank you A for / to / with the article. It has 1 made me think (make / me / think) about just how B far / few / little my school has 2 done to help (do / help) students learn about the causes of air C pollution / particles / fumes and what 3 needs to be done (need / be / do) to protect the environment.

For example, there D is a lot of / are lots of / is many smog and factory E smoke / fumes / storms in the city F where / which / who I live, so the air quality is very poor. But lots of older students 4 continue to drive (continue / drive) to school. There are cycle paths and a bus service, so why 5 do they choose to travel (they / choose / travel) by car?

I agree that schools G 6 need to be (need / be) responsible H for / to / with educating students. However, this also 7 has to be (has / be) the government's responsibility. I think local pollution levels I would be / will be / are much lower if state advertising informed the public more of how important this issue is.

8 Read the email again and choose the correct words A–H.

Accident at school – Who is responsible?

Yesterday, a judge ordered a school to pay £2,000 to the parents of a teenage girl who broke her arm during a school basketball match. The judge said that the school had to ensure the safety of its students and therefore had failed in its duty. But were the school and its staff really responsible?

Personally, I believe that schools need to take care of their students during school hours. However, it is impossible to prevent accidents during a competitive sporting event. When a teacher runs such a class, they are only responsible for making sure there is fair play. In fact, without the element of risk there would be little interest in such activities.

I think the judge was wrong to make the school responsible for this accident.

My day at the races

Last week I was at the motor racing track watching my friend Jack race his new car. During the race, however, I began to feel quite ill. It started with a cough and a headache but by the time I got home I had a sore throat too.

I [1]hadn't had / had never had such symptoms before that day, so I was a little confused and worried. When I went to the doctor, he told me that I was probably [2]allergic to something but he didn't know what. I told him I [3]'d been to see the race and he asked me more details about the track.

I told him that there was a new metal [4]construction there that hadn't been fully built yet. I think they were making the stadium bigger so more people could watch the races. 'Ah', he said, 'that's the problem'. When there is the [5]creation of a new building or structure, he explained, there is usually lots of dust and dirt in the air. I probably had an allergy to this, he said. Now I try to avoid places where they are doing building works.

ZAKUPY I USŁUGI

1 Complete the text with the correct words.

Yesterday my mum gave me a shopping list and sent me to the nearest department store. She asked me to buy some birthday presents for my twin brothers and some food for the birthday party. I didn't want to go because I always buy things that aren't [1]worth it and spend too much [2]on unnecessary things. I prefer sitting at home at my computer and shopping [3]online. When I was passing a clothes shop, I saw a beautiful dress [4]on special offer, so I decided to try it [5]on. Unfortunately, it didn't [6]fit me and the dress in my size was [7]out of stock. On my way to the toy shop I also had to pass a jeweller's. I saw a silver bracelet there which attracted my [8]attention. The price was reduced – I had never picked [9]up such a bargain! I didn't have my [10]credit card with me, so I paid in [11]cash with my mum's money. When I got out of the shop I realised it was almost closing time. I quickly bought some food from the shopping list and two toy cars for the boys. When my mum saw what I had bought, she was mad – the toys were broken and the food was past its sell-by [12]date. I couldn't return the food or exchange the toys [13]for something else because I hadn't kept the [14]receipts. I had to apologise [15]for the shopping mistake again and again!

2 Choose the correct answer.

Rzeczowniki policzalne i niepoliczalne, przedimki

Rzeczowniki policzalne można policzyć i dlatego mają formę liczby mnogiej, np. banana, bottle, girl.

Rzeczowników niepoliczalnych nie można policzyć, więc mają tylko formę liczby pojedynczej, np. milk, meat, cheese.

Z rzeczownikami policzalnymi używamy:

Liczba pojedyncza
- a / an
- the

Liczba mnoga
- some / any
- how many, a lot of

Z rzeczownikami niepoliczalnymi używamy:
- the
- some / any
- how much, a lot of

Some używamy w zdaniach twierdzących, zaś any w przeczeniach i pytaniach.

There are some bananas on the table. Are there any eggs?
We don't have any milk but we have some cheese.
How many bananas are there?*
How much milk is left?*
There are a lot of bananas left.
There is a lot of meat on the plate.

A/an używamy z rzeczownikami policzalnymi w liczbie pojedynczej, gdy:
- mówimy o danej rzeczy lub osobie po raz pierwszy: There is a banana in the fridge.
- dana rzecz lub osoba jest jedną z wielu: He is a nice man.

The używamy z rzeczownikami policzalnymi w liczbie pojedynczej i mnogiej, gdy:
- wspominamy daną rzecz lub osobę ponownie: The banana is fresh.*
- wiadomo, o jakiej rzeczy mowa lub jest ona jedyna w swoim rodzaju: This pizza is the best in the world.*

Przedimków nie używamy, gdy:
- mówimy o rzeczach w sposób ogólny: Bananas are healthy.*
- podajemy nazwy dni tygodnia, miesięcy, miast i większości krajów, np. August, Monday.

1 Write C (countable) or U (uncountable) next to the words below.

5 Complete the text with the words from the box.

are	by	few	little	lot of	lots of some	used to	was	who

Growing up in Africa, I [1]used to spend a [2]lot of time with my aunts in their villages. As a child I saw country life as an adventure. The village was a place where [3]lots of exciting things happened and where I was loved as part of a community. Now I know that my fondness for village life [4]was encouraged by my relationship with [5]some of the women that lived there. Women [6]who were physically strong and positive. Women that never forgot any of our past traditions, and who preserved community values and passed them on to the next generation. These women still exist. They work hard but [7]few of them see the benefits of their work. [8]Little has been done to help them. But they have a vision; a vision where poverty and hunger [9]are reduced, where communities are supported [10]by investments in education, health, water and food, and finally where more resources are set apart to help women gain equality.

Antarctica is one of the Earth's seven continents, the one located southernmost, at the South Pole. Almost all the continent is covered with ice. Antarctica is a desert – it doesn't rain or snow much there. It's also the coldest and windiest continent. The conditions are very rough, although grass, algae and bacteria can survive there. Some animals live there too: there are penguins, seals and whales in the Southern Ocean which surrounds Antarctica. It's too cold in Antarctica for humans to live there permanently, but there are a few thousand scientists from all over the globe who stay in the science and research stations and do research on the continent and its environment. Antarctica is a place where space research is done, because that is where you can find a lot of well-preserved meteorites. About 4,000 scientists work in the permanent stations during the summer season and around 1,000 during the harsh and dark winters. In 1959, all countries whose scientists work in Antarctica signed the Antarctic Treaty – an agreement stating that the continent is a protected zone which cannot be used for military actions, but only for scientific purposes.

The blue light of smartphones is the bright glowing light emitted from the screens of smartphones and other mobile devices. It glows brightly so that you can use the phone even on a sunny day. However, this blue light is similar to daylight and may influence your brain. Human bodies follow a certain cycle, which allows us to stay awake during the day and helps us fall asleep at night. However, if you use your phone right before going to sleep, your brain gets confused, thinks there's daylight and stops producing melatonin – a hormone which helps us sleep. A broken sleep cycle may cause problems with falling and staying asleep, as well as serious health issues.

Unit 1 Lives people live

1.1 Vocabulary

1.2 Exercise 3, page 4

London is an amazing city. It's full of life and there are so many things to see and do. But if you live in London it can be difficult to meet other people. Very often, a young professional lives next door to an older neighbour, but they never meet. We are a small charity. We connect young people with older people. Young people can help older people with technology and practical jobs around the house. Older people have experience and they can listen to young people and give advice. Every week, we organise evening activities. We have films, cooking classes and story-telling. Or, if an older person prefers not to come out, we can connect them with a young person who visits them at home.

1.6 Exercise 2, page 6

G = Girl P = Presenter

P: Who's your role model?
G: My role model?
P: Yes, who inspires you?
G: Oh, Leonardo DiCaprio.
P: Why do you admire him?
G: Because he's passionate about the environment.
P: Does he give money to environmental charities?
G: Not exactly. He runs The Leonardo DiCaprio Foundation. He speaks at global conferences and makes documentaries about climate change. He wants to protect wildlife, oceans and forests.
P: Have you ever met him?
G: No, never.
P: What is he doing now?
G: He's working on a new film.
P: Are you following him on Twitter?
G: Yes, I am.

1.7 Exercise 4, page 6

B = Boy P = Presenter

P: Who inspires you?
B: The person who inspires me is Michelle Obama.
P: Oh yes, she's great. This is a stupid question, but who is she?
B: She's the ex-first lady of the United States.
P: Of course … and why do you admire her?
B: I admire her because she does a lot of good work with young people.
P: What is she trying to do?
B: She's trying to teach children about exercise and health.
P: Have you ever seen her in person?
B: No, I haven't seen her in person, but I've watched her online.
P: What is she doing now?
B: She's still working with young people.

1.8 Focus Vlog, page 6

J = Jessica Ja = Jake La = Laura Lo = Lola

J: Hello! My name's Jessica. Every week I go out and interview people in the streets and put the video on my vlog.
Today, let's talk about happiness. What makes you happy?
Ja: What makes me happy? Ahmm … I love sport. But I … So I do quite a lot of cycling. I like to cycle and racing as well. Racing, cycling, I enjoy.
La: The things that make me happy are shopping, my money, spending money, getting money. Sometimes work.
Lo: I don't know, seeing other people happy.
J: Why does it make you happy?
Ja: I think growing up in the city, being able to cycle, especially when you don't have access to a car means that you can get out into the countryside and fresh air. And it's just really nice to enjoy like a sunny day in the fresh air on a bike.
La: The money makes me happy because I've earned it, it's well-earned and then I get to spend it on whatever I want to spend it on.
Lo: Life without friends is just boring and sad, so yeah! They bring colour to my life.
J: And what makes you happy?

1.3 Listening

1.10 Exercises 3 and 5, page 7

I = Interviewer K = Karen M = Martin

I: Welcome to The World of Work. Today we have two young people in the studio. They are going to talk to us about voluntary work. Welcome to the show, Martin and Karen.
M&K: Thank you.
I: Karen, let's start with you. What kind of voluntary work do you do?
K: I work in a soup kitchen for homeless people. My local church runs a homeless charity, and every evening, homeless people can come to the church and have a simple meal. It's usually soup and bread.
I: That's great, Karen. And what about you, Martin? What does your voluntary work involve?
M: I work on an organic farm.
I: What exactly do you do on the farm?
M: I do lots of different jobs. I plant trees and vegetables. I feed the chickens. I collect the eggs from the chickens and I sometimes cook lunch for all the other volunteers. It's a big farm, and there are fifteen volunteers.
I: How many hours do you work, Karen?
K: I'm a student and I have a lot of work at the moment. I don't have much free time, so I do two or three hours a week.
M: I do quite a lot. I go every Saturday and Sunday. We start very early in the morning and finish at about 7 o'clock in the evening. It's very hard work, and I feel tired at the end of the day. But I don't mind because I love being on the farm.
I: What sort of people volunteer?

K: Fantastic people! No. Um, volunteers are caring people. Of course a lot of people are caring, but volunteers are more likely to do something about it.
I: So why do you do this voluntary work?
M: I am passionate about the environment, and I'm interested in responsible farming. I believe that organic farming is very important for the future. I also like working in a team. I learn important life skills and I'm more confident than before. Also, I want to study farming and agriculture so this is good experience.
I: What about you, Karen?
K: Well, there are problems in my community and I want to help. There's also a selfish reason for doing it – it impresses people and I like that.
I: Thank you Karen, thank you Martin. Now, unemployment …

1.11 Exercises 6 and 8, page 7

B = Becky T = Tim
T: Hi Becky. How are you?
B: Hi Tim. Great thanks. Are you busy?
T: No, not really. Why?
B: Well, I'm thinking of doing some voluntary work in Africa and I wanted to ask you some questions.
T: Sure – what do you want to know?
B: Well, you're experienced, you did voluntary work in Africa and you know me – do you think I'm the right person to be a good volunteer?
T: Oh yes, I'm sure you can do it – but it's a good idea to think about it very carefully. It's good fun, but it's also really hard work.
B: Yes, I can imagine.
T: You need to be really healthy. How fit are you?
B: Oh, very fit – I'm never ill.
T: That's great because volunteers often work in difficult conditions. And they sometimes work long hours.
B: What do you mean?
T: Well, life is very different there and you have to adapt to new situations. For example, the weather can be extreme. The food and the accommodation are very different. You need to adapt to a new culture.
B: It sounds very exciting. Did you meet a lot of people?
T: Yes, I worked with a big group of people. I think you'll enjoy that because you're a good team player. You have good communication skills. You get on well with people – you're outgoing … and you're responsible. That's really important.
B: Thanks Tim! What about the local people? Were they friendly?
T: I met some lovely people but you need to be sensitive to their culture. I was open to people. You need to remember that their way of life is not the same as our way of life.
B: Right. What did you learn from your experience?
T: I changed a lot! I think I helped a lot of people, but I also learnt new skills. I made friends who I hope I'll know for the rest of my life.
B: It sounds amazing. Thanks Tim!
T: No problem. Call me if you have any more questions.

1.6 Use of English

1.17 Exercises 2 and 3, page 11

F = Father N = Narrator
N: The father
F: We live in London and we have three generations in this house: it's so crowded! We have grandparents, parents and children.
My wife and I have two children and my wife's parents live with us.
There are some advantages. My wife's parents were in New Zealand before. New Zealand is such a long way away from the UK that the children didn't see their grandparents very often. Now they see them every day. Also, childcare is so expensive in London that we didn't have any money for luxuries when the children were little. In fact, we were so poor that we couldn't go on holiday. So it was very helpful to have the grandparents here to look after the children.
But there are also negatives. The house is very small for such a big family.
When I want to be alone, I have to go into the garden.

1.18 Exercise 4, page 11

D = Daughter N = Narrator
N: The daughter
D: I don't mind living with my grandparents, they're so lovely. I like talking to them – they're very experienced and give such good advice. Mum and Dad are so busy. They don't have time to listen to our problems. My parents are so lucky because grandma and granddad are very helpful in the house. Grandma is such a good cook that she does most of the cooking, while granddad looks after the garden.

1.19 Exercise 5, page 11

G = Grandmother N = Narrator
N: The grandmother
G: We thought about it for a long time because we're such independent people. Some elderly people are lonely, but not us – we've got so many friends that we never feel lonely. But we wanted to help with the children. We try to be useful and it's such fun to spend time with my grandchildren. People say that teenagers are selfish and rude, but I must say my granddaughter's such a polite young lady and she's very kind. I worry about her little brother though. He's so lazy!

1.8 Speaking

1.20 Exercises 2 and 3, page 14

E = Ed K = Kate N = Nick R = Rachel
1
E: Hello, you must be Nick. I'm Ed.
N: Hi Ed. Nice to meet you. Thanks for coming to get me.
E: No problem. How was your flight?
N: It was okay – I watched a couple of movies and listened to my music. I'm really excited to be here in London. I love travelling and meeting new people.
E: Me too. I've got loads of friends and they want to meet you.

N: Really? That's cool! What do you and your friends usually do in your free time?
E: We spend a lot of time watching films and listening to music. I'm into reggae, hip-hop and rap – I don't really like rock or heavy metal.
N: Me neither. Do you have any brothers or sisters?
E: I've just got one sister. She's a model.
N: Is she?
E: Yes, but she doesn't live at home.
N: Oh. I've got a sister too – she's training to be a pilot.
E: Wow, that's interesting. Okay, here's our train – let's go.

R: Kate? Hi, I'm Rachel.
K: Oh hi.
R: Did you have a good trip?
K: Yes, it was fine, thanks.
R: Great, let's wait over here. My dad is meeting us. Would you like a drink of something while we wait? Tea?
K: Oh no thanks, I'm not very keen on tea.
R: Really? I love it. I drink it all day. So, is this your first visit to England?
K: Yes, it is. I don't like travelling.
R: Don't you? Oh, I do – I want to go round the world. What do you like doing in your free time?
K: I'm really into sport – I do boxing and I play soccer for my school.
R: Wow, that's interesting. I'm terrible at sport. I'm more interested in music. I play drums in a band. What sort of music do you like?
K: I'm into classical music. I play the violin.
R: Do you? Right … Do you like shopping for clothes? There are some great shops near my house.
K: I can't afford to spend money on clothes. I'm saving to buy a new pair of boxing gloves.
R: Boxing gloves? Oh … Um. Oh look, there's dad. Dad!

B = Boy G = Girl

B: I've got thousands of songs on my phone.
G: Have you?
G: Cool!

G: I love Spanish and Italian food.
B: Really?
B: Do you?

G: My parents have got an apartment in Paris.
B: Wow, that's interesting!
B: Have they?

G: There are forty students in my class.
B: Are there?
B: Really?

G: I can play the guitar.
B: Cool!
B: Can you?

B: I'm passionate about politics.
G: Really?
G: Are you?

1.22 Exercise 5, page 14

B = Boy G = Girl

B: I'm worried about the world.
G: Are you? I'm not.

G: I'm not worried about the world.
B: Me neither.

G: I love reading poetry.
B: Me too.

G: I don't like reading poetry.
B: Don't you? I do.

B: I've got lots of cousins.
G: Me too.

G: I haven't got any cousins.
B: Haven't you? I have.

Focus Review 1

1.23 Exercise 7, page 17

R = Reporter T = Tony

R: Welcome to our weekly programme in which we meet young people who have been actively involved in some unique experiments. Today I've invited Tony Miller, a psychology student from Zurich. Good morning, Tony.
T: Good morning.
R: What kind of experiment did you take part in?
T: Well, I joined a team of university researchers as a volunteer. We wanted to find out why some rich people are happy about their lives and some are not. We focused on those parts of the brain which deal with making decisions and feelings. We discovered that …
R: … Let me interrupt you here… How many people did you invite to take part in your experiment and what were their tasks?
T: So, at the beginning, fifty participants received a sum of money. One group could spend the money only on their own needs or luxuries and the other on someone they knew – it could be a relative, a neighbour, it was their own decision. We observed how the parts of their brains communicated when they were making their decisions. We also asked the participants how happy they were before, during and after the experiment …
R: … and I guess their answers depended on how they'd spent their money.
T: Exactly. Those who'd spent the money on their own pleasures, were not happy at all. But the people in the generous group felt happy at every stage of the experiment, from getting money to giving someone a gift.
R: So, what does the experiment suggest?
T: Well, it shows that people who are doing something for others are happier than those who are selfish and think only about their own needs. That's it.
R: It would explain why most people prefer giving presents to receiving them. I hope your experiment will inspire young people to be more active in charities and do voluntary work, because, as you say, …
R&T: … generous people live happier lives!

Unit 2 Science and technology

2.1 Vocabulary

1.24 Exercise 3, page 18

N = Narrator P = Presenter

N: Here are the answers to the Science and Technology Quiz

Part one

P: The first web browser – called Mosaic – appeared in 1993, soon after the invention of the Internet.
The first search engine was created in 1990. It was called Archie.
The first laser printers were put on sale in 1977 – a long time before personal computers and smartphones.
The first desktop computer with keyboard and mouse was in 1984.
The first smartphone was in 1994. It was made by IBM and it cost $899.
And for the final bonus question – Apple Macintosh was the company that made the first computer with a mouse.

Part two

P: Nicolaus Copernicus was an astronomer and mathematician. He developed the theory that the Earth moves around the Sun.
Isaac Newton was a physicist and mathematician. He did research into gravity, light and many areas of physics, maths and astronomy.
Charles Darwin was a biologist. He observed nature. He took notes and measurements and collected specimens from around the world.
Marie Skłodowska-Curie was a physicist and chemist. She did experiments with radioactive materials and discovered polonium and radium.
Alan Turing was a computer scientist. He invented the idea of a 'Universal Machine' or a computer in 1936.
And for a bonus question – it was Marie Skłodowska-Curie who won two Nobel prizes.

Part three

P: One is false. Einstein did not fail Mathematics at school. He was good at Maths.
Two is true. An earthquake can make the Earth turn faster and therefore make the day a little shorter.
Three is false. The two sides of the brain are connected and always work together.
And for a bonus question – the answer is 100 percent! Your whole brain is active at all times.

1.25 Exercise 4, page 19

Part two

1
Marie Sklodowska-Curie was a physicist and chemist. She did experiments with radioactive materials and discovered polonium and radium.

Isaac Newton was a physicist and mathematician. He did research into gravity, light and many areas of physics, maths and astronomy.

Alan Turing was a computer scientist. He invented the idea of a 'Universal Machine' or a computer in 1936.

4
Nicolaus Copernicus was an astronomer and mathematician. He developed the theory that the Earth moves around the Sun.

Charles Darwin was a biologist. He observed nature. He took notes and measurements and collected specimens from around the world.

J: Hello! My name's Jessica. Every week I go out and interview people in the streets and put the video on my vlog.
Today I'm vlogging about problems with technology. When was the last time you had a problem with technology?

L: The last time I had a problem with technology was probably last week on holiday when my... See if it's technology … So like when my Internet wouldn't work in America.

C: Erm …, probably just the other day. Erm …, my phone wasn't working very well, I couldn't hear my friends. Volume wasn't working.

Ja: Yes, I had, it was actually just the other day. I have these speakers at home and they were just making a random popping noise, like a 'pop' for no reason. And it took me a long time to figure out how and why.

J: What were you doing when this happened?

L: So … The Internet wasn't working on holiday when I was in the car. So we were travelling. And then I had to wait until I got to the hotel to be able to get onto the WiFi so that I could book the next hotel for the whole journey.

C: I was out at a festival with my friends and I was trying to get in contact with them and it just didn't work. Whether the music was too loud or whether the phone wasn't working, you know.

Ja: Yeah, I was just relaxing at home, listening to some music and the speakers just started popping.

J: And when was the last time you had a problem with technology?

2.3 Listening

1
Nobody's surprised that I studied languages – my father's an English teacher and my mother's a translator. At high school, my best subjects were Spanish and German, but I wanted to know more about the nature of language and communication. So I studied linguistics and computer science at university. I'm interested in artificial intelligence – I've just published my first research paper on robots and how they communicate.

I work with people who have new ideas about energy sources, like solar and wind power. We're doing research into climate change and trying to discover new ways to produce energy. I want to study ways of protecting the environment using modern technology. This is important work for the future of the planet.

I always want to understand why people do what they do – why do they behave that way? What are they thinking? I'm interested in how we develop from birth to the age of seven. Those seven years are the most important years for the psychological development of a child. I love doing research and analysing data. When I finish my studies, I want to work in a children's hospital.

I became interested in archaeology when we were studying ancient Egypt and mummies in school. It was fascinating. When I was fourteen, my class took a school trip to Paris and we visited the famous museum, the Louvre. I spent hours in the Egyptian room and decided that I wanted to know more about people who lived thousands of years ago.

The first time I went scuba diving, I saw a little fish swimming away into the distance, and at that moment I thought 'Oh yes, that's what I want to do – I want to explore oceans, collect evidence about global warming and help to protect marine life.' I love my work – I can't understand why everybody isn't doing my job.

Okay everyone. Thank you for coming to this talk about jobs in Antarctica. We're looking for all kinds of scientists to study sea-life, space and the weather. We work long hours and we work six days a week.
In winter, it's dark for six months. That's right – in a year in Antarctica, you have one day and one night. This is difficult for most people – you need to be a special kind of person to work here.
Are you the sort of person who needs their own space? Don't come to Antarctica – here, we live in very small accommodation.
Are you fit and healthy? We have a few doctors here, and a small hospital, but the nearest main hospital is 2,800 miles away and in winter nobody can leave Antarctica. This is not a job for a person who's worried about their health.
What about salary? Your job in Antarctica won't be the best paid one in the world, but it could lead to other interesting opportunities.
Antarctica is amazing, but we work hard and the daily routine is not exciting. These are jobs for people who care about the environment and want to make a difference.

C = Chris G = Granddad

C: Granddad, how did you communicate with your friends before phones?
G: Before phones? How old do you think I am? We used to have a phone in our house.
C: One phone for everybody?
G: Yes. It was in the sitting room.
C: How did you use to text?
G: We didn't text. Text messaging didn't exist then.
C: What? I send at least thirty texts a day! How did you use to make arrangements with your friends?
G: We used to talk on the phone.
C: In the sitting room? That's not very private, is it?
G: Well, we used to have our private conversations when we saw one another.
C: So all your friends used to live near you, did they?
G: My best friends lived near me, yes. I also had a pen friend in France and we used to write letters.
C: Letters! I can't imagine life without the Internet. When you were young, everything used to be so slow!
G: Hmm, but we didn't know anything different.
C: But what did you use to do before mobile phones and social networking?
G: We used to cycle to one another's houses, go into town and buy records. We used to meet at people's houses – I remember my mother used to get really annoyed with all my friends in my bedroom. She used to tell us to turn the music down.
C: Have you got any photos of your friends?
G: Er, no I haven't, actually. My mum and dad bought me a camera for my sixteenth birthday but I never used it. These days it's so easy taking photos with a digital camera, but we didn't have them then.
C: How many friends did you use to have?
G: Oh, only five or six good ones.
C: Five or six! Do you know how many online friends I've got?
G: A hundred?
C: Six hundred and thirty-nine
G: And how many do you see regularly?
C: Oh … five or six …
G: There you are – things haven't changed much at all.

2.6 Use of English

1.41 Exercises 1 and 2, page 25

M = Man W = Woman

W: Have you heard of human computers?
M: Human computers? You mean robots?
W: No, not robots. Human computers were real people. During the 1950s and 60s, people did the kind of work computers do now. NASA, the space laboratory in the United States, employed a lot of these people. They were brilliant mathematicians.
M: Hm, that's interesting.
W: But the most interesting thing is – they were all women, and some of them, African American women. Have you heard of the film Hidden Figures?
M: Er, maybe. What's it about?
W: It's about three brilliant women. During the late 1950s, NASA were working on a project to send the first man into space. Three African American women were working there as human computers. But while they were working on this important project, they had to use separate bathrooms and dining rooms, and they were paid less than white employees. This kind of segregation continued until the mid-1960s.
M: That's shocking. What happened to these women?
W: One of them is still alive. Katherine Johnson worked at NASA for thirty-three years. She made big changes for women during her time there. When the film Hidden Figures came out, she met the actress who played her. Then, she went to the 2017 Oscars. She was ninety-eight years old. As soon as she arrived, everyone stood up and cheered.

1.41 Exercise 5, page 25

When Katherine Johnson was a child, she was a maths genius. When she was only fourteen, she went to university to study Maths. While she was studying at university, her Maths professor told her she should become a research mathematician. As soon as she graduated from university she became a teacher. During the 1940s she got married and had children. She didn't become a research mathematician until she was thirty-five. She got a job as a 'computer' with NASA. Katherine was different from other 'computers' – while she was at NASA, she asked a lot of questions. Before Katherine Johnson started work at NASA, only men went to important meetings. She changed that!

T: It was really good thanks … except for the day I nearly died.
L: What happened?
T: I was doing some climbing. At first the sun was shining and I was enjoying myself. But all of a sudden the weather changed. It became really foggy and I couldn't see the path.
L: Oh dear, that sounds frightening.
T: I was pretty worried. I continued for a while, but finally I realised I was lost.
L: What did you do?
T: Fortunately, I had my phone with me so I called my father – 9,000 miles away in England! He called the Australian police and told them where I was. Then they called me. Unfortunately, my battery went dead after five seconds. It was dark and cold. I sat under a rock, put on my torch and waited.
L: Oh no, what a nightmare!
T: Eventually, they found me. I was so relieved. I used to go climbing on my own all the time, but I'll never do it again.

Lucy: Humans is the best TV series ever. I watched it on my laptop, and sometimes on my phone. I watched the first series, with eight episodes and I watched them all very quickly. It was so gripping. Once I watched three episodes one after the other. It's a science-fiction drama about intelligent robots called synths. The setting is a city in Britain where synths are part of everyday life. Synths look like humans and can do lots of different jobs. Joe Hawkins decides to buy a synth to help around the house. But the Hawkins family soon realise that there is something strange about their new synth Anita – something not quite right. As the storyline develops, we learn that there may be a group of synths who are more than just robots or gadgets. In fact, it becomes clear that all the humans on earth may be in danger. What I like most are the characters. The story develops quite slowly so you get to know the characters very well. The acting is brilliant, particularly the synth actors. I can't wait to watch the second series.

Shakespeare wrote thirty-seven plays. Romeo and Juliet is the most popular, but Hamlet is the longest, and the most challenging for actors. In fact, with over 30,000 words Hamlet is much longer than Romeo and Juliet, which has around 24,500 words.
Both Mariah Carey and Christina Aguilera are very successful pop singers with great voices. Christina Aguilera has an amazing vocal range of four octaves. But Mariah Carey's vocal range is even better – an impressive five octaves.
The five-day Glastonbury festival in England is huge! It attracts 175,000 people. But it isn't as big as Summerfest USA. Summerfest is an eleven-day festival and it attracts over a million people, making it the world's biggest pop festival.
There have been many best-selling albums over the years including Back in Black by AC/DC, Led Zeppelin IV and Adele's albums 21 and 25, but the best-selling album ever is Thriller by Michael Jackson.
How many people visit museums in your country? Seven million people visit the Palace Museum in Beijing, China, every year. But the Musée du Louvre in Paris is busier. It gets eight and a half million visitors per year.
The Harry Potter films were all very expensive to make, but Pirates of the Caribbean – On Stranger Tides was more expensive than any of them. It had a huge budget of nearly $380 million.

K = Katy P = Presenter

P: It's two thirty on Saturday afternoon, and you're listening to the Culture Programme. In this part of the programme, we invite a guest to talk about their 'Artist of the Week'. This week, we have Katy West in the studio. Katy is the Editor of Photo Monthly Magazine. Welcome to the Culture Programme.
K: Thank you.
P: Katy, tell us about your Artist of the Week.
K: My Artist of the Week is a French photographer. He takes photographs and makes them enormous. Then he pastes them in public places.
P: Does he have a name?
K: Ah, well, he's called JR. These are his initials, but his full name is a secret. This is because most of the work he does is not legal.
P: So what kind of photographs does he take, and where can we see them?
K: He takes black and white portraits of people and pastes them on buildings, walls and bridges. He has had exhibitions in museums such as the Pompidou Centre in Paris, but his favourite art gallery is in the street. He wants people who don't usually go to museums to see his work.
He often takes photographs of people with difficult lives. For example, he wanted to bring the story of Native Americans to New York, and so he pasted an enormous black and white photo of a Native American on a wall in Manhattan.

In Brazil, he went to a famous favela in Rio. He pasted photographs of the women on the houses they live in. The eyes of the portraits look towards the centre of Rio – it's a powerful message that says 'Don't forget about us.' This was part of his 'Women are Heroes' project which gives women a unique chance to tell their story to the world.
He likes to paste portraits of ordinary people in unusual locations. For example, he pasted thousands of photos on the dome of a famous monument in Paris, the Pantheon.

P: Thank you, Katy. JR sounds like a fascinating artist …

O: Well, I recently went to see The Lion King musical at one of the theatres at West End. And it was pretty exciting. I went with my girlfriend, so that was a nice day out. And then we went to the Harry Potter exhibition in the area as well. So that was good.

E: Recently … Well I just went to carnival actually. I went to carnival not yesterday, the day before, on Monday. That was a great, great day!

C: Last week we went to see a musical, which was really good.

J: What did you like about it?

O: Well, seeing the musical, seeing the costumes ... Em, yeah … The songs were really very well-performed. I just like going to the theatre. Anyway, it's pretty good fun.

E: I think it was … Actually that all cultures of walks of life come together, and actually just have a massive party which is always the best thing.

B = Boy G = Girl M = Man W = Woman

G: That was amazing. The soundtrack was beautiful.

B: Yes, the soundtrack was good but the storyline was really depressing.

G: Mm, it was sad, but the ending was okay.

B: Was it? I think I fell asleep. It was too long for me.

W: Wow, that was brilliant.

M: It was! I thought the actors performed very well.

W: Yes, but the man sang better than the woman. Her voice wasn't loud enough.

M: That's true, but her dancing was really good.

W: We should do this more often.

M: Maybe, but the tickets were so expensive.

B: There were far too many people in there!

G: Yes, well it is a new exhibition.

B: I didn't like the sculptures. I prefer paintings.

G: Did you see the Picasso?

B: Yes, but the room was too crowded to see it properly.

G: Oh well, let's come back when there are fewer people.

B: Hi, how was last night?

G: It was really good but we got home too late. I'm so tired this morning.

B: What time did it finish?

G Well, it started late and finished at midnight.

B: Midnight? That's not late for a gig! You're very lucky to see Beyoncé.

G: I know, she was absolutely brilliant, but she didn't sing enough hits.

2.3 Exercises 3 and 4, page 42

In this photo I can see a street artist drawing a portrait on the pavement. In the background there are some people watching him. They're wearing shorts and T-shirts, so I think it's summer. The street is quite crowded, so perhaps this is a tourist area. The street artist has got dark hair and he's wearing jeans and a bright green T-shirt. He looks quite young. Next to him is a picture and he's copying it. In my opinion, he's a very good artist. I imagine he's going to collect money from the people who are watching him. Personally, I'd give him some money because I think he's done a good job.

Photo A

In this photo there are some young people at a music festival. I think it's summer because some people are wearing sunglasses and baseball hats. In the middle of the picture there's a girl on a man's shoulders. She's wearing stripey trousers, a blue top and lots of bracelets. She looks very happy and I think she's moving her arms to the music. In the background there's a stage and I think a band is playing. The general atmosphere in the photo is happy and excited because people are smiling and some people have their arms in the air. Personally, I don't like crowded places. I prefer listening to music on my phone.

Photo B

This picture shows a room in an art gallery. In the background there's a red wall and on the wall is a classical painting of a woman and some children. There's a woman standing in front of the painting, and two people sitting on a seat, also in front of the painting. In the foreground there are three children. I imagine they're about nine or ten years old. Maybe they're with the woman in the background. They're wearing jeans and hoodies, so I imagine it's spring or autumn, or maybe it's cold in the art gallery. I don't think they're interested in the paintings, and they look bored. They're playing on their phones. Personally, I think they're too young to enjoy this exhibition.

Unit 4 Home sweet home

4.1 Vocabulary

2.5 Exercise 3, page 47

D = Dan L = Lucy

D: I was in Warsaw last week – what a great city!
L: Did you have time to visit?
D: A little. I stayed in the city centre – I love the contrast between the historic buildings and the modern ones. I saw one amazing building. It's in a tiny space between an old brick building and a block of flats made of concrete.
L: Oh, what sort of building is it?
D: At first it was an art project. The official name is Keret House but people call it the Narrowest House in the World.
L: How narrow is it?
D: Just a minute, I've got the information here. Let's see. It says 'the metal and glass structure is only 92 centimetres at the narrowest point and 152 centimetres wide at its widest point'. That's not very wide!
L: Does somebody actually live there?
D: Sometimes. It's a place where visiting writers can live and work. The first person to stay there was the writer Etgar Keret and that's why it's called Keret House. He says that Keret House is similar to his stories – small but complete.
L: Does it have a bathroom and kitchen?
D: Yes, here, look at the plan. It has everything one person needs. On the ground floor, there's a kitchen with a tiny fridge, a toilet and a shower. There's a ladder to the upstairs bedroom. There is plenty of natural light.
L: It's very cosy!
D: Yes, but I think I'd rather live in a spacious, open-plan flat myself!

2.8 Exercise 9, page 47

I = Interviewer S1 = Speaker 1 S2 = Speaker 2 S3 = Speaker 3

I: Excuse me. Would you like to live in Keret House?
S1: Well, I can see the advantages – it's in a very good location in the centre of the city. But it's not very practical, is it? How can you do the washing and the ironing? There's no space to hang up clothes. And I love making dinner for my friends, but you can only have two people in that kitchen. Also, in that tiny kitchen there's no dishwasher. I hate doing the washing-up, so no, I don't think I could live there.

I: Excuse me. Would you like to live in Keret House?
S2: Yes, I'd really like to live there. I'm from a big family, and I have younger sisters and brothers who make a lot of noise – they shout and scream and play crazy games with their friends. I'd be very happy living alone in Keret House. It's so small that my sisters and brothers couldn't come round and make a mess. I'd have a peaceful and quiet life.

I: Excuse me. Would you like to live in Keret House?
S3: I think it's a fantastic design, and I can imagine staying there for one or two nights. But I couldn't live there all the time. I like space. In such a small space, where can you put your things? When I do the shopping I usually buy loads of things, but there are no cupboards. Personally, I'd rather live in the country. I love doing the gardening and going for long walks.

C: I've been a member for three years now. Since I became a member, I've stayed in thirty-two countries in different types of accommodation. I've slept in a luxury studio apartment in Manhattan, on a houseboat in Amsterdam and in a basement flat in London – all for free!
H: I've been a couchsurfing host for two years now and I've already met more than thirty people. At the moment Miki is visiting from Tokyo. I've only known her for a week but I'm sure we'll remain friends. Miki is happy too – she's studied English for ten years, but she's never had the chance to speak with a native speaker before. She has been here for nearly a week, but she hasn't felt homesick because she says I make her feel at home.

O: I live in Oxford. I live in a terraced house. It's three storeys. I live with four other guys. We all study at university together.
E: I live in a four-bedroom flat with a garden. It's fairly big and it's very nice.
A: I live in a medium-sized house that has six bedrooms. It has quite a large garden with chickens in. And also a front garden, drive. And it's opposite a park.
M: My house in London is quite small. I have one room, small kitchen. It's four floors, but lots of colours. Lots and lots of colours.
J: How long have you lived there?
O: I've lived in my house since September last year. So for about a … going on for a year now.
E: I've lived in my flat for fifteen years.
A: I have lived there since I was eight years old.
M: So since last September.
J: And where do you live?

4.3 Listening

2.12 Exercises 2 and 3, page 49

I have a big family – there are seven of us in this house, and we're all very noisy people. It's okay when you're feeling sociable, but sometimes I want to be on my own and have some quiet time. So I shut my bedroom door, put my headphones on and listen to music or chat with my friends. I have a sign on the door that says 'Keep Out' and it's not just for my parents. My brothers and sisters are not welcome either. I don't let anybody in. My room is a calm place for me to get away from other people.

I like my room to be clean and tidy but, unfortunately, it's my sister's room too, and she's very disorganised. She says it's because she's artistic, and artistic people are untidy! I think she's just lazy. When we were younger, it was fun because we used to play together and chat until midnight. But now she doesn't spend much time at home – she's older than me and she has a really good social life. I stay in a lot. So I have the room to myself most of the time.

3

I think my room reflects my personality. My parents let me decorate it in my favourite colour, so I painted the walls black and put different coloured lights everywhere. I love making things – I use my room as a kind of studio. I paint, write music lyrics. On my computer, I make music mixes and create light shows to go with them. It's awesome. When my friends have a party, they always ask me to do the music.

4

I like my room but there isn't much furniture – just a desk, a wardrobe and a bed. I've got a couple of posters of my favourite artists on the wall – Klimt and Picasso. I don't really spend much time there. I'm very sporty, so I'm usually out playing football or at the gym. When I'm at home, I either watch television in the sitting room or I have meals with the rest of my family in the kitchen. I usually use my desk in my room for my studies, or sometimes I study downstairs.

My room isn't anything special but for some reason my friends really like coming round here. I think it's because my parents are cool – well, they're usually at work so it's just my grandmother here, and she can't hear very well. So we can make lots of noise and play music really loud. My room is a kind of meeting place for all my friends – we chat, play computer games and decide what to do at the weekend.

2.13 Exercises 5 and 6, page 49

D = Dafydd K = Karen N = Narrator

N: Dafydd

D: Okay, I'm going to give you a little tour of my bedroom and tell you about three things – three of my most treasured possessions. So let's start over here. On my desk there are two screens – my laptop and my TV. My laptop is the first of my most treasured possessions. I've only had it for two weeks – it was a birthday present. I love it – it can do everything. Over there, in the corner next to the bookcase is my guitar. It's really old – I've had it for about five years but it was my dad's before. He gave it to me for my eleventh birthday. Finally, on the wall above my bed I've got a flag – it's the Welsh flag. My family are from Wales and I'm proud of being Welsh, so that's really important.

N: Karen

K: So welcome to my bedroom. I want to show you my three most treasured possessions. That's my wardrobe over there, and on top of it there is my collection of animals. They're fluffy toys and I've had them since I was a baby. The big lion is probably my favourite, but I love them all. Next to my bed there's a bedside table, and my favourite bedside lamp is on it. It's special to me because my father brought it back from Africa. Opposite my bed you can see my bookshelves – they're full of magazines, books and DVDs. But on the bottom shelf, I've got a collection of shells – these are very important to me because they are souvenirs from all the holidays I've had since I was five years old.

L = Luisa T = Tony

T: I'm having a birthday party on the twenty-fifth. Can you come?

L: That's next Saturday, right? Yes, that sounds great. Are you having it at home?

T: No, our apartment isn't big enough. I'm using my aunt and uncle's house. They're really nice – they say it's fine.

L: That's kind of them – do they know how many friends you've got?

T: Not yet. I'm going to tell them later. We'll probably use the basement. It's huge.

L: A basement? Are you going to decorate it?

T: I suppose so. I'm not very good at that sort of thing.

L: Don't worry I'll help you. What are you doing later?

T: I'm going to text everybody with the invitation now, but after that I'm free.

2.22 Exercise 4, page 52

A = Aunt T = Tony U = Uncle

T: Two of my friends are helping me prepare the room on Saturday afternoon. We're going to hang sheets on the walls and the ceiling. Then we're going to put coloured lights everywhere. We're having a band and a DJ from eight to midnight. I've already booked them.

A: Okay, I think I'll warn the neighbours!

T: We've decided to have a fancy dress theme – everybody is coming as their favourite film character.

U: Oh good, I think I'll come as Captain Jack Sparrow!

A No, we're going out to the theatre, remember? I told you yesterday.

U: I know, I was joking. Now, what are you going to eat?

T: That's all arranged. Mum is making some pizzas.

A: And what about the cleaning the next day?

T: Oh, erm … Don't worry, I'll do that with my friend Luisa. She won't mind!

4.6 Use of English

2.23 Exercises 2 and 3, page 53

G = Girl R = Robbie

G: What are you doing for the long weekend?

R: I'm not sure. I can't make my mind up. I could stay with my mum in Paris or I could go and see my dad. He's staying with my grandparents on a farm.

G: Paris, wow. I didn't know your mum lived in Paris.

R: She doesn't live there. She works for a big international company and they do a lot of business in France. But she doesn't speak French very well. My French is pretty bad but even I speak better than she does! So she's doing a French course there. She's staying in a really cool apartment near the Louvre.

G: That sounds amazing. Have you been there before?

R: Yes, I've been there a few times. When I go there, I stay up late, get up late and then just eat all the time – the food is pretty amazing. Apart from that,

I find Paris rather boring. My mum is completely obsessed with shopping and art museums.
G: That sounds perfect to me! What will you do at your dad's?
R: I'll go fishing, play my guitar, hang out.
G: But that sounds extremely boring. I don't think you'll have fun on a farm in the middle of nowhere. Everybody goes to bed really early, especially on a farm. Time goes unbelievably slowly in the country – I can't stand it.
R: Yes, it's a bit quiet. But I quite like being in the country … and luckily I know someone in the village.
G: Ah right. Is that someone a girl by any chance?
R: Yes. I went horse-riding last time I was there, and she works at the stables. She's a little shy, but I think I'll go and stay on the farm and get to know her a bit better.
G: Can I go and stay with your mum in Paris, then?

A = Ann M = Marcus
A: What shall we do today?
M: Why don't we go to the London Dungeon? My sister went there last year and she says it's really scary.
A: Oh, I don't really like scary things. I'd rather go to Madame Tussauds.
M: Oh okay. Let's go to Madame Tussauds this morning then. What about this afternoon? It's a nice day, so how about going on the London Eye? I really want to see the views of London.
A: That's a good idea. Then we could go on a speedboat on the River Thames.
M: Hmm, I'm not sure about that. It's very expensive.
A: Oh yes. You're right. I need my money to buy souvenirs! I think we should go shopping on Oxford Street.
M: Oxford Street? No, let's go to Camden Market instead. It's more fun.
A: Oh yes, that sounds great. I want to buy some clothes.
M: Yes, me too. Do you fancy going to the theatre this evening?
A: Yes, let's go to Shakespeare's Globe. Tickets are quite cheap. Standing tickets only cost five pounds.
M: Good idea. But right now I'm starving. Let's have something to eat.

2.26 Exercise 4, page 56

A: Do you fancy going to the cinema tonight?
B: That's a good idea! What do you want to see?
A: The new film with Jennifer Aniston.
B: Oh no, I'm not keen on romantic comedy. I'd rather see an action film.
A: Okay, let's see the new James Bond instead.
B: Great. How about having a burger before we go?
A: Why not! We could try that new burger bar in town.

Focus Review 4

1
I don't want to live in the suburbs all my life. Now I'm still at school and everybody knows that education in the suburbs is usually better. City schools are usually overcrowded and classes are bigger, which causes discipline problems and lowers the level of teaching. But I'd like to become a doctor so I'll have to leave to study at university. And I don't know if I'll come back to work as a doctor here.

2
I've lived in the suburbs since I was born. I used to love it when I was younger – so much space to run, everything I needed was nearby. Now I work in the city centre so I spend two hours a day driving to and from work. I am completely dependent on my car because the public transport here is rather poor. Everybody says living in the suburbs is cheaper than in the city, but if you add the cost of transportation, it is more expensive than it seems.

3
According to our recent survey, people living in the suburbs are happier than those living in cities. We asked the residents about different aspects of living in their areas, for example: job opportunities, cost of living, a place to raise children, cultural activities and many others. Over 75 percent of people from the suburbs gave their community a high rating, which is a larger percentage than any other community type.

Are you looking for a family-friendly house in the peaceful suburbs, far from the noise of the city? We offer you a perfectly located detached house with a large kitchen, an open-plan living room, four bedrooms, two bathrooms and a garage. There are both north and south balconies with amazing views. And the three-acre garden is an ideal place for children. For more information, email us at info@dreamhouse.com or give us a call at 8888088341 …

Unit 5 Time to learn

5.1 Vocabulary

2.28 Exercises 4 and 5, page 61

MS = Mrs Smith P = Presenter
P: This is your local news station with some very good news for teenagers. Are you a teenager who hates getting up early? Do you skip lessons because you can't get out of bed? Have you ever dropped a subject because you simply don't have the energy to study? Well, the good news is … you're not lazy! Scientists have found a reason why you can't get up early. Here to tell us about it is Head Teacher, June Smith. Mrs Smith, I believe you've changed your school timetable. Can you tell us something about that?
MS: Yes, certainly. As head teacher of a secondary school, I noticed that my pupils were often sleepy. Now, it could be because my lessons are boring! But it isn't just that. They simply weren't sleeping enough.
P: Is it because you set too much homework and they were up all night finishing it so they could hand it in in the morning?
MS: Hahaha, maybe. But according to scientists, there's a hormone, melatonin, that makes you sleepy, and teenagers get the sleepy hormone two hours later than adults. This means they go to bed later, and they should sleep later. But when school begins at 8.30, they have to get up early to go to school.

P: So what's the solution?
MS: Well, my solution is to start school at eleven o'clock in the morning.
P: And has it made a difference?
MS: Absolutely. We changed the timetable a year ago, and the results are amazing. In the past, students regularly skipped the first two or three lessons, and the ones who managed to arrive on time couldn't concentrate because they were so sleepy. It's very difficult to pay attention in class if your body wants to be asleep. Now, students can wake up naturally and sleep long enough.
P: What about the quality of their work? Have you seen any change?
MS: This year exam results improved by 19 percent. When you've had enough sleep, you don't make so many mistakes, and your memory improves too.
P: But what happens when they leave school and get a job? Most jobs start early.
MS: That won't be a problem – it's only teenagers who need to go to bed late and get up late. In your twenties, your body clock goes back to normal!

2.32 Exercises 2 and 4, page 62

D = Dad M = Mum
D: Has Ricky spoken to you about going travelling?
M: You mean travelling to South America next year?
D: Yes! He says he doesn't want to go to university. He wants to go travelling!
M: I know.
D: Well, the answer is no!
M: But if he goes to South America next year, he'll go to university the year after.
D: Oh come on … If Ricky doesn't go to university this year, he'll never go.
M: Well, that's not …
D: And … if he doesn't go to university, he won't get a decent job.
M: That's not true – you didn't go to university and …
D: It was different then. There were more jobs and less unemployment. And anyway, I regret it.
M: I know you do, and I know that's why you want Ricky to go. But travelling is a good education too. He'll get a lot out of it if he goes to South America. He'll learn new languages for example.
D: He'll waste a year if he goes travelling! He'll do bungee jumps and get a tattoo if he does a gap year! Why do you think it's a good idea? He's so young. If he goes away on his own, he'll get into trouble. He's never been anywhere on his own before.
M: That's exactly why I think he should go. He's eighteen years old. If he doesn't do anything on his own, he'll never be independent.
D: Well, I don't know. I still think he should go to university first. I need more time to think about this …

2.33 Exercises 5 and 6, page 62

E = Emily R = Ricky
E: How did your parents react when you told them about South America?
R: Oh, errr, sort of okay.
E: Ah, not very well then.
R: Well, my mum's okay, but my dad wants me to go to university. You know what he thinks – if I go travelling, I won't go to university when I come back.
E: Oh dear. Did you tell them about Cristina?
R: No way. I can't tell them I'm going to South America to see a girl! If I tell them the truth, they definitely won't let me go.
E: Oh, so why do they think you want to go then?
R: I told them I want to learn Spanish.
E: But Cristina's Brazilian, isn't she? You won't learn any Spanish if you visit her!
R: Oh yeah. They speak Portuguese in Brazil, don't they? Well, I just said I wanted to learn languages. But if my dad doesn't agree, I won't be able to go.
E: Right. Oh well, don't worry. If your mum thinks it's a good idea, she'll probably convince your dad.
R: What? Oh, yes, I suppose so.

5.3 Listening

2.34 Exercises 2 and 4, page 63

G = Grace T = Tom
G: Hi Tom. Are you coming out with us tonight?
T: Oh no, I can't. I'm revising for exams. I need to learn fifty French verbs by heart tonight.
G: But the exams don't start until next month.
T: I know, but I get really nervous about exams. If I don't revise every night, I'll get stressed.
G: I don't know why you're so worried. You always get good marks in class.
T: I know, but that's different. In exams, I panic. And I really want to get good grades for my A levels. I want to get into a good university.
G: Listen, you need to take it easy. If you continue like this, you'll get ill.
T: Well, what can I do?
G: Okay, first you need to make a revision timetable. If you make a timetable, you'll see that you have plenty of time to do everything.
T: Um, yeah, that's quite a good idea.
G: And I think you spend too much time alone – sometimes it's good to study with other people.
T: Is it? I'm not so sure. They might know more than I do!
G: You're so negative.
T: Well, it's okay for you, you don't get nervous.
G: Of course I get nervous. But I try to be positive. For example, before an exam, I imagine myself in the exam – I know all the answers, and I pass the exam with the best marks.
T: Hm. It's true, I'm not very confident.
G: Also, you need to take breaks from time to time – go out and enjoy yourself. If you study all the time, you'll get exhausted. So you're coming out with us tonight.
T: Oh, am I? Okay, but if I fail my exams, I'll blame you.

2.35 Exercise 6, page 63

Good afternoon, year twelve. Next year, year thirteen, is your last year at secondary school. Next year, you'll apply for a place at university. But which university? Of course we'll help you to choose the best university for you, but today I'm going to give you some general information to think about.
You can apply to five different universities. So think about where you would like to live, and then go online and read about the different universities. You'll find all the information you need to make your five choices. The universities will offer you a place depending on you're A-level grades.

You'll take your A-level exams in June. Most of you will take three or four A levels and if you get good grades, you'll get into university.
If you are likely to get excellent grades at A-level, why not apply to Oxford or Cambridge University? You'll have to take a special entrance exam, so it's a good idea to have extra lessons to prepare for it.
Last year nearly 600,000 students applied for a place at university in the UK. 200,000 of those were not successful. The competition is strong, and you may not get into the university of your choice this year.
Perhaps you'd like to study abroad. Recently, university tuition fees in the UK have increased – in most places you have to pay £9,000 a year. More and more people are now thinking about doing a degree overseas. It can work out cheaper and a lot of foreign universities teach their courses in English. So you don't have to worry about the language.
Finally, some good news. When they graduate from university, 89.9 percent of people find a job. So work hard and do your best to get into university next year. Now, we just have time for a few questions. Yes?

J: Hello! My name's Jessica. Every week I go out and interview people in the streets and put the video on my vlog.
Today I'm vlogging about studying. Can you describe a perfect student?
C: A perfect student is a student that wants to learn and puts a lot of effort in.
O: A perfect student … A perfect student is someone who isn't afraid to spend lots of long hours in a library reading lots of big books.
M: The perfect student is somebody who is a happy person, who enjoys reading, who enjoys learning, and enjoys being with lots of people.
L: The perfect student is a person who has the right amount of balance between work and play. Someone who dedicates enough time to study in the week and then, maybe, has enough time to relax.
J: What's a perfect place to study?
C: Perfect place to study or work is probably a nice quiet environment, but somewhere where you feel comfortable so you can focus.
O: A perfect place to study would be a quiet place where you can easily get food and drink.
M: Somewhere where there is quiet, so you can concentrate, but also lots of snacks because studying takes a long time sometimes.
L: It's a place where you can find somewhere that's quiet. Somewhere where you can find an area where you can relax and focus on your own work. And maybe somewhere where you can relax at the same time. So a library would be a perfect place. But also if you're in your bedroom or something, that would be a great place as well.
J: And can you describe a perfect student?

I: I'm not coming. I don't want to be on the hockey team any more. I'm leaving.
M: But if you leave the team, we won't win our next match. Is this about losing last weekend?
I: No. Of course not. I want to do other things at the weekend. And I won't have time to do anything else unless I give up hockey.
M: But you love hockey. What other things do you want to do?
I: I don't know – have some fun. I never have any free time. As soon as I get home tonight, I'll change into my hockey kit and go to practice. I'm bored with it.
M: It's not every night.
I: Three times a week and every weekend!
M: What does Miss Temple think?
I: I haven't told her yet. I'll call her when I have a minute.
M: This is a mistake! You'll regret it if you stop now. Please talk to Miss Temple and the rest of the team first.
I: Okay, I promise. Before I decide, I'll discuss it with the rest of the team.

S = Susie T = Tom

T: Did you hear about Robert? He's leaving school because he wants to be an actor.
S: Really? I don't think it's a good idea. He hasn't done his A levels yet.
T: Hm, I see what you mean. But if he wants to be an actor, he doesn't need his A levels. Personally, I think he's doing the right thing.
S: Oh come on! That's nonsense. It's hard to be a successful actor. If he doesn't get an acting job immediately, he might need to get a proper job.
T: That's true, but he will get an acting job easily. He's really good-looking, he's a good actor, and he can sing!
S: I couldn't agree more! Robert's gorgeous, and very talented. But if you want to be an actor, talent isn't enough. You need to know somebody in the acting profession.
T: I'm not so sure. That's how it was in the past, but now it's different. If you ask me, you just need to be positive and believe in yourself.
S: That's a good point. Maybe I'm too negative. But Robert only has one more year before his A levels. I think he should do his A levels first.
T: I totally disagree! I really believe Robert should follow his dream. In my opinion, he's going to be really famous.

Unit 6 Just the job

6.1 Vocabulary

3.1 Exercises 4 and 5, page 74

A = Amy C = Chris E = Eva M = Marcus
P = Presenter

P: We interviewed four people who run very successful companies. We wanted to find out about the jobs they did before they became their own bosses and asked them about their worst work experiences. This is what they told us:

P: Eva

E: During my school holidays, I applied for a job in the women's clothes department of a department store. It was a badly-paid job and I worked long hours, but it was quite a creative job and in some ways I enjoyed it. Except for one thing – I didn't enjoy dealing with customers. They were so demanding. One woman reported me to the manager because I wanted to get her a bigger size. Well, she was a big woman! I almost got the sack for that, but instead they moved me to the furniture department. I hated it. I worked there for two weeks, and then I got fired.

P: Marcus

M: On Saturdays, I had a part-time job as a cleaner in an egg factory. I was responsible for the machines. I had to get under the machines and clean the old eggs off them. It wasn't a challenging job – anyone could do it – but I had to put up with that disgusting smell! It was so horrible that I stopped eating eggs. In fact, it put me off eggs for life! But I'm glad I did it because I was more motivated to pass my exams and get a better job.

P: Chris

C: My worst job was working in a supermarket warehouse. They took me on to work night shifts. It was a boring, repetitive job, and I had to stand for hours without a break. But that wasn't the worst thing. I had two managers – Manager A gave me a task to do, and then Manager B came up with a different task. At the end of the shift, I had two managers shouting at me for not doing my job well enough. I'm self-employed now – I rarely have a day off, but I'm so happy that nobody can tell me what to do.

P: Amy

A: I was a postwoman one Christmas. It was very tiring because I had to get up at 5 a.m. – you couldn't turn up for work one minute late. The weather was a bit of a problem but I like working outdoors. I had to knock at people's doors and some of them had really big dogs. But that wasn't the worst thing – I was much more frightened when I had to deal with their owners. People wanted to know why their mail was late – I found that really stressful. Now that I have my own company, I'm always really nice to the people who bring the post.

J: Hello! My name's Jessica. Every week I go out and interview people in the streets and put the video on my vlog. Today I'm talking about dream jobs. If you could have any job in the world, what would you want to be?

O: If I could have any job in the world, I would want to be a teacher because I really like being able to help people and give them a step forward in life.

Et: If I could have any job in the world, I would like to be the owner of Apple, the CEO, so I could have everything at my fingertips. A lot of wealth to that as well.

Es: I think I'd want to be a composer. I love writing music!

F: I would like to be a YouTuber. Even though it's not an actual career, I do like the idea of doing your own creations, having your own self as a director.

J: If you could work anywhere in the world, where would it be?

O: If I could work anywhere in the world, I think I would like to work … Actually, I think I'd like to carry on working in Oxford, just because I really like the city. It has a nice size, it's comfortable.

Et: If I was to choose somewhere to work, it would probably be Australia. Fantastic weather, beautiful landscape, location. Yeah, Australia!

Es: Well, if I could work anywhere in the world, I'd probably still want to stay in London and work in London.

F: I would like to work at home. I would love to move to America also.

J: And if you could have any job in the world, what would you want to be?

3.6 Exercises 2 and 3, page 77

M = Mary S = Sophie

M: So do you know what you want to do when you leave school yet?

S: Erm, yes, there is something I really really want to do, but I'm not sure if I can.

M: Oh? What's that?

S: I want to do your job.

M: Ah! Right. Well, why not? It's a great job. And we need more women in the profession. There aren't many female pilots. Did you know that only 5 percent of airline pilots are women?

S: That's terrible. Why is that?

M: I'm not sure. The training is long and very expensive, but it's the same for men and women. Maybe women think it's a man's job, so they don't apply for the training.

S: If I wanted to be an airline pilot, would I find the training difficult?

M: No, I don't think so. In fact, I think you have the right qualities.

S: Really?

M: Yes, you're healthy and you have excellent eyesight. You're intelligent, you're good at maths and science, and you get on well with people. If you got your university degree first, and then went to pilot school, you could be a great pilot.

S: Do you enjoy your job?

M: I love it. I work long hours, but there are lots of good things about my job. For instance, I can travel anywhere in the world for free. There aren't many countries that I haven't visited!

S: I know – you're so lucky. But it's also a very responsible job.

M: Yes, it's true, but I like that. I need a challenge.
S: What about your colleagues?
M: I work with some great people – we have a really good time together.
S: Do you earn a lot?
M: I earn a good salary, but if I were captain, I would earn even more!
S: Is it easy to become a captain and get a pay rise?
M: No, you need a lot of experience. I've only been doing this job for five years. I may become captain after another ten years.
S: Ten years?
M: Yes. Think about it – if you went on a plane, you'd want the captain to have a lot of experience, wouldn't you?
S: Yes, that's true! But it's such an exciting and glamorous job!
M: Well, sometimes, but the lifestyle is difficult – you spend a lot of time away from home.
S: Yes, we don't see you very often. You couldn't come to my seventeenth birthday, and you even missed last Christmas.
M: Yes, that's a problem. I can't always take time off when I want to. And if I had children, it would be almost impossible to do this job. I think that's the main reason why there aren't many female airline captains.
S: You could have a house husband!
M: Okay, you find me a house husband, and I'll continue being an airline pilot!

6.5 Grammar

3.13 Exercises 2 and 3, page 80

I work for an IT company. The dress code is simple – you have to wear clothes! Actually, it's a very informal office and most people wear jeans. You can wear a T-shirt with the name of the company on it, but you don't have to. Of course, you need to be clean and tidy, and there are a few rules like we can't chew gum in the office. We can have drinks while we work, but we can't bring food to our desks. But it doesn't matter because there's a great canteen. Oh yes, there's another rule – the boss says we mustn't take our laptops into the canteen. I think that's a great rule – it means we have to speak to one another!

I work for a fashion magazine. It's a great job and I love it, but I'm new here so I have to work very long hours for not very much money. My parents keep saying 'you must ask for a rise in salary' but I know that there are hundreds of people who would do this job for nothing! So I think I must be patient and I mustn't forget that I'm getting good experience, even if I don't earn much. People think I have to wear designer clothes and look fashionable all the time. But in fact I can wear whatever I want, except when I have to interview somebody. Then I have to dress a bit more smartly. For example, I can't wear jeans or trainers but I needn't wear a suit.

I'm in the music industry and I'm really lucky because I work from home. People think I get up late and wear pyjamas all day, but it's not true. I need to get up early like everybody else because people start calling me when they get to the office. One of the best things about working from home is that I can go for a run when I want a break, so I usually wear sports clothes all day. Sometimes I have to call people in a different time zone – in America or Australia, and that means I need to stay up very late. In fact, I have a video conference at midnight tonight with somebody in San Francisco. I must remember to have a shave and wear a shirt and tie.

A = Adam S = Sharon T = Tutor
T: So, how do you like being back in the classroom after two weeks doing work experience?
A: It's great to be back!
T: Oh, that's nice, Adam. Did you miss your teachers?
A: Yes! I hated my work experience. It was really disappointing. I'm relieved to be back in class.
T: Well, I want to hear more about that. But how about you, Sharon?
S: Oh, I had a really rewarding time. Now I'm excited about getting a job when I leave school.
T: Well, I'm glad to hear your experience was fulfilling, Sharon. I just have a few questions I want to ask you. Did you get any information before you started your work experience?
S: I did, yes. They sent me a plan of the offices and names of the people who work there. I mean, I read about the company on their website, so I knew quite a lot, but they told me things you don't read on the website. For instance, what to wear to work.
A: That's amazing! They didn't tell me anything, so I turned up on the first day wearing my best suit – I've only worn it to weddings and funerals before. I was really embarrassed because everyone else was in jeans.
T: Oh dear. What about a supervisor or a manager? Did you have somebody to look after you?
S: Yes, he introduced me to the people who work there and he made sure I was busy. He gave me feedback when I finished a job and he was very encouraging.
A: That sounds really good. I never knew who to speak to. It was very confusing. And I didn't know anybody's name for ages. I had to ask them.
T: What about the work? Did you do interesting jobs?
A: I was bored most of the time. I did the same things every day, and most of the time I was in front of a computer.
S: My work was really stimulating and I did lots of different things. Sometimes the work was a bit too challenging, but that's how you learn.
T: It sounds like you had a very satisfying experience, Sharon. Do you think you learned anything at all, Adam?
A: Yes, I did. I never want to work in a place like that!

L = Luke Z = Zoe
Z: You did some modelling, didn't you?
L: Yes. In fact my mum wants me to do some more.
Z: What's it like?
L: It's okay – I quite like it. Why?
Z: Well, this woman came up to me in the shopping mall yesterday. She said I should do modelling. She gave me a card and told me to go and see her at the agency. What do you think I should do?

L: You should think about it carefully. Do you want to do modelling? It's hard work and you don't earn much money at first.
Z: I'd like to try.
L: Okay, well, there are lots of agencies but they're not all good ones. My best advice would be to do some research. Google the name of this agency and make sure it belongs to the Association of Model Agents.
Z: Oh, thanks, that's really helpful, thanks.
L: If I were you I'd tell your parents before you do anything else.
Z: I'm not sure that's a good idea. They might say no.
L: Why don't you go to the agency and see if you like it. Then you can tell your parents later.
Z: That's great advice, thanks. Do you have any tips on what to wear if I go and see her at the agency?
L: I don't think you should wear anything special. Just wear what you usually wear – jeans and a T-shirt is fine. It's a good idea to take a friend – you have to wait around for ages and it's really boring.
Z: That's a good idea! I'll ask Amy.
L: Oh.

A = Andrew M = Megan

A: Hi, Megan!
M: Hi, Andrew!
A: How long has it been?
M: Hm, two … no … three years. What are you doing nowadays?
A: What I've always wanted to do – studying Spanish. I'd like to be an interpreter.
M: Cool! You've always been good at languages!
A: I've already done some work experience. It was a three-month summer job for a travel agency in Madrid. Nothing special, but it will look good on my CV. And I could practise the language. How about you, Megan? Are you still into horse-riding?
M: Yes, and it hasn't changed since I saw that movie Seabiscuit when I was a little girl. But … something has changed … you know.
A: What do you mean?
M: I can't be a jockey after an accident in a race last year.
A: Oh, I'm so sorry to hear that.
M: But I still want to work with horses …
A: As a vet?
M: Not really. After the accident, I decided to become a horse trainer. I won't actually do the racing, but I'll help train the best horses.
A: Why do you say 'I will help'? What are you doing now?
M: You need seven years of experience to be fully skilled. Guess what I'm going to be doing for the next few years?
A: What you love doing. You've always been a determined person. I'm sure you'll make it.
M: Thanks, Andrew. I must be going, bye.
A: Bye. And good luck.

3.21 Exercises 2 and 4, page 91

A = Amy RP = Radio presenter

RP: Hello and welcome to Ask the Expert. The topic of today's programme is buying presents, and our expert is psychologist Amy Black. Thanks for joining us this afternoon, Amy.
A: You're welcome. I'm pleased to be here.
RP: Amy, can you tell us what sort of person is good at choosing presents.
A: Well, it's true that some people are really good at buying presents, and some people are really bad, but I don't think it's a question of personality. I think anybody can buy a good present, but they have to do some research. They have to think about the type of person the present is for – what are their hobbies and interests? Do they have a favourite shop, a favourite brand, a favourite colour? The best presents are chosen after a lot of thinking.
RP: Do you think women are better than men at buying presents?
A: Well, I suppose women like shopping more than men and this means they don't mind spending hours in shopping centres or online. But as I said, anybody can buy a good present.
RP: Okay, let's read our first question. This was sent by Isabelle, 17 years old, from Bristol. She says 'My mum is going to be 40. She's not very happy about it and I want to get her something special to cheer her up.' What do you think, Amy?
A: Well, Isabelle, it's great that you want to get your mum something special. If you want to cheer her up, toiletries are always a good idea, but be careful. Your mum doesn't want to feel old. So don't buy face cream for the (ahem) older woman. You could try perfume, but first, look in the bathroom and find out which perfume she wears.
RP: Okay, our next question is from Alexander, 18 years old, from Bournemouth. He says 'It's my girlfriend's birthday next week. We haven't been going out together for very long – just two weeks. Should I get her a present?'
A: Hi, Alexander. I think it's fine to get your girlfriend a present if you want to, but don't spend too much money. Get her something personal but cheap, like a purse or a friendship bracelet. Don't buy expensive jewellery – maybe next birthday if you're still together.
RP: Time for one more – this one's from Charlotte, 16 years old, from London. She says 'One of my classmates is having her 16th birthday soon, and I want to get her something nice, but I can't afford to spend much.'
A: Well, Charlotte, why don't you collect money from a group of friends and buy something really good from all of you. It doesn't have to be an object – I think it's a really nice idea to buy an experience for your friend. For example, if she's musical, you could pay for a few hours in a recording studio.
RP: That's a great idea, thanks, Amy. Before we finish, do you have any more tips?

A: Well, the most important thing to remember is that it isn't the value of the present that matters, it's the amount of time you spend thinking about the person. That's the key.
RP: Good advice, Amy. That's all we have time for today …

Welcome to One-Minute Profile. Today, the subject is AMAZON.
Everyone knows the logo – it's a smile that goes from the A of Amazon to the Z. It shows that the company is ready to deliver anything to anywhere in the world.
Amazon employs 341,000 people and 45,000 robots.
Every employee at Amazon has to spend two days a year dealing with customer complaints. And that includes Jeff Bezos, the company director.
At Amazon, 600 items are shipped every second.
One new book is added to Amazon's site every five minutes.
Amazon delivery drones fly at up to 100 metres high and at a speed of up to 100 kilometres per hour.

Today I'm asking people in the street about clothes. How many pairs of jeans do you have?
E: I don't have that many pairs of jeans. I have two black and one blue.
R: I own many pairs of jeans. I have black jeans, one pair of black jeans, I have a white pair, I have a blue pair with rips in them and I have a normal pair – blue jeans.
F: I don't own that many.
O: Not many pairs of jeans. I don't have many pairs of jeans at all.
J: How much do you usually spend on a pair of jeans?
E: I don't want to spend that much. I keep it quite cheap. So probably about £15, £20.
R: I don't spend too much on a pair of jeans. Probably spend about 40 at the most. If they are of good quality, I think, more, but yeah! It's about the quality of the jeans.
F: I don't spend too much on a pair of jeans. Probably about £15 to £20.
O: I normally spend about £40 on a pair of jeans. Means they last me a long time.
J: And how many pairs of jeans do you have?

G: Are you doing anything tomorrow?
B: Nothing! Why?
G: Let's go to Camden Market.
B: Okay, sounds good. What do they sell?
G: Everything! You can get anything you want there.
B: Really? Who told you that?
G: Nobody. I've been there before.
G: Okay, where should we start?
B: Let's go to Dr Martens. I want some new boots.
G: How many pairs of Dr Martens have you got?
B: None.
G: Everybody has a pair of Dr Martens.
B: That's why I want to buy some. Excuse me, do you have these boots in size ten?
SA: We have brown or red but there are no black ones in your size. Sorry.
B: This shop is like my granny's house.
G: Look at these vintage shirts. Why don't you get one?
B: Are you kidding? No one would wear that.
SA: Can I help you?
G: Can I try these dresses on please?
B: How do they look?
G: None of them fit. They're too small.
B: That shop looks interesting. I love Japanese comics. Can we go in there?
G: Okay, but let's have something to eat first.
B: Good idea. I haven't eaten anything since breakfast.
G: That was only two hours ago. Two pancakes please.
SA: Would you like something on your pancake?
B: Sugar and lemon please.
G: Chocolate sauce please.
B: Oh, that was so good. Can we go to the Japanese comic stall now?
G: Sure, let's go.

J: Hello! My name's Jessica. Every week I go out and interview people in the streets and put the video on my vlog.
Today I'm asking about personal achievements. What had you learnt by the time you left school?
T: What had I learnt by the time I left school? I'd learnt that I love to sing and I now do that as my job. I'd learnt the importance of friends and family, and keeping in touch with them, and allow them to keep me grounded in life. And I'd learnt the importance of going out and about as well; and experiencing nature, the joy of travelling, the joy of learning languages, and yeah, and acquiring knowledge.
Jf: I had learnt everything from independent work to travelling, learning how to survive in the world by yourself.
A: By the time I'd left school, I had learnt the importance of education and continuing with my education. So I applied to go to college and thereafter to university.
Je: By the time I left school I'd learnt to work as a team and also on my own.
J: What had you achieved by your eighteenth birthday?
T: What did I achieve by the age of 18? Well, I sing, so I'd done lots of singing. I sang at Covent Garden, at the Royal Opera House in London. I'd sung at the BBC Proms and lots of different orchestras. I toured around France with a group called Les Art Florissants. I had a platinum CD. I released a solo CD in Japan and lots of different things singing-related.
Jf: By my eighteenth birthday I had run several marathons throughout the United States.
A: By my eighteenth birthday I had achieved a good level of French. I decided to challenge myself and go to France, stay with a family, do some work experience there because it was what I wanted to study at university.
Je: By my eighteenth birthday I had learnt to play the piano.

Good morning from Central Park in New York City. I can't believe I'm in the middle of one of the busiest cities in the world, and yet I can't hear any traffic noises. Pollution levels are low and the air quality is good. I can understand why New Yorkers say that Central Park is their backyard or garden and their escape from city life. Looking around, I'd say it's also their gym – it's where people come to walk, run, cycle, work out, train, climb and play football. Central Park is huge! There are over ninety-three kilometres of pathways, twenty-six playing fields and twenty-one playgrounds for children, and when you need a rest, there are 9,000 benches to sit on. There's a zoo, a theatre, a skating rink, a reservoir, places to sail and swim, and plenty of places to eat – I could live here!
It's a beautiful sunny morning, and I want to find out what people are doing here and how they use Central Park.

It's a beautiful sunny morning, and I want to find out what people are doing here and how they use Central Park.
Hi! I see you're having a rest. Are these your bicycles?
G1: No, we hired them. We just have a few hours in Central Park today, and we wanted to see as much of the park as possible.
R: So you don't live in New York?
G1: No, we're from France. We're on holiday. I'd like to spend longer in Central Park but Julie wants to go shopping.
G2: Of course I do – you can't visit New York and not go shopping, right?
R: No, I agree. Well, enjoy the rest of your stay. I can see a runner with 'Team Central Park' on his T-shirt. I want to find out more. Hi, can I ask you a few questions?'
M: Sure, go ahead.
R: Are you training for something?
M: Well, yes, the New York City Marathon is in November. I don't know if I can do it because I'm not very fit, but I want to try.
R: Oh wow, good luck with that.
M: Thanks. I need all the luck I can get.
R: Well, the marathon is twenty-six miles – that's way too much for me. Maybe I'll sign up for one of the 5K fun runs.
I'm going to talk to a group of young people sitting on the grass over there. Hi!
T1: Hi.
R: Do you mind if I ask you a few questions?
T1: Er, no. Are you from our school?

R: Haha, no, I'm recording a podcast about parks. You look very relaxed. Do you come to Central Park a lot?
T2: Yeah, we hang out here all the time in summer. This is Sheep's Meadow – it's a really good place for sitting on a blanket, reading a book, people-watching.
R: So you guys hang out here all day?
T2: Sometimes. We bring a picnic and we play Frisbee in the afternoon.
R: I see some of you have skateboards. Is it okay to skate in the park?
T3: Yes, we have to use the bicycle paths, and then you have to be really careful because some cyclists ride very fast through the park.
R: Yes I've seen them. So what's your favourite thing in Central Park?
T2: Mine is the Alice in Wonderland statue.
T1: Oh yeah, I love that too. But I really like climbing to the top of the rocks and looking at the view.
T3: Does anybody here like the zoo?
T2: No, it's for kids.
T3: I like the zoo.
R: Well, thanks, guys. I'm going to see Alice in Wonderland. Catch you later!

J: Oh, um, this morning.
M: Are you sure you want to take a day off school? You don't want to fall behind, do you?
J: I've fallen behind anyway.
M: Don't put yourself down like that. You're a clever girl. It's hard starting a new school.
J: It's horrible. I just don't fit in. My classmates have known one another for a long time and I'm the new girl. I don't have anyone to hang out with at break time. It's difficult to join in …
M: Have you tried signing up for some after-school activities – you know, basketball for instance. You're really good at basketball.
J: It's okay, Mum, don't stress out. I'll figure things out for myself.
M: Okay, but it's good to talk things over. Now have some breakfast. You need to look after yourself. And why don't you find out about after-school activities – that's a good way to meet people and make new friends.
J: Yes, okay. Don't worry – I'll get through this. I'm not going to give up. I just want to go over some lessons from last week and finish an essay so I can hand it in on time.
M: Fine, take today off then. It sounds as if you need some time to catch up on your work. Why don't you invite some classmates round for dinner next weekend?
J: Mum – don't worry. I'll soon have some new friends – it just takes time.
M: You're right. I suppose I'd better go to work, but I miss my old friends too. Oh well, we just have to get on with life and it will be okay in the end.

A: A few days ago.
D: Do you have any other symptoms?
A: Yes, sometimes my stomach hurts.
D: And how are you feeling now? Have you got a headache? Do you feel dizzy?
A: No, I feel okay. But when I have a stomachache, I feel a bit sick.
D: I see. And do you have this pain all the time?
A: No, I get it in the evening after dinner, and sometimes after lunch.
D: Aha. Okay, I'm going to examine you.

A: Ow. A little bit. Do you think it's my heart doctor?
D: Your heart! Why would it be your heart? You're sixteen years old.
A: My mum says I eat the wrong things and I eat too quickly and she thinks I'll have a heart attack before I'm twenty.
D: I see. Well, your heart is fine. We don't need to operate just yet. I think you've got indigestion. But your mother's right – you need to eat more slowly, and you should drink more water. I'm going to give you a prescription – take one tablet after each meal. Make another appointment to see me in a month.
A: Aren't you going to do a blood test?
D: No, I don't think that's necessary.
A: Oh good, thank you very much.

This week, London's air pollution was worse than in Beijing, according to Monday's readings from the Air Quality Index. It's the first time since 2014 that London has recorded worse air quality than the Chinese capital. The City Hall is warning Londoners to spend less time outdoors, take medication and contact a doctor if feeling unwell. Also, warning messages near the roads are informing drivers that they should stop their engines in traffic jams to reduce the emission of exhaust fumes. The weather forecast is not optimistic at the moment. It's cold and there is little wind so smog particles will not move away soon.

M: Yes. Eighteen percent of Facebook users can't go a few hours without checking the news. Twenty-eight percent of smartphone users check their Twitter before getting up.
W: How are young people affected?
M: Users aged between fifteen and nineteen spend at least three hours a day on social networking sites.
W: If it's true, when do they study?

If you live far from tropical islands and dream of holidays on sunny beaches, why don't you try the world's largest indoor beach right in the middle of the German countryside? The Tropical Island Resort was opened south of Berlin in 2004, and is big enough to welcome up to 6,000 visitors at a time. You can enjoy water sports in the world's largest indoor pool, try a spa, whirlpools or water slides. For more adventurous people, there are flights in a hot air balloon over a tropical rainforest. The resort keeps a pleasant temperature of twenty-six degrees Celsius thanks to a modified dome which allows sunlight to shine through massive windows. If it rains, the roof is closed – and everyone can remain dry and happy in their tropical paradise.

1.1 Vocabulary

1 BBC: Student accommodation, pages 4–5

J = Jurrien N = Narrator P = Presenter

J: My name is Jurrien Mentink, I'm a student and I'm living here in this nursing home.

N: This nursing home is in the Netherlands. Most of the residents are over eighty but Jurrien is involved in a project to connect young and older people and help the elderly with feelings of loneliness and isolation.
The accommodation is free for Jurrien and five other students. There is one condition – he has to spend thirty hours each month with the older residents.

P: Can we see your room?

J: Yeah, sure.

N: Compared with other student accommodation, the nursing home is quiet and peaceful. You don't hear loud music in the corridor, only the television turned up very loud because some of the residents are a little deaf.
This is where Jurrien lives. He has everything a student needs in his room, and he doesn't pay rent. This means he can save 30,000 euros while he's studying. But that's not why he came here. He wanted to have the experience of connecting with elderly people.
One of the students' jobs is to prepare the evening meal. But are these students missing out on the fun of student life?

J: When I was eighteen I lived in a student house so I knew what is it all about. But I'm twenty-five now and it's the next phase in my life. What I've learnt here is to respect the older residents, the older people in our society.

N: At Humanitas, the young students help their older housemates with technology. In return, the elderly bring a new perspective on life to the students. Both generations have a lot to learn from each other. Jurrien likes having 160 grandparents waving him goodbye when he goes to college every day. This style of living is based on respect for one another, and the friendships that develop are important for both young and old.

J: That's how we're doing it in Holland.

G = Greg N = Narrator P = Paul

N: Urban legend: a modern myth, imaginary information that many people believe to be true.
It's true that an earthquake can change the length of a day. But could people do this if everybody in the world jumped at the same time? Greg Foot is going to test this urban legend.

G: Imagine in five minutes' time, everyone on the entire planet was gonna jump at exactly the same time. From London to Sydney, Delhi to New York, 6.9 billion people leap in the air. Could they make the Earth move?

N: Greg decided to start his experiment at a music festival.

G: So I wanna get the crowd over there at the main stage to all jump at the same time, and I'm hoping it's gonna make a small earthquake. And then with a bit of maths, I can scale that up and see what'd happen if everyone around the Earth jumped at the same time, and whether that would change the speed of the spin of the Earth.

N: Paul Denton is 1.5 km away from the festival. He's going to measure the strength of the jump.

G: How're you doing? Good.
Can we test it?

P: Yes.

G: Ah, look at that! Nice one. That is brilliant.
OK, so we are gonna try to make an earthquake. What we need all you guys to do is jump and land and hit the ground at exactly the same time. Don't do it yet, get ready to do it, we're gonna count you down. All right. Let's go! Five, four, three, two, one… jump!
Have we managed to make an earthquake, Reading? Apparently at 0.6 on the Richter scale you successfully made an earthquake, Reading! Good work. Thanks guys!

G: That was amazing! How did it look?

P: Well, the jump shows up really clearly.

G: So, Paul, we've managed to detect that 1.5 km away with 50,000 people. If we had everyone in the whole world jump at the same time, could it change the length of the day?

P: It's a bit more complicated than that.

N: The crowd at Reading Festival scored 0.6 on the Richter scale. But you need to reach at least 8 on the Richter scale to move the planet. For this to happen, you'd need 7 million times the total number of people who live on the Earth.

G: OK, so the urban legend is completely untrue. You cannot shift the planet if everyone jumps at the same time. You can't even change how fast it spins, there's no truth in it at all.

Unit 3 The arts

3.1 Vocabulary

11 BBC: The Musketeers, pages 32–33

Ar = Aramis At = Athos D = D'Artagnan
P = Porthos Q = Queen

D: There's been no sign of them for an hour now.

Ar: We're safe for a while. The Queen needs to rest.

Q: Can I help? Not catching fish of course but anything, to help.

Ar: Rest while you can, Your Majesty. Soon we'll be riding again.
Q: No, I'd like to be useful. Really.
Ar: Well, in that case, can you gut a fish? Porthos is preparing a fire. I'm sure he'll appreciate help collecting sticks.
Q: Thank you. And I'm sure I can cook a little.
Ar: Delicious, Your Majesty.
Q: It's the first time I've ever cooked.
At: That's hard to believe.
Q: Would you like another?
At: Thank you, but I'm full. Shhh … D'Artagnan!
Ar: Your Majesty.
P: I'm tired of running away.
Ar: Perhaps we should be the ones doing the chasing.
At: The Queen's safety is paramount. We can't risk it by making a stand.
P: Nor can we outride them forever.
At: When we can't, then we'll fight.

Unit 4 Home sweet home

4.1 Vocabulary

15 BBC: Cave houses, pages 46–47

N = Narrator P = Presenter R = Rafiq

N: We are in the historical region of Cappadocia in central Turkey. Every morning, people visit the incredible landscape in hot air balloons.
P: It's an amazing landscape around us. These conical formations of volcanic rock – they call them fairy chimneys. You can see why.
N: People have made their homes in this magical prehistoric place.
P: You can see there's a cave down there that's been hollowed out. Over there, if you can just make it out, a blackness in the rock.
N: Humans first started making their homes here thousands of years ago. There are still communities of people living in caves today.
R: This is my grandparents' property and we take over from my grandparents and now my parents are using it. Ah!
N: Rafiq Chifchi, who now runs a local restaurant, grew up in these caves.
R: Here's my father. His name is Hassan.
P: Lovely to meet you, Hassan. Hello.
R: My mother. Salaam. And my wife, Aisha.
P: Oh, right. This is beautiful. So this is the main bedroom in the house? Is that right?
R: Yes.
P: Your roots, where your family is from, is very much from the caves. But you live in a house now?
R: Yeah, I do. But the reason is … I mean, my wife, she is a modern lady, you understand.
P: Your wife?
R: Yeah, my wife is a modern lady. For her, living in a cave, it's a bit, you know, funny. Because she didn't grow up here.
P: Do you miss living in the caves?
R: Yeah, of course I do. Because, if you say why, I grew up here. I used to climb round these rocks like a fox. At that time, I was a kid.
N: The caves are built on several levels and you have to climb up the rocks to get into them.
P: So you've managed to bring us as far as we can go. This amazing view – wow! That is an ancient, ancient view.
N: No wonder the fairy chimneys of Cappadocia are so popular with visitors. It's a unique and truly wonderful landscape.

Unit 5 Time to learn

5.1 Vocabulary

20 BBC: South Korean schools, pages 60–61

B = Boy H = Hye-min HM = Hye-min's Mother
M = Man N = Narrator

N: The South Korean education system is one of the best in the world. School children have a very long day of study. When they finish their regular classes, they go to private school in the evening for extra lessons.
N: Sixteen-year-old Hye-min is a typical South Korean school girl. After the regular lessons, she and her brother go to private school. Even very young children have extra lessons. When most other school children in the world are in bed, these South Korean pupils are still studying.
Hye-min spends three hours at the private school, or hagwon. How does she feel about her daily routine?
H: I get tired usually but I can forget about my hardships when I see my results because they are kind of good.
H: Hye-min studies for thirteen hours a day. She gets home after 11 o'clock and has dinner. She goes to bed at 2 a.m. and gets up at 6.30 a.m.
N: Hye-min's mother worries about her, but she says her daughter has no choice.
HM: I don't feel comfortable about this, but it's the only thing she can do to achieve her dreams.
N: The result of these long hours of study is children who are fantastic at tests. But how do they cope with such a long day?
B: Sometimes I'm very tired, like exhausted, but I don't mind because I'm studying now to do what I want to do in future.
N: This huge investment in education has transformed South Korea from one of the poorest economies in the world to one of the fastest growing economies. But there is a negative side to this intensive study. The pressure on the young generation is huge and the suicide rate is the highest in developed countries. Some people think that it's time to change the education system.
M: Test scores may be important in the age of industrialisation but not anymore. So we look into the ways to reform our educational system not based on test scores but based on creativity and social and emotional capacities.
N: In the last fifty years, South Korea has grown rapidly thanks to the hard work of students and adults. But young people have been under a lot of stress and have paid a high price. Now it's time to focus on making South Koreans happier.

Unit 6 Just the job

6.1 Vocabulary

25 BBC: Window cleaning, pages 74–75

B = Barry CB = Crew boss D = Dallas H = Host N = Narrator R = Ryan

H: Welcome to Burj Khalifa.
D: Pleasure. Thank you very much for having me. Thank you.
N: Dallas is in the tallest building in the world, the Burj Khalifa. He's going to a part of the building where only a few people are allowed to enter. He's going to meet the people who clean the windows. He gets out of the lift at floor 160. Then he goes to join the team of window cleaners who are preparing for their day's work.
D: I'm really nervous.
R: Dallas, you wanna come over?
D: Yeah, I'm coming.
R: OK, Dallas, just snap in. I'll check you up.
D: I was secretly hoping that it was gonna be too windy today and it would all be cancelled and we could all just go home. Somehow the windows would just clean themselves.
R: Unfortunately for you – no.
D: I'm absolutely terrified, Ryan. I've never been this scared in my life.
R: Really?
D: Well, you know, it's pretty high up here.
CB: This is Xiao Lau.
D: Hi there. Good to meet you.
CB: Barry Hannah.
D: Nice to meet you.
CB: Davie.
D: Davie, how do you do? Nice to meet you.
CB: This is Shri Krishna.
D: Good to meet you. I'm gonna try and not let you down.
N: Today, Dallas is going to clean the outside of the world's highest windows.
R: Just lean back, just lean back. You're OK, you can't go anywhere.
D: I need the bucket. Dry mouth. You get nervous at all?
B: Yeah.
D: You get a little bit scared.
B: Yes.
D: I haven't looked down yet. Now I've looked down.
N: It's hard to believe how high these windows are. Dallas is more than 600 metres above the ground, higher than the previous world's tallest building. At this height, window cleaners usually have to worry about the wind. But the Burj Khalifa has an aerodynamic design, and the wind is not a problem. But if Dallas drops something, it could do a lot of damage.
It takes three months to clean all 24,000 windows. And when they're finished, the team has to start all over again.
D: If you're gonna build a building that's truly iconic, you're gonna make it look nice.
B: And keep it looking nice!
D: And keep it looking nice, exactly! Yeah.
R: Now keep going down. Keep going. Lovely.
D: Wow. That was intense. I don't know how those guys do it every day. That was intense. But good.

Unit 7 Consumer society

7.1 Vocabulary

30 BBC: Cheap shopping, pages 88–89

N = Narrator P = Presenter W1 = Woman 1 W2 = Woman 2 W3 = Woman 3 W4 = Woman 4

P: There's something very weird going on with the price of things. This barbecue costs less than the meat I'm cooking on it. And if I accidentally get this duvet dirty, it's actually cheaper to throw it away and buy a new one than to take it to the cleaners. And, believe it or not, this pocket calculator costs less than the battery that powers it.
N: How did everything get to be so cheap? And is it a good or a bad thing? It all started in America where the shopping mall was invented. The Mall of America is the world's busiest shopping mall. It's enormous! You could put thirty-two jumbo jets inside. And once you're in there, there are not only shops. Here, shopping is a leisure activity. Mall of America opened in 1992 and since then more than half a billion people have visited.
W1: We're here at Mall of America, located in Bloomington, Minnesota, with over 520 stores. We have 40 million visitors, more than Graceland, Grand Canyon and Disneyland combined. It is busy. There's no tax on apparel. It's a great place to shop.
N: The invention of the shopping mall changed the way we shop. It's convenient and the huge number of customers means they can sell goods at low prices. This is where our addiction to cheap goods began. And our addiction to cheap goods is most obvious in the world of fashion.
P: What did you buy today?
W2: I got a bikini, jeans, denim shorts, shoes, sunglasses.
P: 'Tops' sounds like multiple tops.
W3: Yeah. Three or four.
P: Why did you buy four?
W3: Cause I like them all. I couldn't decide which ones to buy, so I bought them all!
P: Why did you buy so much?
W2: Because it's really cheap.
P: How much more do you find yourself buying because it's so cheap?
W4: Loads. Loads more, yeah.
P: And do you need the clothes you buy?
W4: No. No, not at all.
N: Three thousand people turned up to the opening of a new fashion superstore in London's Oxford Street. Everyone was looking for a bargain and there were plenty of cheap clothes and accessories here. This is the 'value sector' or, as the glossy magazines call it, 'fast fashion'. Fast fashion has meant that what's on the catwalks one week is on the High Street the next. It's designer style without the designer prices.
P: So, I've got my £3 handbag. Part of me thinks, brilliant, £3, can't go wrong, part of me thinks, 'I don't actually care if this falls apart in a matter of days.' And if I don't care about it, why did I buy it? If we buy all these things that we don't actually value, is there something quite worrying about that?
N: When goods are cheap, there's always a price to pay. We are already producing too much rubbish.

And workers in some countries are paid very low salaries. But perhaps this will change when people become aware of the real cost of cheap shopping.

Unit 8 Well-being

8.1 Vocabulary

36 BBC: Keeping fit, pages 102–103

DB = Dr Blannin N = Narrator P = Presenter W = Woman

N: We're keen to find out: if you don't like going to the gym and doing exercise, is there another way to get fit?

P: 'Moderate intensity physical activity' is a phrase you hear bandied around a lot at the moment and doctors recommend that adults should try to get at least 150 minutes of this per week.

N: If you do moderate intensity activity for 150 minutes a week, you have more chance of avoiding heart disease, cancer and obesity. We want to know if people get 150 minutes of exercise at home without going to the gym. We've got eight volunteers. They're going to do some household jobs indoors and outdoors and we're going to monitor how much energy they use. Let's start with housework.

P: Ready? Go!

N: Our volunteers have activity monitors attached to them while they do typical housework: ironing, vacuuming, dusting and mopping.

P: You've just missed a little bit there.

N: Dr Andy Blannin is an exercise scientist. He'll collect the data from the monitors and then he will give each activity a MET score from 1 to 10. Anything with a score between 3 and 6 is good enough to call exercise. Dr Blannin has looked at the data and he's got some results.

P: So I started the day a bit sceptical but it looks like from the graphs you're gonna prove me wrong.

DB: So here is summary data from the monitors that we've had on today and what it shows is that two of the four activities are indeed intense enough to be considered moderate intensity activity. So vacuuming and mopping just about make a MET score of 3, which classifies them as moderate intensity.

N: Time to move outside. We're going to measure some typical outdoor activities: washing the car, cleaning windows, mowing the lawn and planting flowers.

P: Even to my inexpert eyes it seems like you've buried that one.

W: I think they might just need some water.

P: How are you finding this as an exercise?

W: I think it's quite hard work, yeah.

N: But do the activity monitors agree?

P: Looking at these graphs, it seems like the stuff the people have done outdoors is even more intense than the stuff they did indoors.

DB: Yes, all of these activities are sufficiently high, even something like planting, where you're not moving around a great deal because you're using lots of upper body, is still sufficiently intense.

N: And the last few minutes of exercise.

P: OK, nice and briskly, everyone. Just walking briskly or cycling get high MET scores. Picking up a shopping basket instead of using a trolley gets a high score too. So you don't need to go to the gym to reach the target of 150 minutes of exercise.

Instructions

Unit 1 Lives people live

1 What are they like?
(1.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise personality adjectives.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Information exchange.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Divide students into pairs, Student A and Student B. (2) Give Student A and B their worksheets. (3) Explain that students have to match the pictures of the people on their worksheets with the correct adjectives. Tell them that there are twice as many adjectives in their boxes as they need. Their partner will give them clues. They should: read the adjectives in the box, ask what a person is like, listen to the clue, check they have understood and write in the answer. (4) Choose a strong Student B and demonstrate the activity, e.g. A: What is James like? B: He's afraid of everything new. He never says what he thinks to people because he doesn't want them to get angry with him. A: So … he's cowardly? B: That's right. (5) If you like, elicit the useful phrases and write them on the board (What's … like? So, he/she is …? That's right.).

Optional follow-up: Students describe other people they know, e.g. My aunt is very cheerful and generous. My brother is sensible, but sometimes he's uncommunicative. My mother is never miserable.

Answers:
Student A: James – cowardly; Sara – dishonest; Pete – hard-working; Sylvia – sensible; Mark – mean; Olivia – caring
Student B: Lucy – miserable; Ben – generous; Fiona – disloyal; Dave – cheerful; Helen – outgoing; Rob – uncommunicative

2 Test yourselves
(1.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary from lesson 1.1.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

3 Ask me!
(1.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise question forms in the Present Simple, Present Continuous and Present Perfect.
Interaction: Pairs or groups of 3.
Type of activity: Information gap.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Divide students into pairs or groups of three. (2) Look at the question generators with the class. Point out that they can ask questions with question words (e.g. Where do you …?) or ask Yes/No questions (e.g. Do you …?). Explain that the words in brackets are optional and where they see an ellipsis (…) they can add their own ideas. (3) Elicit one or two more questions for each generator. (4) Give students ten minutes in their pairs/groups to write as many questions as they can. (5) Give students five minutes to ask each other their questions. (6) If you like, feed back with the class. Ask different students to say one thing they found out.

Optional follow-up: As students are working, walk round and note down any mistakes. Write the questions on the board and go through any mistakes. If you like, write a mix of correct questions and questions with mistakes on the board. The pairs/groups decide which are incorrect and try to correct them. Feedback with the whole class.

4 Test yourselves
(1.5 Grammar)

Aim: To practise verb + -ing or verb + to infinitive.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

5 A personal email
(1.7 Writing)

Aim: To practise correcting and completing a personal email, following a checklist.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting and completing.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first and hand out the worksheet. (2) Tell them to read the writing task and the checklist. Then students read the sample writing text. (3) Ask the class to correct any mistakes in the email, such as missing information, incorrect style or other mistakes (lexical, grammar, spelling, etc.). Say that there are seven mistakes. (4) Students work individually and then check the task in pairs. (5) Hand out the corrected text and ask students if they have found all mistakes. Ask students to present their corrections and discuss them with the class.

Optionally, if students have difficulty finding all the mistakes, you can write on the board: two pieces of missing information, two wrong prepositions, two wrong verb forms (infinitive vs. gerund), one wrong question form.

6 A fictional character
(Focus Review 1, Speaking)

Aim: To revise vocabulary and phrases related to appearance, interests, personality and friends.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work in pairs and hand out the worksheet. (2) Ask them to fill in the gaps with as many different ideas as possible and give them three minutes to complete the task. (3) Check it with the whole class. (4) Give students two minutes to describe a close friend or a family member in a similar way.

7 Sentence translation
(1 Lives people live)

Aim: To practise translation from Polish into English.
Interaction: Individual.
Type of activity: Translation.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet and cut off the bottom part (the answer key). (2) Tell students they are going to work individually and give each student a worksheet. (3) Ask them to read the word list at the end of Unit 1 and to go back to grammar sections 1.2 and 1.5. (4) Give students ten minutes to translate the sentences into English. (5) Give them the answer key to check their answers. Discuss any difficulties with the whole class.

Unit 2 Science and technology

8 Crazy calculator
(2.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise words related to technology
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Board game.
Time: 20 minutes.
Materials: Per pair: one worksheet, one set of cards, one dice and two coloured counters.

In class: (1) Tell students to work in pairs. (2) Give each pair a worksheet, two counters, a dice and a set of shuffled cards. The cards must be placed face down in a pile. Each student puts a different coloured counter (or a small object, e.g. a rubber, paper clip, pen top, etc.) on the ENTER square. Tell students that they will also have to keep their score in the game. The particular number of points they can win or lose is given on each square. (3) Students take turns to throw the dice. The one with the highest score starts – throws again and moves the counter forward the number of squares shown on the dice. When a player lands on a square with a question mark, the other player draws a card from the pile and asks the question. If the answer is correct, the first player adds the number of points shown on the square to their score. If the answer is wrong, the relevant number of points is deducted from their total score. When a player lands on a square with a task, they can gain additional points by completing the task. However, there are no penalty points for failing to do that. There is one bonus square, marked by the plus sign. There are also penalty squares: two called Backspace, which mean having to move back to the previous position, and two called Delete, which mean losing all or half of the player's score. The player who reaches the End square with a higher score is the winner. (4) Monitor the game and offer help if necessary.

9 Test yourselves
(2.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary from lesson 2.1.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

10 Test yourselves
(2.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise Past Continuous and Past Simple.
Type of activity: Gap filling.

Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

11 When you were a child …
(2.5 Grammar)

Aim: To practise used to.
Interaction: Groups of 4.
Type of activity: Questionnaire.
Time: 20 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Divide the class into groups of four and give out the worksheet. (2) Read out the questions and check any vocabulary problems. (3) Explain that students should take turns to ask each other the questions and take notes of the answers. If you like, demonstrate the activity by asking a strong student two to three questions and noting the answers on the board. Give groups ten minutes to complete the questionnaire. (4) Give students five minutes to write sentences with the results, individually or in their groups. (5) Feedback with the class. Ask different students to read out one or two of their sentences.

Optional follow-up: In their groups, students ask a question and try to find out one extra piece of information for each question in the questionnaire, e.g.

1 Do you like spiders now? What do you do if you see a spider? Can you remember a time when you saw a big spider?

2 When did you have your hair cut? Do you like having long or short hair?

3 Where did you use to live? How long have you lived here? Have you always lived in the same house in this town/city?

They report back to the class about the most interesting thing they found out.

12 An informal email
(2.7 Writing)

Aim: To practise correcting and completing an informal email, following a checklist.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting and completing.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first and hand out the worksheet. (2) Tell them to read the writing task and the checklist. Then students read the sample writing text. (3) Ask the class to correct any mistakes in the email, such as missing information, incorrect style or other mistakes (lexical, grammar, spelling, etc.). Say that there are five mistakes. (4) Students work individually and then check the task in pairs. (5) Hand out the corrected text and ask students if they have found all mistakes. Ask students to present their corrections and discuss them with the class.

Optionally, if students have difficulty finding all the mistakes, you can write on the board: one piece of missing information, two wrong forms of imperatives, one wrong tense, one wrong form of imperative.

13 A new sport
(Focus Review 2, Speaking)

Part 1
Aim: To practise describing photos.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Matching.
Time: 3 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work in pairs. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to look at the photo carefully and to match the parts of sentences describing it. (2) Then students may add more information about the photo.

Answers: 1 c 2 a 3 f 4 e 5 b 6 d

Part 2
Aim: To practise talking about trying a sport.
Interaction: Individual, pairs/groups of 3 or 4.
Type of activity: Guided and free speaking.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work individually. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to look at the information about Becky and the last time she tried kitesurfing. (2) Ask students to take a moment to read the information and to prepare to talk about Becky's experience. Give students about two minutes to tell the story in pairs (students are welcome to add any information to make the story more interesting). Monitor students' work. (3) Now tell students to look at the questions about Kurt and his horseback riding experience. Ask them to take two minutes to fill in the missing information about Kurt. Help where necessary. (4) When students are ready, ask them to work in larger groups (of three or four) and tell their stories about Kurt. Other students are welcome to ask questions about the events. (5) You may choose a few people to present their stories to the class.

14 Sentence translation
(2 Science and technology)

Aim: To practise translation from Polish into English.
Interaction: Individual.
Type of activity: Translation.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet and cut off the bottom part (the answer key). (2) Tell students they are going to work individually and give each student a worksheet.

(3) Ask them to read the word list at the end of Unit 2 and to go back to grammar sections 2.2 and 2.5. (4) Give students ten minutes to translate the sentences into English. (5) Give them the answer key to check their answers. Discuss any difficulties with the whole class.

Unit 3 The arts

15 Quiz show
(3.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary related to TV and films.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Guessing game.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One set of cards per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to play a guessing game in pairs. Give each pair a set of shuffled cards and place them face down in a pile. Explain that they will have to guess as many of the answers on the card as possible within 90 seconds. Ask students to have a timer ready to time each other during the game. Each answer is worth a different number of points. (2) Students take turns to guess the answers on the cards. After reading the task, Student A starts timing Student B. While Student B lists the guesses, Student A says whether they are correct or wrong. When the allotted time for each task is up, the student who guessed the answers looks at the card and keeps a record of the points they have won. (3) When all the cards have been used, ask students about their scores.

16 A brag battle
(3.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise comparative and superlative structures.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Card game.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One set of cards per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to play a card game. Give each pair a set of shuffled cards and place them face down in a pile. Each student draws five cards from the pile. (2) Students think of one singer they admire. In order to place a card down they will have to praise their chosen artist and/or criticise the opponent's one. (3) The student with the longer surname starts the game. Students take turns to place one card down at a time and say a sentence using all the prompts from the card, e.g. Rihanna's voice is more beautiful than Justin Bieber's. Students can only place a matching card down, i.e. a card with the same adjective in bold or with the same picture. A joker card is a wild card and can be put on any other card provided the player says a sentence with a comparative construction about their chosen artists. When a player doesn't have a matching card, they must draw one card from the pile. When they (still) can't play any card, they pass. The winner is the first player to get rid of all their cards. (4) Encourage students to react to their opponent's sentences by saying, e.g. Fair enough, but … / I don't think so. / Oh, do you think so?

17 Test yourselves
(3.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise comparative and superlative adjectives.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

18 Test yourselves
(3.1 Vocabulary & 3.4 Reading)

Aim: To practise vocabulary from lessons 3.1 and 3.4.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

19 An informal email
(3.7 Writing)

Aim: To practise correcting and completing an informal email, following a checklist.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting and completing.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first and hand out the worksheet. (2) Tell them to read the writing task and the checklist. Then students read the sample writing text. (3) Ask the class to correct any mistakes in the email, such as missing information, incorrect style or other mistakes (lexical, grammar, spelling, etc.). Say that there are six mistakes. (4) Students work individually and then check the task in pairs. (5) Hand out the corrected text and ask students if they have found all mistakes. Ask students to present their corrections and discuss them with the class.

Optionally, if students have difficulty finding all the mistakes, you can write on the board: one missing part of the text, two grammar mistakes, one wrong adverb, one wrong form of linker, one wrong preposition.

20 Teen talents
(Focus Review 3, Speaking)

Part 1
Aim: To practise describing a photo.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 5 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students to work individually. Give each student the worksheet and ask them to look at photo A and fill in the gaps with the correct words given next to it. Ask students to pay attention to the phrases in bold because they will need them soon. (2) Tell students to work in pairs and describe photo B together, using the vocabulary from the exercise. (3) When they have finished, you can ask each student to contribute one sentence to the description.

Answers: 1 playing 2 shows 3 probably 4 background 5 see 6 excited 7 is 8 sure 9 There

Part 2
Aim: To revise phrases used to talk about: activities we like and dislike, a cultural event we liked and a skill/talent we'd like to have.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Jumbled sentences and classifying.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Divide students into pairs. Give each student a worksheet and ask them to rearrange the words in the sentences. (2) Then ask them to put the sentences into the correct categories. (3) Ask one student to read their sentences to the other student, who has to agree or disagree with them and explain why. Students should take turns. (4) In the end, ask each student to complete the table with the sentences from the other student's handout.

Answers:
Student A: 1 A I love doing dance routines with my friends. 2 C I'd like to be a professional swimmer. 3 D The play was a bit boring but the lead actor was brilliant. 4 B I can't stand exercising at the gym for hours.
Student B: 1 D Beyoncé's concert in Warsaw was unoriginal – just a collection of the singer's greatest hits. 2 A I have a lot of fun when I do Zumba®. 3 B I really don't like walking around shopping centres. 4 C I would love to have artistic abilities.

21 Sentence translation
(3 The arts)

Aim: To practise translation from Polish into English.
Interaction: Individual.
Type of activity: Translation.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet and cut off the bottom part (the answer key). (2) Tell students they are going to work individually and give each student a worksheet. (3) Ask them to read the word list at the end of Unit 3 and to go back to grammar sections 3.2 and 3.5. (4) Give students ten minutes to translate the sentences into English. (5) Give them the answer key to check their answers. Discuss any difficulties with the whole class.

Unit 4 Home sweet home

22 Ms Do and Mr Make
(4.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise collocations with make and do.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Matching and information exchange.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first. The students' task is to find out if Ms Do and Mr Make live next door by finding the paths leading to their houses through the maze. In order to find Ms Do's and Mr Make's houses, they have to follow the words that collocate with do and make respectively. Students can only move straight ahead or turn left/right in the maze. They cannot move diagonally. You may want to set a time limit of two minutes and turn this part of the exercise into a race. (2) When everyone has finished, give students the correct answers. (3) Tell students to work in pairs. Get them to choose one of the characters. Students follow the chosen path and tell each other which of these things they did or made yesterday. Encourage students to ask follow-up questions e.g. What kind of shopping did you do yesterday?, How often do you do voluntary work?

Answers:
They're not next-door neighbours. Ms Do lives at number 1. Mr Make lives at number 3.
Path to No 1 (collocations with do): voluntary work, a difficult task, some cooking, online research, the washing up, something crazy, my English homework, a jigsaw, sport.
Path to No 3 (collocations with make): new friends, a good impression, a mess in my room, a lot of noise, a complaint, breakfast, my bed, an important decision.

23 Test yourselves
(4.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary from lesson 4.1.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

24 Test yourselves
(4.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise Present Perfect with for and since.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

25 Party checklist
(4.5 Grammar)

Aim: To practise future forms.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Information exchange.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work in pairs. Explain that they have to plan a party together. (2) Hand out the worksheets. Each student should first tick five tasks from the list that they are willing to do and put a cross next to two tasks that they are reluctant to do. Explain that students should not look at each other's worksheets. Set a time limit of one minute. (3) Students take turns to say which tasks they are going to do. They can only talk about one task at a time. If one of the students has chosen the same task as the other, they have to choose a different one from the tasks they initially left out unmarked. In this situation students should use will, e.g. I wanted to prepare snacks too, but because you're going to do it, I'll tell the neighbours about the party. The aim of the exercise is to possibly assign every task from the list to someone. If there are any tasks left at the end of the exercise, students must negotiate who will do them. However, they cannot agree to do the tasks they marked with a cross. (4) Ask the class which pairs managed to plan all the tasks from the list.

26 A blog entry
(4.7 Writing)

Aim: To practise correcting and completing a blog entry, following a checklist.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting and completing.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first and hand out the worksheet. (2) Tell them to read the writing task and the checklist. Then students read the sample writing text. (3) Ask the class to correct any mistakes in the entry, such as missing information, incorrect style or other mistakes (lexical, grammar, spelling, etc.). Say that there are six mistakes. (4) Students work individually and then check the task in pairs. (5) Hand out the corrected text and ask students if they have found all mistakes. Ask students to present their corrections and discuss them with the class.

Optionally, if students have difficulty finding all the mistakes, you can write on the board: two missing pieces of information, one spelling mistake, one grammar mistake, one logical order mistake, one punctuation mistake.

27 Accommodation
(Focus Review 4, Speaking)

Part 1
Aim: To practise describing a photo.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work individually. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to look carefully at the first photo of a teenager and read the sentences next to it. Explain that none of the sentences are exactly true and ask students to correct them by changing only ONE word in every sentence. Then tell students to check the task in pairs. (2) Ask students to work in AB pairs and look at the second photo. Tell them that they have similar photos but that there are some differences. Ask students to describe the photos to each other using the phrases given next to them and then find as many differences as possible. (3) When they have finished, students show the photos to each other and see how they did.

Example answers: The photo shows a teenage boy who's holding a plastic basket. There are a lot of dirty clothes in the basket. The boy is probably in the bathroom or a basement. He's wearing a T-shirt and a sweatshirt. In the background, I can see a window and many bottles with detergent for washing clothes. On the left, by the wall, there's a rack for drying clothes. The boy seems happy that he has to do the washing.

Part 2
Aim: To revise phrases used to talk about accommodation.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Gap filling, matching.
Time: 5 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work individually. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to fill in the gaps with suitable words to make questions about accommodation. Tell students that first letters of the words have been given. Give students three minutes to do this. (2) Then ask them to check the task in pairs. (3) Ask pairs of students to match answers a–i to questions 1–9.

Answers: 1 much i 2 What f 3 is c 4 from e 5 facilities d 6 there h 7 can a 8 have g 9 Do b

28 Sentence translation
(4 Home sweet home)

Aim: To practise translation from Polish into English.
Interaction: Individual.
Type of activity: Translation.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet and cut off the bottom part (the answer key). (2) Tell students they are going to work individually and give each student a worksheet. (3) Ask them to read the word list at the end of Unit 4 and to go back to grammar sections 4.2 and 4.5. (4) Give students ten minutes to translate the sentences into English. (5) Give them the answer key to check their answers. Discuss any difficulties with the whole class.

Unit 5 Time to learn

29 Mind your step!
(5.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary related to school and education.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Gap filling and information finding.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet and one set of cards per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students to work in pairs. (2) Give each pair a worksheet and place a set of shuffled cards face down in a pile. Explain that they will have to match the verbs from the cards to the questions on the plan by identifying the room where the questions are located. (3) Point at the two avatars on the plan and ask students to choose one for themselves. (4) Students take turns to draw a card. They read the verb on the card to the other student, who has to match it to the correct question. If the answer is wrong, the student shades in one of the footprints leading to the head teacher's office. When the student has made five mistakes, they land in the head teacher's office, which automatically means the end of the game for them. The other student continues the game until all the cards have been used, or until they have made the fifth mistake. (5) Explain that the student who does the matching task also has to answer the question, no matter whether they matched the verb to the question correctly or not. (6) When everyone has finished, ask students how many of them 'were called into the headteacher's office' (lost the game).

30 Test yourselves
(5.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise vocabulary from lesson 5.1.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

31 An optimistic scenario
(5.2 Grammar)

Aim: To practise First Conditional sentences.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Information exchange.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Divide students into pairs, Students A and Students B. Give students their worksheets. Tell them that they should not look at each other's worksheets. (2) Explain that Lisa is going to graduate from secondary school soon and the worksheet shows possible scenarios for her adult life. (3) Students take turns to ask each other about the missing information in their worksheets. Choose a strong student B and demonstrate the activity: A: What will happen if Lisa doesn't get into university? B: If she doesn't (get into university), she'll do a gap year. Ask student B to ask you a question: B: And what will happen if Lisa gets into university? A: If she does, she'll study Physics.

Optional follow-up:
When students have finished, ask them to think up an alternative scenario for Lisa's future with the same optimistic outcome.

32 Test yourselves
(5.5 Grammar)

Aim: To practise defining relative clauses.
Type of activity: Gap filling.
Time: 10 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B).

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet for Student A and Student B. Cut the worksheet along the dotted line. (2) Divide students into pairs and hand out their worksheets. Instruct students not to show their worksheets to each other. (3) Tell students to read the instructions on the page and follow them for each activity. (4) Provide help if students have any questions or have trouble understanding the activities.

33 An email of enquiry
(5.7 Writing)

Aim: To practise correcting and completing an email of enquiry, following a checklist.
Interaction: Individual, pairs.
Type of activity: Correcting and completing.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Tell students they are going to work individually at first and hand out the worksheet. (2) Tell them to read the writing task and the checklist. Then students read the sample writing text. (3) Ask the class to correct any mistakes in the email, such as missing information, incorrect style or other mistakes (lexical, grammar, spelling, etc.). Say that there are six mistakes. (4) Students work individually and then check the task in pairs. (5) Hand out the corrected text and ask students if they have found all mistakes. Ask students to present their corrections and discuss them with the class.

Optionally, if students have difficulty finding all the mistakes, you can write on the board: three grammar mistakes, one wrong formal expression, two unnecessary contractions.

34 Learning and teaching
(Focus Review 5, Speaking)

Part 1

Aim: To revise phrases connected with learning and education and practise describing a photo.

Interaction: Pairs.

Type of activity: Guided speaking, gap filling.

Time: 10 minutes.

Materials: One worksheet per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work in pairs. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to look at the two photos showing two methods of learning languages and answer the questions. (2) Then tell students to look at vocabulary connected with learning and fill in the gaps.
(3) Ask them to look at four example sentences explaining which method of learning someone prefers. Ask pairs to talk and discuss which method they prefer and why. Encourage students to use vocabulary from the exercise.

Example answers:
Photo 2: I can see a group of young people and their teacher. They are in the classroom. The teenagers are students and they are listening to the teacher. He probably asked a question and they want to answer it. They seem interested in the lesson. They aren't bored.
1 make 2 revise 3 memorise 4 write 5 get 6 with 7 marks 8 discuss 9 exams 10 follow 11 flexible

Part 2

Aim: To practise comparing and contrasting two methods of teaching.

Interaction: Pairs.

Type of activity: Free speaking.

Time: 5 minutes.

Materials: One worksheet per pair.

In class: (1) Tell students that they are going to work in pairs. Hand out the worksheet and tell them to read about two different methods of teaching English used by two different teachers. (2) Ask students to think for a minute and note down the advantages and disadvantages of both methods. (3) Then tell students to discuss the methods in pairs and say which, for them, is better and more effective and why. Encourage students to use as many arguments as possible. (4) When they have finished, you may ask a few students to present their opinions in front of the class.

35 Sentence translation
(5 Time to learn)

Aim: To practise translation from Polish into English.

Interaction: Individual.

Type of activity: Translation.

Time: 15 minutes.

Materials: One worksheet per student.

In class: (1) Copy the worksheet and cut off the bottom part (the answer key). (2) Tell students they are going to work individually and give each student a worksheet. (3) Ask them to read the word list at the end of Unit 5 and to go back to grammar sections 5.2 and 5.5. (4) Give students ten minutes to translate the sentences into English. (5) Give them the answer key to check their answers. Discuss any difficulties with the whole class.

Unit 6 Just the job

36 What's my job?
(6.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise work and job vocabulary.

Interaction: Groups of 4.

Type of activity: Guessing game.

Time: 15 minutes.

Materials: One worksheet per group.

In class: (1) If you like, briefly brainstorm names of professions and words related to work. (2) Divide students into groups of four. Give each student a rolecard and tell them NOT to show it to the other students.
(3) Students read their rolecards silently. Then they add two more things they do in their jobs. (4) Student A begins. He/She does NOT say his/her job. He/She reads out the information clues about his/her job point by point. After the other students in the group have listened to all the points, they try to guess the job. They can ask further questions, e.g. Do you work in an office? Do you work with your hands? However, Student A can only say yes or no in answer to the questions. If the group cannot guess, Student A tries to give more clues. Once the group has guessed, it is Student B's turn, then Student C's and finally Student D's.

Optional follow-up: Students choose another job and write a similar rolecard.

37 Test yourselves
(6.1 Vocabulary)

50 Medical diploma
(8.1 Vocabulary)

Aim: To practise words related to health.
Interaction: Pairs.
Type of activity: Choosing the correct option and gap-filling game.
Time: 15 minutes.
Materials: One worksheet per student (A or B) and one set of cards per pair.

In class: (1) Divide students in pairs, Student A and Student B. Tell them to imagine that they are going to study at a medical school to become a doctor. (2) Give students their worksheets and place a set of shuffled cards face down in a pile. Explain that in order to get the school diploma, students have to complete all the tasks on their worksheets, from Level 0 to Level 7, and tick the boxes to mark tasks as completed. Their personal aim is to get the diploma as fast as possible. However, if a student makes a mistake, they miss a turn. To give the exercise a competitive edge, students can question the accuracy of their opponent's answer by referring to you as the adjudicator. (3) Students take turns to do their tasks, moving up one level at a time. For levels 0–3, they have to choose the correct options to complete the questions and then answer them. For levels 4–7, they have to draw a card from the pile and complete the sentence that describes the patient's symptoms. (4) Monitor the game, adjudicate any disputes and offer feedback.

Answers:

Na fanpage'u TeenTravel poznałeś/poznałaś kolegę z Walii, który planuje niedługo cię odwiedzić i spędzić z tobą tydzień. Napisz do niego e-mail, w którym:

- opiszesz osoby, z którymi mieszkasz,
- przedstawisz swoje nowe hobby,
- opowiesz koledze o tym, jakie atrakcje planujesz na jego przyjazd,
- zapytasz kolegę, jak chciałby spędzić czas.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

Nieformalny e-mail:

- rozpocznij przyjaznym powitaniem, np. Dear Nick/Hi Jo,
- w pierwszym akapicie wyjaśnij powód, dla którego piszesz,
- w drugim akapicie opisz osoby, z którymi mieszkasz,
- w trzecim akapicie napisz, że masz nowe hobby, wyjaśnij dlaczego je lubisz, a także kiedy i jak często poświęcasz mu czas,
- w czwartym akapicie wymień atrakcje, jakie planujesz na przyjazd kolegi,

- możesz używać emotikonów (☺) i skrótów (Bye for now = Bye 4 now), byle nie w nadmiarze,
- zadawaj pytania, żeby pokazać, że interesuje cię rozmówca, np. What do you enjoy doing at weekends?, What about you?,
- sprawdź napisaną pracę – zwróć uwagę na błędy językowe, ortograficzne i interpunkcyjne,
- upewnij się, że e-mail liczy od 80 do 130 słów,
- pisz starannie i wyraźnie.

Hi Harry,

How are you? It's GR8 you're coming to Poland!

I live with my parents and my younger sister. She's twelve and she's mad on hip hop. She's sometimes selfish but she's OK. My parents are caring but ask too many questions. ☺

I've got a new hobby! I'm obsessed on skateboarding. I spend every weekend ride it at a skate park.

I've got lots of plans for us. We can go to the cinema when you come. We also need visiting the new water park.

What would you like to do? Have you any special ideas?

- doradzisz, o czym trzeba tam pamiętać,
- zdecydowanie odradzisz inne miejsce.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

Nieformalny e-mail:

- rozpocznij powitaniem (np. Dear Uncle Sam/Hi Jackie) oraz krótkim wprowadzeniem, np. Just a quick email to say …,
- w pierwszym akapicie odnieś się do pomysłu zorganizowania urodzin w Warszawie,
- w drugim akapicie podaj propozycję miejsca; napisz, że już tam byłeś/byłaś, wyjaśnij, kiedy to było i co tam robiłeś/robiłaś,
- w trzecim akapicie udziel rad i wyjaśnij, dlaczego warto się do nich zastosować,
- w czwartym akapicie napisz, jakiego miejsca nie polecasz, i wyjaśnij powody,
- nie musisz używać pełnych zdań – wystarczą równoważniki, np. Great to hear from you/Just a quick message.
- używaj myślników (–), żeby dodać komentarz lub dodatkową informację, np. We did some interactive experiments – we really enjoyed that,
- uwzględnij propozycje/rady w trybie rozkazującym np., Don't forget … lub Get there early …,
- stosuj odpowiednie spójniki, aby zasygnalizować początek, rozwinięcie i zakończenie ciągu zdarzeń, np. First …/Eventually …,
- możesz używać emotikonów (☺) i skrótów (Bye for now = Bye 4 now), byle nie w nadmiarze,
- sprawdź napisaną pracę – zwróć uwagę na błędy językowe, ortograficzne i interpunkcyjne,
- upewnij się, że e-mail liczy od 80 do 130 słów,
- pisz starannie i wyraźnie.

So happy you're visiting Poland. Julie's fifteenth birthday in Warsaw is a great plan. I've got some ideas for you.

You take her to the Adrenaline Rope Park – it's so much fun! I was there last month. One, we put on special safety equipment. Then, we climbed up ten metres. While we are standing high, we were terrified and tried not to look down. But when we started crossing bridges – we just loved it!

Be there early in the morning. Not eat too much – it's high and you can get sick ☺. Don't take your cameras up – you have to leave everything down.

Just don't take Julie to the trampoline park. It's not very clean there and it's always crowded. What a nightmare!

Can't wait to see you!

Twoja kuzynka mieszka w Australii i, tak jak ty, interesuje się sztuką. Napisz do niej e-mail, w którym:

- podziękujesz za polecenie ciekawej książki związanej ze sztuką,
- opowiesz o warsztatach artystycznych, w których bierzesz udział,
- wyrazisz współczucie z powodu nieprzyjęcia kuzynki na wymarzony obóz,
- zaproponujesz, żebyście razem zapisali/zapisały się na ciekawy kurs online.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość e-maila powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

Nieformalny e-mail:

- rozpocznij przyjaznym zwrotem, np. Hi Jane,
- w pierwszym akapicie podziękuj za polecenie książki, wyraź swoją opinię o niej i napisz, co cię najbardziej zainteresowało,
- w drugim akapicie napisz, że bierzesz udział w nowym projekcie artystycznym i podaj szczegóły (jaki to projekt, gdzie jest realizowany, co dokładnie robicie, co o nim sądzisz),
- w trzecim akapicie wyraź ubolewanie, że kuzynki nie przyjęto na obóz letni, i podtrzymaj ją na duchu,
- w czwartym akapicie zaproponuj kuzynce wspólne wzięcie udziału w kursie online, podaj szczegóły (czego dotyczy kurs, jak długo trwa, ile kosztuje) i wyraź nadzieję, że kuzynka się zgodzi,
- używaj form skróconych (np. you're/I'm/that's),
- możesz używać emotikonów (☺) i skrótów (Bye for now = Bye 4 now), byle nie w nadmiarze,
- zakończ e-mail odpowiednimi zwrotami, np. I must be going now. Look forward to seeing you/That's all for now. Hope to see you …,
- sprawdź napisaną pracę – zwróć uwagę na błędy językowe, ortograficzne i interpunkcyjne,
- upewnij się, że e-mail liczy od 80 do 130 słów,
- pisz starannie i wyraźnie.

Hi Nicole,

Thanks again for recommending the autobiography of Salvador Dali – I loved it! His life was as colourful and strange like his paintings. In the fact, he was the more incredible artist I know.

I must tell you about my new artistic project. I've yet joined a free teen workshop in the modern art museum. We talk about art with professors and have classes on different art forms. It's the best workshop ever!

Actually, I've got an idea. A free five-week online course on sketching starts next week. It is great to do it together!

That's all for now. CU soon!

Lots of love,

Ada

4.7 Writing

Niedawno byłeś/byłaś u rodziny w Stanach Zjednoczonych. Zredaguj wpis na swoim blogu podróżniczym, w którym opiszesz miasto, które odwiedziłeś/odwiedziłaś. Uwzględnij poniższe informacje:

- podaj, jakie miasto odwiedziłeś/odwiedziłaś i kiedy to było,
- opowiedz, co tam robiłeś/robiłaś i jaka trudna sytuacja ci się przydarzyła,
- wyraź swoją opinię na temat tego miejsca,
- poleć miejsca, które warto zobaczyć w opisanym mieście.

Rozwiń swoją wypowiedź w każdym z czterech podpunktów. Długość wpisu powinna wynosić od 80 do 130 słów.

Mój blog:

- w pierwszym akapicie podaj, jakie miasto odwiedziłeś/odwiedziłaś i kiedy to było, oraz podkreśl, że to o nim będzie twój wpis,
- w drugim akapicie opowiedz, co w tym mieście robiłeś/robiłaś, jaka trudna sytuacja ci się tam przydarzyła i jak się skończyła,
- w trzecim akapicie przedstaw swoją opinię na temat miasta i uzasadnij ją,
- w czwartym akapicie poleć miejsca, które warto odwiedzić,
- aby przedstawić swoje wrażenia, użyj takich zwrotów jak It is a busy place/Most people tend to .../I thought it was great/The food was delicious!,
- aby polecić miejsca do odwiedzenia, użyj takich zwrotów, jak I would (definitely) recommend (doing something)./For visitors, … is a must,
- stosuj odpowiednie słownictwo do opisu miasta lub miejsca, np. historic sites, local specialities,
- możesz używać emotikonów (☺) i skrótów (Bye for now = Bye 4 now), byle nie w nadmiarze,
- sprawdź napisaną pracę – zwróć uwagę na błędy językowe, ortograficzne i interpunkcyjne,
- upewnij się, że wpis liczy od 80 do 130 słów,
- pisz starannie i wyraźnie.

Together with my cousins, I visited the famous Henry Ford Museum, where I saw the first Model T car. We also saw the beautiful Belle Isles Park. On our way back, we got on the wrong bus and got lost. Luckily some nice people helped us and we took city bikes back.

If you ever come to Detroit – The Detroit Institute of Arts is must. There is an amazing outdoor display of artistic graffiti. I also recommend the jazz festival in September. Detroit has something for everybody.

Detroit used to be the centre of auto industry. The situation has change and many people say it's not as pretty or friendly as before. But I think it's a lively modern and interesting destination.

Dear Mrs Bennington,

I am a sixteen-year-old dancer from Poland. I'm writing to enquire about the dance workshop at your centre – the two-week hip-hop dance course this February.

I have been a dancer since I was six. I mostly do electric boogie. If I learn hip-hop, I become a better dancer.

I tried to book the workshop online but I haven't received any confirmation. Could you check everything is alright? Could you also tell me the cost of the course and how should I make the payment?

I have no family in the USA, so I would be grateful if you could send me information about possible accommodation and how much does it cost.

I look forward to hearing from you,

Yours faithfully,

Sara Mokka

Dear Sir or Madam,

I would like to aply for the position of a dog walker. I am seventeen and I am staying in Dublin for the summer, so I could start any time to help the family I am staying with.

I am particular interested in the position you offer because I love animals and I can deal with them. In the attached CV you will see I have had summer jobs in retail, which taught me responsibility. I taught children swimming too. I also helped my uncle – a dog behaviourist, who makes me the ideal candidate for the job.

I am free any time, you can invite me for an interview. Please find contact details in my CV.

Yours faithfully,

Robert Kern

Hi puzzle shop,

The service your company offers is very bad!

Two weeks ago, I ordered a photo jigsaw puzzle on your website. I uploaded a good quality photo, paid and received a confirmation that the finished product would arrive within 3–5 working days. After 5 days I wrote to you twice but my emails ignored. Finally, the delivery came today and when I opened the box, it turned out that the quality of image is poor and two pieces are missed.

I am extremely disappointed at your service. It was a present and it came a week too late, not to mention the product's incomplete.

I would be gratefull if you could send me a full refund.

Yours faithfully,

Karina Bel

Yesterday a programme How to 'teach' teens a healthy lifestyle posted on UsTeens blog. It was an interesting lesson.

The authors say parents should make their lifestyles an example for kids and they should treat every activity as an opportunity to talk about the body and how does it work. What is more, parents should show teens that caring for their health with apps is fun.

I belive in good examples. However adults should eat healthily and be active. I also agree that teens will do anything if there's a super-cool app for that.

I recommend this programme – it has lots information and humour. Watch it and post your comments.

However, discussing health non-stop is too much! Young people want education, but sometimes they just want a burger!

IT'S AS EASY AS APP

What are the basic skills that [1]_____ child starting school should learn? For many centuries the obvious answer was: reading, writing and arithmetic. Quite recently computer classes (ICT) have been made an obligatory part of national curriculums to teach students how to use basic programmes. These days, [2]_____, more and more countries are starting to realise that to succeed in the twenty-first century pupils should be able to create their own software.

In fact, some schools in the UK are planning to get rid of ICT lessons and replace them [3]_____ programming classes that would involve building websites, designing games and mobile phone apps. They hope that today's generation of children, who are already familiar with using smartphones and practically living in the world of social media, will soon become the designers of the future.

Education authorities have no problem convincing students' parents that [4]_____ skills are important. A recent survey shows that 94 percent of them believe that computer skills are [5]_____ for the job market. Examples of British teenagers who have managed to sell their apps to big corporations also help make the decision easy. After all, who wouldn't want their child to become a millionaire?

ZADANIE 2

THE ZEBRA MYSTERY

For many years scientists have wondered [1]_____ zebras have black and white stripes. Some believe that the stripes create an optical illusion which hides a zebra's movements and in this way protect it from being attacked. When lions see a group of zebras, the stripes make it difficult for them to assess the zebras' size and speed. However, one study has found that lions are particularly good [2]_____ catching zebras.

There have been other popular theories too. One claims that each zebra has a unique pattern of stripes so [3]_____ one individual can recognise another. There is also a theory that suggests that the stripes help zebras with thermoregulation and protect them from the strong African sun.

A team of US researchers has [4]_____ found evidence that the zebra got its stripes for different reasons. The zebra's short hair makes it easy for dangerous African flies to bite and infect the animal with different [5]_____. It seems that flies find it harder to land on stripes and during their evolution zebras have developed a perfect way to keep the flies away. The stripes are narrow on the lower legs and on the head, the areas which attract flies the most.

WHERE ARE YOUR MANNERS?

While it is true that mobile devices are convenient and help us stay better connected, our social skills seem to be getting worse and worse. According to a recent survey, the majority of people [1]_____ that smartphones, laptops, tablets and social media have made us ruder.

People texting in public places or shouting into their phones on public transport are a common [2]_____. Very often we pay more attention to our Facebook account than the person sitting in front of us. This obsession with digital devices and the need to stay online all the time make people start phone conversations while watching a film at the cinema or forget [3]_____ off their mobile in the theatre, at school or even in church.

Many institutions are trying to bring good old etiquette back. Shops across the UK are putting up signs informing customers that they won't be served while talking [4]_____ the phone. Banks and post offices forbid the use of mobile phones too. There are also numerous online campaigns that make people aware of the basic rules of polite behaviour. All of them come down to a simple fact: use your common sense and [5]_____ you think it will be rude, don't do it.

SUPERMARKET MIND GAMES

We all know it too well, we go to a supermarket and we often end [1]_____ buying more than we planned. Having a shopping list in your hand doesn't always help because supermarkets use all kinds of psychological tricks aimed at making us [2]_____ up our trolleys.

It all starts in the car park where potential customers see red signs advertising discounts and bargains. As soon as they see this colour inside, they will automatically associate it with low prices [3]_____ some red labels will only be used to confuse them. Then it's the usual: background music will get shoppers in the right frame of mind and so will the artificial smell of [4]_____ baked bread. Shelves with basic products, such as meat, bread and butter, are situated far away from each other so that you have to walk through many aisles and, on the way, be tempted to get items you don't need.

And just when you think it's over, there are so-called golden zones, displays with all kinds of sweets located near checkouts that encourage customers and their children to think that they deserve a reward while they [5]_____ to pay for their shopping.

ZADANIE 2

DON'T WASTE IT

Statistics show that US households throw away a shocking 40 percent of perfectly good food. At the same time about fifty million Americans don't have [1]_____ to eat and many suffer from hunger. However, if US families managed to [2]_____ food waste by 15 percent, it would help feed twenty-five million people.

The big question is: what can be done to solve the problem? To start with, you should plan your meals well ahead, make use of shopping lists and avoid buying on impulse. If you don't know what to do with the leftovers in your fridge, check online guides for suggestions on how to waste less. Alternatively, you can get a useful mobile app which will provide you with creative [3]_____.

Some people get rid of food because the sell-by date has passed and they are afraid they might get sick. [4]_____ they don't realise is that most food products can be safely eaten past these dates. If you know you won't have the chance to eat something, you can always freeze it [5]_____ it goes bad.

There's also an option of donating food to local food banks. Remember that lots of people need the food you throw away.

HUNGER FOR POWER

If you think that politics is boring, you haven't watched House of Cards, an American political drama. It is directed by David Fincher, who is known [1]_____ Seven and Fight Club, among others. This TV series is set in the capital of the USA and tells the story of Francis Underwood, a fictional Democratic congressman.

The main actor [2]_____ the role of a ruthless politician who wants to take revenge on the people that have betrayed him, including the President of the United States himself. He is very cynical and uses a young political reporter to reveal his rivals' dark secrets to the press. His power-hungry wife is no angel [3]_____. They both stop at nothing to reach their goals and destroy their enemies.

The series is a remake of the 1990s British political miniseries and has become a great success, receiving many [4]_____ for excellent acting and directing. Viewers around the world seem to appreciate the fact that it presents the reality of political life as many people suspect it to be: [5]_____ cruel world of empty promises and corruption, with no place for idealism.

DIALOGUE 1

X: Good morning, can I help you?

Y: Yes. I love the red dress in the shop window! It would be perfect for my party on Saturday.

X: [1]_____ (try)? I think you will look great in it.

Y: Sure, thanks. … How do I look?

X: It fits you perfectly. I think [2]_____ (take). Red is definitely your colour.

Y: I think so, too. And [3]_____ (exchange) a black one if my friend decides to also wear something red?

X: Of course. You just need to have the receipt.

DIALOGUE 2

X: Hi, listen, I need your help. I have my first interview tomorrow to be the assistant of a children's entertainer and I don't know what to expect.

Y: Well, first of all dress smartly and don't be late.

X: That's clear. But [1]_____ (need) my CV? So far, I can only put my high school on my CV – that's not much.

Y: I don't think you need a CV. But you have to be prepared. [2]_____ (don't) some ideas prepared for fun activities for kids? It will show you really want the job.

X: Great idea! I'll think of some fun games tonight.

Y: Listen, and if [3]_____ (get) this job, could I try? It sounds like fun and I really need some extra cash.

Night Owls vs Early Birds

(HOPE STUDY INTELLIGENT SCIENCE LOW POOR)

Depending on your sleeping preferences, you can be either a night owl or an early bird. Those who stay up late and are [1]_____ at getting up in the morning are the owls, while those who jump out of bed cheerfully at 6 a.m. are early birds. The studies show that night owl teens have higher scores in [2]_____ tests. They, however, tend to have [3]_____ grades. How does it happen? [4]_____ say that night people find it very difficult to function well during the day when all the lessons and tests happen. They are simply too tired to concentrate on school in the morning and early afternoon. So next time you do [5]_____ on a test, maybe it's because you're an incredibly intelligent night owl.

TEKST 2

iPhone Idols

(FANTASY REAL MAKE PLAY PLEASE ADDICT)

On average, teens use mobile devices for around five hours a day. How does it affect your bodies? Well, your parents always warned you that you might get addicted, but is it [1]_____ possible? The latest studies show that it is! Mobile games, like Candy Crush, offer [2]_____ little rewards every time they achieve a small goal. That's also when their brains get a dose of dopamine – a chemical which makes you feel [3]_____ and happiness. You play more, you achieve bigger goals and, as a reward, you get new content. This [4]_____ your brain take a bath in dopamine. Soon you can't live without this euphoria. The feeling is similar to the one smokers get. So it really is an [5]_____ . We're sorry to say – your parents were right.

Still a boy but already a businessman

(FAIL OWN PRODUCE WORK FAST BUSINESS)

George Matus is now the [1]_____ and boss of Teal – a drone producing company. It doesn't sound very exciting, does it? Except that George set up the company himself, when he was only sixteen! By the time he was twelve years old, he had built his own quadcopter and [2]_____ with drone-making companies testing their [3]_____ . Flying all those machines, he was frustrated because he wanted them to be faster and do more. That's why, when he was sixteen, he decided to create Teal and develop his own drones. Now his company produces the [4]_____ consumer drones in the world. Impressive, isn't it? Any advice from George? Yes, he suggests you find something you love, learn constantly and never give up – [5]_____ teach you and make you stronger!

TEKST 2

Maddie Ziegler – talent, brains and a big heart

(KNOW SUCCESS PRESTIGE FAME EXCEPTION HOME)

If you have ever seen one of Sia's music videos, Chandelier, I'm sure you've noticed Maddie Ziegler. She's the [1]_____ talented dancer who has danced in six of Sia's videos. She's only fifteen but she has already become an artist [2]_____ around the globe. She started taking dance lessons at the age of two and joined a dance theatre when she was four. Since then, she has won several [3]_____ dance awards, starred in films and modelled for [4]_____ fashion magazines. What's more, in 2017 The Maddie Diaries, a book about her life, was published. But she is not just a teenage celebrity – she uses her fame well. Since 2012 she has supported different charities whose aim is to help ill and [5]_____ teenagers.
